the yankees appear to be ashamed of the act of vandaliam which marked their evacuation of the town of Washington. One of their papers has an account of it which attributes the act to "straggling marines" and soldiers." But there is reason to suppose that it was connived at, if not ordered, by those in authority. This manoavre of the enemy forced the evacuation of the out-r line of works, and dark on the night of the 13th found our troops occupying the second line of works. Becaregard arrived late in the evening. Hoke up to this time had been in command. The next morning (the 14th) a strong line of skirmishers was sent forward and tight-ing commenced in earnest. The skirmishers suffered much. Capt. Andrey, a daring and accomplished officer and gentleman, was killed. His brave company lost many of their best men. About 3 o'clock our sharpshoetras re-tired into the treaches as the enemy advanced in line of tween it and his present statement, affirms that Gov. No support was near and we were compelled to fall back. Actiring about 600 yards, a half was order-ed by Lt. Col. Harriss, the ranking officer, and a messenable. In September 1802, the Standard warming complimented the Senior Editor of the Observer on the occasion of his visit to Raleigh to be present at the inauguration of Gov. Vance, saying that out of the immense crowd there, no one was more gratified of the sick and dying. The frantic shrieks of the heip-less women and children, and the pitiful appeals of their brothers and fathers for protection from rebel bayonets, as the United States steamers left the docks, leaving them to their fate, are described by those who witnessed them, as being the most affecting and melancholy sight the said we had been no friend of Gov. Singular Incident .- After the fight near Drewry's Bluff on Monday last, a Surgeon, who was searching the field for the wounded, observed a man in a kneeling position, with his gun to his shoulder, pointing to the front, his left eye closed, and having all the appearance of life. Upon examination he was found to be dead, a ball having passed through his brain, at the moment when, resting on his left knee he had taken sight at the foe. It is very re markable, that so rigid was the corpse, some force was required to remove the gun from his grasp. He proved to be a member of the 29th Va. infantry. Richmond Sentinel.

Congress .- RICHMOND, May 23 .-- The Senate to day passed a bill amending the act imposing restrictions upon foreign commerce, giving the same privi lege to the owners of cargoes belonging in part to any State as it would have been if the Confederate government had owned a share of the cargo. The House passed the bill increasing the pay of the sol-diers seven dollars per month. J. T. Leach, of N. C., introduced resolutions for the appointment of commissioners to perrotiute for near on the basis of commissioners to negotiate for peace on the basis of the independence and sovereignty of the States Laid on the table.

RICHMOND, May 24. - To-day, in Senate, after some unimportant business, Mr. Graham of N. C. ex-pressed his views on the Habeas Corpus question at some length. He was opposed to the further sus-pension of the writ. The House passed Senate bill exempting editors of Magazines, and several other bills unimportent in character.
