CITY.

JOB PRINTING.—We are now prepared to execute, at this office, all manner of Job Printing.

TO OUR READERS.—Subscribers will notice that the cross on their paper denotes "time out" and we would be pleased with prompt renewal of subscriptions.

CHEAP ADVERTISING.—All our friends are cordially invited to send notices for this column at the exceedingly low price of 10 CENTS A LINE.

The Republican County Nominating Convention will meet in this city on Saturday July 17th, 1869.

Sheriff Sobenck and Silas N. Martin, Esq., are shortly expected in town.

Mr. W. H. Moore announces himself as a candidate for City Constable.

The rain clouds still tantalize us by appearing and disappearing each evening.

Tuesday the thermometer stood ninety-five degrees in the shade. Hot work in the Post office!

Republican County Committee members will find in another column a notice from the Chairman.

Senator Davis will probably be detained in town several days by the want of water in the river. No boats running to Fayetteville.

The new stables of Messrs. Southerland & Stegall are well worth a visit. They are perfect models of completeness and comfort "for man and beast."

The "Nightingale Minstrels" serenaded the City Marshal and fire companies Tuesday night. The night—in the—gales were heard a good way off!

In a weeks time the street cars will be assisting our citizens to "get over" our very sandy roads without being scorched to death in sand hot enough to roast a recreant republican.

Much matrimony has taken place in this city in the last two months, our Register sometimes gets tired attending to the duties devolving upon him as "congratulator of the bride."

The efficient deputy of Sheriff Schenck who goeth by the healthy name of "Sol" caught two fellows attempting to break out of jail last Sunday. The jail birds did not get out of the cage.

Sheriff B. F. McFarland writes us from Lake City of his continued health and his glory in being "scallawag Sheriff of Columbia county." Success to such a jolly scallawag—he never can be a "scamp"!

It is stated that after the Eagles' delegates had been elected some one—not having any regard for the feelings of his fellows—permitted Price to talk for two hours! What! two hours gas; brass; abuse of the mass, by this braising ass?

Our festive friend W. of the N. C. R. & P. Agency told us we would "draw" something and we have. The article being useful to family men we have made over all right title and interest to Mr. "A married man."

We had the pleasure of a call from Hon. J. H. Davis, Secretary and Treasurer of the Western Railroad—office at Fayetteville. Col. Davis visits Wilmington on business and gives encouraging accounts of the condition of his road.

The ever active Superintendent of the W. & W. R. R. advertises a "Grand Excursion" to Virginia's "fabled fields." The excursionists may be assured of having the best of treatment and to rates that even the poorest may afford to go to "ole Virginy shores."

THE NIGHTINGALE MINSTRELS will give a Grand Musical Entertainment and Ball at the City Hall on Friday night, July 16th. The colored people are notified they will all be welcome, and that they may expect a good time. A new supply of quadrille music has been received.

The doors open at 8 o'clock, and the tickets will cost one dollar. T. J. Johnson, Manager, James Richardson, Proprietor.
A brass band will announce the opening of the door of the Hall.

We were shown a specimen of fine and excellently cured hay, raised by a system of dry culture on a rice field a few miles from this city. The hay is composed of the most part of native grasses but with them is mingled of the celebrated Kentucky blue grass.

We have heard of several sick people being seriously annoyed by howling and barbarous noises from so-called religious meetings. The fact that people are free should make them not like freemen and not like idiotic children in meetings meant to express devotion.

Heath and Home for July 17th has a fine large portrait of William Cullen Bryant, in addition to other well executed illustrations. It also contains the prize song for which it offered $100, and the first instalment of Octave Feuillet's new novel, entitled "The Romance of a Rich Young Girl."

FIRST WARD DELEGATES.—The following delegates were elected to the nominating convention by the first ward Republicans: Geo. L. Mabson, A. J. Denton, Wm. Merrick, Edward Anstrom, Geo. M. Arnold, Henry Brewington, Washington McNeil, Lisbon Payne, Wm. H. Waddell.

The "chin music" Mr. Price so plentifully indulges in on all occasions, of his own monstrous merit and the infinitesimal smallness of all other men compared with him—the "great Price" reminds us of the scriptural reference to the heathen—"Who think they will be heard from their much" talking!

The professed friends of Mr. S. N. Martin tried to sell him out on the selection of delegates from the first ward, but Messrs. Eagless, Denton and Mabson coming to the rescue, the Larkins butlers were driven in shame and confusion from the room.

A young lady's opinion of the bonnet of the season: "Oh, the bonnets of my girlhood—the kind I wore to school! I really thought them handsome. I must have been a fool. And yet I used to think myself on hats a jaunty miss. Perhaps I was, as fashion went; but what was that to this? Oh the lovely little panache—the charming little mat! It makes my head so level, and so very, very flat."

Octave Feuillet's new story, "The Romance of a Rich Young Girl," in Heath and Home, opens capitally. The prize song, "The Kingdom of Home," for which Mr. W. R. Duryee was paid one hundred dollars, is, in our opinion, a poor production. The following stanza is a fair specimen of its merit:

"Flashes the lovelight, increasing the glory,
Beaming from bright eyes with warmth of the soul,
Telling of trust and content the sweet story,
Lifting the shadows that over us roll.
King, King, crown me the King,
Home is the Kingdom and Love is the King."

THE UNIVERSE.—The second volume of the Chicagoan commences with the title changed to The Universe, the first number of which is received. It is enlarged to a eight page sheet, and contains the commencement of a story by Mrs. Corbin, entitled, "Married, or a Woman's Deception," a capital story by Mrs. Jennie T. Hazen, "Daisy, or the Married Man's Story," and a great variety of other matter. Among the principal articles is one on "Spiritualism a Moral and Social Necessity," by Robert Dale Owen, and many on various phases of the "Woman Question," and Spiritualism. Published weekly, at $2 50 per year, by H. N. F. Lewis, 113 Madison street, Chicago.

An exchange says "Keep to the right is a common rule and easy of observance." We don't see it. Take a common occurrence. Three ladies—we know they are ladies by their dress—come tripping along "all in a row" across the pavement. A mud hole on one side, and an iron fence on the other. The mud hole won't turn out; the fence won't turn out, and the females who have no "rights men are bound to respect," according to Miss Anthony, won't turn out either. To change positions, one behind the other, and give you room to turn to the right, would not be "lady-like." How are you going to "turn to the right" under such circumstances, unless you take to the mud or climb the fence? We submit the case to an impartial jury of old bachelors.

SUCCESSFUL MEN.—Amos Lawrence said when asked for advice: "Young men, base all your actions upon a principle of right, preserve your integrity of character, and in doing this never reckon the cost." A. T. Stewart, the merchant prince of New York, says: "No abilities, however splendid, can command success without intense labor and persevering application." Rothschilds ascribed success to the following rules: "Be an off-handed man; make a bargain at once. Never have anything to do with an unlucky man or plan. Be cautious and bold." Edward Everett said: "The world estimates men by their success in life, and success is, by general consent, evidence of superiority." The Bible says: "Seest thou a man diligent in business? He stands before kings; yea, he shall not stand before mean men." Franklin quoted and verified this.

CHAIRMAN MABSON.—We must compliment our friend, G. L. Mabson, for the ability shown in presiding at the meeting on Tuesday night, at the City Hall. The unusually stormy elements of two contending factions were kept well in hand by the tact and skill of Mr. Mabson. His speech was forcible, to the point and evinced that earnestness each true Republican must feel at the present crisis in the political affairs of the State. The logic and clearness of Mr. Mabson's statements compared with the vulgar personality of Price, Miller and other whitewashed Democrats, was noticed by all. The remarks of Chairman Mabson on taking his seat, elicited much applause, and did much to secure the victory we have noticed elsewhere. The treatment of deserting office-holders, like Mr. Miller and the other men who defy the powers that be, met with high compliments from men long experienced in managing popular assemblies.

NOONDAY.—Noon, these summer days, is almost turned into night; at least upon cots and hammocks, and divans everywhere can be found the sleeper, snoring away as quietly as if old Sol was casting his sickening rays upon the shaved headed mandarins of the Celestial empire, and this section of the vineyard was yet clothed in the murky mantle of old Nox. It is a good idea, some people say—those who indulge in the habit. The early morning is hot and oppressive, and unfit for that relaxation of the system required by sleep. Better to get up early, and nap before dinner. And we take this view as correct, as we remember some rhymers, (and poets, like newspapers, are always correct), somewhere says:

"The weary plowman's lazy length
Dies in the shadow narrow,
That clings about the haystack foot
Careless as a guarded sparrow.

Oh, peaceful hour of summer Noon!
Life has its midday slumber;
Shall it have no noon-day rest for us,
When cares shall cease to cumber?"

There was quite a sensation created on Front street, yesterday, by a very distinguished and beautiful young lady, who, with the utmost nonchalance and indifference to surroundings, walked along, holding in the dainty fingers of her left hand a rare specimen of peach, that had doubtless been left hanging upon its parent stem.

Until ruby and amber had met
On the cheek that lay next to the sun.
With a delicately chased silver fruit knife,
she dexterously removed the peeling in one long, curling piece; then stopping suddenly, she—acted, doubtless, by some superstition, which had been imbibed in the nursery, and expecting to see the initials of her lover—gracefully tossed it over her head, and turning, ran to see the result. To her amazement, and to the wonder of the gaping multitude, the peeling had formed the following letters and figures upon the sidewalk: "N. C. R. & P. E. A.," which, after some difficulty, was interpreted to mean, "North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, next drawing August 28th."

A book by General Lee will awaken such special interest, that we are glad to call attention to it. The University Publishing Company of No. 4 Bond street, New York, announce that they have now in press, and will issue in a few weeks, "Memoirs of the War," by Gen. Henry Lee, thoroughly revised and corrected by Gen. R. E. Lee who has added, also, an entirely new biography of his father, prepared by him from private and personal materials never before used. It will be a large and handsome octavo volume, illustrated by new steel portraits of Gen. Henry Lee and Gen. Nathaniel Greene, beautiful steel engravings of "Marion crossing the Peedee," and the "Surrender of Cornwallis," and five original maps and plans. Our readers need not be told that this is a work of great interest and value. It is the standard history of military operations at the South during the revolutionary war, and as such is a book which every reading man should possess; but its interest and value are both greatly increased by Gen. Robert E. Lee's thorough revision and correction, and by the valuable biography of his father which he has written and added to it.

DROWNING.—A report reaches us just as we are going to press that one of a large party of boys was drowned while bathing in the river. We learn that he was called Josh ——. It is a warning to bathers who carelessly jump into the river at late hours.

"Tall eaks from little acorns grow,
Large streams from little fountains flow."
Seven years ago the Plantation Bitters were but little known. To-day there is not a nook or corner of our land where they are not found and used. These have reached the enormous number of Five Millions of Bottles annually, and it is constantly increasing. It only shows what can be done with a really good medicine, and a systematic course of making it known. Perhaps no medicine in the world was ever so deservedly popular as the Plantation Bitters. Go where you will, among the rich or poor, and you will always find these Bitters in use. Their merit has become an established fact, and we cordially recommend them in cases of dyspepsia, loss of appetite, chills and fever, headache, &c., &c.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

LUMBERTON, July 12, 1869.

SIR:—In the Star of the 6th inst., there is published in the editorial column this article, to-wit:

"Row—We learn that a row between the whites and blacks occurred at Lumberton, Saturday last, the day chosen for the celebration of the 'Fourth.' It was a mixed up affair. About twenty-five of the law-breakers were committed to jail—no one seriously wounded. Rocks were the weapons used."

The entire article is an error. Only two men violated the law, and they were immediately attended to by our worthy and energetic Mayor.

As to rocks, we need them badly to pave our side-walks. We will be obliged to the writer of the article alluded to for some of those rocks with which to improve our streets. M.

BRUNSWICK COUNTY, July 14th, 1869.
Editor Post:—Pursuant to call, the republican delegates of North West, the banner township of Brunswick county, met in Convention on the 12th inst., the Hon. B. Morrill presiding.

On motion of E. M. Rosaty that we, the carpet-baggers of Brunswick, having reconstructed the county, carried two general elections and tied together firmly the republican shavve, do hereby cordially tender the front seats in the party and the privilege of office to able and honest natives, irrespective of color.

The following ticket, one that would elect itself, was substituted to the one previously agreed upon:

Megistrates.—J. C. Lawton, Bolton; W. A. Robb, Bluff; A. J. Simson, North West.
Town Clerk.—Lloyd McCoy, North West.
School Committee.—E. M. Rosaty, Bluff; G. N. Hill, North West; George Webb, (colored) North West.
Town Constable.—Everett Mitchell, (col.) North West.

A Democratic newspaper, published at Brandon, Miss., speaking of the Fourth of July, says:

The one glorious 4th of July comes off in the Northern States on Sunday next, but we of this section have no part or lot in it. Time was when we delighted to honor and celebrate our natal day—when we were considered descendants of our revolutionary sires, and before the Puritans discovered that we were bastards and that our former slaves were the true descendants of Washington and his compatriots.

Mr. Peabody has added a million and more, in railroad and Southern bonds chiefly, to the Ledy Educational Fund. The next generation down South will remember him, even if the present is a hopeless and ungrateful people.

STATE.

They are having "circus" in Raleigh.

The Raleigh papers notice the arrival of Judge Cantwell in that city with many flattering remarks.

A Dr. O'Hagan, of Goldsboro' in amputating the leg of an unfortunate traveler received such injuries that he will die.

The Goldsboro' Messenger mentions the transfer of Rev. Mr. Stickney from that city to Wilmington to take the place of Rev. Mr. Terry.

Lemonade Clubs are the latest things in Goldsboro', of which there are several. Since their formation lemons are scarce, it being impossible to obtain one in town.

The Masonic festival at Goldsboro' last week was a success. $2,500 was realized, sufficient to purchase a site for a Masonic Hall, and the building of a Hall is now fully determined upon.

The third small drawing of the N. C. Real and Personal Estate Agency took place at Tucker Hall last Saturday, July 10th. A crowd of interested spectators were present. Ticket number 1,200 owned by a Mr. Harrison of Plymouth, N. C., drew the piano. Number 1,438 drew the top buggy. Everything passed off quietly and satisfactorily. The extra Velocipeds quickly came out with the numbers that drew the prizes.

The Wilson Plaintiff publishes an account of the excursion of the Hooper school to Wilmington and Smithville; at which latter place the correspondent states: "A huge U. S. flag hung like a thunder cloud over the place—and this alone marred the beauty of what was otherwise charming. On leaving, the band played with much spirit our glorious old 'Dixie,' and it was 'music such as would linger man's life long years' to hear the notes of that Southern air, welling up under the shadow of the tyrant's ensign."

A gentleman who has just travelled through the counties of Carteret, Craven and Lenoir, informed us that the crops are in a promising condition, corn and cotton particularly. Cotton has recovered from the late spring, and now looks well. At Mosely Hall, Lenoir county, the first cotton blooms were seen on the 28th of June. Our informant counted more than one hundred blooms open in a space of thirty feet diameter in an open field in Lenoir county on the 8th inst. Corn is in tassel and silk and looks well. There is no suffering for want of rain, and everything promises that there will be a first rate corn and cotton crop.—Standard.

Eight more money order officers have been established in North Carolina viz:

Concord,	Warrenton County, N. C.
Hillsboro',	Orange "
Konansville,	Duplin "
Louisburg,	Franklin "
Trinity College,	Randolph "
Warrenton,	Warren "
Washington,	Beaufort "
Wilson,	Halifax "

The above in addition to Asheville, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Edenton, Elizabeth City, Fayetteville, Goldsboro', Greensboro', Morganton, New-Berne, Raleigh, Salem, Salisbury, Statesville, Tarboro' and Wilmington making a total of 24 money order officers.

We heard much talk of 20,000 acres of land advertised for sale by the Sheriff of Orange, to be sold on Monday last. The Sheriff gave us the list of land to be sold. Omitting town lots we could count only 8,658 acres. The rule was not completed on Monday; one day was not sufficient to work so much ruin. The lands we are told did not average more than one dollar and thirty cents per acre, and yet some of the best lands of the county were sold. There is no chance under the Sheriff's hammer to get anything like the true value of lands.

Hester's Real Estate Agency and Lottery is the only place and way to get the real value of your lands. We hope Hester, in his next grand drawing, will have fewer sewing machines, and in their stead have prizes of guano, bonedust, lime, &c.—Raleigh Sentinel.

We are accustomed to hear the Mexican spoken of with contempt, as wanting in industry and enlightenment; but the Mexican girl, of whom we find an account in a Guadalupe paper, La Civilisation, furnishes an example which might be well emulated by our own young women and young men of more mature age. That paper says: "The Senorita Carlotta Ferro, who is only sixteen years of age, performs in Quintana the following employments with the greatest exactitude and punctuality, her conduct of them having been highly eulogized by the political chief of the Ninth Canton when he made an official visit to that point: She is preceptress of the school of that town, and is remarkably successful in the education of young ladies.

She is clerk of the court and secretary of the council, and is remarkable for the admirable order in which she keeps the archives, in the collection of laws, and of all the other business in her charge.

What would many men give to be equal to this young girl in the performance of such duties?

It is the great conquest of civilization to place woman by the side of man, in the elevated and respectable place which belongs equally to her."

When we remember how voluminous are Spanish and Spanish American legal proceedings, and none of them mere copies, and that their collections of laws are mostly in manuscript, her capacities and performances are the more remarkable.

In the Tribune's London correspondence we find the following:

The London papers are considerably obliged to Mr. Goldwin Smith for supplying them with some sort of answer to the just accusation that no one of them has printed the speech of Mr. Sumner, which all of them joined in misrepresenting. Mr. Smith's answer was better than none. Still it was felt to be very weak, so one of them has now produced a second. The speech, it says, was printed here in pamphlet form, and "widely circulated." It is true a pamphlet edition was printed in London, but it was issued by an American, not by an English house. Upon seeing the statement that it had been "widely circulated," I had the curiosity to ask Mr. Stevens how many copies he had disposed of. It was published at a shilling—about 35 cents currency. Mr. Stevens writes me that it certainly was "widely circulated" in one sense, inasmuch as he sent a copy to nearly every town in Great Britain and Ireland where a paper is published. The country press had 165 copies, the London papers 20, and 310 were sold. In all, there have been circulated just five less than 500 copies. Of leading articles which put into Mr. Sumner's mouth what he never dreamed of saying, there have been who knows how many millions of copies distributed?

The Pensacola Observer says: "Several families of old residents and natives of this city who left here prior to the war and made Mexico their home, because of the abridgement of their privileges as citizens by the State Legislature, returned on the 'Volumina' from Tampico. They are some forty in number, and report others yet to follow."
