REPUBLICAN COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
The Committee are requested to MEET at the Theatre at 9 o'clock, Monday morning, August 1st, for the purpose of organizing the full and punctual attendance is requested.
GEO. Z. FRENCH, Chairman.

The Grand Jury of the City Court have been discharged.

Some of our people are to be disappointed in their hope that the rain will succeed.

Citizens will take notice that the Board will be ready for revision to-morrow.

The man who dumped a bushel of eggs in front of the Post probably wanted to yell our harness making neighbor.

We would call attention to the sale of tobacco by order of the United States Marshal. The sale takes place 27th inst. at 12 o'clock.

Warning to smokers: A man was killed in Louisville the other day by tobacco. A hog's head of it fell on him and broke his neck.

It is rumored that a "bath house" is to be started. May the philanthropic citizen who attends to this business be rewarded both here and hereafter.

The arrest of George W. Betts for disorderly conduct caused him to be fined twenty dollars; which the Mayor remitted on the intercession of certain gentlemen.

The thrift of our steady going working people is seen in the erection of numerous houses. Fully one thousand houses have been erected during the past year.

Yesterday all Mr. Prices insolence and vulgarity was loudly applauded by prominent rebels; while Union men and all good citizens looked and felt disgusted.

Yesterday Gen. Estes arrived in town from his plantation when he reports all doing well, and upper Edgecombe rejoicing in abundance of rain. Wish we had some.

It is said "low shoes" are coming in fashion for ladies, of the same color as the stockings, and the stocking the same color as the dress; also, the ladies are universally adorned with the large "sailor collar."

We were pleased to meet in our sanctum Hon. E. K. Proctor, who has so worthily represented his section in the Legislature, and who has always remained a true friend of the Post.

The Republican County Committee met last night and resolved that they would examine the credentials of the Delegates to the Convention on its re-assembling on Monday morning.

THE SEVEN HILLS.—Any information of the "seven" particular "hills" the editor of the Journal states that the city of Wilmington is built on, will be gratefully acknowledged. "Joe" has not got seven little hills yet or we would think he was the "Hills."

Hon. A. H. Galloway requests us to announce that the statement published in the Sentinel of his acting as a disturber of the peace is an unmitigated falsehood. The facts being that he quieted a number of citizens who were desirous of punishing some copperheads.

THE "BAZ WAZ."—The Star glimmerer evidently shines under a cloud when it accuses the Post of indulging in "scrips" of miserable paper—we don't buy of the luminary. The "Baz Waz" must be a waggish joke on the ocular local of the Journal, and the mysterious paragrapher of the luminary!

THE WILMINGTON WATER WORKS COMPANY has been duly organized and the following officers elected:

President.—Hon. Joseph C. Abbott.
Secretary and Treasurer.—General Allan Rutherford.
Directors.—Dr. J. E. Winauts, Hon. Geo. Z. French, Gen. L. G. Estes.

We would call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Hayden & Hanby. These gentlemen have a most convenient shop near the large livey stables of Messrs. Southerland & Steagall, and we hope that abundance of patronage will be meted out to such good mechanics and worthy men as the firm we have mentioned.

LILLINGTON TICKET.—The following ticket was adopted at the Republican meeting, held assembled at Lillington, Township of Lincoln, July 10th, 1869:

Justice of Peace.—W. H. Bivens, T. H. Bell.
Township Clerk.—A. J. McIntire.
Constable.—John Bell.
Miles Armstrong, John Croom.

The meeting Thursday night was like the previous affair, a most lamentable one for factionists. The meeting was presided over by W. H. Moore who is declared to have attempted to favor the Larkins faction, but notwithstanding this, the howling nonsense of Price was made ridiculous by the sober argument of Mabson and the honest soldierly statements of the gallant Eagles.

Mr. Arnold made some remarks and the meeting adjourned with groans for Larkins and enthusiastic cheers for Eagles and the regular ticket!

Some rioters were arrested and one paid the penalty of his folly by paying the city Court a fine.

Experience has shown that in an excessively cold night, when the temperature falls to ten degrees, or five degrees, or below zero, the change is most fatal to the aged, to the very young, and to those weakened by disease. A cold night has been known in certain localities to kill all persons above eighty years of age; husband and wife, brother and sister, being found dead in their beds in the morning after such a night of cold. Some people, therefore, rationally conclude that night air is fatal, and advise that the windows of sleeping apartments should be kept closed after nightfall. This is a mischievous remedy. Fortunately in such weather as this, it will be likely to carry it into practice.

ABOUT A STAR.—We intend a few lines about the "star": not the "luminary" that shines only in the Conservator's eye, but the "moderate" price of seven dollars a year, when people can be persuaded for four dollars, but the "twinkle, twinkle little star" we have all noticed since early infancy first learned us to distinguish between the tallow dip and the star. It is no child's wonder; philosophers of all ages have wondered. More has been learned this year concerning the stars than was ever before known. They are found to be stars like our sun, and our sun is a star like them. Our sun looks larger than they, for it is close by, only 95 millions of miles away; while they are so far that we can not comprehend the distance in miles; but we can understand some things about it when we remember that if a person was to go to the star of eight times as far as our sun, it would take him twenty-six years to reach, for instance, the star Regulus. Do you comprehend? The stars are now known to be stars, for they are found to throw out heat like the sun. William Huggins, F. R. S., has discovered that there is heat in the rays of a fixed star, and he measures it as perfectly with an instrument called the thermoelectric pile, so that he can measure the heat of a star's breath with a thermometer. This discovery is the third great feat of this century year of the steam engine.

WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?—The excitement and trepidation of the two organs of Larkins—the Journal and Star; the desire to help "the little villain" but evident fear of compromising their respectability by accepting such a candidate—all these causes the weak knees of the Conservatives to knock together most suspiciously.—Let not the heathen (Star men) rage or the Journal "imagine a vain thing"—success is as far off as ever and all they can do is to suck the congenial tar stick for another half century and awake away off in the piney woods; while we are enjoying civilization and a republican form of government. The excitement of some people (democrats) at the insolvency of Price and Miller in a Convention where neither were legally members, and the applause the foolish knaves received from men who have ever been the most bitter enemies of the colored people; all this causes us to ask "why do the heathen rage?"

THE CONVENTION.—The convention that met in the Theatre agreeable to call of the County Committee, G. L. Mabson in the Chair has adjourned until Monday next without action. The day was lost through the ill conduct of the bolting rule or ruin clique, headed by Messrs. Price, Rice and Barry. It was a very unfortunate act of politeness that permitted men to take seats on the platform who had no other claim to such seats but their unbounded impudence and the mistake of treating men with courtesy and regard, who cannot appreciate, ought, but, the contrary. This conduct will not again be repeated. On Monday those delegates only whose credentials have been passed upon favorably by the County Committee will be admitted to the hall, and all others be excluded. It is expected that harmony will prevail and most of the county delegates will vote straight for the right man.

A PUBLIC PARK.—The people of this city have long stood in need of a public square or park—where, after the cares and toils of the day, the merchant, the clerk, the mechanic, and the ladies and children may resort and pleasantly while "the evening hours away." We are undoubtedly progressing; then let us have a park, for we can never claim to be a city of any note until we have one, however pretentious we may be in other respects. We have fewer pleasures, fewer walks, fewer drives than any other city of the same size, and similar to this question of a public resort is an important one. A neat and well arranged park would pay—literally pay for it; would add dignity to our city, increase its prestige, and thereby attract strangers and keep them here—some temporarily; others permanently, perhaps. Otherwise they would doubtless merely "pass through" and not stop a day or two and spend some money with us, which would inure to our common benefit, and help us along amazingly.

LOVES OF BONNETS. A beautiful bonnet, recently imported from the house of Virot, Paris is of real black lace put on very full over a diadem shape, and tastefully trimmed. Across the front, resting upon the forehead, are sprays of the lovely linden flower, above which is a wreath of ivy leaves, looking as natural as though just taken from the walls of some ancient castle. Surrounding the wreaths of linden and ivy are two soft pink roses, from which a vine of buds and leaves trails over the chignon. A delicate rosebud nestles among the ivy leaves at the left side, its slender tendrils running along the lace, forming the circlet in front. Long ends of black Chantilly lace, falling from the back, are clasped together by a spray of the linden flower.

A quiet but pretty bonnet is of tulle, over a diadem shape, with sprays of mignonette and emerald leaves resting upon the soft folds of tulle and extending half down a lace ruffle that hangs loosely under the chin. Long scarf ends of black Chantilly lace are joined by a spray of mignonette.

CONCERNING BOILER EXPLOSIONS.—We learn from the Locomotive, a Hartford Insurance publication, that fifteen boiler explosions occurred in this country during the month of May last. They were confined to no special branch of manufacturing, but were impartially distributed among steam users. Nine persons were killed and forty-two injured—some, probably, fatally. The value of property destroyed, so far as ascertained, was upwards of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. For one month, and that by no means the most disastrous of the year, this is a fearful exhibit. Can nothing be done to lessen the risk of such casualties? Can nothing be done to ascertain definitely their cause? The American Artisan, in its issue of this week expresses the paradoxical opinion that accidental leakage of steam in boilers daily saves thousands of lives and millions of dollars' worth of property in every part of the world; and that a perfectly tight and close steam boiler, with a fire burning under it while the engine is at rest, is probably as perfect an "infernal machine" as could well be devised by human mind. This is rather at variance with the dogma of most engineers, that the tighter a boiler is the safer it is, and yet the theory of the Artisan strikes us as being the correct one.

MAGAZINES, PERIODICALS, ETC.—Golety's Lady's Book for August contains as it always does much interesting matter to lady readers.

Peters New Music still delights the lovers of "the art divine" and his last number is replete with gems of art and refined taste.

The Galaxy sparkles as usual with wit and wisdom and the articles on Prince Napoleon and editor Raymond are worth twice the value of the Magazine.

Heath and Home is more than usually rich in stories and pictures, making it a friend at every fireside and the last number of Appleton's Journal contains the most delightful summer reading possible to conceive.

We have received the Reconstructed Farmer for July, and Colton's Journal of Geography both excellent and useful periodicals.

We would acknowledge the receipt of La France Elegante the most complete fashionable journal ever published in America. In fact the fashion plates are all made in Paris and the entire work has an "imported" appearance.

The latest Frank Leslie and Home Journal are replete with interesting and amusing matter.

Mr. Robert M. De Witt, of 13 Frankfort Street, New York, as the music-loving people now pretty well know, is regularly issuing a series of the finest songs and ballads, arranged for the voice and piano by a most eminent and justly popular composer and able musician. We have just received the following pieces. All of them are super-excellent in their different styles:

"Thy voice is Near"; by W. T. Wrighton, author of "Her Bright Smile Haunts Me Still." It is of a sentimental cast, and very melodious.

"Blue Eyed Violets"; by J. T. Jackson, is another poetical and sentimental song of much merit, that promises to become very popular.

"Up in a Balloon," a sprightly, well-known song by G. W. Hunt, is the seventh gem in this series, and will be warmly welcomed.

"The Maiden and Her Linnin," by W. H. Montgomery, is a beautiful sentimental song. The melody and the poetical conceit are harmoniously and melancholy rendered, and there can be no question that it will become one of the most popular songs of the times.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

SMITHVILLE, N. C., July 13.

MR. EDITOR:—I herewith renew my subscription to your paper for one year. A man is known by the company he keeps, but his keep bad company and he will inevitably be educated into bad principles and erroneous doctrines, and as I believe in the principles and doctrines of the Republican party, I herewith testify to that faith by my works in paying up my subscription. I am pleased to notice the improvement in the paper and the increased amount of readable matter it now contains under your management, and I hope at any rate it may be said of it, by its friends and supporters in and out of Wilmington, that it deserves success; but unless its friends work for it and pay their subscriptions up honestly, their good wishes will not amount to anything, for Editors must live as well as other people, and it is not less true in regard to persons as it is to a party newspaper, that in assisting it they assist themselves and the cause, and defend their principles from the constant attacks of their enemies, for it is only through the promulgation of truth that hate, prejudice, misrepresentation and lies, can be overthrown and refuted, and light and liberty retain their friends and conquer its enemies—for this warfare will not cease except with the earth itself. Even since the world began we party has always endeavored to oppress and wrong the other by imposing upon their ignorance—therefore it is (transposing Franklin's maxim), that "want of knowledge is want of power." In the days of slavery this truth was felt, and taken advantage of by the more intelligent class to oppress the other, hence the penal enactments to keep and unslave the minds as well as the bodies of the colored people in chains of ignorance. Would Republicans retain their power in this state? Then let them keep well posted by subscribing to the Post—for to be forewarned is to be forearmed. Educate! Educate! Educate! by means of the press, and let the society of the good and noble be chosen as the only party worth associating with and from whom can be learned all that is worth knowing of correct principles, and let light and knowledge dispel the thick darkness which still overshadows the people, that truth with her refulgent rays may shine forth like the sun in its noonday glory, revealing the hidden works of darkness and exposing their uncleanness and deformity. Free schools, free press, free speech, will always make a free people who will take care of their own rights and preserve them to their children, it taken advantage of and used by the people. The party may be despised and persecuted by the wicked—so were Christ's disciples and the good and great Reformers of all ages and countries who placed themselves in the front ranks to fight the people's battle, but as it is the cause of truth itself which the Republican party proclaim it bears along with it also, Justice to all men and liberty for all to do right. "To do unto others as we would be done by," and that the Magistrate may be a terror only to evil doers, but a praise to them who do well, shielding and protecting them as guardian angels, securing the good and industrious in the enjoyment of their rights from the rapacious attacks of the wicked who seek to destroy them, "For righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." Select good men to represent you and they will make good laws to shield and secure your prosperity, and advance you to a higher and better state of beings—but much as may be done by others the principle work is to be done by individually cultivating habits of virtue and industry which lead to independence from want and poverty, that others may be influenced by the example and benefited by his labors—all have a work to do—hope so humble but may become a coworker with the great and Good Master of us all, who will reward those who labor with and for him in the final salvation of the good from this world of sin and strife and toil that is the highest reward and the noblest incentive to duty, securing to the good and industrious here, a conscious happiness, and in the world to come a more sure and certain reward.

Had the people been properly posted and the party under better discipline, the late election in Virginia might have told a different tale, nothing less than sheer ignorance and misrepresentation on the part of the colored people could have induced such members of them to vote the Conservative ticket against their own interests and welfare.

"The Conservative party is the party of refinement and culture—the gentleman's party." Witness, Joe Turner during his speech at Wentworth, scoping the flies out of his frog teeth with as long and warty as a buzzard's—Greensboro Register.

In a conversation with some of the farmers of Onslow county a day or two ago, we were informed that the crops in that section are better than they have been in ten years.

A larger area than usual is under cultivation and the yield promises to be abundant. Especially is the case with cotton.—New Bern Journal.

A special term for Guilford county Judge A. W. Tourgee presiding has been in session the past week and will in all probability continue all this week. The principal case of interest has been the case of Goins, for the murder of Smith, removed from Randolph county. The Jury have returned a verdict of not guilty.—Greensboro Register.

It is rumored that another Democratic paper is to be started in Raleigh. The Democrats are dissatisfied with the Sentinel because it does not straighten up the Democracy of North Carolina. Bad as that paper is, we must say that the Sentinel is badly treated—how can it straighten up the Democracy when the Democratic backbone is broken? North Carolina Democracy is limber as a rag and can't stand up.—Standard.

At the educational meeting in Guilford county Rev. S. S. Ashley, Superintendent of Public Instruction, introduced and made a few well timed remarks in regard to the fact that the people of North Carolina have decided, overwhelmingly at the ballot box, that the children of the State shall be educated. He spoke of the lack of comfortable school houses in the State, that the building of houses could not be at the expense of the school funds. He showed the importance of educating and training the young men and women of the State for teachers, that teachers could not be had from the North or West to supply the demand here, because of the lack there of good, competent instructors.

"Tall oaks from little acorns grow, Large streams from little fountains flow." Seven years ago the Plantation Bitters were but little known. To-day there is not a nook or corner of our land where they are not found and used. The sale has reached the enormous number of Five Millions of Bottles annually, and it is constantly increasing. It only shows what can be done with a really good medicine, and a systematic course of making it known. Perhaps no medicine in the world was ever so deservedly popular as the Plantation Bitters. Go where you will, among the rich or poor, and you will always find these Bitters in use. Their merit has become an established fact, and we cordially recommend them in cases of dyspepsia, loss of appetite, chills and fever, headache, &c. &c.
