CITY.

Job Printing.—We are now prepared to execute, at this office, all manner of Job Printing.

To Our Readers.—Subscribers will notice that the cross on their paper denotes "time out" and we would be pleased with prompt renewal of subscriptions.

Cheap Advertising.—All our friends are cordially invited to send notices for this column at the exceedingly low price of 10 cents a line.

Having received our new EXTRA LARGE "Job Press" our friends are informed that all kinds of PRINTING will be done in the best possible manner on new type and according to the latest styles.

To Subscribers.—A PREMIUM.—Our mutual interest may be subserved by increasing the circulation of the Post. We respectfully ask the favor of each subscriber to send us one new name till first of January and this we shall continue to offer till that date for $2.

There may be many who hav'n't the change convenient—don't let that deter them from sending in their names, we'll wait with them till produce takes the shape of greenbacks, provided they be men who are engaged in some occupation for a livelihood; and to the one who sends us the largest number by the 25th of August, we'll send the Post one year free, and to the next ten highest, we'll send it till 1st of January free.

Fine rains in Raleigh on Thursday.

Street cars now run as far as Rankin street.

Business of all kind is very dull now.

New sweet potatoes sell in Charlotte for $1.50 per bushel.

Thermometer yesterday ranged from eighty-six to eighty-eight degrees.

A regatta, at Wrightsville Sound, is in contemplation for this, the new week.

But two deeds were probated before the Clerk of the Superior Court on yesterday.

Our cool nights have commenced. No more sultry weather after sundown.

We are happy to announce that our fore man, Mr. Hall, is gradually improving.

An attempt is now being made to hold an Agricultural Fair at Weldon during the Fall.

Newbern is hard up. Proposals are to be received at the City Clerk's office, for lighting the streets with kerosene oil.

Geo. W. Sites retires from the Asheville News and leaves that paper under the sole control of R. M. Stokes.

Mr. J. C. McMillen, near Teachey's Depot, has a cotton stalk with three hundred and fifty-six blooms and bolls.

The weather for the last few days has been unusually warm; yet the general health of the city is unprecedently good.

Rev. Mr. Burr, of Maryland, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church both this morning and evening.

Rev. Geo. T. Wilmer, of Asheville, N. C., has been elected Professor of Belles Letters and Moral Sciences in William and Mary College, Virginia.

Landlords, those who have souls, are preparing to put their tenant houses in good repair. Painters and carpenters are full of business.

The Philadelphia Post says that "Secretary Fish was born in the year 1705." He is a pretty old Fish then—only 164 years.

A turn-out on the street railway will this week be put in operation. It is to be located on Market, a short distance East of Front.

The Ninth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Association will be held at Raleigh on October 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d. It will be the first held since the close of the war.

Robeson county is again quiet. No captures were made by the militia, but one colored man, named Andrew Strong, came in and surrendered himself and was bailed for his appearance.

We hear that two descendants of Ham ventured engaged in a rough and tumble fist cuff near the corner of Dock and Water Streets. One was badly whipped and "tother" was only "second best."

The Second Building Association is now full, all the stock being taken and a third is talked of. If we keep on in this way, we will all get rich before we know it. A consummation devoutly to be wished.

The Rutherfordton Vindicator of Monday last says that the corn crops in that (Lincoln) county are almost a total failure, except on the river lowland; and up near the mountains. They have had no good rains for over two months.

Hon. N. W. Woodfin, co-proprietor of the Elk Mountain Cheese Factory, will read a paper on Cheese making in Western North Carolina, before the State Agricultural Society during the week of the approaching Fair.

ARRESTED.—W. H. Strauss was yesterday arrested on a peace warrant issued on the affidavit of Christian Olson. Before the trial had progressed far, the plaintiff withdrew the charge, the defendant paying the costs.

Scuppernon grapes, the sweetest in the world, are coming into market. They delight many a palate these warm days, and the beauty is, you can eat as many as you choose and feel no bad effects and they are the most healthy fruit on record.

RECOGNIZANCE ACCEPTED.—Hannah Miller, charged with larceny, was yesterday carried for trial before Justice McQuigg, but important witnesses being absent, the case was continued till Monday, and the defendant was recognized in a bond to the amount of one hundred dollars.

ENERGY.—Messrs. Straus & Rice who were burned down a few weeks ago, have rebuilt their establishment and will have all their new machinery in operation by the 1st of October next. They have our best wishes, and we are pleased with their spirit of enterprise.

A bill will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature, to amend the charter of the city of Wilmington. Its principal features are for the election of a Mayor, eight Aldermen and four Councilmen, proportioned as follows: First Ward, four, Second Ward three, Third Ward, two and Fourth Ward three.

We learn that steps are being taken by some of our amateurs (col.) to give a Grand Vocal Concert at City Hall or Theatre during September or October, to aid in the purchase of a Steam Fire Engine, for the colored Fire Department.

Thus it will be seen that our colored citizens are interesting themselves in this very laudable object. We cordially wish them every good effort.

BE KIND TO CHILDREN.—Blessed be the hand which prepares a pleasure for a child, for there is no saying where and when it may again bloom forth. Does not almost everybody remember some kind-hearted man who showed him a kindness in the quiet days of his childhood? The writer of this recollects himself at this moment as a barefooted lad standing at the wooden fence of a poor little garden in his native village.

With longing eyes he gazed on the flowers which were blooming there quietly in the brightness of a Sunday morning. The possessor of the garden came forth from his little cottage. He was a woodcutter by trade, and spent the whole week at his work in the woods. He was coming into his garden to gather a flower to stick into his coat when he went to church. He saw the boy, and breaking off the most beautiful of his carnations—it was streaked with red and white—gave it to him. Neither the giver nor receiver spoke one word, and with bounding steps we ran home; and now, here, at a vast distance from that home, after so many years, the feeling of gratitude which agitated the breast of that boy expresses itself on paper. The carnation has long since withered, but it now blooms afresh.—Douglas Jerrold.

Read, on our third page, the lines from Byron to his half sister, Mrs. Leigh, which will be found as full of music and of beauty as ever. They are particularly interesting just at this time when Harriet Beecher Stowe, forgetting all that is due to herself and to others, pollutes the literary world by the gross and indecent charges which she has made against the memory of the great poet. These charges may, or may not, be true but they will be looked upon as libels by the world at large until they are authenticated by something more than the bare assertion of Mrs. Stowe.

SPECIAL MAGISTRATE'S COURT.—Yesterday the Captain and Mate of the Barque John A. Bishop were carried before Justice McQuigg to stand trial on the charge of having committed, on the day previous, an assault and battery on the person of Richard Jones, a seaman on the above mentioned vessel. The testimony given at the trial pronounced the assault and battery a mere affray, into which the sailor had entered, though reluctantly; and the "Squire" fined the Captain one dollar, the Mate five dollars, and the sailor a similar amount. Each was required to bear his portion of the costs of the suit.

The committee of Arrangements for the Citizens Ball, which is to be given at City Hall on Thursday, October 9th, 1869, will meet on Monday, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of passing upon the names of parties to be invited and attending to such other matter as may present itself. We learn that the committee are hard at work and if properly seconded by the citizens—both male and female, expect to realize a handsome sum.

MAGAZINES, ETC.—"Every Saturday" by Fields, Osgood & Co., Boston, contains among other articles "A romance of Florence" by Thomas Adolphus Trollope; Children's Literature of the last Century by Miss Yonge; The discovery of America by the Chinese; Noddy's Situation; The Tryst in Twin-Tree Lane; The Woman of the Future, etc.

Zell's Popular Encyclopedia and Universal Dictionary, numbers 43 and 44 have arrived. They fully sustain the high reputation of the preceding numbers.

The Radical for September, published at 25 Broomfield Street, Boston, contains "The task of Religion"; "On the Merciless Cruelty of Children's Books"; "The Arrow"; "Condition"; "Wild Red Lilies," etc.

Die Modenwelt for September.—The September number of this beautiful Fashion Periodical, published at Berlin, Prussia, and imported by S. T. Taylor, No. 391 Canal Street, New York, has been received, and we must confess it is one of the best and most reliable journals on fashion for ladies and children in this country; in fact, it is worth more to the ladies than all the other fashion magazines combined. No lady should be without it. It gives some 1,500 illustrations, 280 patterns, 400 diagrams of embroidery, and 12 large colored engravings yearly, and the price is so cheap that every lady can afford to subscribe for it—only $3 a year, or 35 cents for single copies. Can be had of all news dealers, or S. T. Taylor 391 Canal Street, New York. Mr. Taylor offers to send specimen copies for 25 cents; so, ladies, take our advice and send for a copy immediately, and depend upon it you will never regret it.

COMPLETION OF THE BRIDGES.—Yesterday, the first train was run from this city to Riverside over the new bridge and a few gentlemen hastily collected, but with no formal invitation accompanied the train. The following officers of the various Roads were present; Hon. R. B. Bridges, President, Col. S. L. Fremont Superintendent, Mr. Thompson, Treasurer, Mr. Poisson Ticket Agent, Mr. Parker, Road Master and Mr. Divine of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad; J. J. Alexander Esq. Treasurer and Mr. Allen, Master of Transportation, Wilmington Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad. Among the passengers we noticed Gen. Ransom, Capt. Jarvis, Messrs. Short, Grafflin, of Baltimore, Colahan, Contractor of Charleston Road, Bailey, Van Bokkellen, Capt. Jones and others. The party started in high spirits and after a short delay at the junction with the Charlotte track, on laying the last rail the party went on to the bridge.

Here we were joined by Mr. Bullman, the contractor and his friends, the signal was given, and the splendid Engine, "Bridges" passed rapidly over the first bridge. We then had two miles of track laid on trestle work to the bridge over the North West branch of the river which was crossed in safety. The train then started for Riverside. An amusing incident occurred on the track. It seems that some planter had erected a rail fence across the track. The engineer saw it too late to stop and therefore put on steam and scattered the fence rails in every direction. Some of the passengers, seeing the rails, rushed for the rear of the car with all speed, amid the laughter of the rail road officials who stood fire with the bravery of veterans. After visiting Riverside, the party returned to the river where a halt was made to inspect the bridge and witness the working of the draw, which was indeed the perfection of mechanism.

The Wilmington Railway Bridge Company was organized in 1866. It is a separate stock company, the stock having been subscribed by the Rail Road's running to this city.

The following are the present officers.
R. B. Bridges, President.
S. D. Wallace, Treasurer.
W. H. McDowell, Superintendent.
W. Bullman, Contractor.
The contract was made in November of that year, and the work is now done, in spite of the most stupendous difficulties and unforeseen accidents.

The bridge over the North West river consists of one 217 foot span with a draw of 150 feet. The North East has a draw of 150 feet, one span of 160 feet and two of 144 feet each. The frame work is of iron, and stands on iron cylinders. The work cost over half a million of dollars. The draw over the North West weighs 170 tons, but a boy 14 years of age opened it in the presence of the party, with apparent ease. The cylinder that it rests on was sunk 65 feet below the water line to find a substantial bottom, and in fact, much of the trestle work required 60 foot piling.

Great credits are due to the officers of this company, for their untiring energy and determination, for had they but ordinary perseverance, they would have abandoned this work in disgust.

There will be no change in the depots at present. The Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad will use their old one, as will the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad. We understand the Wilmington & Manchester Railroad will run their track into the Weldon depot.

The party returned delighted with the beauty and strength of the bridges, as well as the courtesy and attention of President Bridges, and his worthy Superintendent, Col. Fremont. The party returned at about 8 o'clock, with good appetites for dinner and with the knowledge that theirs had been the first train over the new bridge. May there be many more, equally pleasant safes.

HOLINESS AND HUMILITY.—Holiness and humility are inseparably connected. The nearer the soul comes to God, the more completely it is humbled, subdued and overpowered. It was when Job heard the voice of the Lord out of the whirlwind that he exclaimed, "I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes." When the "still small voice" of God spake to the exiled prophet in his cave, he wrapped his blushing face in his mantle, and his whole being bowed before the Divine presence and power. It was when the evangelical prophet Isaiah saw the glory of the Lord, and heard the six-winged seraphim crying one to another, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts," that he cried out; "Woe is me, for I am undone." It was after Paul had been caught up into the third heaven that he said of himself that he was "The least of all the saints." And it was the beloved disciple whose head had leaned on the breast of Jesus, and who had beheld his glory in apocalyptic vision, whose meek, childlike spirit has been the admiration of all ages. Thus it is with every saint on earth, and it is so with every glorified spirit in heaven. The higher the soul rises in holiness, the deeper it sinks in humility and self-abasement. So sings Montgomery:

"The bird that soars on the highest wing,
Builds on the ground her lowly nest;
And she that doth most sweetly sing,
Sings in the shade, when all things rest:
In dark and nightingale we see
What honor hath humility."

"The saint that wears heaven's brightest crown,
In lowliest adoration bends;
The weight of glory bows him down
The more his soul ascends:
Nearst the throne itself must be
The footstool of humility." Exchange.

A FAMILY BANNER.—An eminent physician, in Hearth and Home, tells the following excellent story for the benefit of young mothers. He says: "An intelligent young mother inquired some days since how she could best preserve her child's linen clean and sweet when changed frequently during the day. I directed her never to dry it by the fire, but in the sun and open air if the weather permitted. You thus not only avoid saturating the air of your rooms with the volatile and poisonous gases driven out of the linen, but the sun's rays have powers of cleansing and disinfecting that artificial heat has not, and will purify and preserve the linen. She followed my directions, but as it is too often the practice, dried and aired it in the nursery window. Her fastidious husband remonstrated in vain against this unseemly exposure. Believing that if she saw her practise as others saw it, she would desist, he so directed their walk as to bring the nursery-window into full view from a central part of the town. Stopping abruptly, he pointed to the offending linen flapping conspicuously in the breeze, and asked sarcastically: "My dear, what is that displayed from our window?" "Why," she proudly replied, "that is the flag of our union!"

Conquered with this pungent retort, he saluted the flag with a swing of his hat, and pressing his wife's arm closer within his own, said, as they walked homeward, "And long may it wave."

GOOD ADVICE.

Let our possessions be what they may—marble palaces, broad lands, magnificent plate, or casquets of "precious stones"—they all sink in the balance against Heaven's great boon, HEALTH, and they cannot be enjoyed without it. And yet how little is it valued, and how carelessly preserved. The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. Night revelry, luxurious living, irregularity of meals, and a disordered appetite, will gradually destroy the power and activity of the stomach. How many ladies and gentlemen eat and drink disease at late suppers, and arise in the morning with headache, loss of appetite, feeling languid and unrefreshed. There can be no medical remedy that will turn lead into food, or poisoned drinks into nutriment, but medical science can assist nature, supply exhausted fluids, and to a great extent correct the effects of disease. In all cases such as the above, we recommend PLASTINATION BITTERS. You will find them just the thing—at the same time a most delicious tonic and appetizer.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

KOSKOO, the great Liver Invigorator, Blood Purifier, and Renovator, prepared by Dr. J. J. Lawrence, the celebrated Physician and Chemist, is a safe, pleasant, and reliable remedy for the prevention and cure of all diseases caused by a TORPID LIVER, IMPURE BLOOD, DISORDERS OF THE KIDNEYS, or DEBILITY OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM. IT REGULATES the secretions, ERADICATES all HUMORS OF THE SKIN, restores lost or wasted nervous power, and at the same time builds up and imparts tone and vigor to the whole system. For sale by E. Willis, Wilmington, N. C.

STATE.

Excellent rains in the Weldon section on Sunday last.

The Greensboro' Patriot is to be issued daily at an early day.

Corn is worth from $1.10 to $1.12 and wheat $1.25 to $1.50 in Charlotte.

There have been several thunder storms in the neighborhood of Fayetteville quite recently.

Prof. Washington C. Kerr, State Geologist, will deliver the annual address at the approaching State Fair.

Mr. B. O. Pearson, a well known citizen of Halifax county, died at his residence on last Monday.

The Raleigh Hook and Ladder Company take an excursion to Morehead city on next Wednesday.

The total cost of building will be between $500,000 and $600,000.

A colored man, named Hagan, was arrested and lodged in jail at Fayetteville on last Tuesday, charged with complicity in the Robeson county outrages.

The Commissioners of the town of Fayetteville have subscribed $75,000 to the Fayetteville and Florence Railroad, subject to a ratification by the people at an election to be held on the 16th September.

The Goldsboro' Messenger says it has there "the finest Court House in the State, the Bar having been lately rebuilt &c." Look out neighbor, for "contempt of Court" for speaking in that way.

The Tarboro' Southerner says: A recent visit to Granville disclosed a most distressing state of affairs among the farming interests of that County.

For nearly three months scarcely a drop of rain has fallen and as a consequence it is expected that the Corn crop will prove an entire failure. Whole fields have withered and burnt up and it looks as if a spark of fire would set the yellow dried stalks in a perfect blaze. The tobacco crops are also suffering very much, though not to the same extent as the Corn.

The farmers in this section have certainly great cause of thanksgiving for the excellent season thus far.

The following account of the arrest in Lenoir county and imprisonment in the jail at Newbern, of eighteen men, charged with various crimes, such as murder, arson, horse-stealing, &c., is taken from the Newbern Times:

It was rumored about town Monday that Capt. Mowers, of this city, had ferreted out a nest of assassins and murderers in Lenoir county, but the report was so vague that only a few knowing ones had any idea of the truth of the statement or the extent of the information which had been obtained. A telegram received yesterday stated the fact that eighteen prisoners would arrive on the freight passenger train from Kinston and when the train arrived it brought Detective Mowers, of this city, Sheriff Hunter, of Kinston, and several others who assisted Capt. Mowers in the capture of the desperadoes.

Since the first of last April, Capt. Mowers has been acting as a detective and ferreting out the perpetrators of the crimes that have constantly been committed in and near Lenoir County, and while some have thought that his labors were ineffectual still he has persevered. So close did he follow up the criminals that two have turned State's Evidence to evade the hand of justice and there are several more who are anxious to do the same thing. Acting on the information he had at his command he hired what assistants he needed, and Monday night when he commenced his operations not a citizen of Lenoir County except those engaged knew that there was such an officer in the vicinity, and before day light yesterday eighteen prisoners were awaiting the train that was to bring them to this city. Their names are as follows:

James Wiggins, Thos. Waters, sen, Wm. Coker, Marion Sutton, Nathan Sutton, Alex. Sutton, Richard Sutton, James Dally, W. B. Nelson, J. L. Parker, Wm. Wiggins, Wm. Pool, Alex. Dawson, J. T. Sugg, R. F. Hill, Egbert Hill, Everett Hill and Benj. Jones.

Another man, named Redding Hines, fired into the band that went to arrest him, leaped from a window and escaped.

It is supposed that the jail breakers and murderers of prisoners in Lenoir have at last been captured and if so every law-loving citizen will wish to see them convicted and summarily punished.

Too much credit cannot be given to Capt. Mowers for his persistent and untiring effort to bring the criminals to justice, and if the men who are now in custody are proven to be the guilty parties, he has done the country and the State great and lasting service.
