New moon on Tuesday.

Delightfully cool and pleasant here during the past week.

September having arrived oysters will be plentiful in our market.

September mullets are now coming into market.

Forty-three prisoners now confined in the county jail at this place.

It is thought now that the new Baptist Church will be ready for use by the first of the new year.

Rev. J. H. Dally will to-day fill his pulpit at Front Street Methodist Church, he having been absent for about a week past.

The vigilant Fire Engine (No. 3) has been re-inforced by the arrival on Thursday of a lot of new suction hose.

An extra guard has been placed over the jail, in this city. This on account of the unusually large number now confined there. Many of whom are desperadoes of the worst character.

COLD.—It was cool yesterday. In fact too cool to write much. Hence our columns are short.

A lot situated upon Third street, between Nun and Church, 66x165 feet, was sold at auction Thursday by Messrs. Cronly & Morris for $910.

Mr. Patrick Murphy has been appointed Treasurer of the Female Seminary Association and is calling on subscribers for installments.

The grape crop of Columbus county has been damaged about one-third by the drought. The grapes are, however, larger and better than usual.

Within a very short time the Baptist and St. James' and St. John's Churches have been entered by thieves—the last named Church having twice received a visit from these gentry.

The watermelon season being nearly over the City Marshal has again opened his batteries on the swine genus, and on Thursday the war against them was resumed.

Messrs. T. S. Lutterloh, A. J. Jones and other stockholders of the Bank of Cumberland, have bought out Messrs. P. A. Wiley & Co., and will commence the circulation of greenbacks among our Fayetteville friends at an early day.

A co-operative store is to be started in this city at an early day. An excellent move and one that will greatly benefit the working classes.

Messrs. Henry N. Jones, Jno. Henry Brown, James Richardson, Thomas Rivera, Geo. W. Betts and Prince Larrington have been selected as the committee on invitations for the Grand Promenade and Fireman's Ball, Thursday, October 7th, 1869.

The committee will meet to-morrow, Monday, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of examining and passing upon names submitted for invitation.

The committee will please be punctual at the Mayor's Court Room at the stated hour, 3 o'clock.

EXPLANATORY.—Mr. M. L. Guyton, whom, with his wife and sister-in-law, came near getting killed on a trestle work over the new Railroad Bridge at Hilton Sunday evening last, by an engine, expresses his entire aversion to a John Huggins who was evidently the engineer; and desires us to forward him by parties who witnessed the occurrence, pronounce it one of the most impolite, indecent and cowardly tricks ever committed in a civilized country.

He wishes it understood that he does not censure the officials of the road whereupon this happened, but the engineer, who was in an inebriate condition, and no doubt without their (the officials) knowledge.

WORLD MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.—We call attention to advertisement of Messrs. DeRoset & Co., Agents for the above popular Life Company, which appears in our paper to-day. In connection with the advertisement there appears a receipt for $3,000, the amount for which the life of the late Willie B. Meares was insured in this Company, and which has since been paid over to his family.

The "World" is one of the most reliable of the many Life Insurance Companies that are now candidates for popular favor and its reliability has been well tested in the payment of the policy spoken of above. The business here is conducted by Mr. T. C. DeRoset, who will take pleasure in filling out a policy for any one and to any amount.

N. C. REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE AGENCY.—Hon. Sion H. Rogers, has been elected President of this Company; and there has also been an entire remodeling of the scheme for the Grand Drawing to come off on the 19th of November next—certain. The whole scheme has been changed and the total amount has wisely too, we think—reduced from $140,000 to $75,000.

We have never doubted the intentions and the ability of this company to perform all that they have promised to do and now that such a man as Sion H. ROGERS is known to be, is placed at the head of affairs, our confidence is doubly increased. Stockholders may feel confident of a good dividend before the close of the year.

MONTHLIES.—Van Nostrand's Eclectic Engineering Magazine for September is before us. As usual it is filled with an excellent selection of articles on arts and sciences taken from the leading scientific journals of the old world, the cam of all of which is presented here in volume. D. Van Nostrand, 23 Murray street, New York, at $3 per annum.

Peterson's for October full of the late novelties in ladies dress and of illustrations for the fall and winter fashions of the incoming season. Beside the fashion plates there is also a beautiful steel engraving in front, a piece of light reading matter. Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, a year.

The September number of the American Agriculturist a superb number. It has numerous illustrations on a variety of subjects and contains an excellent amount of reading matter for the delatation of the farmer. Much valuable and useful information is contained in this issue and every planter in the land should have it. Orange Judd & Co., 245 Broadway, New York, at $1 50 per annum.

As welcome as ever comes to us the July issue of the London Quarterly Review, and with a table of contents that must arrest the attention of all. These contents are: Eastern Christians, Scientific vs. Amateur Administration, The Malay Archipelago, Keble's Biography, The Argument of Design, The House of Conde, The Royal Engineers and Permanent Fortifications, Lucan, The Truth about Ireland. Republished by Leonard Scott Publishing Company, 140 Fulton street, New York.

Appleton's Journal for the incoming week is an especially fine number, a most elegant steel print being the accompaniment of this issue. There are several other pretty illustrations and a very pleasing variety of reading matter all of which is sold for ten cents. D. Appleton & Co., New York, at $4 per annum, and for sale by all news-dealers.

TRAINING OF EDITORS.—In the last issue of the Lexington Gazette appears a long and interesting article on Washington College, from which we extract the following reference to a new and striking feature, proposed to be embraced in the scope and purpose of that institution. The writer says:

That feature of expansive liberality most attractive and striking to an editor is the proposal to appoint to scholarship and the college a certain number of young men who propose to make journalism their profession. This is the first distinct recognition ever made by the so called Centres of Wisdom of the true dignity and importance of the public press; and shows a wish to aid in its elevation by the education of those who are to serve in its ranks. It accepts it as a coadjutor in public instruction, and fraternizes with those who perform its functions as ministers at the altar of knowledge.

Good.—Our friends Messrs. Northrop & Cumming have placed us under obligations by bountiful donations of the fragrant and solacing "Durham." How the genial faces of these gentlemen will look out of the clouds of smoke with which we will envelope our massive head. Schib.

Our friend Sheriff Schenck has returned and brought with him elegant varieties of enterprise and hope to chronicle more arrivals of the same sort. It cost no more to fatten a 300 pound pig than one of our land sharks up to 150. Let us have the good pigs and large chickens. We will meet them again at our Fair we hope and those who really wish to improve the breed of stock in the country, will do well to notice.

The first regatta since the war was sailed on Wrightsville Sound Thursday. A beautiful day greeted the many parties of ladies and gentlemen in attendance, and a fair wind gladdened the hearts of the contestants. Messrs. T. M. Gardner, F. J. Lord and R. H. Grant were chosen judges and the following boats were entered:

BOAT.	OWNERS.	LENGTH.
Teazer,	H. Burkheimer,	15 feet.
Vina,	C. C. Morse,	15-4 "
No Name,	A. B. Burr,	17 "
Retta,	F. A. L. Cassiday,	19-10 "

The judges started the Teazer at 4:10, the Vina 1 minute and 20 seconds later, No Name 40 seconds after the Vina and the Retta 50 seconds after the No Name.

The boats sailed up Motts channel round a buoy and then down again, then down the sound to a stake boat near Masonboro and then back up Motts channel and around the stake boat again and up to the starting point on the sound, making a seven miles run, and thoroughly testing the sailing qualities of the yachts, as they were given a taste of all varieties of wind. They passed the stake boat at the starting point on the second run in the following order, "Teazer" No name, "Retta" and the "Vina."

At this point the "Retta" got aground causing a delay of about a minute. After getting into deep water it was discovered that she had broken the jaws of her gaff, and therefore withdrew. The "Vina" soon got tired and returned, leaving the race between the "Teazer" and the yacht with no name.

The "Teazer" came in winner at 5:47 p. m. beating the no name by 4 minutes, and 28 seconds, and making the run in 1 hour and 37 minutes.

The affair was a grand success, and we now look for many more such friendly contests. The very best of good humor prevailed and all went well. Capt. Burkheimer, who sailed the Teazer, seemed to take his success as a matter of course and received the congratulations of his friends with a nonchalant as though he "was used to this sort of thing you know." We hear of new matches being gotten up and if they only come off may we be there to see.

The National Temperance Convention called to organize a third political party on temperance principles, met at Chicago Wednesday. About two hundred delegates were present. Hon. James Black, of Pennsylvania was chosen President. The day was consumed in discussing the advisability of forming a third party.

GOOD ADVICE.

Let our possessions be what they may—marble palaces, broad lands, magnificent plate, or caskets of "precious stones"—they all sink in the balance against Heaven's great boon, HEALTH, and they cannot be enjoyed without it. And yet how little is it valued, and how carelessly preserved. The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. Night revelry, luxurious living, irregularity of meals, and a disordered appetite, will gradually destroy the power and activity of the stomach. How many ladies and gentlemen eat and drink disease at late suppers, and arise in the morning with headache, loss of appetite, feeling languid and unrefreshed. There can be no medical remedy that will turn lead into food, or poisoned drinks into nutriment, but medical science can assist nature, supply exhausted fluids, and to a great extent correct the effects of disease. In all cases such as the above, we recommend PLANTATION BITTERS. You will find them just the thing—at the same time a most delicious tonic and appetizer.

MACOILLA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

KOSMOS, the great Liver, Inguinator, Blood Purifier, and Renovator, prepared by Dr. J. J. Lawrence, the celebrated Physician and Chemist, is a SAFE, PAINLESS, and RELIABLE remedy, for the prevention and cure of all diseases caused by a TORPID LIVER, IMPURE BLOOD, DISORDERS OF THE KIDNEYS, or DEBILITY OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

IT REGULATES the secretions, ERADICATES all HUMORS OF THE SKIN, restores lost or wasted nervous power, and at the same time builds up and imparts tone and vigor to the whole system. For sale by E. Willis, Wilmington, N. C.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[LETTER NO. 7.]
Education.

SMITHVILLE, Sept. 2, 1869.

MR. EDITOR:—At the close of the war intelligent men at once saw the necessity of inaugurating a thorough system of education for the South, to enable it successfully to compete with the growing intelligence and enterprise of the North. The South had hitherto neglected this duty. The ignorant masses had always been the pliant tools of the large planters and landowners, but they obtained an education for their own children at the North, generally, in place of building up schools and colleges at the South. To remedy these evils it has been the constant aim and untiring pursuit of such men as General Howard to develop the moral and intellectual capacity and found a new element of power in the people and to seek loyalty in the masses where it was wanting in their leaders, by laying the foundation of instruction in a complete system of common schools, as at the North. The much abused Freedman's Bureau, of which Gen. Howard is chief, with other intelligent philanthropists and statesmen, gave their unqualified and earnest support, and constant attention and labor to the cause, for with farseeing sagacity they at once saw that the entire salvation of the new States and Republics of the classes in the South, for they perceived that ignorance might suit a state of slavery, but never a state of liberty. War filled up the valleys and pulled down the mountains, and graded the track for a new christian civilization that an enlightened education might penetrate the remotest and secluded pine forests of the South, and drain the unexplored marshes of popular ignorance, and dispel forever the illusions and prejudices of a bygone age. The want of education was felt and seen to have been the promoting cause which ultimately resulted in the disastrous effects witnessed by the rebellion. The same reasons that actuated these men also governed the old hostile element at the South to oppose education in its practical operation and general diffusion, for they saw that the last shred and vestige of their power and former supremacy would be forever swept away, which result is now being consummated, because they abused the trust reposed in them by the people by neglecting education and schools for the people when they had the power, and their former influence will never be regained, for the people can now see the selfishness of their policy. It is therefore with gratification and pride that we look for the regeneration and advancement of the new South, and an elevation in every additional school house that is planted, as if a fresh battery were placed in position, no longer with the object of destroying men's lives and property, but by moral force reclaim and build up what has been secured and purchased at so much sacrifice of life through the agency of war, that good what may once more be planted and grown in peace, and bring forth fruits in abundance for the happiness and prosperity of all. With but a few honorable exceptions the people of the South have taken no special interest or concern in this important enterprise, and the entire credit of this great undertaking, i. e. educating an entire people has been commenced, carried on and thoroughly organized to an unprecedented extent by the public spirit and private expenses of the people of the North, amongst whom the American Tract Society, as representing the Churches, has done a noble and imperishable work; and at some future day when prejudice and hostility shall have subsided from the minds of her people, the South will acknowledge and appreciate the work which the Reconstructed State Governments have now taken in hand to furnish and superintend. No one in this State is better qualified and fitted by an extensive experience and thorough education than Rev. S. S. Ashley, our present State Superintendent, who like most benefactors of their race, has been the subject of constant abuse and calumny; but the children of those who killed the Prophets, were the ones to build their altars, so will an after generation honor the names of such men, whose future monuments they have themselves, laid in the enduring gratitude and love of the children who are now growing up, and whose names they will cherish and revere as Fathers and Saviours to the country. But my object in writing at this time, is to notice the opening of the new school house previously referred to in the Post, at this place, and just erected through the active exertions of Senator E. Legg, who obtained an appropriation of $500 from government of unexpended funds left in the hands of the Freedmen's Bureau and appropriated by Gen'l. Howard for educational purposes at the South, and with the valuable assistance rendered by the colored people themselves, in performing the necessary labor gratis which equalled an additional amount of $200 which shows their appreciation of what is being done for them. In this way it is always a pleasure to help those who show such a determination to help themselves. They are now subscribing money among themselves and friends to purchase a large steel bell to complete the edifice, for which the money has already been secured and the order sent off to have it funded, which, with every thing complete, will cost delivered about $30. The dimensions of the building are 24 X 35 feet, and will seat one hundred and ten scholars. The school was formally opened on the 28th ultimo, by dedication services consisting of singing, and addresses on the subject of education, by Senator E. Legg, Mr. Solomon C. Smith, Anthony Davis, L. A. Galloway, Wm. Brown, John Davis and others. If the colored people of Smithville will but show an equal determination to help themselves now they have the chance, to become educated, they will do themselves and this community credit, for they will be more valuable and better citizens with an education than without one, and no colored or white man, who is indifferent to the education of his children, is worthy of the honored name of father. Differing as I do with many people of the South on this subject, experience has proved it; and considering the end and duty of man, with an immortal soul, it becomes a sacred and solemn obligation of parents and others to advance and elevate their fellow-beings far above the mere brutes which perish, and help to prepare and educate him for a higher, a nobler and better state of existence. Therefore all good men should assist and encourage on this good work and they will not lose their reward.

The colored people of Smithville have likewise a determination, and are in a fair way of becoming useful, intelligent, honest and industrious citizens with the same means and opportunities as the white people. Quietness and good feeling generally pervades this community.
