WILMINGTON, N. C., SEPTEMBER 5, 1869.

WE are pleased to see the Star twinkle again. Bernard is getting better and we congratulate him.

THE Standard calls upon the Star to declare its platform, but our little neighbor "aint on that lay much." Wait Mr. Standard until we know how that "cat is going to jump" and then-perhaps-the Star man will "show his hand."

Good Crops.

We rejoiced exceedingly yesterday to hear a farmer say he had a splendid crop and that his neighbors were all all rejoicing. We only wish there were more smiling faces among them. Our farmers must not place all their dependence on one crop, but should plant several different articles each year. We cannot expect always to succeed in cotton, or rice, or peas, but if our farmers would plant part of their land in cotton and part in peas-where one failed the liever in rotation and variety in crops.

THE new judicial sensation in Massachusetts, says the New York Times, is imprisoning eminently respectable people for assaulting other eminently respectable people. The other day Mr. Curtis, a Boston merchant, was put in jail for two months, for having "gently turned" the nose of Mr. Churchill, a Boston lawyer. Now, Mr. Boynton, a Brighton merchant, is also put in jail for two months, for having assaulted Mr. Braman, a Brighton lawyer. What is the matter? Are the Massachusetts merchants taking to the business of tweaking the noses of the Massachusetts lawyers? Is the spice of peril in the sport getting to be irresistible? Perhaps now that the merchants know just how much their fun costs, they are inclined to risk the two months in jail for the gueing Jews, Protestants and Freethinkers, tional Capital Committee from Governor satisfaction of settling old scores on the noses of the legal profession. The fact, however, that rich and poor receive the same penalty, shows that even-handed justice is meted out in the Courts of Boston.

Public Debt.

We publish the following from the N. Y. Times which shows conclusively that our public debt is being reduced every month, in spite of democratic bluster of repudiation and poverty. Our party promised reduction and it has steadily gone on. Let those who prophecied ruination and a monarchy

The foregoing are the result of a single month's administration of the Treasury. They leave no reason to doubt that the paying-off process, through the Fall months, will continue as it has been going on ever since the 4th of March.

The Ryron Scandal -- Mr. Bonner Would not have Published it for a Million of

NEW YORK, August 30th, 1869. To the Editor of the Herald: In your paper of this morning I find the following statement, copied from the Louisville Courier-Journal, in regard to Mrs.

Stowe's recent article on Lord Byron: "Dana and Bonner fairly burst with spleen—Dana because he didn't invent the Byron scandal, and Bonner because he didn't get it for the Ledger. "Damnation!" cried Bonner when he first got an inkling of it; " why didn't she fetch it to me? Why, I'd have paid her a cool $5,000 for it."

This is not only a falsehood, but it is a falsehood which no one at all acquainted with me could ever had invented. Whatever I might have thought about Mrs. Stower' article, it would have been quite contrary to my habit of speech to characterize it by the word "Damnation;" but this must say, that a million of dollars could not have induced me to print the gross and indecent article in the Ledger, no matter what the publishers of the Atlantic Monthly were willing to do. Few women have evinced so much talent as Mrs. Stowe. I have myself purchased articles from her tor other would succeed. We are a firm be- which I have cheerfully paid her a high price; but they were very different articles from the one under consideration. And I do not believe that any true friend who was himself in his right mind could have advised her to sell for any sum that morbid, terrible and unnatural hallucination about Lord Byron. For her sake I sincerily and ber. deeply regret that she has done it. I know of no article published in my lifetime calculated to exert a more injurious and demoralizing influence on the rising generation, and for this reason I wish everybody to know that nothing would have tempted me ROBERT BONNER.

> The Imprisoned Nun at Cracow-Another Side of the Story.

The Pall Mall Gazette has the following: "We have so few good horrors lately that we hope we are not going to be disappointed about the nun at Cracow. After several trials, however, she was to be mistaken as to her vocation. Her piety was fervent, and in many respects she showed great merit; but she was so excessively scrupulous that the sisters feared that she would lose her senses.

'At a later date she offered herself to the Carmelites and was received into the convent. Her scrupulosity, however here became worse and ended in madness. The convent. The 'filthy hole' she occupied was in fact a clean and well aired room. A close examination of the poor nun's body has disclosed no traces of the tortures she is said to have suffered for twenty-one years. Altogether the Universe thinks she has been very comfortable, and if this really is the case our penny-a-liners ought to do some kind of penance, otherwise by the good 'Carmente' sisters at Crucow. Still the Universe is the Universe, and does not command our implicit faith.'

On Saturday, July 10, a fire broke out in a carpenter's gale from the west blowing at the time, the fire spread rapidly, and in a few hours the whole of that part of the town which is situated on the north side of the river was burned down, 700 houses and tenements were destroyed, and 8,000 houseless persons, out of a population 13,000, having lost almost everything they possessed, are now camping in the open air. The loss is estimated at $2,500,000, and many of the working classes are uninsured. Committees for assisting the sufferers have been immediately formed in Sweden, and all having busines connections with Gefle, or otherwise taking an interest in Sweden, are invited to come forward with their aid towards the same object.

She had refused him frequently, and he as often renewed his suit. At one interview she became extremely annoyed at his importunity, and told him that she could not marry him; that their tastes, opinions, likes and dislikes were totally different. "In fact," said she, "Mr. Bacon, I don't think there is one subject on earth upon which we taken," said Mr. Bacon, "and I can prove on the great Comstock Lode, in Nevada.

"Well," said Mr. Bacon, "I will do it. Suppose, now, you and I were traveling together; we arrive at night at a hotel, and there are only two beds vacant; in one there is a man, and the other a woman-which would you sleep in ?" "She rose indignantly, and replied, "With the woman, of course, sir!" "So would I," earnestly responded Mr.
