DISTRACED DEMOCRACY.

The unfortunate uncertainty of democratic leaders, who know not what to select for a winning card, has led the sportive "Nasby" to thus complain:

STATISTICS OF IMMIGRATION.

The official statement of passengers arrived in the United States during the year ended June 30, 1899 has just been compiled at the Bureau of Statistics, and will appear in the next monthly report. The following abstract is furnished:

The total number of passengers arrived was 389,651, of whom 240,477 were males and 148,174 females. Of these 153,842 were cabin and 235,809 steerage passengers. Of passengers not immigrants there were: Citizens of the United States, 26,776; foreigners not intending to remain, 10,606. The actual immigrants numbered 352,569, of whom 214,748 were males and 137,821 females; 79,803 were under fifteen years of age, 232,188 were between fifteen and forty, and 40,568 of forty and upward.

These immigrants arrived at the following customs districts: At New York, 253,754; Haron, 35,390; Boston, 23,294; San Francisco, 13,400; Baltimore, 11,292; Portland, Me., 4,936; New Orleans, 3,434; Detroit, 3,506; Philadelphia, 1,061; Oregon, 978; Texas, 709; Key West, 476; Charleston, 331; Cuyahoga, 315; Chicago, 206; Gloucester, 170; all others 251.

The nationalities of these immigrants were as follows: Germany, 132,537; Great Britain, 60,286; Ireland, 44,938; Sweden, 24,221; British North American Possessions, 20,918; Norway, 16,063; China, 12,874; France, 8,579; Switzerland, 3,650; Denmark, 3,649; West Indies, 2,224; Belgium, 1,922; Italy, 1,488; Holland, 1,134; Spain, 1,123; Azores, 420; Russia, 343; Mexico, 320; Poland, 184; all others, 278.

The occupations reported by immigrants were as follows: Laborers, 88,649; farmers, 29,096; mechanics, not reporting special trades, 16,559; servants, 10,305; merchants, 8,809; miners, 6,003; clerks, 1,643; masons, 1,388; mariners, 1,219; tailors, 1,124; shoemakers, 1,106; bakers, 870; weavers, 771; butchers, 645; physicians, 397; artists, 375; painters, 369; engineers, 298; carpenters, 285; seamstresses, 282; brewers, 171; all others of specified occupations, 1,436; occupations not stated, 735; without occupations, 180,449; all women and children.

The statement is also accompanied by a statement of passengers departed from the United States during the year, which shows the whole number to be 78,845, of whom 52,272 were males, 21,573 females; 65,396 were adults, 8,449 children; 70,895 departed by steamships, 2,950 by sailing vessels; 36,992 were cabin; 37,153 steerage passengers. Of the total number 55,959 left New York, 5,983 San Francisco, 3,268 Genesee, 2,417 Boston, 1,714 Puget's Sound, 1,215 Portland, Me., 1,205 Oregon, 979 New Orleans, 660 Baltimore, 312 Alaska, all others 113.

Our brethren of New Bern seem to be the crab—to be going backward fast. The Times states:

In the year of 1779, ninety years ago, the assessed list of taxables for the town of New Bern was over five millions of dollars, and at one-fifth the present per cent. the tax received was much more than that now attained. For many years before the war property was assessed for less and less every year till it got down to its present stand point.

The World reporter has "interviewed" the financial ghoul—"Vanderbilt," and to him the sage descendant of the ancient Hollander declares:

"I have nothing to tell you, my boy. You can't get anything out of me. I suppose (walking away) that it is a combination of damned thieves to put money into their pockets."

All of which is probably true—the "Com-dore" being one of the "thieves."

THREE or four beastly little corn-federate papers have been referring to "our president" and "our ex-president" Jefferson Davis—said to be once more upon the deep and returning to his "dear South." Heaven forbid that any more such "dear" sons should be born in this or any country!

THE Cincinnati Times declares: If the present custom of abbreviating names had been in vogue in olden times, we would have had Bunyan's jailer coming in of a morning while he was busy with his Pilgrim's Progress, and saying, "Morning Bun. How is your Pil. Progging?"

PARSON BROWNLOW has entirely abandoned the newspaper business, on account of "declining health and other engagements." He should by no means suffer any of his other engagements to interfere with his declining health.

The Fayetteville papers speak of "Shoehell" being named from "Hayes heels." Rather Hozy for a joke.

The Midnight Sun.

The following is a description of the scene witnessed by Mr. Campbell and his party in the north of Norway as they stood on a cliff 1,000 feet above the sea.

The ocean stretched far away in silent vastness at our feet; the sound of its waves scarcely reached our airy lookout; away in the north the huge old sun swung low along the horizon like the slow beat of the pendulum in the tall clock of our grandfather's parlor corner. We all stood silent looking at our watches. When both hands came together at 12 o'clock, midnight, the full round orb hung triumphantly above the wave—a bridge of gold running due north spanned the water between us and him. There he shone in silent majesty which knew no setting. We involuntarily took off our hats; no word was said. Combine, if you can, the most brilliant sunset you ever saw, and its beauties will pale before the gorgeous coloring which now lit up ocean, heaven and mountain. In half an hour the sun had swung up perceptibly on

Perhaps Sater will lock the gates to keep them out.—L. M. Ivesville Journal.

No doubt of it. The individual alluded to will allow no one to enter that democratic stronghold and create dissension in his household.—Detroit Advertiser.

There is no doubt but the present leading democrats would not only make hell too hot to hold the d—l, but would cheat that mythical being at his favorite game.
