THE CONGRESSIONAL CANVASS.
Mr. Canaday and Mr. Shackelford have continued their canvass until they have covered nearly all the Third District. There is much speculation as to the results on the part of both parties. All the news that reaches us is to the effect that Canaday has the best of it. Where there is so much smoke there must be fire, and where the news all runs in one direction the indication is unmistakable. The best indication we have from Carteret, Onslow, Duplin, Sampson, Moore, Harnett, Cumberland and Bladen, all points in the direction of the election of Canaday.

In proof of what we say we refer the reader to the correspondence which we publish from Simpson, Harnett and Moore. In addition to this we have numerous private advices from all the counties. The tone of the information that we have does not seem to be violent and angry, but as we have said above all points one way.

While we give these views of the state of the canvass, let us not be understood that Canaday's friends ought to rest on their laurels. Sixteen hundred Democratic majority is not a trifle to overcome in ordinary times. In any canvass vigilance should last till the last vote is in and the polls are closed. At sunset on the 2d of November the event will be decided, the fiat of the people will have been uttered, not only in this District but all over this nation. Then we can rest. But until then tireless vigilance, unrelenting pertinacity, undeviating industry in getting out every vote in each precinct, must be exercised. The interests of this important District are too great to be entrusted to indifferent hands, but will be safe if the people will send to the Capitol of the nation the energetic, the true, the bold, the indefatigable, the fearless candidate of the Republican party—Hon. William P. Canaday.

A GREAT MEETING.

Gen. Grant accompanied by Senator Conkling, Gen. Logan, and welcomed by 40,000 people, made speeches at Warren, Ohio, on the 25th ult. They were the Republicans of Garfield's noble old District of the Western Reserve, which used to turn out its 30,000 majorities. Not only Conkling and Logan, but the venerable ex-Senator Cameron, Levi P. Morton of New York, and other distinguished gentlemen were of the party. The whole scene was gay with the uniforms, clubs, music, banners, and the stars and stripes and the fair daughters of the Reserve. Among the mottoes were, "Tariff and Prosperity, or Free Trade and Poverty," "Garfield the Poor Man's Friend," "—Whose Friend is Hancock?" "—Save Our Nation in Time." Stretched across the Wigwag was—"Our Principles:—This is a Nation; loyalty, protection, reclamation, equal civil rights; a fair vote, honestly counted. We will fight it out on this line." General Grant read a prepared speech which was a model, and which we will print next week. Then Conkling delivered one of those addresses, such as he can deliver, and Logan and others, and no such time was ever seen before. Grant, Conkling and party, called on Garfield at Mentor and exchanged civilities and that the great champions of the people each took their way.

The fall term of the Criminal Court, his Honor, Judge Meares presiding, convenes in this city.

NOTICE.

Mr. John C. Blocker is the Independent candidate for Senator for Cumberland and Harnett counties.
William M. Black is the Independent candidate for Sheriff of Moore county.
W. B. Duncan is the Independent candidate for the Senate in Carteret and Onslow counties.
We understand also, that Robeson Ward is the Independent candidate for the Senate from Sampson county.

VIOLATION OF ARRANGEMENTS.

The understanding between the opposing candidates for Congress in this District is that no outsider shall make a speech at their meetings, without the consent of all the candidates. We learn that contrary to this understanding the Democratic leaders of Cumberland, seeing that Shackelford was at disadvantage at Rockfish on account of the drumming which Canaday gave him, forced W. C. Troy of Fayetteville upon the stand to make a speech, he of course being anxious to do so. The crowd at first called on Major J. C. McKay to speak, but he very properly declined to do so, having a proper regard for his character as a gentleman, and told the crowd that it would be in violation of the understanding between the candidates, and that he would not be a party to such an act. Then about half a dozen of the leaders called on Troy and he proceeded to make a speech. Canaday informed him over and again of the understanding between the candidates, but he took no notice of it. It is doubtful if another man in the District could be found, who would so far have demeaned himself, excepting this W. C. Troy. Pass him round.
A friend, who accompanied the candidates through from Fayetteville to Rockfish, the Hollow in Bladen, and to Turnbull yesterday, informs us that with the exception of the affair at Rockfish, everything was agreeable, and that Canaday was making good headway.

THE PAN-PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL.

The Pan Presbyterian Council, consisting of delegates from the Presbyterian Associations in all parts of the world, and representing a seat amounting to about 40,000,000 people, assembled for its second session at Philadelphia on the 23d of September. Among those present were some of the most eminent Theological scholars of the world, and this is only the second Council of the kind, the first having been held in Edinburgh, Scotland, two years ago.

This grave assemblage was called to order by the Rev. Dr. William Payton of New York, who preached a sermon from the text taken from Matthew, eighth chapter and eleventh verse: "And I say unto you that many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven." It is impossible for us to attempt any abstract of the sermon. After the sermon the welcoming address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Breed of Philadelphia. At the close of the sermon the speaker welcomed the foreigners as follows:

"One hundred and seventy-five years ago the first American Presbytery was organized in this city. To-day, of its 350,000 people, nearly 150 Presbyterian ministers, 120 Presbyterian congregations, with a communion roll reaching 42,000 and an adherence of some 100,000, join in giving you a genuine Presbyterian welcome. Welcome, one and all, to this city, where the first American Presbytery was born and cradled."

In the evening the Rev. R. D. Hitchcock of New York read a paper on "The Ceremonial, the Moral and the Emotional in Christian life."
In the morning, 24th, the two addresses by Prof. E. P. Humphrey, D. D., LL.D., of Louisville, and Prof. Robert Watts, D. D., of Belfast, Ireland, were read on the "Inspiration, Authenticity and Interpretation of the Scriptures."

In the course of the evening Dr. Colburn of Edinburgh, Dr. Hutton of Paisley, Scotland, Dr. Sloane of Alleghany City, Penn., Professor Bruce of Glasgow, Dr. Pierson of Detroit, Dr. Jenkins of Montreal, Dr. Breed of Philadelphia, and Dr. Miliken of Alleghany City. The purpose in considering this subject is to enquire whether more ceremony—something like a liturgy—something to relieve the service of its baldness, might be advisable.

On Saturday Sept. 25th the Hon. Horace Maynard, Postmaster-General presided. "Revealed religion in its relation to science and philosophy," and then "Relations of Science and Theology" by Rev. Dr. Calderwood of Edinburgh, Dr. McCoak of Princeton College, read a paper relating to the treatment of young men in this unstable age. Prof. Filat read a paper on "Agnosticism. There were divisions in the evening at the Presbyterian Board of Publication, at which the Hon. E. A. Rollins delivered an address of welcome.

The fourth day of the Alliance opened with a refusal to send delegates to the Methodist council to be held in London. The Rev. Dr. Van Andread read a paper on "Creeds." Rev. Dr. Chambers a paper on "Bible Revision," and the Rev. Dr. Edward D. Morris of Cincinnati on "Presbyterianism and Education."

In the evening Principal Kenross of Sidney read a paper on the "Condition of Religion in New South Wales," and the rest of the evening was spent in reading papers. Dr. Campbell objected to the practice of applauding which had been frequent during the several sessions, insisting that the place where the Council met became the temple of God, and that outbursts of applause with hands and feet were unseemly. He suggested that the Methodist custom of crying out "Amen," and "Glory be to God," be adopted when the Council and audience desired to express their approval. This advice evoked a round of particularly strong applause, mixed with suppressed laughter. At the close of Dr. Campbell's address, the meeting was dismissed.

The Council met on the 6th day Dr. Leary in the chair. Rev. Principal John Cairns finished reading the paper on "The Vicarious Sacrifice of Christ." Prof. Hodge of Princeton followed in a speech on the same subject and then Dr. Witherspoon of Petersburg, Va., on "Future Retribution."

A long discussion then ensued, as agreed upon, on "Creeds and Confessions," in which very many of the Reverend gentlemen participated.
REPORT FROM THE COMMITTEE.
Dr. Schiff, from the Committee on Creeds and Confessions, reported as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of divines of the various branches of the Reformed and Presbyterian churches embraced within this alliance be appointed to reconsider the desirableness of defining the "Consensus of the Reformed Confessions as required by our constitution" and report at the next meeting of the Council.

Resolved, That the following divines be appointed as such committee:—Principal Dr. Cairns, chairman, of Edinburgh; Professor Dr. Flint, Professor Dr. Bearkie and Professor Calderwood, of Edinburgh; Professor Dr. Graham, of London; Professor Dr. Watts, of Belfast; Professor Dr. A. A. Hodge, of Princeton, N. J.; Professor Dr. Patterson, of Chicago; Professor Dr. Wilson, of Wilmington, N. C.; Professor Dr. Morris, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Rev. Dr. Cambres, of New York; Rev. Dr. Bonberger, of College Hill, Penn.; Rev. Dr. Bates, of Philadelphia; and Principal Caven, of Toronto; and Rev. Dr. Schiff, Sept. 29th.

Spirited discussion relative to applications for membership. Committee reported that no admissions to membership be granted till churches had been admitted to membership. Debate involving parliamentary law. Bruce of Glasgow, Breed and Dickey of Philadelphia, Watt of Belfast, finally decided that the "Council is unable hoc statu to admit as members representatives of churches whose relation to our constitution has not been explained to the Council."

Papers read on the "Theology of the Reformed Church" by Postzer of Utrecht, Mitchell of St. Andrews, Apple of Lancaster.

The Council adopted the recommendation of the Committee on Creeds and Confessions for the appointment of a committee to consider and report upon the advisability of defining the consensus of the reformed confessions, as required by the constitution of the Alliance. The following delegates were constituted the committee: Dr. Cairns, Prof. Filat, Prof. Baikie, and Prof. Calderwood, of Edinburgh; Prof. Graham, of London; Prof. Watts, of Belfast; Prof. A. A. Hodge, of Princeton; Prof. Patterson, of Chicago; the Rev. Dr. Wilson, of North Carolina; Prof. Morris, of Cincinnati; the Rev. Dr. Chambers, of New York; the Rev. Dr. Bonberger, of College Hill, Penn.; Rev. Dr. Bates, of Philadelphia; Principal Caven, of Toronto, Canada; Prof. Apple, of Lancaster, Penn.; Prof. Jean Monod, of Montauban, France; Prof. Van Oosterzee, of Holland; Prof. Yodes, of Switzerland; and the Rev. Dr. Philip Schaaf, of New York.

Then there was a discussion on the question of religion and education. It was quite spicy.

The afternoon session, held in the Academy of Music, the Rev. Dr. James M. Rogers, of Derry, Ireland, Chairman, was mainly devoted to the reading of papers on Church doctrine and government. Prof. Bannerman, of Perth, and Prof. T. P. Stevenson, of Philadelphia, discussed the grounds and methods of admission to sealing ordinances, and Prof. Jonathan Gregg, of Toronto, and Prof. Leroy J. Halsey, of Chicago, furnished papers on the use and province of Church discipline. The session closed with the reading of a paper on "Regeneration," by the Rev. J. H. A. Bonberger, of Ursinus College, Penn.

The evening session was popularly considered the most interesting yet held by the Council. After the usual preliminary exercises, a paper on Sabbath observance was read by the Rev. Dr. Gregg of Toronto, who considered the Sabbath in its spiritual relations. The substance of this paper, which dealt with the assumption that the Sabbath is of divine institution, and that the first, not the seventh, day is to be regarded as the day of rest, was that it has inestimable value (1) as a standing evidence of Christianity, especially of the resurrection; and (2) as a means of sustaining and developing Christian life. He argued that just in proportion as the sanctity of the Christian Sabbath is observed, will be the exercise of the other graces and virtues.

Then Rev. H. Gauss, of St. Louis, read a paper on the Sabbath. William E. Dodge a paper on temperance, in which he stated that the liquor annually drunk in the United States cost $700,000,000, annually and the pauperism and crime $700,000,000 more.

Dr. Cuyler then spoke on theatres and places of amusements.
Finished next week.

National Political.

It is reported at the Republican headquarters in Washington, by a letter from Senator Conkling that he believes the Republicans will carry New York.

Judge Porter writes encouragingly from Indiana. The most reliable thing seen for some time is what John C. New, the Chairman of the Indiana State Committee, said, "I asked," wrote the correspondent, "for his estimate of the Greenback vote." "About 20,000," he replied. "If it doesn't go above that figure Porter will be elected." There is no smoke in John C. New's brain.

The Democrats are working vigorously in Ohio and Indiana.

The Greenbackers of New Hampshire have nominated Warren S. Brown for Governor, and a clean state ticket, with only 43 delegates, and those of South Carolina have nominated L. W. R. Blair of Camden.

Secretary Everts made one of his best speeches to the Garfield and Arthur Club at Cooper Institute on the 29th ult. We will give clippings from this splendid oration next week. Near the outset of his speech he stated his subject to be:

The question before the country, the question before this vast representative assembly, is as to which of the two parties that divide the Nation, the conduct of its affairs for the ensuing four years may be safely, may be wisely, may be hopefully trusted by a people loving its honor, respecting its duty, and valuing the institutions which we have inherited from our noble ancestry.

General Grant at Warren, Ohio, gave the Democrats a rousing on this wise: "There is not a precinct in this vast Nation where a Democrat cannot cast his ballot and have it counted as cast. No matter what the prominence of the opposite party, he can proclaim his political opinions without fear and without reproach on account of his opinions. There are fourteen states, and localities in some other states, where Republicans have not this privilege." That strikes the Democrats as "sectional." Of course. From the time of William H. English in Congress in 1850 down to the present, to state truth like those about the Democratic party has been "sectionalism." In fact, for twenty years there has been no real difference between sectionalism and patriotism.

Referring to Fitzhugh Lee's speech in which he declared, "If you desire that those heroes (Confederates) buried there shall not have died in vain, vote the Democratic ticket!" the New York Herald says: "Why should the Democrats persist in supplying the Republicans with texts?"

The Boston Advertiser notes the fact that it was not on the stock board, but among the permanent owners of the government four per cents, where the tremulous shiver struck the morning after the supposed Fusion victory in Maine. This slight tremor, which was got over by later news, shows what disaster may be apprehended in case of Hancock's election. The stampede in stocks would produce a financial crisis worse than the Black Friday.

As will be seen by one of our Washington correspondents in another column a new and somewhat peculiar society has sprung up called the "National Minute Men of America."
OLD SAMPSON LIVELY.
SEPT. 27TH, 1880.

EDITOR POST:—

The campaign in old Sampson has commenced more favorably for the Republicans than in several years past. The candidates for Congress have passed through and made speeches at three places in the county.

Mr. Canaday made a good impression, and will poll a large vote. Mr. Shackelford is much the inferior of Mr. Waddell as a speaker, if you might even call him a speaker at all. Mr. Kornegay was with them at Clinton, and made a statement of the principles of his party. We expect to make very solid gains in old Sampson, and will elect an Independent ticket to the Legislature. You can put down Sampson as one county that aims at reducing the Democratic majority, and it is thought by many that the Republicans and Independents will carry the territory.

Yours,
C. C. CROOK.

Latest.

The shallow Hancockians think they will be able to deceive the people by the game of brag. They are running the puffy, castrich feathered Hancock who has no principles at all, except what are injected into him periodically by Jere Black or some other old seedy fellow of that kind. Hancock is a sort of swelled up, gassy Fallstaff, who is talking about his sixteen men in buckram. There never was such a farce as this Hancockianism, except the Greeley campaign. This will end in the same ridiculous way as that did.

The southern Bourbons are so enveloped in egotism and self-sufficiency that they have no real judgment about affairs. When they began the war they did it on the "one-southern-can-lick-fifteen yankees" theory, from which their smoky brains were very speedily disabused, by such occurrences as Vicksburg and that "drawn-battle," as they term it, Gettysburg, and also Appomattox. When they were conquered they had not sense enough to know that they were conquered, but imagined they had not committed treason and lost their rights thereby, and went around blustering and wagging their heads in derision. Then they imagined they could fool the country by taking up Greeley, and now they have taken up Hancock, on just the same mode of reasoning as the Republicans might take up Toombs or Wade Hampton. What would the sensible portion of the American people have said if the Republicans had declared for Wade Hampton at Chicago, and adopted his Lee-and-Stonewall-Jackson principles? There would have been quite as much sincerity in one as the other.

We are gratified to learn that Col. John T. Collins, the Collector of Customs at Brunswick, Georgia, who has been nominated for Congress in the Savannah District by the Republicans, is likely to be elected. The Republicans have a decided majority in that District, and are well organized, under the lead of such able men as Col. E. G. Wade, Col. F. T. Johnson and Col. James Atkins and others, and with a very acceptable candidate in Col. Collins, and a fair count, will without doubt be carried. We notice that Col. Collins is in Washington.

The Democrats around the National Committee's headquarters have been bragging for a while that they had a "Hancock Republican Club," consisting of 3000 members. A reporter for the Tribune, after hunting a long time, found the "Club" to consist of old Republican sore-heads and dead-beats and in number only 50. Barum got it up as an adjunct.

We hear that some sneaks have been posting indecent placards around on private houses, stores, shops and public buildings. If these dirty sneaks want to try any more of this mean business they will find that it is a game that two can play at.

The Treasury Department estimates the reduction of the debt for the month of September will be at least 12,000,000. The revenue of the fiscal year ending June 30th, has been accounted and closed, and shows $333,526,611, or more than $1,000,000 for every working day of the year. Such are the fruits of the policy of the present Republican administration and Secretary Sherman.

Grandy and Latham are making a thorough canvass of the First District commencing to-morrow at Lewiston in Bertie county, and swinging clean around the circle, end at Williamstown in Martin county. Col. John B. Rees, rep., and Thomas R. Jernegan, dem., are canvassing as Electors in the same District.

The Republicans of Fair Bluff township in Columbus county, in August, assembled and formed a Garfield, Buxton and Canaday Club, to which they have admitted 50 members and are still increasing. Our correspondent writing from Cerro Gordo is very hopeful of large Republican gains in old Columbus, and desires that people outside the county shall know that the Republicans there are wide-awake. He says they and other people besides, are tired of living under the rule of the old rings, and intend to surprise the Democrats on November second, God helping them. B. Williamson is Chairman and D. L. Love is Secretary of the club.

Orlando Hubbs, Republican candidate for Congress from the Second District, and the candidate for Elector, W. S. O'B. Robinson, are stumping that District, and making a thorough organization.

It is said that Col. O. H. Dockery is making a splendid canvass in the west. There was a big Republican meeting at Big Pine in Fender—more than 1,200 people being present. Gen. S. H.

Manning addressed the meeting, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. Gen. Manning spoke an hour and a half in his happiest manner.

The Statesville American says:—
"We learn from one who was present that the discussion at Mocksville resulted in a grand Republican triumph. The Democrats present, were compelled by candor to admit that Judge Furches' victory over Col. Armfield was complete. The Republican prospects in Davie are bright and growing brighter every day. If the Republicans of the District but do their duty Furches' election is sure."

Ibid:—
THE WILMINGTON POST is engaged in extracting some precious morsels from its neighbor of the Star, which places that journal in a rather unenviable light. The only tendency of the extracts will be to lower the Star in the estimation of the better thinking people, and advance the cause they were meant to injure.

Our friend, A. V. Horrell, informs us that there was a large turnout at Robinson School House in Franklin township in Sampson, which was addressed by Gen. S. H. Manning of this city and others, and that the speech aroused great enthusiasm. There were more than 600 present, not a Greenbacker among them, and Sampson is wide-awake for Garfield, Buxton and Canaday.

They formed a Garfield, Buxton and Canaday club, electing Albert Johnson, President, and Torney Farmer, Secretary.

Dr. T. M. Sykes of Bladen, having been nominated for Senator from Bladen and Brunswick by the Republicans, of his own motion and will has tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and Mr. William T. Pridgen of Bladen was nominated in his stead. We know Mr. Pridgen as one of the best men in Bladen and a man that is popular with everybody.

He advocated a systemized itinerancy, contending that the ordinary ministry is like a fixed battery, while flying artillery is also needed."
