CAPE FEAR HARBOR.

SMITHVILLE, N. C., Sept. 19, '81.

EDITOR POST:—You may well imagine my gratification at the publication of my last defence of our Harry Bacon, and what is more, he feels rully as gratified as I, myself, William X. Snooks, does.

To-day I met him, and he shook my hand as only one honest man will another, and said, my dear Snooks, you know not how overjoyful I feel at your manly, courageous and fearless defence of my official conduct in the management of this work.

You have placed me and my dear friend Harper under lasting, yes, everlasting, obligations to you, by such chivalry, and may the time come when I can repay you. Harper says if you would only agree to trade with him he would employ you to-morrow; but he thinks you will see the side you can get your bread buttered on, and as soon as you do, dear Snooks, a job you shall have.

Now, says our Henry Bacon, my dear Snooks, you see these miserable pilots, low down tax payers and a few of those merchants are grumbling, and for what? Why, you see Capt. Harper's small vessel went to Little River, he got uneasy about her and left his dredging to-day about 2 o'clock, went down the beach about ten miles, found his vessel, the Charles Thomas, towed her up to the bar at about 5 o'clock, then went to work and worked until 4:45 and took his vessel on to Smithville. It is true the dredge-boat lost about three hours work and Capt. Harper got the benefit of it, but what right have they to grumble? The United States government is rich and Captain Harper is poor.

Now, these merchants here, who don't like Capt. Harper, grumble and say that Capt. Harper has freighted $30,000 worth of goods on the government boat, but what right has such poor trash as Woelet, Davis and Morse to say anything, if I am willing for the government boat to do Capt. Harper a favor? Some of these low down tax payers grumbled because Captain Harper towed in the Oriental and the Spray, two small vessels, the other day, while wrecking, but they have nothing to do with it.

And, says brother Bacon, friend Snooks, the other day while my dear Harper was away in Baltimore I didn't pay off until he got home, so that he could get his money from the men, and these fellows complained of that. It is an outrage that I have got to be talked about, by such low down trash. And you, who are standing by me so nobly will certainly reap your reward. The most of these fellows don't know who it is writing for the Post, but brother W. X. Snooks, I spotted you at once. You newspaper correspondents can't fool me. I'll see you again, says brother Bacon, and give you some more points soon—and he walked away.

I am glad you said nothing more against brother Henry Bacon last week. I thought you would hold off when you heard from I, William X. Snooks, I told Mrs. Snooks that all would be well. Says I, "darling Sally Snooks, you see this man Canada is a Republican, and when he takes up your dear William's communication he will say, here's a Democrat captured, and in goes my communication, and your dear William X. Snooks will be on the government works." But, says my darling Sally, says she, "you are a Democrat, and Mr. Henry Bacon is a Radical Republican, and he won't give you work." But, says I, "you see I'll trade with Captain Harper and that will make it all right." "Oh," says Sally. It's very remarkable how very quick these women are at taking a point, and my Sally is one of the talkativest women I ever saw. Sally pulls my hair sometimes, when I am out late watching for the white winged birds, the Atlantic; but then I excuse her, for the little Snooks have to be properly bedded and snooked, and there are so many that it takes two of us to stow them in good shape.

It would have been too bad if I had forgot, neglected or overlooked dear Mickle, our Henry Bacon's assistant. They do say that he fairly raves and pulls his own hair on account of your late criticisms on the harbor improvements. The fact is, he likes me—he and brother Henry both. Did you ever see the dear boy, Mickle? Well, he is a hard worked youth—many, is the time that we all, including Sally and the children—the young Snookses—have scoured our eyes on his account—Sally always takes up for Mickle. She says he is so handsome, and is such a splendid marble player that it is a pity to work him so. The other day I went home and found my dear Sally wiping the perspiration from his (Mickle's) noble brow, and fanning the sweet darling with her apron. I didn't see the spoon, but it looked as if she had been feeding him. You may just swear that no one else would have been allowed such privileges. But we have an itching for the splendid plant, and hope in time to make a man of him.

Yours with Love,

WILLIAM X. SNOOKS.

CITY ITEMS.

All subscribers to the Post not receiving the same regularly, will please report the same to Mr. W. E. Sellers of this office.

Coots have made their appearance.

The river has risen about one foot at Fayetteville, and the steamers are now running through.

Third street, in front of the City Hall, is being ballasted from Princess to Christ street.

Mr. W. P. Canaday, the editor of this paper, has been quite sick for the past two weeks.

A. Gamber's residence at Rocky Point was draped in mourning out of respect for the late President.

There is to be a sabre tournament at the State Fair, and Hon. A. M. Waddell is to deliver the coronation address.

Mayor Smith expects to call the memorial meeting on Monday at the hour the funeral services of the lamented President are being held.

The Wilmington Light Infantry have received the necessary equipments for the trip to Yorktown next month and say they will carry thirty-five men.

Gen. Manning arrived home last Sunday night from his trip of four months at the north, and is in greatly improved health we are glad to state.

There will be a baptizing to day at the foot of Princess street at a eleven o'clock, from the First Baptist Church on the corner of Campbell and eight streets, conducted by A. M. Conway.

Duplin county Superior Court convened in its first session at Kenansville on last Monday, the 19th instant, but there was but little business transacted save the necessary acts of organization.

The new round house of the Carolina Central Railroad at Laurinburg, which has been under process of erection for some months past, has been completed. It has a capacity for ten engines.

Friday evening last was the beginning of the great Hebrew festival, "Rosh Hashannah," or New Year's Day. The stores of our Jewish residents were closed, as it was a feast day and a time of high celebration.

Rev. G. O. Brady, minister in charge of St. Mark's Church in this city, returned here last Saturday night from Boston, where he has been spending the summer. The regular services were resumed at St. Mark's on Sunday.

Colonel H. B. Short, of Lake Waccamaw, who has been collecting specimens of woods peculiar to eastern North Carolina, has sent Professor W. C. Kern 29 varieties. These are to be shown at Atlanta, and it is thought that they make the exhibit of our woods complete.

CHEEK.—The other day as the train was rounding the curve at Eighth street coming from Weldon, a stranger stepped up to Mr. George Z. French and inquired, "What place is this?" Mr. F. immediately answered that he did not recollect the name, but it was a small station about eleven miles from Rocky Point. If it is cheap we would recommend a small coat.

The 404 tons of railroad iron which was purchased by the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad, and which has been in this city in bond for the past two months, has been sold to the Piedmont Western railroad, and is to be shipped to Jacksonville on the schooner Ruth Darling, which is now taking it aboard. We have not heard why the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad parted with this iron, but it is rumored that the iron is too light for their track.

The Lancaster (S. C.) Review says that on the 14th inst. cotton sold as follows in the markets named: Wilmington, 11½ cents; Savannah, 11½; New Orleans, 11½; Mobile, 11½; Augusta, 11½; Charleston, 11½; Columbia, 10½; Charlotte, 11½; Camden, 11; Lancaster, 11½.

The full term of the Criminal Court, His Honor, Judge Meares, presiding, will convene in this city to-morrow at 11 o'clock. Several cases will be brought against the city, growing out of the "Poor man's bill," in relation to the disposal of the market carts and other matters pertaining thereto.

Second Lieutenant R. H. Beery, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, has been elected First Lieutenant to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Lieut. W. J. Gordon, and Junior Second Lieutenant Geo. W. Doyle has been made Second Lieutenant, Vice Lieut. Beery, promoted. A vacancy, Junior Second Lieutenant, still exists and will be filled by election at the next regular meeting of the company.

THE CROPS.—And now it turns out exactly as we thought, that the condition of the crops throughout the state has been very much exaggerated. A merchant who is peculiarly interested in the welfare of the farmers says he finds the situation much better than he was led to believe it to be. It would seem as though a county or a neighborhood is too often judged, in the crop estimates, by the evil rather than by the good reports.

A PRINCE OF BREFFNY is the title of Mr. Thomas P. May's new novel, which is in press and shortly to be published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, of Philadelphia, Pa. The hero of this charming book was a famous Irish soldier of fortune and the first Spaniard of fortune and the first Spaniard of fortune and the first Spaniard of fortune.

COUP'S PALACE ADVERTISING CAR, a magnificent decorated and elegantly appointed affair, is now lying at the depot. The second car, which is said to be equally as fine, will be here next week. There is said to be as many men employed as agents and advertisers in advance of Coup's show, as are contained in some whole shows, agents and all. Really Coup is out doing himself this year.

Mr. D. J. Piver, one of the pilots at Smithville, has taken the soundings on the new inlets between the Stone Wall across Federal Point and Bald Head beach, and he reports from 10 to 11 feet of water on each one of the inlets. This looks very much as though we would have as much water soon on these new inlets as on the old bar. We sincerely hope that this matter will turn out better than many of us expect.

BRICE CROP.—The recent storm injured the rice crop on the river about 25 per cent, but this loss it is thought will be equalized to the planters by an increase in the price. The highest price obtained here last year for lowland rice was about $1.40 per bushel, but it is said that offers of $1.50 have been made already this season. The disasters to the crop in South Carolina will, of course, have an effect on the market. It is expected that the first rough rice will reach market this season about the 10th of October.

COUP'S GREAT SHOW AND A PARIS HIPPODROME COMING OCT. 13.—Although frequently announced, no real and genuine hippodrome such as that connected with W. C. Coup's United Monster Shows has ever appeared in the south.

Our readers may rest assured that what Mr. Coup promises will be fulfilled to the letter on the 13th of Oct., as announced in the advertisements. He is a gentleman in whom our readers may place the most implicit confidence.

Since his show visited the south last season he has increased it to enormous proportions. One of the most grand, novel and exciting features added being a magnificent hippodrome, with a new track, completely encircling three miles rings, forty feet wide and nearly half a mile round, employing over two hundred artists and a tribe of Indians. Coup has a grand menagerie besides, and uses also bands of music. His museum is also splendid, requiring a dozen engines to operate the different features.

Both in the three circuses and hippodromes, many of the acts are entirely new, and are the theme of universal admiration and praise by the public and the press. Among these are the Indians, the Zulus, the Flying La La, the dancing Germaine, etc., whose wonderful feats and performances have been parallel in the annals of the stage and the ring.

THE NATION'S DEAD PRESIDENT.—The death of President Garfield has cast a gloom over this city which will long be remembered. The people have been afflicted, let us hope in misery and not in wrath, by Him who doth all things well. In the death of James A. Garfield the country has lost one of the greatest men the world ever produced. It was reserved for James A. Garfield to unite the people of this nation. There is now no sectional feeling, but the north and the south, the east and the west, are united, and stand weeping over the mortal remains of our murdered President. In this city the grief of the people over the untimely death of President Garfield is unparelleled. The faces of the good people show their grief, and in many streets the stores and dwellings are draped in the garb of mourning, and the entrances to the various Church edifices were draped on Friday and Saturday.

On Tuesday a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Produce Exchange was held at 12 o'clock, to adopt resolutions of respect to the memory of President Garfield.

Hon. A. H. VanBokkelen, President of the Chamber of Commerce, called the meeting to order. He stated that the meeting had been called by the Presidents of the two bodies present, with the view of taking some action with regard to the death of James A. Garfield, President of the United States.

On motion of Mr. R. E. Calder, President of the Produce Exchange, a committee of three was appointed by the Chamber to report suitable resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. Dr. A. J. DeRosset and Messrs. David G. Worth and William Calder were appointed this committee.

The committee retired and upon their return submitted, through their Chairman, Dr. DeRosset, the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, In the wisdom of a Divine Providence it has been decreed that the skill of man, the devotion of friends, the prayers of a people and the desire of all nations could not avail to save from an untimely and cruel death the Chief Magistrate of these United States, we desire to put upon record, with profound emotions, the grief which fills our hearts, humbly bowing in submission to the Will of that Ruler "which reigneth over the Fingers of the earth" and "doeth all things well."

Resolved, That in the death of President Garfield we recognize one of the greatest calamities that has befallen our country, one calculated to test to the uttermost our peculiar institutions, and requiring of our citizens, without regard to former affiliations, the exercise of great forbearance and such a surrender of individual desires to the public good as may enable us to safely and quietly pass through the ordeal to which we are subjected.

Resolved, That his long and painful struggle for life, endured with such many fortitude and Christian resignation, has endeared him to our people as the most successful administration that in our history could not have done and that in a martyr's death the desire of James A. Garfield has been enrolled among those whose memory the south will ever hold most sacred.

Resolved, That in respect to his memory the rooms of this body be draped in mourning until the obsequies of the deceased President are completed.

The preamble and resolutions were adopted by a unanimous vote. On motion of Mr. R. E. Calder, the rooms of the Exchange were ordered to be closed and business, as far as practicable, suspended during the day.

On motion of Mr. D. McKee, 2nd Vice-President of the Chamber of Commerce, it was Resolved, That this meeting recommend a general suspension of business throughout the city during the hours appointed for the funeral services of our late President.

After a few remarks from Mr. Wm. Calder, expressive of the sorrow and regret of our people, the meeting, on motion, adjourned.

The Mayor of this city has called a mass meeting of the citizens to assemble in the Opera House to-morrow for the purpose of expressing the grief and regret of the people of this community in the death of President Garfield.

Monday has been selected because it is on that day the remains will be interred. His Honor has also issued a proclamation calling for an entire suspension of business on that day.

The City Hall, Custom House, Court House, Postoffice, Produce Exchange, Telegraph Office, Signal Office, Parcel House, Otenberg's store, Aaron & Rheinstein, A. David, Dyer & Sons, Munson, D. Newman & Son, George Myers, P. Heinsberger, and the Jewish Synagogue are appropriately draped in mourning, and the windows of other stores bear the emblems of mourning.

The flags over the offices of the British Consul, German Vice Consul, French Consul, the Consuls of the Argentine Republic, Norway, Denmark and Sweden, the Custom House, Signal Office, Dr. W. H. Green, Howard Relief Society, Fire Engine Company, the Cape Fear Steam Fire Engine Company, Star, J. H. Neff, Heinsberger Clyde Steamship Company and all the shipping in port have been half-masted. The sombre decorations of grief will remain until the funeral obsequies are held, and shown on the federal buildings perhaps for thirty days longer.

THE VICAR GENERAL OF NORTH CAROLINA.—Father Harry P. Northrop has been appointed Vicar-Apostolic of North Carolina. North Carolina not being a diocese, but a Vicariate-Apostolic, the ecclesiastic in charge of it is appointed as Vicar-Apostolic, but is consecrated as bishop and has that rank in the church.

The Raleigh News & Observer says:—Father H. P. Northrop is the son of the late C. E. Northrop, an eminent lawyer of the Charleston bar. He was born in Charleston, S. C., and is in his fortieth year.

"On his arrival in Charleston from Rome he was sent to supply the place of Dr. Cooran, at Wilmington, N. C., to which church were attached several missions. North Carolina, which had until then been attached to the diocese of Charleston, was at that time made a separate vicariate, the present Archbishop Gibbons, of Baltimore, being its first bishop.

"Father Northrop remained in North Carolina two years after the division of the diocese and returned to Charleston in 1871. He was then stationed at the Cathedral as assistant pastor, and was in 1877 appointed pastor of St. Patrick's Church. Father Northrop has ever been thoroughly efficient and conscientious in the discharge of his duties. He is possessed of high intellectual ability, is genial in manner, but is of a retiring disposition and more inclined to continue in his present sphere than to enter into a more public and elevated position. The honor done him is one that he well deserves, and which will be gratifying to the many friends who have confidently expected that he would be raised to the Episcopate."

PENDER COUNTY AFFAIRS.—The total of all taxable property in Pender county, for the year 1881, as taken from the list in the office of the Register of Deeds, amounts to $1,189,363, divided as follows: 363,684 acres of land, valued at $654,141; 141 town lots, $27,939; 679 horses, $39,531; 2 jacks, $150; 1 jenny, $25; 275 goats, $250; 7,086 cattle, $40,395; 16,882 swine, $18,216; 5,336 sheep, $5,519; farming utensils, 67,946; money in hand $9,650; solvent credits, $33,473; stock in insurance companies, $6,877; other persons, $18,641; railroad franchise, $90.

The special tax for the year is $2,626 50.

The school tax for the year is as follows: 911 white polls at $1.21 each, $1,106 86; 888 colored polls, $1.21 each, $1,077 70; 124 cents on every $100 of taxable property, $1,486 70. Total, $3,671 26.

The taxes for county purposes are 26 1-6 cents on every $100 of taxable property, and 78 1-2 cents on each poll, $5,621 50.

Special county taxes at 16 1-2 cents on every $100 of taxable property, and 50 cents on each poll, amounting to $2,884 27. Total county tax, $7,412 86.

Total state and county tax, including income, $14,428 90.

Since the year 1881 opened the Register of Deeds of Pender county has issued marriage licenses to forty white couples and forty-nine colored couples, the fees from which, up to and including the 23d instant, amounting to $133, have been paid over to the county Treasurer.

The county warrants of Pender are worth their face value in gold.

PERFECT TRUST.—My boat is on the sea. Which storms and tempests tow; I know not of the ills to meet Before I get across.

I do not know how long or short The fatal voyage may be; But patient I'll abide his time Who built the boat for me.

Tis fully manned in every part, Hope is the anchor fair; The compass that it has is Faith, And every car is prayer.

Sometimes I see the breakers nigh, The ocean madly roars, But all I do is simply this—Bend closer to the oars.

At times the waves run mountain high And threaten me to strand; I fear not for He holds them in The hollow of His hand.

The fog at times obscures my course, I see the way but dim; But well I know I cannot drift Beyond the sight of Him.

I know not where the shoals may lie, Nor where the whirlpools be; It is enough, dear Lord, to feel That they are known to Thee.

And thus content I glide along, If either slow or fast, Well knowing He will bring Me safe to port at last.

No man ever preaches his sermon well to others if he does not first preach it to his own heart.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ONLY 4-RING CIRCUS IN THE WORLD. ON ITS SECOND TRIUMPHANT ANNUAL TOUR TO THE LEADING CITIES OF THE SOUTH.

W. C. COUP'S NEW UNITED MONSTER SHOWS! FULLY THREE TIMES LARGER THAN EVER COMBINED WITH THE GREAT PARIS HIPPODROME!

WITH RACE TRACK FORTY FEET WIDE AND NEARLY HALF A MILE AROUND WILL EXHIBIT IN WILMINGTON, THURSDAY OCT. 13TH.

After completing a three weeks' brilliant and successful engagement in the Madison Square GREAT NEW YORK HIPPODROME Building, which Mr. Coup built himself in New York in 1878, he is now on his way to the leading cities of the South with a MAGNIFICENT NEW CONSOLIDATION, everywhere admitted to be the LARGEST AND BEST SHOW IN THE WORLD!

Since exhibiting in this city last season Mr. Coup has enlarged his exhibitions to fully THREE TIMES THEIR FORMER PROPORTIONS, with the addition of a MAGNIFICENT HIPPODROME AND THREE CIRCUS COMPANIES, exhibiting simultaneously in THREE IMMENSE CIRCUS RINGS, employing nearly TWO HUNDRED ARTISTS of all nationalities. Also, a SPLENDID MUSEUM AND GRAND MENAGERIE. Among the leading sensational features are the great and only LIU LIU, who is buried more than one hundred feet through the air from a powerful iron catapult, performing two complete evolutions before alighting in the net; also, the Wonderful Dive of Germaine, who plunges head foremost, seventy-five feet downward from the dome of the Hippodrome; also, exciting Hippodrome Races, Jockey Races, Lady Hurdle Races, Flat and Standing Races, Zulu and Indian Races, the Wonderful BROCHO HORSES, the Leaping Horse Netter, Fryer's Pony and Dog Shows, the Leaping Italian Grey Hounds, etc., etc., giving a series of the most novel and intensely interesting performances ever witnessed in any show in the world, without exception. THE NINE KINDS OF MUSIC used in the

Grandest Street Pageant Ever Known, are fully equal to the combined melodies of TWELVE HUNDRED SKILLFUL MUSICIANS. Such a startling array of features as is presented in the

was never before known in connection with any exhibition North or South, East or West, either in Europe or America. In fact, Mr. COUP'S SHOW has grown to such vast proportions, and the daily aggregate expenses are so extraordinarily large, that he is compelled by necessity, not by choice, to increase the price of admission to 75 cents for adults, and 50 cents for children over nine years of age. (Unchoicely reserved seats 25 cents extra.)

NO EXHIBITIONS DAILY—AFTERNOON AND EVENING. Cheap excursion trains will run on all railroads on the day of exhibition. Those wishing to avoid the crowds at the ticket office can procure their tickets on the day of exhibition at Dyer & Son's Clothing House, at a trifling advance.

Trying on the Bonnet. A New Haven gentleman, whose business keeps him up late at night, was persuaded to do a millinery errand for his wife the other night, and as a result stumbled up the front stairs about two o'clock in the morning with the brand-new bonnet held carefully under his arm in a tissue paper. As soon as he turned on the gas his better half rubbed open her eyes and drowsily inquired:

"You—forgot my—bonnet, didn't you?"

"No, I didn't. Here's the business."

"Oh, is it?" and that woman sprang up and ripped the wrappings off in a jiffy, and, glancing her nightgown into the corner, adjusted the new purchase carefully on her head. "How do you like it? It's becoming, isn't it?"

"Madam," responded the husband, "the bonnet certainly is becoming, but somehow the remainder of your costume don't jibe. Your dress, if I may say it such, has too much flannel."

"Oh, you horrid!"

"And then, too, that bonnet has too much color for the rest of the ensemble, if I may borrow from the French."

"You hateful! I'll throw the thing out of the window if you don't tell me just how it looks—so there."

"That's what I'm trying to do, my dear. The bonnet looks 'immaculate' in your present costume you couldn't fail to make a hit on the street, and just as like as not land in the police station. I should think some milliner had hired the statue of Queen Zerkina for a dummy to show off her goods."

"Dumpty, dumpty, did you say?" I'll let you know I'm no dummy, and about on the edge of the bed and lectured and lectured, until the drowsy man had been humored to sleep by the monotony of her voice; but she didn't take that honest old fellow and fidget himself up in the next dawn the hat, and when he awoke in the morning she was proceeding about the room, trying the effect by waving in attitudes before the mirror.
