NUMBER 10.

WILMINGTON POST

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as Second Class Matter.

Gov. Alex Stephens' funeral took place on Thursday last.

State Treasurer Worth's wife died in Randolph county, a few days ago.

George W. Sampson, died at his home in Raleigh on Wednesday last of paralysis.

Col. Thomas B. Keogh, was nominated for Marshal of the Western District by the President on Friday last; for want of time he was not confirmed. The chief justice has appointed him to fill the term. The President will send his name again next December.

REJECTED NOMINATIONS.

Meers, T. J. Sharp, of Wilson and Col. Nat. Atkinson of Asheville, was nominated for Postmasters of their respective towns, but owing to the opposition of both senators from the state, they were not confirmed. We understand that there was no other objection to those gentlemen, both being men of high character.

REPRESENTATIVE GREEN.

It gives us pleasure to say that Mr. Edw. Green has made one of the best representatives this county has ever had in the legislature. He has watched the interest of the people and did everything possible to protect them. His amendment to the election law of this city was just the proper thing at the proper time. We hope the people will recollect Green in the day to come.

Hon. David Davis resigned the presidency of the United States senate on Saturday, the 3rd inst., at 12 o'clock and Senator Edmunds of Vermont, was elected in his place. No better selection could have been made. Senator Edmunds is one of the best parties in our country, he is a leading lawyer of the country, he is said to be one of the best posted men on all political subjects in the senate. Therefore his election will give general satisfaction to the country. By virtue of being President of the senate he is Vice-President of the United States, and draws ten thousand dollars a year salary.

John Paul, of Virginia.

The nomination and confirmation of Hon. John Paul, of Virginia, to the United States district judgeship for the western district of that state gives the federal bench an upright and an able judge, but loses to the political arena in the Old Dominion one of its bravest, truest, and most heroic of champions. Not a county in the state whose people have not been delighted by his eloquence, instructed by his fairness of judgment, and his force of logic, and charmed and captivated by his generous and noble personal qualities. He has been a strong party leader, and one of the most stalwart knights of Arthur's Table Round in the state of Virginia. Judge Paul has the National Republican's best wishes for future health and happiness in his new sphere. May his successor in congress be worthy of the seat he has honored—National Republican.

We exceedingly regret that Maj. John Paul has left congress, a position that he has held with such eminent ability and satisfaction to the anti-bourbon everywhere; but we congratulate the people of his judicial district on his appointment as judge. No better man could have been selected to fill the place.

A Card.

I am impelled by a sense of feeling to say something in regard to a very unjust attempt by the speaker and door-keeper of the house of representatives, to compel the colored people to sit or crowd themselves into one corner of the gallery. This was attempted last evening to those few who occupied one centre seat in the gallery. I feel free to say that that gallery is public, and any seat in it is free to any person irrespective of color if they are there in good behavior, and the speaker nor any one else has no right to force any one to move from one seat to go to a certain corner. Then he (the speaker) says, "I cannot see why the colored people want to put themselves with the whites?" I answer him and say: "They do not wish to be with them simply for the purpose of being with them; but when they both meet in a public place, the colored people are just as much entitled to the choice of a seat (according to law) as the whites. Even though the speaker has charge of the gallery, he has not the power to do such as is charged above. In spite of our rights to sit anywhere that we choose in a public gallery, he takes the responsibility to send us a very impolite message by the door-keeper and about half a dozen page boys. Here is the message. "The speaker says you colored folks move over yonder in that corner." That is the first message. The second is this. "The speaker says if you don't move he will have you put out." The same words we received from the page boys. The gallery at that time was not at all crowded. I suppose his purpose for wanting us to move was to give as many front seats as possible to the whites, because the seats in the rear of me was empty at that time. Now I want the speaker and all such as he, to understand that we, the better class of colored people, do indignantly resent all such wrongs as they try to impose on us; I refer once more to the message. As for putting any one out of a seat where he does not want them to sit is something beyond his power. I have been informed that the speaker of the house of representatives is a well-read lawyer; and don't he well know that according to the laws and constitution of the United States, that he cannot put any one out of a seat in a public gallery on account of color?
The above card was handed to the News & Observer, and also the Evening Visitor for publication but they refused to publish it. The advice of the News & Observer was to let the matter drop, and say nothing about it. That was their way of getting out of it. The Visitor thought that it was rather striking and could not afford to publish it on that account as a communication, but would take it for an advertisement. That will do for them to tell: I will say that their real excuse was this: If it had been a letter from white to white or one from a white man to a colored one, they would either have printed it, but oh! listen, "This letter haile from a colored man concerning a white one and in their mind the colored people have no right to demand respect from them nor defend themselves in print or in any other way. But thank God in these late days that we have as much right to the choice of a seat in a public gallery, as those who try to abridge us of such privileges and that such as was attempted in the gallery of the house of representatives Thursday night March 1st, cannot and will not be countenanced by the colored people. The colored subscribers of the two above mentioned papers would do well to stop their subscription on account of this and other such matters and subscribe for the Wilmington Post, which is a good Republican paper and a true friend to the colored people; and will never fail to publish anything for their interest.

One for rights,
WILLIAM S. MITCHELL,
RALEIGH, Mar. 3d, 1883.
SALISBURY, N. C. Feb. 22, 1883.
EDITOR POST.—We are glad to see that the editorial columns of the Post have been filled lately with wise, practical information concerning education, and that its editor has rekindled his enthusiasm and redoubled his efforts in behalf of popular intelligence, of which he has always been known as a staunch and unflinching advocate. There is nothing like agitation to root out evils in any institution or system and to effect the introduction of reformatory measures therein; so we sincerely trust that the vital topic of the education of the masses will be unceasingly agitated by its true friends, until all class discrimination on this subject will no longer be an object of legislation, and that every child, even in the remotest district of the state, can have the opportunity of at least four months schooling in the year. Since the election, there seems to have passed over the spirit of the dreams of the Democratic party of the state, a wonderful change in regard to general education. And the more we reflect upon the actions of our legislative solons in this particular, the more we are reminded of a story we once heard to-wit: A member of a church presided over by a colored minister called on one occasion, to condole with his pastor in his affliction because of the loss of his fifth wife. After an expression of his sympathy the preacher replied, "Brouder Jackson, I'm more'n ever convinced that I'm in the hands of an all-wise but unscrupulous providence." Such is our opinion respecting the present Democratic legislature. Gen. Garfield in his letter of acceptance wrote, "Next in importance to freedom and justice, is popular education, without which neither justice nor freedom can be permanently maintained." Now there is no one with the least medium of common sense, but that will acknowledge the above assertion to be true. We do not, however, expect such narrow-minded, prejudiced bigots as the so-called editor of the Clinton Caucasian with his "educating the negro spoils a good field hand," or Bill Arrp of Georgia that, "the education of the negro has proved a failure," to assent to such a truthful and noble sentiment; for they and their ilk are not in favor of allowing the negro that "justice" and "freedom," which they painfully realize he will be in a position to not only demand, but command when his self-respect and manhood have been properly educated, trained, and some colored youths have failed to appreciate and to utilize wisely the little learning the state has so generously enabled them to secure, is that any good reason for drawing the one sided conclusion that education is not as beneficial to the negro as the white man? We all know that there are not a few sons of the favored Caucasian race, who have enjoyed the advantages of a college course, and instead of becoming the pride of their families and useful to the communities in which they reside, they turn out to be first-class loafers, and useless incumbrances upon society. And yet there is no one so silly as to cry out against superior benefits derived from a liberal education because of the failure in life of these unskilled.

A Good Appointment.

We are pleased to learn that S. Van Amringe Esq., Clerk of the Superior Court, has appointed John Harris Howe, a magistrate of New Hanover County in the place of J. O. Hill, resigned. This appointment is peculiarly gratifying to Mr. Howe's friends in the Fifth Ward, and from the sterling character of the new appointee we are satisfied that the county has been also benefited.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session at the City Hall last night.
The Special Committee on removal of city pound reported progress and was granted further time to report to a called meeting of the board, but should there be no such meeting, to deposit its final report with the clerk of the board.
The petition of Columbia Engine Company for a house for engine was rejected.

The Committee on Streets and Wharves, in regard to the opening of South Water street between Orange and Ann streets, reported favorably upon the same and submitted an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to cause the street to be opened and established; the proper assessments for the owners of land required for said street to be made under the direction of the sheriff by a proper and lawful jury, as provided by law; the said jury to assess, also, the value of the advantages resulting from opening said street to the owners of lots adjoining. The report was received and adopted.

A recommendation of the committee on Fire Department, for the payment of ten dollars to the Cape Fear Engine Company, for a stove for the company's engine house, was adopted.
Reports from the Chief of the Fire Department and the Superintendent of Health, for the past month, were received and filed.
Alderman Worth offered the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That the Chief of Police is hereby instructed to detail a force for the purpose of taking up hogs and cattle running at large during the night time, and the compensation allowed said force shall be equivalent to half the fines imposed on redeeming said hogs and cattle from the pound, which allowance shall be added to the present fine for redeeming.

FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.
On Thursday, February 22, 1883, the undersigned will revive the publication of the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.
The OBSERVER will be a large 32 column weekly newspaper, and will be mailed to subscribers, postage paid at $2 per annum, in advance. It will be printed every day in an ample form as its space will permit, and both regular and occasional correspondents will contribute letters from the capital on state politics and affairs.
Democratic in politics, the OBSERVER will labor first of all to assure the prosperity of the town of Fayetteville, to develop the vast agricultural resources of its own and the neighboring counties, and to promote all that concerns the welfare of the people of North Carolina.
Opposed to such innovations on the honest ways of our fathers as, in the name of progress, harm society, the OBSERVER will be found in full sympathy with the new things born of the changed condition of the south which sound judgement or enlightened experience find to be also good.
As to the rest, it will strive to deserve the reputation of the name it liberally.
