MAHONE'S VACEGRE.

Will the Democratic press never learn any sen e? They always hollow it has ever been thus with them; they are crying at the tops of their voices that "Mahone is dead," "the readjuster party buried," "Little Billy Mahone's funeral," &c. They should wait and take the figures, work on facts and not rumors; they are too apt "to go off half cocked" and have afterwards to take back a great many things, which would not have to be done if they would be a little more cautious. Now, the fact is, Mahone or the readjuster party, have won a large number of counties from the bourbon Democracy; this election was for county officers, and the result should be based on the spring elections for county officers in the past to do so, and the result shows a gain for the readjusters of some 15 counties, and next fall when the state election for members of the legislature comes off, "Little Billy Mahone" or the "Little Giant" as his friends delight to call him, will give the bourbons something to cry for. If we mistake not, Senator Mahone will be endorsed by the people next fall, as no man was ever before by aby people. He is the leading man in the south, and the people who want to see their section prosper had better stand by him, as we believe they will.

This token of respect 's highly appreciated by the United States government representatives, and shows most excellent feeling between the

These who desire board at the seaside can be suited by Mr. B. L. Perry, who has a botel at Wrightsville and one at Smithville. Both will be conducted by experienced persons, and everything will be done that is possible, by the proprietor, for the comfort of his guests. The Seaside Hotel is only seven miles from the city, on the best turnpike in the state, only an hours's ride from the city, and right on the sound, with a beautiful grove in the background. The hotel at Smithville is right in front of the inlet, in full view of the ocean, and only two hours' ride on a steamboat, with an exceedingly pleasant oak grove in Smithville, yery near the hotel.

NATIONAL MEMORIAL DAY. The 30th of May, the day set apart by congress, was one of the most pleasaut days of this exceedingly pleasant spring. The cemetery was handsomely decorated under the mausgement of Col. Ed. R. Brink, chairman of the Memorial Association, and Mr. R. C. Taylor, Superintendent of the cemetery, it was the very picture of beauty. Mr. Taylor is one of the very best landscape gardners in the whole country, and performs his duty fully to the last resting place of those who died at the battle of Fort Fisher. There are some 2,300 dead, and at the head of each a Postmasters Grant of Goldsboro, and National flag was flying. The mound, the fence, the lodge, and the speakers stand were all decorated with flags and flowers. The grave of Gen. Joseph C. Abbott, which is in the cemetery, was not forgotten by the many visitors, and it was covered with flowers by those who loved and honored him while liv-

> At 4 o'clock the people commenced gathering at the cemetery, and by 4:30 o'clock a large crowd had arrived, when W. P. Canaday, Esq , the master of ceremonies, called the assemblage to order, and after music by the P. and the service with prayer. Mr. Canaday then stated that "the National Memorial Association had received quite a number of letters from distinguished gentlemen in answer to invitations sent them to attend the memorial services, among the number there was one from Gov. W. E. Cameron of Virginia, an ex-Confederate coldier of distinction, that was so exceedingly appropriate he city. would have it read." (We will publish the letter next week-ED.) After the reading of Gov. Cameron's letter, Mr. Canaday introduced Hon. George

C. Gorhamas follows: "Ladies and Gentlemen:-It is my pleasure to introduce the orator on this memorial occason. The distinguished gentleman who has so kindly accepted our invitation and traveled hundreds of miles to favor us, is no stranger to you; at least by reputation. The federal soldiers who won the battles of the late war and achieved the grand and glorious victory that has made this government a permanency are entitled to our gratitude. But my friends there was another class of patriots who had a still more difficult task to perform at home, they were the editorial writers of the loyal papers of the country. And they made it possible for the Union toriously from the stars and stripes vic-Grande, and it is my pleasure to say to you that no man has done more for the honorable maintainance of the principles that the federal army battled, and for which the men lying in this cemetery died than the Hon. Geo. C. Gorham, of Washington City, who will now address you." We publish the exceedingly able and appropriate address of Mr. Gorham on our editorial page. It speaks for itself and we have heard but one opinion expressed by those who were fortunate enough to be present and hear the ad lress, namely; "that it was the very best ever delivered at the National Cemetery, that he pleased the assemblage would not be sufficiently strong he completely captured his hearers, and everybody, white and black, Republi cans and Democrats and the soldiers of he federal army as well as the late onfederate soldier, were all perfectly delighted. We speak but the truth anvaroished and unpolished. when we ay that we have never heard a speech endorsed with such perfect umanimity in all of our experience, and in our opinion Mr. Gorham expresses the views of the true Union Republican of the north at the present time.

After the oration of Mr. Gorham. Mr. Canaday introduced First Assist ant Postmaster General Frank Hatton who come forward and spoke for about ten minutes in a speech exceedingly appropriate for the occasion. After music and the benediction, the large assemblage disbanded and decorated the graves with flowers.

Revenue Cutter Colfax.

We have never seen a vessel look handsomer than the Rev. Cutter Colfax did on national memorial day; the vessel was decorated with flags from stem to stera. For the Pest. Card-

Will you please do an injured woman the justice to publish the following: The Morning Star of this city has the unkindness to say in its report of the criminal court of this date, June 1st, viz: "Eliza Borden, larceny; guilty," Now, Mr. Editor, let me say in justification of my own case (and I hate to have to do so), that I have been a resident of this city for fourteen years, and have ever enjoyed a character for honesty and virtue. I am a married woman, doing a legitimate business, and can prove a good character for integrity, by many of my "old time" white friends, and by all business with whom I deal. Necessities of the case forced me in the protection of myself and my business to use justified means in an aggravated case of assault and battery. I used them; was tried for it before a justice of the peace and found guilty, and appealed, I was rearraigned before the criminal court on the same charge by some parties, and through the medium of perjured witbattery. This is Iruth; and : truth is mighty," not only in my vindication, but in the condemnation of such slanders as was reported in that paper .-Some of the witnesses for the state were convicted thieves, and one, particularly, who is even debarred by law the privilege of voting, because ofcrime.
