MORE "RABBITS."

In matters of strategy and cunning our ancient and intimate friend, "Brer Rabbit," has been elevated by the genius of Uncle Remus, supplemented by that of the Editor of the New Observer, to a most elevated station, alike in the world of literary fable and practical politics. In point of dignity and worth, however, the four-footed hero of our southern fiction easily takes precedence of his "cotton-tailed" political brother. The latter is doomed to figures at least in the fancy of our metropolitan contemporary, as a mere delusion, a deception and a snare, not deserving in himself a serious hunt but perkingly seductive to Tray, Blanche and Sweetheart, who pursue that white-candy ignis fatuus of his to the neglect and loss of nobler game. Under this lofty simile has our ingenious friend of the Raleigh Organ portrayed the folly of certain unwary voters, who might thoughtlessly be tempted into a chase of that contemptible "Molly Cotton Tail" the tariff question, with such fat and many antlered bucks, as Public Plunder (called among political sportsmen the spoils of "The Rascals") at large in the forest and inviting capture. How sad it is that the Democratic brethren cannot dwell together in unity except on the one fundamental principle of taking all they can and holding on to it all they get. Here now comes the State Chronicle of the 10th inst., lauding "Brer Rabbit" in strains that would put Uncle Remus himself to the blush, and almost hinting that our great National Park should be turned into a royal chase for the raising and hunting of this noble beast. Hear it: "The one great issue between the two political parties in national politics is the tariff."

The Chronicle repeats this question has been narrowed down so pointedly in the First District etc. O! yes! Its all very well to talk up Tariff in this way. The "Molly Cotton Tail" may lead some other pack from the trail. Well, you shall have Tariff, and your tariff of it, before the campaign is ended, but the contest will not be "narrowed down" to that one topic, so suit your purposes. With it you shall not be suffered to obscure or beguile attention from the deep damnation of disfranchising thousands of freemen by executing juggling for partisan gain. And, if, oh, impartial Chronicle you would deny any participation in this fraud, why do you confuse it by silence, when to speak was imperative duty? The gentleman who is to take his cue from your suggestion and seek to confuse the issues of the canvass to those of tariff, no doubt is a very clever gentleman, can sleep on a fisherman's cottage floor, eat fat meat with an appetite that grows by what it feeds on, draw a seine or sail a boat as if born to occupy his business in great waters, and perform many other of those doughty feats which are the boast of his newspaper friends, and which so potently signify him as the proper man to represent and speak for his people in the national assembly of political ages, but he will scarcely be able to invest the tariff question with such attractions as to make his hearers forget how their dearest privilege, the right of the ballot, has been invaded by the Chief Magistrate of the state in such manner and form as to demand the earliest and most impressive rebuke which a self-governing people can administer to those who assume to be their rulers.

Dr. J. J. Mott has purchased the Statesville American and will make it an aggressive and fearless exponent of Republicanism and Liberalism.

Hon. James E. O'Hara will be in Washington in a few days to look after the interest of his people.

The Editor of the Post has been absent for the most of the time for several weeks past.

We will publish the communication concerning the State Colored Agricultural Fair in our next. It came too late for this issue.

HON. KENNETH RAYNOR.

The friends of Hon. Kenneth Raynor are in good spirits over the rumor that the President is likely to appoint him to the Court of Claims. We sincerely hope it will be done.]

The result of the Danville massacre will unquestionably cost the Democratic party the next Presidency. If they ever had any chance it is now past recovery, and the Republicans will elect the next President by a larger majority than Grant received in 1872.

Not a man who voted the Liberal ticket in 1882 has gone back to the Democratic party, but thousands who voted the Democratic ticket have sworn never to do so again. North Carolina will go anti-Democratic.

Mahone and Riddleberger will carry Virginia in 1884, and we know men who will bet on this right now. Those who are foolish enough to believe that Mahone is dead will wake up the morning of after the National Election wiser if not better men, and don't forget it.

With Price, Johnson, Cook, Edwards, Cocke, Lach, Murray, Powers, Day, Darby and thousands of other good, brave and able liberal leaders joined with Russell, Mott, Dockery, Moore, Young, Kew, Blocker, Popl, Humphrey, Buxton, Hubbs, Smith, and tens of thousands of other brave stalwart white Republican leaders, backed by O'Hara, Harris, Price, Dancy, Leary, Mabson, Holway, Burney, Lane, Mebane, Williamson, Moore and other able colored leaders, North Carolina will unquestionably go twenty thousand majority in 1884 for the Liberal ticket, and don't you for get it.

Riddleberger further admitted that the election in Virginia had decided the Presidential contest. Review. Yes for the Republicans.

Dio Lewis's Monthly.

The November issue of Dio Lewis's Monthly is much increased in size, and superior to any previous number. It is admirable as a whole and in detail. Inebriety among Women, by Dr. Lucy M. Hall, Physician of the great women's Prison at Sherborn, Mass., is a thoughtful discussion of the cause and results of intemperance among women. Editor Barbour, of Kansas, discusses the outcome of obedience to Mr. Greeley's injunction, Young men go West, Employers and Employed, by Mrs. Sarah K. Bolton, is a happy and instructive discussion of this important relation in human life as seen throughout Europe and our own country. Beautiful Hands, by Fanchon, will delight all women who are ambitious of personal charms. The Old Fashioned Home, by Rev. Dr. Fulton, is a hearty plea for genuine love and honest life. Helen M. Loder reviews with spirit and pluck, Our Young Women, by Dr. Howard Crosby, which appeared in a previous number of this magazine. Dear Sir, by President Lee, of the Agricultural College, Miss, is an attack upon an old-fashioned absurdity. Lillie Devereux Blake gives us one of her charming, touching stories in One Thanksgiving Eve. On The Rights and Wrongs of Doubting, by Rev. Dr. Hopkins, President of Auburn Theological Seminary, will surprise many people who know the reputation for solid orthodoxy of Dr. Hopkins and his institution. Dora Darnore, a writer well known on the Pacific coast, gives us a new remedy, and a good one, for Polygamy. Big Jack Small is one of the best stories which has appeared in an American magazine in many years. It gives a vivid description of an ox driver's or bull-puncher's life in Nevada. Fashions are discussed and finely illustrated by Aunt Bonnybell. Our Cooking School, under the management of Julia Colman, grows better and better. Book Notices are well done, and What Everybody Ought to know, by Arthur Chester, is both interesting and useful.

Besides all these articles, we find the following from the Editor of this popular magazine: The Good Old Times and A New Mystery, in which Spiritualism is discussed; an admirable biographical sketch of George T. Angell, of Massachusetts; A Wretched Mistake, Husbands and Wives, a long illustrated article upon Exercise with the Rings, another chapter in the Editor's series on Our Brains and Nerves, Three Square Meals, or the Proper Treatment of Consumption, an interesting sketch of Irish Ladies, The Proper Clothing for Cold Weather, a somewhat extended discussion of Catarrh and its treatment, and several brief hygienic chapters. It is the best number of this Magazine yet given to the public.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

Thirty-seven men were injured by being thrown down an embankment on a construction train, near Rochester, N. Y., on Tuesday morning. Many of them had legs or arms broken or skulls fractured.

Two hundred houses destroyed by fire entailing a loss of $600,000 and rendering five hundred families homeless, occurred at Shenandoah, Pa., on Monday last. Several persons were killed or have died of injuries or from fright.

Dr. J. Marion Simms died at his residence in New York on Tuesday last.

On Tuesday a boiler in a Louisiana sugar house burst, killing three persons.

H. Bulcher was murdered by unknown parties near Beacon, Ga., on Tuesday.

A $500,000 cotton fire occurred at Norfolk on Wednesday.

The Department of Agriculture puts the corn crop at about forty million bushels short of last year's crop.

The potato crop this year is estimated at 175,000,000 bushels.

Preparations have begun for the rebuilding of the Kimball House at Atlanta.

A $80,000 fire occurred at Charleston Monday evening, and three women were killed by jumping from the third story of a clothing factory.

"The Fair Enchantress," or, How She Won Men's Hearts, just published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, is a novel of great power and interest. It is compactly written, not a word being wasted, and the plot is capably framed. It deals chiefly with the history of a young girl, who, thrown upon the world through the murder of her mother, is rescued and educated by a wealthy citizen of New Orleans. The young girl, Mora, devotes herself to the detection and punishment of her mother's assassin. Mora has several admirers, all worthy and honorable men, and her love affairs will certainly enrapture all lady readers, so cleverly are they depicted. The scenes are remarkably vivid, and the picture of New Orleans will make a deep and lasting impression on everybody. Quite a number of exciting episodes are introduced in the course of the striking romance. A child is poisoned by a jealous woman, a mysterious opera singer creates a wonderful sensation, and a duel is fought between two of the heroine's lovers, beside the sea in the moonlight. The characters are, without exception, well drawn. "The Fair Enchantress" is, in short, an excellent novel, and worthy of being universally read. It is published in a large square duodecimo volume, paper cover, price seventy-five cents, and will be found for sale by all booksellers, with all news agents everywhere, and on all railroad trains, or copies of it will be sent to any one, post-paid, on remitting the price of it in a letter to the publishers, T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa.

Vital Questions!
Ask the most eminent physician of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike, refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly

"Some form of Hope!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:

"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs, such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to women?"

And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically, "Buchu."

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malarial fever, ague, &c., and they will tell you:

"Mandrake, or Dandelion!"

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable and compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease or ailment can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is

Harmless for the most frail woman, weakest invalid or smallest child to use

PROCLAMATION.

The following is the proclamation in full of the President of the United States recommending a day of thanksgiving:

In furtherance of the custom of this people at the closing of each year, to engage upon a day of special prayer for the purpose, in a special festival of praise to the Giver of all good, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do hereby designate Thursday, the 29th day of November last, as a day of national thanksgiving.

The year which is drawing to a close has been replete with evidence of divine goodness. The prevalence of health, the fulness of the harvest, the stability of peace and order, the growth of fraternal feeling, the spread of intelligence and learning, the continued enjoyment of civil and religious liberty—all these and countless other blessings are cause for fervent rejoicing. I do therefore recommend that on the day above appointed the people rest from their accustomed labors, and, meeting in their several places of worship, express their devout gratitude to God that He hath dealt so bountifully with this nation and pray that His grace and favor abide with it forever.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
President of the United States.
By F. T. FREELINGHUYSEN,
Secretary of State.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. 1y

WASHINGTON, N. C., Nov. 8th.

EDITOR POST:—I know that you will be very much gratified to learn that the Hon. A. M. Waddell, who was killed to make a speech in this town in advocacy of the election of Mr. Skinner to congress, in opposition to Judge Pool, did not draw a crowd, although the honorable court adjourned in order to give the honorable gentleman a chance. When I went to the court house at the east of the town, I found a crowd introduced by a Baltimore drummer. I told the honorable gentleman that I had no idea that the Democracy was so badly scared as to send him here. Skinner made a speech at Chocomaunity the other day to as good as no audience.

COLUMBIA, N. C., Nov. 11, 1883.

EDITOR POST:—Mr. Skinner is certainly left. Judge Pool's prospects exceedingly bright. Skinner has failed to arouse the people. Pool's friends are hard at work.

Respectfully,

ARTHUR SPRUILL.

At a meeting of the newly elected Executive Council of the Chamber of Commerce, held Friday, the following committees were appointed:

Meteorological—A. H. Van Bokkelen, W. L. DeRoset, George Harris.

Bar and River Improvements—Geo. Harris, Alex Sprunt, E. E. Heide.

Transportation and Navigation—F. W. Kerchner, D. G. Worth, G. H. Robinson.

Correspondence and Foreign Trade—Jas Sprunt, Geo W Williams, A. L. DeRoset.

Propositions and Grievances—Alfred Martin, Geo Kidder, H. Voller.

Insurance and Finance—E. E. Baruss, Thos Evans, Sam'l Northrop.

The city is full of traps, and much annoyance is experienced by housekeepers on account of their importunities in making way into the backyards of residences.

Rev. Mr. Pechan, of this city, was among the speakers of the celebration of the 400th birth-day of Martin Luther at Concord on Saturday.

Hon. E. D. Hall, Mayor of the city, delivered an interesting and able address before the "Benj. Bannaker" Library Association on Thursday evening last. This is an organization composed of a number of the colored people of our city, who have adopted this method of improving their minds and cultivating a taste for pure literature. We are glad to hear that it is flourishing. Col. Hall always speaks well.

Rev. Garland White has found time to get back to his congregation in this city.

Charles C. Pool will represent the people of the first district in the 49th congress.

Wilmington Presbytery.

Wilmington Presbytery met at the Second Presbyterian church, in this city, on Monday evening, at half-past 7 o'clock.

The retiring Moderator, Rev. J. C. Black, of Pender, preached a sermon and the Presbytery was then formally constituted by prayer, after which the roll was called and Rev. J. M. Rose was then elected Moderator and Rev. Alexander Kirkland Temporary Clerk.

The meeting was a full and harmonious one, and much business of importance was transacted. Among other things, the committee appointed at the last meeting to prepare a memorial, submitted their report, which was adopted. Certain overtures sent down by the General Assembly were also adopted.

Mr. Alex. Phillips, of Clinton, after an examination on experimental religion, was received under the care of Presbytery, after which he was examined for licensure. Mr. Wm. Kirk, of Duplin, after a similar examination, was received under the care of Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry.

Clinton was selected as the next place of meeting and Wednesday night before the third Saturday in April as the time for the next meeting of Presbytery.

Rev. Mr. Phillips finally passed a satisfactory examination and preached a trial sermon, which was highly commended.

Rev. C. M. Payne and J. M. Rose were elected trustees of Davidson College.

Presbyterian Synod.

The Stated Synod of the Presbyterian Church convened at the First Presbyterian church in this city on Wednesday night.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Hill, the last Moderator present, after which Synod was constituted by prayer.

Rev. F. H. Johnston, D. D., of Winston, was elected Moderator, and Rev. J. A. Ramsey and J. B. Burwell, Esq., were chosen temporary clerks.

There is a large attendance of ministers and ruling elders from all sections of the state.

Jail Delivery.

On Friday last, when the county jailer, Geo. W. Sprunt, entered the prison, accompanied by a small colored boy to feed the inmates, an assault was made upon them, the keys captured and the jailer choked and held to the floor while a number of the cells were unlocked. Seven out of the eleven prisoners succeeded in the confusion in getting out of the door.

In the meantime the jailer and his family shouted "murder!" and "help!" and the alarm bell was sounded under the impression that that there was fire, which latter circumstance served to aid the fugitives, who joined lustily in the cry. Two of the prisoners, a white man named Cornell awaiting trial for the larceny of a watch, and Gilbert Hadley, colored, for some other offence not now remembered, were captured and returned to their quarters, but the other five got off and are still at large. Those that escaped are Jerre Lanier and Robert Costin, convicted of larceny, the former being sentenced to the Penitentiary for four years and the latter for three; and Joe George, white, awaiting trial for burglary. Archie Pigford, colored, for carrying a concealed weapon, and Wm. Nixon, colored, for larceny: The two first named had appealed to the Supreme Court and their cases had just been decided against them by that tribunal. They are both from New Hanover, while the other three were Pender prisoners. Jailer Murray's wife was instrumental in the capture of Cornwell. She caught him as he was about to mount the fence and clung to him until assistance arrived. Hadley's capture was owing to the delay in his movements caused by the sister of the jailer's wife, who seized and struggled manfully to hold him, but his superior strength finally prevailed, and escaped over the intervening fences and fell into the ready hands of Mr. J. H. Jones, on Fourth street. Sheriff Manning was absent from the city at the time.

A colored man by the name of Primus Davis was arrested Friday on the charge of unmercifully beating his wife. The city physician was called in to examine her injuries, and pronounced them painful but not serious. He was fined.

City Items.

Wilmington sports a "Spencer's Club."

Rev. W. M. Kennedy, preached at Masonboro Baptist Church on Sunday last.

Four marriage licenses were issued last week, equally divided between the two sexes.

Rev. W. M. Kennedy has been recalled to the pastorate of the Masonboro Baptist church.

Shooting on the streets is getting to be too common and the police should try and put a stop to it.

Rev. Dr. J. B. Taylor arrived here from his European trip on Tuesday last. His friends will be glad to see him.

The Norwegian barque Empress of India, which cleared on Friday, takes out 910 bales of cotton, valued at $45,000.

The German barque Atlantic, which cleared for Liverpool on Monday, takes out 1,522 bales of cotton, valued at $70,000.

Revs. Messrs. Williams and Taylor preached at the Primitive Baptist Church in this city on Tuesday evening last.

The German barque Sirene, which cleared from here on Saturday last, took out 2,107 bales of cotton, valued at $100,700.

The steamer A. P. Hurt is now undergoing repairs and the steamer Gov. Hunt has taken her place temporarily on the line.

The Dorcas Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, had one of their attractive "Mum Parties" at the City Hall on Wednesday night last.

Mayor Hall celebrated his silver wedding on Friday last, and we learn that he was the recipient of a number of fine presents from his friends.

Bishop Pierce, of the Methodist Church South, passed through here Tuesday morning en route to Richmond, to attend the Annual Conference.

The Fourth street market house has been enclosed at the top, leaving a sufficient space for ventilation purposes, and has been furnished with new sash and lights.

It don't pay to throw rocks on the streets. A colored youth named David McLaughlin was fined $10 or thirty days for throwing one which hit another colored boy, a few days ago.

Mr. J. L. Winner's oyster garden on Myrtle Sound is about two hundred acres in extent, the whole of which, however, has not yet been planted. His experiments thus far have been very successful.

James Koton, a colored Seaman, was arrested on Saturday last, charged with larceny, but there was no evidence to convict, and the case was dismissed by the trial justice by whom the case was examined.

A Bicycle Club was formed in this city on Friday night last, with James L. Yopp as President, J. H. Wilson, Jr., as Vice President, H. Burkholder, Jr., as Secretary and Treasurer, and J. H. Wilson, Jr., as Captain.

Mr. H. Hutaff and wife celebrated their silver wedding on Sunday last, and that evening, while at supper, a deputation from Germania Lodge No. 4, K. of P., marched in and presented them a handsome silver and salver, with appropriate remarks.

A flat loaded with steel rails for the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, which was being towed from this city to Fayetteville, on Monday afternoon last, struck on a snag and was sunk in the river just above Point Peter. The flat was in tow of the steamer Wave.

On Friday the body of Henry Jewett, colored, who was drowned off a flat at the foot of Market street, on Thursday, the last inst., was discovered floating in the river and was recovered and buried. Deceased belonged to Town Creek, in Brunswick county. No inquest was held.

Anarky Jewels, colored, living on Eighth between Orange and Ann streets, was found dead in her bed about 10 o'clock Thursday night. She had been in her usual health during the day, and a short time before her death was engaged in cutting wood. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of her death. No inquest.

Mr. James W. Southerland, while on a trip to northern Alabama, a few days ago, purchased the fine blooded horse Abdullah, for which he paid $750. He is a handsome mahogany bay, fifteen hands and one inch high, and can trot a mile inside of three minutes. In fact, he is said to belong to one of the best trotting horse families in the United States.

Superintendent E. F. Martin, of the Wilmington, Wrightsville and Onslow Railroad, is pushing the enterprise with an energy and skill deserving of the greatest success, and we are glad to hear that his meeting with much encouragement in his travels. The Newberne Journal says sixty-one shares of $25 each were subscribed at the court house in that city on Tuesday night of last week, after a speech by the superintendent, and a like amount was subscribed at Kingston.

The Sunday school of St. Paul's Lutheran church celebrated the sixth anniversary of the great Reformer—Martin Luther—on Sunday evening last. After the preliminary ceremonies prescribed for observance in all of the churches, addresses were delivered by Master Enselhard Schulken and Miss Lena Siemmensman. Mr. W. H. Scramm, Mr. H. C. Fremper and Mr. H. B. Eilers. Mr. Fremper's address was particularly interesting from the fact that his early life was passed in that section of Germany made famous as the birth-place of the immortal Reformer and where the great Reformation was first inaugurated.
