NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

John L. Williams & Sons—Banking House.

THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina: Generally fair except showers in the coast, slowly rising temperature in the interior; South to southwest winds.

For Raleigh and Vicinity: Showers probable Thursday morning, followed by fair; warmer.

Weather Conditions.—The storm central Tuesday in the upper Mississippi valley has remained nearly stationary, but has increased in force, the pressure having fallen to 29.48 inches at St. Paul.

The weather is clear only over the States from Nebraska to Texas, where no rain has fallen. Elsewhere cloudy weather continues, with rain at many stations, especially on the Atlantic coast.

At Raleigh (from 8 a. m. Tuesday to 8 a. m. Wednesday): Barometer, 30.08; maximum temperature, 78; rainfall, .26; wind velocity, per hour, 6 miles.

CITY IN BRIEF.

The Woman's Exchange will give a barbecue and Brunswick stew to-day.

The preliminary trial of Jake Jones, the negro who was shot by Officer Oakes, will be held next Tuesday.

A meeting of the Ministering Circle will be held Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of the President.

A number of Methodist ministers passed here yesterday on their way to Garner to attend the annual district conference now in session there.

The Baptist Tabernacle Sunday school will spend to-day at Occaneechee, Col. Carr's farm, on a picnic. The train leaves Union depot at 7:30 o'clock promptly.

Mr. R. T. Gowan, cashier at the Southern freight depot here, has resigned to engage in business for himself. He is succeeded by Mr. S. C. Woods, of South Boston, Va.

Mr. Fab Haywood, son of Dr. F. J. Haywood, who graduated at the University in June, will teach in Prof. Washington Catlett's school at Wilmington next session.

Prof. B. Irby states that he has made arrangements shortly to go into another line of business in Raleigh, and that the report he is to go in with Dr. Battle in a phosphate works is incorrect.

A meeting of all the members of the Capital Club is called for Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock, in the club rooms. Subscribers to the building fund are especially requested to be present.

Dr. H. B. Battle has made frequent visits to our city and is negotiating with some of our business men relative to a phosphate plant that would cost about $100,000.—Winston Sentinel.

Wake Forest township is said to be the only one in Wake county certain to carry the local taxation election next month. There are three others, however, in which the chances of carrying it are said to be good.

Gov. Russell yesterday authorized an exchange of criminal courts between Judge Ewart, of the Western district, and Judge Sutton, of the Eastern. Judge Sutton holds Buncombe court July 26 and Judge Ewart holds New Hanover court October 11.

Sometime ago the News and Observer published the description of a mule and buggy stolen from Greenville. Mr. J. W. Harris, of Wilton, writes that "a party and mule filling such description passed that place about thirty days ago going to Virginia, by Oxford."

It is thought by some that Capt. C. B. Denson, of the old Morson and Denson school, will take charge of the Roxboro Institute for the coming year. Some correspondence is now being conducted between Prof. Denson and the trustees of the school.—Durham Sun.

Col. Eugene Harrell, Quartermaster General of the State Guard, yesterday went down to Ocean View, Va., to make arrangements for the encampment there next week of the Edgecombe Guards, commanded by Gen. Cotten. They go into camp there Saturday. They will occupy the same ground and tents used by the Durham Light Infantry, which has spent a week there, breaking camp yesterday.

COULD NOT CONVICT OF MURDER

The State Could Not Have Asked it in the Berry Cook Case.

Solicitor Pau informs us that the plea of murder in the second degree was made in the State was entitled to in the Berry Cook case. Under the act of 1893 dividing murder into two degrees it is incumbent on the State to prove that the defendant had a predetermined purpose to take the life of the deceased.

"The State could not show that Cook went to the house of the woman with the intention of taking her life. The act of 1893 makes it extremely difficult for the State to establish a case of murder in the first degree. Public officers are sworn to execute the law and a conscientious observance of duty sometimes forbids that they should gratify a public clamor for a hanging.

"It is probable that Cook became involved in a quarrel with the woman and killed her without intending it."

TO BE MOVED TO CHARLOTTE.

Mr. W. C. Dowd, editor and proprietor of the Charlotte News, has purchased the two Mergenthaler Linotype machines which were used in the late Raleigh Tribune office. Mr. L. F. Alford, of the News and Observer expert, is busy packing them for shipment.

The Charlotte News is a bright and lively afternoon paper, and will be even better when its linotypes are in operation.

Economy and strength are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month.

What Men Who Have Tried It The Keeley Treatment AT GREENSBORO, N. C. Mr. Geo. E. Holt, a well-to-do merchant of Mebane, N. C., who graduated in '95, says in a letter to W. H. Osborn, of April 25th, 1897: "I have no desire to take a drink. I am thankful to tell you the Treatment I received at the Keeley Institute and the effect it has had upon me, has been the means of making a sober, industrious, Christian man of me. I am a member of the Presbyterian church at this place. I am always ready to tell anybody the good I received from your Treatment, and advise them to take it. I know what the Institute is. I speak from experience. If I had not gone there when I did, I would have filled a drunkard's grave in six months time."
