

LOCAL.

To Correspondents.

We again ask our friends in all parts of the county to write letters to THE RECORD, and give publicity to any items that may be of interest.

All advertisements must be handed in by Tuesday of every week, in order to be inserted in the issue of that week.

No Paper Next Week.

In accordance with the custom observed by all weekly papers, there will be no paper issued from this office next week, so that our printers may enjoy the Christmas holidays.

Large Turnips.

Mr. John Q. A. Leach, has kindly sent us some turnips, the smallest of them weighing 7 pounds. Some turnips, etc.

Burglary.

We regret to learn that the store of our friend W. B. Wilkie, at Lockville, was broken into on the night of the 16th inst., and quite a number of articles were stolen.

Served Them Right.

At the Inferior Court held in Hertford county last week, three negroes were sentenced to six years imprisonment in the penitentiary, for cruelly beating another negro, because he voted at the late election for Maj. Yeates, the democratic candidate for Congress.

A Good Idea.

And that is, for each of our readers to try to get another of his neighbors to subscribe for the RECORD, beginning with the new year. Don't you think so? The Leg is sure will soon meet, and we will promise to give our readers in Ghattham later news of their proceedings than they can get in any other weekly paper. So give us a trial.

Fire.

We were startled by the alarm of fire, at an old house in the lower part of our village, Saturday night last. It seems that a colored woman who was living up stairs in the house, hung a dress before the fire, and then went out, and while gone, the fire consumed the dress and chair, on which it was hanging, but was extinguished before much serious damage was done.

Another Silver Wedding.

Quite a number of the friends of our esteemed townsmen, John A. Womack, Esq. assembled at his residence on the night of the 13th inst., to extend their congratulations to him and his estimable wife upon the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. A great many hand-gifts were presented to the bride and groom in token of the esteem and love of their friends.

Christmas Entertainment.

We are pleased to know that the Pittsboro' Cornet Band will give one of their pleasant entertainments on the evening of the 27th inst. (Friday after Christmas), for the purpose of repairing their old instruments and buying some additional ones. The plays they have selected are highly interesting and amusing, while the songs, we know, will please all. It is useless for us to say anything in reference to the closing part, the negro minstrel performance, for their friends have shown their appreciation of this before. It is hoped our people will grace the occasion with their presence.

Longevity.

Two aged citizens of our neighboring town, Haywood, have died in the past few days; one of them, Mr. John W. Drake, having died on the 14th inst., aged 81 years, and the other, Robert Faucett, Esq., having died on the 17th inst., aged 81 years. Until they died, there were living in Haywood (a village of scarcely two hundred inhabitants) twelve persons whose combined ages aggregated nine hundred and thirty years. Their average was therefore, seventy-seven years and six months. The ages of the four oldest of these twelve persons, aggregated three hundred and fifty-five years. What other village of the same size can show greater longevity? Doesn't this speak well for the health of Ghattham?

Raleigh Advertisements.

In addition to the advertisements of our friends in Raleigh heretofore noticed, we have the pleasure of calling attention now to several others.

Pescud, Lee & Co.,

has opened another Drug Store in the new and elegant 'Bagley' building, where they will keep everything to be found in a first-class establishment. We are pleased to know that these enterprising gentlemen are meeting with the success that they so much deserve.

J. C. S. Lumsden.

offers all kinds of house furnishing goods, and especially cook stoves. His 'old North State' received the premium at the State Fair, and is a great favorite with all housekeepers.

T. B. Macon.

will furnish fresh oysters in any quantity, and our friends can send him an order with the assurance that it will be promptly attended to.

Personal.

The citizens of this community, without regard to color, or religious denomination, will all regret to learn that the Rev. Dr. Sutton, the beloved Rector of the Episcopal Church, at this place, has tendered his resignation to the Vestry of the Church, to take effect on the 1st day of January next, and has accepted a call to 'Greensboro'.

'I assure you that the idea of separation from a people among whom I have so long labored: to whom I am bound by many ties, and amongst whom I had expected to end my life, is full of pain; and nothing but a sense of duty could bring me to entertain it.'

State Penitentiary.

One day last week, while in Raleigh, we made a visit to our State Penitentiary, and will now give our readers an account of what we there saw and heard. As we had not been there in seven years, of course much work had been done and many improvements made in that interval.

We first inspected the shoe and tailoring department, of which Mr. W. M. Wilson is the efficient superintendent, and to whom we are indebted for his polite attention. There are ten men employed in making shoes, and twelve (all white) in making clothing. They were all busily engaged and are turning out good work.

At the last State Fair a lot of their shoes were on exhibition and received the Premium. Twenty pairs of shoes and fifty suits of clothes are made every day, and all convicts (including those at work on the railroad) are thus supplied. Of course this saves a large amount each year, in the sewing and clothing of nearly 1200 convicts in a small item of expense. In the foundry and black-smith shop are employed about twenty men, who do all the iron work required, which is very considerable.

A large number are engaged at the quarry, and in cutting the stone. The quarry is within the Stockade, surrounding the penitentiary, and contains apparently an inexhaustible supply of granite of excellent quality; the proximity of which, of course, saves thousands of dollars annually.

The kitchen and laundry are kept very neat, and all the work there is done by convicts. The hospital is a two story frame building, and all the rooms are well heated and ventilated and kept very neat, showing that the sick are properly attended to. Indeed it seemed a paradise as compared with the hospitals in which our poor Confederate soldiers were confined.

The health of the convicts is very good, and they all receive the best medical treatment when sick. While inspecting another building, the dinner bell rang, and we had the opportunity of seeing the convicts march into the dining room, which was quite a novel sight. They gathered in squads, each in charge of an overseer, and forming a single file, each man's hand on the shoulder of the one in front of him, and with the 'lock step' marched to dinner. The mess-room is a long frame building, with an aisle through the centre, and on either side rows of benches with a long desk in front of each, and on the desks are placed each man's tin of water and tin plate with his dinner. They all marched in, and after taking their seats, remained motionless, until, at a tap of the bell, they began to eat in perfect silence. It was indeed a peculiar sight. When a convict is refractory, they punish him by placing him in a dark cell, and it is dark sure enough! For we entered one of them (determined to see everything) but when the door was shut, there was no seeing there. No one can imagine the utter, total darkness prevailing in one of those cells. Solitary confinement in one must speedily bring the most stubborn to terms.

The sleeping quarters are temporary wooden buildings, intended for use only until the penitentiary structure is completed. The rooms are 18 feet square, and are kept quite clean. In each room are 10 convicts, who are supplied with sufficient bed-clothes. From the general appearance of the convicts, they are evidently well fed and humanely treated, and no doubt that many of them are in a better condition than before their confinement.

The penitentiary building, when completed, will be a magnificent and imposing edifice. Its length will be 625 feet, and its width 58 feet, and will have 800 cells. We entered some of the cells already finished, and they are certainly securely made. Each one is 5 feet wide, 8 feet long, and 9 feet high. The rock wall around the grounds is an immense undertaking of itself. The side walls are each 565 feet long, and the rear wall a little longer. The height is to be 20 feet on the inside, with a foundation in some places nearly a mile, 17 feet at the base, 3 feet at the top, enclosing an area of six acres. These walls are nearly finished in some places.

The number of convicts at the penitentiary on the 1st of December, was 349; at work on the Western North Carolina Rail Road, 592; on the Western Rail Road, 99; on the Chester & Lenoir, 48; and on the Georgia & North Carolina, 28; making a total of 1116.

The expense of the support of the Penitentiary was $121,200.55 for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1868, as stated in the Auditor's Report, when there were only about 800 convicts, and yet now when there are nearly 1200, the expense for the fiscal year ending September 20th 1878 was $118,666.64. This is very creditable to the present Board of Directors, among whom is our esteemed countyman, George W. Thompson, Esq. They are trying to reduce the expenditures to the lowest practicable point. The Superintendent of the Penitentiary is Col. W. J. Hicks, who has proven himself to be a most efficient and faithful officer. It may truly be said of him, 'he is the right man in the right place.' Our thanks are due him and Mr. D. C. Murray, the popular Steward, for their kind attentions.

Educational.

The Ghattham Educational Association will hold a meeting at Pittsboro' on the 29th inst. An address will be delivered by Hon. John Manning. Friends of education are urged to attend.

FOR THE RECORD. Exhibit at Haywood.

Mr. EDITOR:—December was unusually kind on the night of the 11th inst., and pale Cynthia never blessed earth with a more lovely light. Of course, quite a large crowd collected to witness the closing exercises of the school at Haywood. No doubt you will be furnished with a programme in full, but I beg space in your paper to state that the exhibition was certainly a very pleasant success. The scholars were small—some of them very small; but their efforts were great. I know that the hearts of parents and teachers must have been filled with joy and pride. The pieces were all wisely selected, and most happily rendered; giving lasting credit to their efficient and faithful instructors, Professors Andrews and Partridge. The Academy was beautifully decorated, and the band of music discoursed most sweetly. All were highly pleased. The air was full of compliments, paid the children, teachers, and music, and not a few paid to the beauty of the young ladies.

PAUL WADE. Congress. WASHINGTON, Dec 18.—SENATE.—At the expiration of the morning session, the Senate took up the resolution of Mr. Blaine in regard to citizens being deprived of their constitutional rights.

After a brief debate of a colloquial character, the amendment offered a few days ago by Mr. Thurman directing further inquiry as to whether persons have been dismissed from employment by reason of his vote, whether money was raised by assessment or otherwise upon Federal officers, clerks or employees for election purposes, and also the Supervisors of Elections, was agreed to without division.

After some opposition from the Democratic side and an unsuccessful motion by S. Senator Matthews to take up the Texas Pacific bill, the vote on that motion being 26 yeas to 36 nays, Mr. Blaine's resolution regarding the deprivation of the citizens of their rights was taken up, the question being on Mr. Thurman's amendment, which was agreed to without a division. Mr. Conkling moved as an amendment that the investigation be made by a Select Committee of Nine, instead of the Judiciary Committee, which was agreed to. Mr. Blaine then submitted an amendment authorizing the Committee to take testimony by itself, or by any sub-committee, and to visit any portion of the country when such visit may in their judgment facilitate any portion of the object of the inquiry.

Mr. Butler, of South Carolina, moved to amend the amendment so as to provide that the committee, or any sub-committee thereof, shall sit with open doors. A very animated debate followed, participated in by Messrs. Butler, Estlin, Bayard and others, contending for open investigation. Mr. Butler's amendment was rejected—vote, 30 to 30, a strict party vote.

A subsequent amendment that the committee or any sub-committee should sit with open doors, when requested to do so by any member of the committee, was also rejected by a strict party vote, and without further action, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

The discussion to-day was very animated, the Democratic Senators and particularly Messrs. Butler, Merrimon, and Ransom persisting in a demand for open investigation. Mr. Blaine contending against it with great activity.

NOTE.—The House has been engaged in the reference of bills. Among them was one introduced by Mr. Wood for the payment of the duties on imports in United States notes.

Mr. Ghalmers moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill making it a penal offence for any officer, agent or contractor of the United States, to intimidate at the election of members of Congress or of the President, by contributions of money or by the use or abuse of official privilege, or by bribes, threats, influence, &c. It also makes it a penal offence to solicit or receive contributions for election purposes, from persons in the employments of the Government. Rejected; yeas 132, nays 103; not the necessary two-thirds voting in the affirmative. The Republicans voted no, the Democrats ye; Kelly, of Pennsylvania, voting with the Democrats.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—12:20 P.M.—Gold has just sold at par. It is the first time it has touched that figure since the suspension of specie payments in 1862.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—After the morning hour the Senate resumed the consideration of the resolution of Mr. Blaine regarding the inquiry whether the rights of citizens were violated in any of the United States at the recent elections.

Mr. Merrimon read a prepared speech in reply to that of Mr. Blaine of last week. He spoke in favor of peace and harmony and the breaking down of all sectional feuds.

Mr. Blaine's resolution, together with his amendment, providing that the committee shall take testimony at any point necessary to the visit, was adopted, the vote being 56 yeas to 6 nays. There was an animated debate against the purpose of the resolution.

CONKLING DECLINES. NEW YORK, Dec 17.—A Washington special to the Graphic, which that paper in a leader says is undoubtedly correct, states that the friends of Senator Conkling have recently been in conference there and in New York, on the subject of his nomination to the Presidency, and that he wishes it understood that he is not a candidate, and will not again enter into a contest. This attitude is supposed to be due, according to the Graphic, to a movement on foot to concentrate on Grant.

Railroad Enterprise.

It was announced in the News a few days since, that arrangements had been made by which trains would be run through from Raleigh to Portsmouth. On Monday last this great convenience to the travelling public was inaugurated and now there is no change of cars between this city and Portsmouth, and but one between here and Baltimore.
