where he was, or what had happened, till he found himself on blue water for a three years' cruise, with plenty of time to eat his heart out, and profoundly convinced that he was a victim of the blackest treachery, and that if Emily were false, then all the world was false.

But there was no time for conversation before they were joined by others, and the courtesies of the exceedingly brief occasion occupied the time of hosts and guests till the boat put off again, and the Atlantic received her own.

With what elation he saw at last, the long, long miles having revealed to him the light of the clearing of a tangled skein, the lights of the city stretching on all the radiations of its avenues!

Life looked dark enough to Norman Macpherson at that time, and you may be sure that he made no effort to set things right; but with the persistency of his Scotch race, he fitted his back to bear the burden; and when the three years' cruise was over, he made no visit to his home at all, but got another term of sea service, much to the relief of some one else who wished to stay ashore.

with another peal of laughter, 'It serves you right. Did you suppose all the world wanted to marry your Emily, you emerald monkey? Sopley was a girl much more to my mind, let me tell you. Sopley has been my wife this many a month. And it was of Sopley that Emily was speaking when you took the law in your hands. I suppose, sir, ran on the stranger, 'that I ought to give you a good thrashing; but all the satisfaction I want is to hear you say that you are ashamed of yourself.' And you may be sure he had it.

Back grenadine with damask designs, open work, and stripes of all varieties furnish the majority of toilettes for the summer.

Harper's Bazaar advises a young lady to get soft white muslin, and well-collared Persian lawn, for your graduating dress. Make it with a demi train and a pelisse.

A foreign correspondent describes a rich dress worn by an American lady on her presentation at Queen Victoria's levee: 'The dress is entirely composed of rich white satin. The front of the skirt is trimmed with wide chenille fringe, with a heading of fine silver net, and with bands of large diamonds and green leaves in chenille embroidery.

He had come ashore one day as usual, on the afternoon of the morning when the frigate entered port, and had taken a stroll through the little town, and had lost himself in the upper part of it.

One day, being in Asiatic waters, the officers of the Atlantic, that had passed on her way from a more southerly harbor, came on board, and as they stepped on the deck, almost the first person that Norman saw was a tall, handsome fellow with a scar across his forehead.

Well, Mr. Macpherson, said the stranger, in a great honest voice, according to all the laws of society, I believe you owe me some satisfaction, and I have come to claim it.

When after sunset the earth cools down by radiation under a clear sky several degrees below the temperature of the air, the cold surface condenses the moisture of the air in form of dew.

Fashion Notes. Fine worsted shawls for hotel piazzas are as delicate as lace.

Traces of Extinct People in the Territories. That which is one of the most perplexing to the antiquarian is the fact that the ruins of Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado bear no resemblance whatever to antiquities found elsewhere in our country.

Here, too, are found the ruins of the Montezuma canal, which is well marked for more than twenty miles, of immense size and admirably constructed.

Be Stings for the Cure of Goats. Several articles and letters have been printed in German papers of the leading cities of the empire of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

Asa Packer's will, recently probated in Philadelphia, contained the following clause: 'And to the trustees of Washington college, Lexington, Va., the sum of $4,000, and I also direct that the bond of the Washington college, Lexington, Va., for $1,000 shall be surrendered and canceled by the trustees, thus making the legacy to that college $5,000.'

Egypt was the land visited by Abraham in search of food when there was a famine in his own country—the land to which Joseph was carried as a slave, and which he governed as a prince minister.

Feminine Deities a Century Ago. It is not to be supposed for a moment that ladies of the present day resort to artificial means of increasing their attractiveness.

Valenciennes resemble the ages—they roll along bicycles.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST. One lawyer at Rome, Ga., made $14,000 by the late cotton rise.

The total number of emigrants landed at Castle Garden during the first five months of the present year was 17,572 against 28,145 for the same period in 1878.

General Fitzhugh Lee has resigned his membership of the board of visitors to the Mount Vernon association, and General John A. Early has been appointed to the vacancy.

Great damage has been done by forest fires that swept about the Lake Michigan shore. Twenty buildings were burned near Hor's Pier, and also a number near Alton, Wis.

Elizabeth Rose, a colored woman of temperate habits, threw her two-year-old girl out of a second story window in New York, and the child's life was saved only by her landing in contact with a clothes-line.

The French do not know much about trotting, judging by the time their horses make. At a late international horse show at Paris, a match, mile and a half, was won, open to all comers, was won in a better time than four minutes and fifty-two seconds—one and a half seconds better than required Paris Trotting to make two miles twenty years ago.

A minister of Maine is accused of proscribing a full course of the Rev. Dr. Stur's sermons without explaining that his people were getting the gospel at second hand. The people were so impressed with the force of the sermons that they gave the preacher a call to their church. One of the young ladies of the flock was obliged to the extent of becoming his wife.

An officer of the Humane society who has been investigating the transportation of cattle from the far West to the Eastern market, finds that the animals are frequently five days without food, water or rest; jolted about the country, and causes them to become feverish, which causes them to become feverish, and thus impairs the blood, so that when they are eventually killed and the beef put upon the market it is actually unfit to eat.
