

LOCAL.

All advertisements must be handed in by Tuesday of every week, in order to be inserted in the issue of that week.

AUCTION.—Don't forget, that during the last three days of this week, the goals in the store of Mr. O. S. Poe, of this place, will be sold at public auction.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On last Friday a negro woman in this place, named Wash Hill, apparently in perfect health, was suddenly stricken down by a stroke of paralysis, and died soon thereafter.

BISHOP'S VISITATION.—We are pleased to announce that Bishop Lyman will preach at the Episcopal Church here on next Sunday the 20th inst. The public generally are invited to attend.

MEDICAL.—One night last week some miserable wretch cut out the tongue of a cow belonging to Mr. Robert Perry, of this county. If the wretch could be caught, it would serve him right to cut out his tongue. It is said to think that any one of the human species could be guilty of so cruel and diabolical an outrage.

THE WHEAT CROP.—For the past three or four weeks the hum of the threshing-machine has been heard all over our county, and our farmers have been engaged in the hot and dusty work of threshing out their wheat. We regret to learn that the wheat crop is so small and turning out so badly, some farmers scarcely making more than seed.

VISITING THE MOUNTAINS.—Our young townsman, Mr. James S. Manning, in company with four of his fellow students from the University, is on a visit to our western mountains, and like sensible boys they are making the trip for fun. Our friend favors the readers of the Record with an interesting letter in this issue, which gives a pleasant narrative of their journey.

THE OLD HOTEL.—The young people of this community had a very pleasant picnic a few days ago at the residence of Mr. W. E. Houghton, one mile from here. They all seemed to greatly enjoy the occasion, and it was very refreshing to enjoy the delightful breeze, under those magnificent oaks. Among the pleasures of the day was the exhibition of the curiosities gathered by Mr. Houghton from different parts of the world while he was a naval officer.

THE OLD HOTEL.—This place of property in our town formerly known as the "Eagle Hotel," which for several years past has been unoccupied and gradually decaying, was purchased last week by our old friend, David Turner Esq. who intends to repair and move into it as soon as possible. Our village already boasts of the best country hotel to be found anywhere, and we hope that both will be liberally patronized.

INVESTING MONEY.—Next week being the time for holding the semi-annual term of our inferior court, and it being a leisure time just now with the farmers, there will doubtless be quite a large crowd in attendance.

We would suggest to those of our subscribers who owe a small amount to the Record, that it would be a good time to pay up, either by bringing the money in person or sending it by some neighbor who is coming. Remember "short credits make long friends."

A SAD AFFLICTION.—A deep gloom of sorrow and saddened sympathy has settled upon our town, for on the 14th inst. we followed to her early grave, Sarah Corley, daughter of Aaron G. Henson, Esq., who in the full bloom of joyful youth and in the beauty of early womanhood has been called to her God. When the sickle of death cuts down the aged and gathers in the ripened grain, we are not filled with such peculiar sadness, as when the young and the beautiful with all their bright hopes are so suddenly taken.

THE N. C. STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—We have received a circular from this Company giving the names of its Policy-holders who have died and the amounts paid their families, from which we learn that four were citizens of this county and the sum of eight thousand dollars was paid their families. Of course the larger amount must have been a great help in these hard times, and proves the wisdom of every man having some insurance to help take care of his family in case of his death. We are pleased to know that this great Home Institution is in a most flourishing condition, and promptly pays up all claims without any trouble.

PROHIBITION IN CHATHAM.—Few of our citizens are probably aware that the sale of liquor is prohibited in nearly one-half of this county. The Legislature has, at every session for several years past, enacted a prohibitory law for one or more localities in Chatham, until these "prohibited" places are quite numerous in the county. We have gone to the trouble of looking up all the Acts of the Legislature relating to the sale of liquor in this county, so as to ascertain in what localities it is prohibited and will now publish these places for the information of our readers.

The sale of liquor is prohibited in two miles of Southfork Iron Furnace, Haywood, Lukeville, Clegg Copper Mine, Eador (except in Egypt) Gall, Mt. Vernon Springs, Brown's Chapel, Mt. Pleasant, Bynum's Factory, and O'Kell's Church, and in two and a half miles of Hank's Chapel. There may be other places in addition to these, that have escaped our notice. Besides these localities, the prohibitory law prevails in three entire townships, —Contra, Hayley's, and Middleburg—so that it would seem that public opinion in one county is decidedly in favor of prohibition, and yet illicit distilling is said to be carried on quite extensively in certain sections.

THE ASHBORO COURIER.—This is the name to which the Randolph Register has been changed, and whose editors are Messrs Bradshaw and Hackney, the latter being one of our Chatham boys. They have our best wishes for much success in their enterprise, and they will richly deserve it, if they make the subsequent issues of the Courier as sprightly and newsy as the first.

HOT WEATHER.—Last Friday, the 11th, every body was complaining of the heat and the thermometer showed a temperature of 93 degrees, but the next day, Saturday, was even hotter and the thermometer was higher than we have ever known it here, being 102 degrees in the shade. There was a strong breeze blowing, but it was like the breeze's blast, burning everything it touched. A slight rain that afternoon and another the next night, however, cooled off the atmosphere and kept us from being roasted.

From all sections of the country we hear of the prevalence of this hot wave, which visited us, and many deaths have occurred from the excessive heat.

WRITTEN FOR THE RECORD.

The Imprudent Walking Match.

At a Railroad station (other night, Three gentlemen were sighted; No "little breeches" was in sight; Why were they thusly sighted? The one, as Scots say, was "at home"; The eldest well known here; And, with these two also, there came A PRUDY EXTRANGER.

No team was there then to convey Up to the distant town; And so it seemed, that they must stay At depot till the morrow. Up spoke the stranger lass and said: "In my good 'garden' state Of ten miles we are not afraid: 'Nor deem such hour too late. 'Had I your only had the pluck: "Do you my morning catch?" "I'd dare you, both, to try your luck "In a first-class walking match!"

The other ladies agreed, "I can as such back to meet twaddle, "For all my friends in town confess, "I'm heavy on a waddle!" "So if you think, by bed and toe, "To beat me to your burg, "I'll give you feelings like unto "The girls that tried Von Berg."

The Chatham maid was all a glow, She seemed quite modestly tiffed: She said, "Young Man, I'll have you know, "Walking's my special gift: "Your hunter does not me appall; "I'm ready any time, most, "To take my foot in hand and call: "On 'Search' to take the hindmost."

And so the merry race began In this ten-mile-long contest; At first they walked and then they ran, Then sat and took a long rest.

Then, up and at it hard again; The bill, now, fast descending, And then, with all their might and main, Like the mercury, ascending. Large drops began their face to break; As they kept their onward bound— Which, like the teardrop soldier's check, "Washed off the stains of powder."

I cannot, here, in full relate All, that to them befell; I only know, that the "twas late, They reached it some safe and well. They, each one, claim a victor's meed, Nor are they of one mind: Says—his with any two agreed, The other was behind. And now, of sweet mustang they sing And of the precious bond That binds their sole with many a string: To the EXTRACT made by POND, Their wounds will soon be well and dole, When, if you're loathe to talk And know, young man, what you're about, Ask them—to take a walk.

Randolph Items.

The Ashboro Courier says: High Parks, Esq., of Franklinsville, will soon commence building another large cotton factory.

The prospect for a good crop this year is very promising, wheat crops are much better than last year. Dr. Worth arrived Saturday evening, and will spend a few days at home looking after his private affairs. The Dr. deserves a respite. The duties of his office have been heavy, and he has worked faithfully. N. C. never had a more faithful officer, and Randolph is always proud of him.

This county is destined to become, not only the first mineral county in North Carolina, but to surpass many of the far famed gold regions of California and Montana. The mining interest in this section has received a new impetus, our people have become thoroughly aroused, new energy has been instilled in them, and they have gone zealously to work and discovered that many valuable treasures lie hid on their farms. Almost daily our town is visited by the pleasant and genial capitalists in search of some rich Bonanza, in which to invest their overflowing purse.

The Brown & Smith mine five miles from town, is said to be one of the richest yet discovered in this county. They are working it with a vim and are expecting rich results.

Public squares are a great blessing to the community. We can say the same of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup; it is the best remedy for the cure of all diseases that young children are liable to. Price 25 cts.

STATE NEWS.

N. C. Hand-Book. Col. L. L. Polk has distributed about six thousand of the hand-books issued from the Department of Agriculture.—Raleigh News.

Ice Machine. We learn an ice machine capable of turning out 1,000 pounds of ice per day, will soon be in operation in this city.—Newbern Nat Shell.

Railroad Hands. Forty convicts will arrive to-night from Raleigh to be put to work with those now employed in grading on the railroad near here.—Greensboro Patriot.

Homicides. Eight men were killed in New York city alone on the 14th of July. In the whole State of North Carolina there was not one murder on that day.—Charlotte Democrat.

An Ex-Congressman. Hon. John A. Hyman, colored, formerly Congressman from the Second District, is assistant to the mail clerks between Baltimore and Cumberland.—Observer.

Hanged. Two thousand people witnessed the execution of John Davis, colored, for the murder of Henry McDuffie, at Smithville, Brunswick county, on Friday last. He made a confession.—Wilmington Review.

Sheep For England. Baltimore, Md., July 10, 1879. The British steamer Australian, which sailed from this port yesterday, took 1,200 head of live sheep for the Liverpool market, shipped by a Chicago firm. The sheep are an especially choice lot, averaging nearly one hundred and forty pounds each. They were put on deck, twenty-five in a pen. Five men went along to take care of them.

The Dead Prince. CURTISVILLE, July 12, 1879.—The last sad scenes connected with the funeral of the Prince Imperial of France are ended. The body rests now in the little church of St. Mary at Chislehurst, by the side of the dust of Napoleon III. A day of mourning and of weep it has been, not only in the pretty little Kentish village of Chislehurst, but in the whole of England. Queen Victoria mourned with the bereaved Empress, and many thousands of English women wept to day though they were not present. Never has the death of a Prince caused so much grief.

A Colored Duel. BALTIMORE, July 11, 1879.—An afternoon paper publishes a special from Towson which states that a genuine, bona fide duel took place in Baltimore county yesterday between James Sampson and Wilson Myers. The difficulty originated in a love affair, both men being enamored of the same young woman. The duel took place in the woods, and at the word "fire" Myers' pistol was discharged, Sampson receiving a slight injury in the leg. Sampson's pistol missed. Before they could reload again both were arrested.

Explosion of a Powder Mill. SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—At Redie today a terrible explosion of a powder magazine occurred, near the old Standard Incline Works, which were blown to atoms. The Summit Works a short distance off, were shattered to pieces. The whole town is a hospital. Every moment news comes of more deaths and injuries. As far as heard from there are eight persons known to be dead, and over forty wounded, with a prospect that many will die from their injuries. Women and children are crying and searching for their loved ones. It is probable that many were blown into the air and their remains scattered broadest.

Quarantine Regulations. GALVESTON, July 11.—The Board of Health last evening declared quarantine against Memphis, and freight from that point will not be allowed to enter that city. Passengers will be admitted only after the expiration of twenty days from their departure. The Board also passed a resolution that all vessels from healthy ports outside the tropics shall be forbidden to touch at Key West.

The Situation in Memphis. MEMPHIS, July 12.—The State Board of Health this morning established inspectors of trains and passengers. Hereafter all persons and trains leaving Memphis will be required to have certificates from the inspecting officers. All trains arriving and departing will transfer passengers and baggage at a point five miles distant from the city. Judge Ray's condition is unimproved and but faint hopes are entertained for his recovery. His son also lies in a critical condition.

No new cases have been reported, and the general impression is that the fever will not spread, but is confined to the families where it is at present located.

A great failure in business is sometimes lamented than a failure in health. Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills preserve the health. Price 25 cents.

TELEGRAMS.

Death of Hon. Wm. Allen. CINCINNATI, July 11.—Ex Governor Wm. Allen died suddenly at his home near Chillicothe, Ohio, this morning.

Killed By Lightning. CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 10, 1879. During a heavy thunderstorm this afternoon two countrymen, on their way to the city with a wagon loaded with green corn for market, took refuge under a bridge near California, Ohio. Lightning struck the bridge, and killed both the men and their four horses.

A Stampede. NEW YORK, July 12.—A drove of Texan steers was being driven through Central Park to day when some of the animals became unmanageable and broke down the main herd. They rushed down the streets, pursued by the police and crowds of people. Several persons were tossed on their horns, but none reported seriously hurt.

Murder. WILMINGTON, N. C., July 12, 1879. James Houston formerly Clerk of the Superior Court of this (New Hanover) county and ex-Judge of the Probate Court, shot and killed his parsonage, Mary R. White (colored), at the corner of Second and Market streets, in this place, to-night. Three shots were fired all of which took effect. Houston escaped. Jealousy was the cause of the act.

Sensible Crows.

A farmer in Holden, informed us that, last week, annoyed with crows pulling up his corn, he placed a large umbrella in his field in order to frighten them away. Imagine his surprise one wet day at finding a good flock seeking shelter under it from the rain. The umbrella is now used for other purpose.—Binger (Mo.) Whig.
