LOCAL RECORDS.

☞ FOR ONE DOLLAR we will send THE RECORD to any new subscriber from now until the election in November. Subscribe at once!

☞ Have you seen the large stock of Ready Made Clothing at Bynum & Headen's New Cheap Store? They have them for men, youths and boys, large men and small men. †

☞ Read the advertisement of Mr. J. P. Gulley, who is one of the most enterprising merchants of Raleigh. With him is our clever countyman, Mr. C. G. Hamlet, who is always pleased to wait on his friends and give them good bargains.

☞ Ladies, if you wish to see something pretty, go to Bynum & Headen's New Cheap Store and take a look at their stock of Ladies' Dress Goods, Laces, &c. They have some that are perfectly beautiful. †

☞ We would advise all our friends to call at W. L. London's and see the splendid line of Dress Goods, Notions and Fancy Goods. Would call especial attention to his splendid line of Ladies' Scarfs, Collars, &c. You will save money by giving him a call. †

☞ Gentlemen wishing to purchase Spring and Summer Hats can be suited by calling on D. S. WATTS, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., who has and will receive constantly a stock of Cassimere, Straw, Mackinaw and Romaid Braid. Very stylish. †

☞ For the past two weeks new goods are being received at W. L. London's Cheap Store in large quantities, and they still continue to arrive. We have never seen a larger stock or a finer display than he now has on hand. His stock of Clothing is splendid. Ladies' and Children's Hats and Bonnets, all shapes and kinds. †

Slaughter of Dogs.

We learn that there has been quite a slaughter of dogs in the Gum Spring neighborhood (four miles from here), and many persons think they died from eating the carcass of a mule that was recently killed by lightning. They assert that the electric fluid poisoned the flesh of the mule, but we rather suspect that some of our farmers, who have been losing sheep, sprinkled a little arsenic on the mule, and thus rid the community of some sheep-killing dogs.

Change of Schedule.

It is very gratifying to us to announce that the Post Master General has ordered a change of schedule on the route from here to Moncure, by which the mail will arrive here at 9 45 a. m., and leave at 6:30, p. m. This will be a great convenience to the people of this community, and will also expedite the departure of the mails arriving here from the country offices, which now lie over here twenty four hours. This change was made in accordance with a petition from this place, that was sent to our Representative, Hon. J. J. Davis, who went in person to the Department and had the change made, and for which we tender him our hearty thanks. Now, have this schedule enforced.

Buying an Iron Mine.

Mr. George G. Loisdell, of Wilmington, Delaware, passed through here on Tuesday to examine the lands of Mr. P. J. Snipes, (about ten miles north of this place) with a view of purchasing and working the iron ore that is supposed to be there. We learn that it is more than probable the sale will be made, and, if so, Mr. Loisdell will go to work with a large force and make things lively in that neighborhood. He has already spent nearly half a million of dollars in this county in the Deep river section, and we hope he may get all that back and more too from this iron mine.

As this mine is nearly on the direct route from here to Chapel Hill, to which place a railroad is now being built, we hope it will be extended to that point, and then we may expect it to come on through here.

Remarkable Snow Storm

The editor of the Durham Recorder, in speaking of the snow storm on the 8th inst., says:

"But we remember a snow which fell on the 15th of April, 1849, while we lived in Fayetteville. It followed a spell of very warm weather, which had forced flowers and foliage to full development. A thunder storm on the evening of the 14th was followed by a sudden fall of temperature, and the next morning the snow began to fall about daybreak, and continued until 4 p. m., lying on the ground to the average depth of six inches. A severe freeze followed, and not only the foliage, but the smaller limbs of the trees were killed, and for many weeks afterwards the forests presented a very mournful aspect. There was no fruit that year. That snow did not extend many miles north of Fayetteville, but the freeze was universal and destructive."

To Our Magistrates.

As the Magistrates of this county will meet here on the 4th of May we would request each and all of them to bring us the names of new subscribers to THE RECORD. The Magistrates are usually our most influential citizens, and therefore we request each Magistrate to use his influence among his neighbors and urge them to subscribe to their county paper. Who of you then will bring us the largest list?

During the next six months a paper will be unusually interesting, for we will be carrying on a most important and exciting political campaign, and every voter ought to read and understand the issues of the day. Let our Magistrates aid in disseminating sound political doctrines by getting their neighbors to read THE RECORD. We doubt not that every Magistrate can get us at least ONE subscriber. Will you do it?

Match Game.

On next Saturday the "Lightfoot" baseball club of Graham and the "Blue Boys" of this place will play a match game here. The victors will receive a handsome ball and bat. Of course our boys are in a great state of excitement in anticipation of the contest, and no doubt will do their best to win the game and sustain the honor of their town.

Railroad Freights.

Few persons have any idea as to the discriminations made by railroad companies in their charges for local and through freights. It is one of the mysteries of railroading not appreciated by outsiders. One of the most striking illustrations of this discrimination is that experienced by the merchants of this place. The rate on first-class freight from New York to Moncure (our railroad station) is $1 27 per hundred pounds, while from New York to Fayetteville, via Moncure, it is only 60 cents! That is, freight is carried by Moncure and delivered at Fayetteville about 50 miles farther, at LESS than HALF the price charged for delivering it at Moncure! The reason given for doing this is that Fayetteville is what is called a "competitive point," and there is a great competition between the railroad companies and the water-transport line companies. The result is that our merchants here have their goods sent right by Moncure on to Fayetteville, and then have them sent back to Egypt, being delivered at the latter place at 90 cents per cwt., thus saving 37 cents on every hundred pounds.

A Chathamite Complimented.

It is always a pleasure for us to record anything that may be said complimentary of one of our countrymen and, therefore, we copy from the Granville Free Lance the following in regard to Hon. John Manning:

"This distinguished citizen of Chatham spent a few days in Oxford this week, and was the recipient of a warm welcome from his many friends in this county. It is known that his name will be prominently before the Convention for nomination to Congress from this District, and should he be thus honored, the Metropolitan District will have secured a worthy and faithful Representative in the lower branch of the National Legislature.

Mr. Manning visited the Asylum on Tuesday evening and delivered a fine address to the orphans and others in attendance."

Organizing a Church.

Our Baptist friends gathered in force here last Saturday and Sunday and had a most interesting time, the occasion being the organization—or rather reorganization—of a church at this place. A church of this denomination was organized here many long years ago, the present church building having been erected nearly forty years ago, but on account of the death and removals of so many of the members there had been no organized church for several years past. The last resident pastor was the Rev. Thomas C. Yarborough, who removed from here shortly before the late war. The church edifice had become greatly in need of repairs, having been injured by the tornado of the 20th of March, 1875, but within the past year it has been thoroughly repaired and neatly painted at a cost of about $400. We learn that a new bell will soon be placed in the belfry, the old one having been broken. A neat silver communion service and table have been presented to the congregation by that truly Christian lady, Mrs. Joanna Foushee.

On Saturday last the church was reorganized by the election of Messrs. W. F. Foushee and W. T. Brown as Deacons, and Mr. Ed. S. Henley as Secretary. The Rev. A. D. Cohen, of Carthage, will be the pastor, and preach here on every third Sunday.

The religious exercises on Sunday were largely attended, and were conducted by the Rev. Messrs. Cohen, John C. Wilson, W. H. H. Lawhorn and Geo. P. Moore.

Valuable Statistics.

From the last Report of our State Auditor we have compiled for the information of our readers the following valuable statistics, which will enable them to know how the county of Chatham stands in comparison with the other ninety three counties of the State:

The number of horses in North Carolina is 135,715, and of them Chatham has 2 954, there being four counties having a larger number, Granville having the largest number—3,641. There are 80 295 mules, of which there are 2,043 in Chatham, only three counties having a larger number, the largest being Mecklenburg. There are 510,607 cattle, and no county has so many as Chatham with her 14,700—Wake being next with 14 502. Of hogs there are 1,413 612, Chatham having 39 490, and six counties have a larger number, Johnston taking the lead with 78 538. There are 525 613 sheep, of which Randolph has the largest number, but Chatham comes next with her 19,292. In the value of farming utensils, there are eight counties ahead of Chatham, whose are valued at $208 136. Six counties give in more white polls and nineteen more black polls than Chatham, which has of the former 2 082, and of the latter 844. Wake has the largest number of white polls (3 165), and Halifax the greatest number of black (2,749). The number of acres of land in the State is 28,052 161, and only four counties are larger than Chatham with her 501 529 acres. The largest county is Robeson, containing 581,323 acres, and the smallest is New Hanover, with only 92,306 acres.

The State taxes for 1879 amounted to $558,609 60 5, eighteen counties paying more tax than Chatham, the largest tax ($26 619.04) being paid by Wake, and the smallest ($170.98) being paid by the county of Graham.

The value of all the real and personal property in the State amounts to $157,967,481, an increase of $15,649,379 upon the valuation of the year 1878.

Now let our readers, who wish to be informed about such matters, put this article aside for future reference.

STATE NEWS.

Porcelain Clay.

We learn that there exists in the northwestern part of Granville county a very superior quality of porcelain clay, and that a company from New York are negotiating for its purchase with the view of erecting a great manufactory.—Border Review.

Another Warning.

A man by the name of Patrick living near the village of South Mills while on his way home last Saturday night loaded down with whiskey, died ere he reached home—whiskey is supposed to have been the cause of his death.—Elizabeth City Economist.

Leaving the State.

Within the past six months more than one thousand white people have emigrated from this part of North Carolina to Indiana and the Northwest. More than that number of colored people have gone into Georgia and other Southern States from North Carolina.—Greensboro' North State.

Intemperate Drinking.

One afternoon last week, after a negro man, who lived near Holly Spring church, in Iredell county, had plowed a fractions horse all day in a piece of new ground, he drank very largely of cold water, his hard labor having induced excessive thirst, and three hours thereafter was a corpse.—Statesville Landmark.

Drowned.

Two negro men, George Davis and Noah Mayland, were drowned while on Gen. Cox's Pork Island farm, in Edgecombe county, a few days ago, while attempting to cross the river in a canoe. Neither could swim and when the canoe capsized they drowned before relief could reach them. The bodies were recovered.—Observer.

Child Injured.

The little infant daughter of Dr. Robeson, Mary, aged nineteen months, was dangerously wounded on Tuesday morning last. It seems that she was playing with the bucket of the well, causing the bucket to fall into the well, when she was struck on the head by the handle of the windlass as the bucket went down.—Chapel Hill Ledger.

Burned to Death.

We learn that two negro children were burnt to death in a house on the plantation of Mr. James King, six miles from Monroe. The father and mother left the children alone in the house, when the children probably began playing with the fire and set themselves and the building on fire. Same old story.—Charlotte Democrat.

A New Industry.

The Hoeppole business, a comparatively new industry among our people, has assumed quite a show of importance here during the past winter. Thousands of them have been sold here this season and all found ready sale. Many a dime has been saved by our rural population and that too at times when other work could not be carried on profitably.—Moore Index.

The W. N. C. R. R.

The meeting of the private stockholders of the Western North Carolina Railroad, held here on Wednesday, resulted in an almost unanimous vote in favor of selling out to Mr. Best. So that entire road will now pass into his hands. The $50,000 that he pays the private stockholders will amount to about $3.50 on the share.—Hickory Press.

Robbery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, widow of Aretas Jones, in Trent township, was robbed of about $500 in money last Friday night. While she was eating supper the robber slipped in and carried off a trunk, in which she kept her money, to the woods near by, broke it open and took out all the money—in three pocket-books—except $65, which was wrapped up separate in a piece of paper.—Kinston Journal.

Negroes Emigrating.

The colored residents of Hill-boro and vicinity have been considerably agitated for some time past on the exodus question, and several of them have decided to try their fortune in Indiana or other States. The first installment of the exodusters from Hillsboro left here last Tuesday, and consisted of twenty persons, men, women and children. Their destination is Rockville, Indiana.—Hillsboro' Mail.

The C. F. & Y. V. R. R.

On Saturday last ground was broken on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad at a point about 5 miles Northwest of this city. At 9 A. M., quite a number of citizens from the city and adjoining counties assembled at the stockade where the Penitentiary convicts are provided for, to witness the interesting ceremony of throwing the first shovelful of dirt on the route to Mt. Airy. It was a lovely day and everybody experienced a feeling of pleasure at the coming event in the history of our great Railroad enterprise. The convicts were drawn up in line, and at 9:30 A. M., the Honorable D. F. Caldwell filled the first wheelbarrow, and Andrew Joyce, Esq., of Stokes county, moved off with it and dumped it on the road.

Our friends in Stokes, Surry, and other counties west of this should congratulate themselves on this auspicious event.—Greensboro Patriot.

Compliment to Best.

The Postoffice Department has ordered a post-office to be established at Swannanoa bridge to be known as "Best" office, with J. A. Porter as postmaster. This is the first honor bestowed upon Mr. Best, the railroadist, since his purchase of our railroad.—Asheville Citizen.

Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court which met on the 1st Monday in January, adjourned yesterday after a most laborious session, having rendered about one hundred and seventy five opinions. It is evident that a mistake has been made in reducing the number of Judges, as the labor now imposed on these Judges is greater than any lawyer of ability will be willing to undergo for the small salary now paid.—Raleigh News.

A Curiosity.

A correspondent of the Observer from Wake Forest has seen a great curiosity in the shape of a chicken that has four perfectly formed legs, four feet and four wings, and only one head. Each set of legs and wings is so arranged as to form in every respect the posterior part of the bird, being quite symmetrical in its proportions. The twin birds meet each other breast to breast, except instead of being connected by a small ligament, the two form one elongated body, and one head and neck serve the purpose of both.

Two Tall Women.

Two colored women from Onslow county were in this city one day last week and created as much excitement as would a circus procession. Their names were, respectively, Annie and Melissa Murrell. The former is 17 years of age and measures within a fraction of seven feet. Melissa is one year younger and not quite as tall as her sister. One wears a No. 11 shoe and the other wears a No. 12.

We learn that the mother of these two remarkable girls is at least four inches taller than the tallest one, and wears a No. 13 Shoe.—Nat Shell.

Killed by a Tree.

On the 7th inst., Barwell Merritt went into the woods to get shingles and was killed by a falling tree. Mr. Merritt had cut the tree down and stepped off about 30 feet as it was falling; and in its fall it struck another tree which threw the cypress away from the direction it was falling and toward Mr. Merritt, and near enough for one of the limbs, reaching out about twenty feet, to strike him on the shoulder, which crushed in his whole side and shoulder and doubtless caused instant death.—Kinston Journal.

Boss Snake Story.

The Newbern Nut Shell publishes a snake story, related by a Craven county Granger, which is such a "whopper" that it "takes the cake." The farmer declared that he had seen a snake swallow two rabbits, one on each side of a rail fence, thereby imperiling the life of his life. He first swallowed one rabbit on one side of the fence and seeing rabbit No. 2 through a crack, darted in and through and "took him in." Having a rabbit in each end of him as it were, it was impossible for him to get his entire body on either side of the fence.—Observer.

Race for a Wife.

Two young gentlemen, one of Lenoir and the other of Pelloksville, presumed lovers of the Register of Deeds to marry the same girl, each one believing he was the favored suitor. One was several hours ahead of the other at the Register's office. They hot Pelloksville to full tilt. Mr. Whitty was the successful knight although Mr. Miller arrived at the residence of the fair "Dulcinea" first. He was met at the door by the sister of his affianced who returned to him presents that had been made by him; thereupon he immediately left.—Kinston Journal.

Speedy Justice.

Sheriff Williams, of Henderson county brought down to the Penitentiary two convicts, William Garron and George Snyder, both white. On Friday week they had stolen a horse and mule and passed through Henderson and Polk counties, on their way to South Carolina. On Saturday the pursuit began, and the thieves were overtaken at Greenville South Carolina, on Tuesday, having already sold the stolen animals, and ready to return to this State, probably to make another raid. They were brought to this State without any requisition, lodged in the Henderson county jail on Wednesday night, tried on Thursday, convicted, sentenced to ten years imprisonment, and on Tuesday night were placed in the Penitentiary. This is speedy justice.—Observer.

A Faithful Dog.

The Wilmington Star says that at a recent fire in that city a man was buried beneath the falling walls of a building and burned to death, and near his corpse was found the body of his faithful dog "Boss" that had been his almost inseparable companion for a long time, following him wherever he went, whether on his beautiful boat as she flitted here and there about the harbor, or when walking about on the shore. In the mouth of the noble animal was found a small fragment of cloth, and the natural supposition is that, when his master was stricken down he seized him by the clothing and tried to drag him out, failing in which he died by his side. The faithful dog was placed in a box and buried beside his unfortunate master, to whom he had clung in death as he did with all the instincts of a devoted friend.

DIED.

COWAN.—On Sunday morning, April 18th, in Pittsboro, Mrs. MARY ANNE COWAN, wife of Thomas Cowan, Esq., in the 66th year of her age.

So entered into rest one of "the pure in heart, who shall see God." Through a long life the faithful handmaid of her Divine Master, her whole history is one record of love and good works for all who were in trouble, sorrow, need, sickness, or any other adversity.

A solemn hush has fallen upon this community, where all, both white and black feel that they have lost a friend in the departure of this angel of peace and charity for her "home not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens." Eulogy dies on the lip by the grave that holds such precious dust.

She had given a noble boy to defend his country, and leaves a devoted husband and five surviving children. They who survive only surrender her spirit to the blessed company of saints in Paradise.

"There through fiery trials tried,
Those from every nation,
Now before the throne of God,
Stand in the countless throng,
Clad in robes of purity and white,
Above human power to number,
Through their great tribulation,
Now their crowns are bright."

DO YOU EVER THINK

That YOURS may be the next house that will be burnt?

Be Wise and Insure in Time!

It is more sensible to make SURE of the property that you already have than to run the risk of losing that in trying to make more.

It costs but little to insure and fire is a fearful foe.

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY OF RALEIGH, will insure your Dwelling, Furniture Store, Mill, or other building, at the lowest rates, and PAY if it burns. This Company has paid, in less than a year, for THREE buildings burnt in Chatham.

Yours may be the next! Apply for insurance to H. A. LONDON, Jr., Agent, j-29-tf Pittsboro', N. C.

The Coming Canvass

WILL BE ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT AND EXCITING EVER KNOWN.
