Cure for Nightmare. There is a man in this county who sleeps every night with his knife under his pillow, in order, as he says, to keep off the nightmare. If any of our readers suffer from such nocturnal visitants, we suggest that they try this novel remedy.

Hog-Killing Time. The squeal of the hog is now heard throughout the land as the murderous knife draws his life's blood, for "hog-killing time" has come and our people are feasting on saucers, spare-ribs &c. From present indications of the weather there is no probability of pork spoiling this winter.

Good Farming. We are always pleased to hear of any instance of good farming and especially so when it occurs in this county. George Sellars, a colored man of Ballwin township, has raised this year 75 bushels of oats, 103 bushels of wheat, 104 barrels of corn, 5 bales of cotton, and a quantity of peas and pumpkins. He worked only one mule and had no help but his wife, and used only five sacks of guano that cost him 160 lbs. of cotton. We call this good farming, and will venture the assertion that he has raised more and at less expense than any one man in Chatham. Besides, he has made nearly a thousand pounds of pork, and 70 gallons of sorghum syrup.

Mr. L. S. Burnett, of this county, has made the best yield of cotton that we have yet heard of in Chatham, being 25 1/2 bales, of 450 lbs. each, on 25 acres.

Railroad Meeting. At a public meeting held in the town of Pittsboro, on Monday, 6th December, 1880, whereat B. I. Howze, Esq., was chairman and R. James Powell, secretary, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the construction of a railroad from Danville, Va., through Caswell county to strike Haw River, about six miles above Graham in Alamance county, and thence to develop the superabundant and never-failing water-power on that magnificent stream, would add great and substantial wealth to the State and this community; therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st. That in order to give publicity to this important work, meetings are hereby called to be held at Lockville, Chatham county, on Thursday, 16th December, and at Bynum's Mills on Saturday, 18th December, 1880, and that the Secretaries correspond with prominent gentlemen in other localities for the purpose of obtaining a charter for building said railroad.

2nd. That the attention of the citizens of Danville, Va., Caswell, Alamance, Orange, Chatham, Harnett and Johnston counties, and the Cape Fear section down to Wilmington, is respectfully called to this great and important move.

3rd. That the Senator and Representatives from Chatham county, and those of the counties contiguous to this proposed route, in the ensuing Legislature, are earnestly requested to urge upon the Legislature the enactment of a charter and the employment of convict labor for the construction of the same.

4th. That all persons interested in the construction of this road are earnestly requested to attend the meetings herein designated with a view to future meetings in other localities.

New Telegraph Line. We are pleased to learn from Julius A. Gray esq., President of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad Company, that arrangements have been made to have a telegraph line put up along this road from Fayetteville to the Gulf. The contract has been made and work will at once be begun. This will be a great convenience to the people of that section.

Our New Sheriff. Recently elected Sheriff, Stephen W. Brewer, has duly qualified and entered upon the duties of his office. He has not yet appointed all his deputies, but has appointed three of them—Messrs. Spence Taylor, G. W. Foushee and J. J. Knight, all of whom were deputies under sheriff Taylor and have proven themselves to be most efficient officers, and we congratulate sheriff Brewer upon his good judgment in appointing, and the people of Chatham in having, such competent officers. We believe that we will have a most faithful sheriff, one who will discharge his duties honestly and without fear or favor. His election is not only a compliment to him but also to his township, which has had no one of its citizens in a county office for many years and yet always does its duty—especially when we need a good democratic majority.

Sheriff Taylor retires from office with the best wishes of his many friends for his success in whatever he may engage, and it affords us pleasure to say of him that Chatham county has never had a better officer.

Commissioners' Meeting. Monday the 6th inst. being the day appointed by law, Messrs C. R. Scott, W. H. Hatch, and John A. Pugh, the commissioners-elect met at the court-house and were duly qualified by subscribing and taking the oaths of office administered by the clerk of the Superior court. The board was organized by electing C. R. Scott chairman.

John A. Pugh was appointed superintendent of all the county's public buildings and structures, and W. H. Hatch was appointed purchasing agent for the poor-house.

The following officers-elect were duly qualified and gave their official bonds which were accepted: S. W. Brewer gave his bond as sheriff with John R. Lane, Edward Phillips, Emsley Welch, W. H. Brewer, E. C. Brewer, W. H. Dark, and J. George Hanner, as sureties.

L. R. Exline gave as sureties to his bond as Register, Thomas Cross, J. B. Harris, James Pace, and Thomas W. Womble.

Dr. O. B. Stroud gave his bond as Coroner with the following sureties: W. P. Hadley and Jesse Richardson. The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted: viz:

WHEREAS, In consequence of the use of intoxicating liquors to excess, large and burdensome bills of costs are constantly being audited and allowed by the county commissioners to be paid by the tax-payers of the county, and

WHEREAS, There is a total want of the necessary legal restraint which should render the traffic in any quantity unlawful, except for medicinal purposes. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That this board of commissioners of the county of Chatham will not grant any license for the retail of spirituous or malt-liquors.

Resolved further, That we call upon the Justices of Peace and the good citizens throughout the county to enforce the law relating to the sale of liquors within its borders.

Rev. P. R. Law was elected School Examiner of the county.

Mr. John T. Farrell was elected overseer of the poor-house at a salary of $200 per annum.

Dr. H. C. Jackson was appointed Physician for the poor-house at a salary of $65 per annum.

John M. Moring esq., was retained as Attorney for the commissioners at the sum of $50 per annum.

The following accounts were audited and ordered to be paid: J. P. Bridges, for registering voters and one day's service as county canvasser, $ 274

STATE NEWS.

Washington Press: Dr. T. F. Burbank, on one day last week, cut from the arm of Mr. A. P. Crabtree a piece of shell which has been imbedded there since 1865.

Rockingham Spirit: Doek McRae, colored, broke into a house near Laurinburg on Sunday; was arrested for his crime on Monday and brought to jail on Tuesday—then on Friday was tried, convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary for four years.

News and Observer: That some idea may be had of the greatly increased business of our city, we note that on yesterday at one of our banks, four hundred thousand dollars in checks and drafts was passed at the counter, being received or paid out.

Wilson Advance: On Saturday night, 27th inst., in the house of Mary Gray colored, near Sharpburg, N. C., Armand Walker, a boy about 18 years old, in carelessly handling a pistol that he had stolen the same morning, shot and dangerously wounded one of her small children in the head. Dr. F. J. Throp extracted the ball. The child is not expected to recover.

News and Observer: A sad accident occurred in Franklin county on Friday, John Person, aged fourteen years, son of Mr. Peggrey C. Person, living near Franklin, went out gunning. Not coming home in the evening, search was made and the body was found in the woods with almost the entire top of head blown off by the accidental discharge of the gun.

Wilmington Star: A special from Laurinburg to the Star, dated Dec. 7th, says: "A fire here at 3 o'clock this morning completely destroyed all the stores and other buildings on the east side of the main street from Fountain's dwelling to the Carolina Central Railroad shops. The shops were saved by the determined efforts of the employees and citizens. The loss is $40,000 to $50,000, with very little insurance. The fire was of incendiary origin.

Reidsville Times: Mrs. Lewis Neal, the young and charming wife of Lewis Neal, in Yanceyville, died last Tuesday morning, from the effects of a severe burning Sunday night. She had gone up stairs to retire, and kneeling by the fire to say her prayers her night dress caught, and she ran down the steps, her dress ablaze, and by the time it was put out she was so badly burnt as to cause her death.

News and Observer: Deputy Collector Walter D. Moore, on Friday, captured an illicit distillery at Lipscomb's mill, Orange county, seven miles from Durham. Two men were in the house where the still was. One ran, while the other, Thomas Hall, made for a gun standing by the door. The deputy collector made a similar rush for the weapon, and reached it first. The still was brought to this city, as well as the gun.

Durham Plant: A negro man, while attempting to go down in a well on the premises of Dr. Johnson, Monday, for the purpose of cleaning it out, fell a distance of thirty-five feet. A friend of the unfortunate man standing near by, seeing the fearful accident, hastened to the rescue of his supposed dead comrade. He was discovered to be alive, and was drawn nearly to the top, when he was again precipitated to the bottom of the well. He was finally drawn up, and seemed to be a little excited, very muddy, but not injured.

Reidsville Times: Mr. Jas. Roberts, of Caswell County, never failed to pay up for his newspaper. Even though the fire burnt him out, and he lost all, he never forgot that he owed a subscription to his paper, and by dribbles, paying a little at the time, he wasn't satisfied till he had cashed it all. The neighbors clubbed in and built him a new house, and he is still working and prospering, and a man never passes and asks whose house, but the answer is, "Jimmy Roberts lives there and he is one of the most honest men in the country." Nothing tells an honest man quicker than his anxiety to pay up for his paper.

Asheville Citizen: Mr. W. T. Reynolds, proprietor of a livery stable in this place, has for the past three weeks had in his employ a young white man named James Blackburn, claiming to hail from East Tennessee or Virginia. On Monday night this young man, taking advantage of a temporary absence of Mr. Reynolds and his lady from their room, stole a suit of Mr. R.'s clothes, (his wedding suit,) his over-coat and Mrs. R.'s watch, and shortly afterwards stole from Mr. Reynolds's stable a horse belonging to Mr. E. Sluder, and made a dash to leave on the Warm Springs road. Mr. Reynolds was not long in discovering his loss, and suspecting the thief, started for his stables, meeting young Blackburn as he was leaving the stable on his horse, recovered the stolen goods, and Blackburn now lies in jail awaiting trial.

Louisburg Times: Mr. Geo. F. Allen, a merchant, who has been in business about 3 miles this side of Ransom's Bridge this county, for the past three years, was badly beaten by three parties, supposed to be colored, on Thursday night last. We are unable to give the full particulars, as what we hear is from this and that person, who perhaps only heard a part. The store was ransacked and all the money in the drawers was taken, together with other articles. No doubt the parties thought that they had killed the man, as he was insensible when the affair was first found out by his neighbors. They beat him with dog-wind clubs, and he was very bloody. The most of his money and his gold watch he had in his vest pocket, and the robbers did not find it.

A correspondent of the Statesville Landmark writing from Charlotte, says:

"A darkey in this city has a dog that drinks liquor same as a man. A saucer of brandy was given him one day and he lapped it up and in a short time was staggering around on a regular tare. Strange to relate, but it is even so. The dog will drink the raw liquor with a relish that would make an old stager's mouth water.

Wilmington Review: Fred Shaw a well-known colored man of Whiteville, and a staunch Democrat, was Kuklaxed on last Saturday night, about one mile below Whiteville Depot and badly injured. He was set upon by two men of his own race and cut and beaten. He would probably have been killed had he not succeeded in making his escape from them. As it is he is very badly injured although his life is not thought to be endangered. The assailants will most likely be captured and if so they will get all the law allows them.

A Brother's Brutality.

The Coroner was summoned yesterday to hold an inquest over the body of Bill Biggers, a weak minded man of about thirty five, living in an un-daubed log-cabin on the Monroe road, about eight miles from Charlotte, in Crab Orchard Township, and with his brother, Bob Biggers and family, among whom was a 14 year old boy named Lee. On Sunday morning, the 15th of last November, while Bill was in bed Lee began to chop up a rabbit box belonging to the former. Bill told him to stop but Lee insisted. Bill rose to save his box and Lee, seizing a shot gun loaded with squirrel shot, fired, shattering the bone of Bill's right leg immediately below the knee joint. Bob Biggers the father of Lee and the brother of Bill was at the time in a cotton house near by. He was told by a negro who had been attracted by the noise and firing that Bill was shot and needed a physician. Bob refused to send and said 'he didn't care a damn if he had been killed, he had been expecting it for some time.'

Last Tuesday evening Bill died. When the coroner arrived at the house yesterday he found the corpse of the idiot lying in excrement, dirt and corruption; his wound undressed since the day of the shot and not the slightest attention paid to the preparation of the body for the grave. The beastly brother was about to have the befoiled corpse put into the coffin when he was told that if he did he would regret it. When the coroner ordered that the body be washed it was found impossible to thoroughly clean the skin with soap and water. Dr. L. W. Hunter having heard through rumor of the condition of the wounded man called to see him during his sickness, but received a message from Bob, who had been absent at the time, that the man must attend to his own business and stay away from there. The monster would not allow the neighbors or any others to do anything whatever for the idiot dying in his horrible bed. Dr. Wider and Hunter testified that the man would have recovered easily with ordinary care, and in consequence the indignation of the neighborhood is more violent against Bob, the head of the family, than against the boy Lee. Both of them were at a late hour yesterday afternoon lodged in jail to wait trial at the next term of the Superior Court.—Charlotte Press.

A Remarkable Dream.

Mrs. Elizabeth Joiner, of Baltimore, recently dreamed that the body of her niece, Miss Jennie Smith, who had died not long ago, had been stolen from the grave.

She thought she saw a colored man shoveling dirt from the graves of her two deceased relatives, and that the colored man took up the coffins from the graves, and placing them in a wagon, drove off with them. The lady, who belongs to a wealthy and respectable family, upon being questioned, said that she had visited the grave the day before and found within the inclosure a scapular worn by Catholics, which she was confident had been around Miss Smith's neck, when she was buried. Afterward, on returning home, she had dreamed that she saw the empty coffin of her niece, and in order to set her doubts at rest, she wanted permission to have the grave opened. After some demurral, the request was granted, and the grave was opened in the presence of the lady and a number of friends. It was found to contain only an empty coffin. Mrs. Joiner, who was greatly horrified at the discovery, then insisted on having the grave of the girl's mother, Mrs. Ann Carter, opened. When this was done the discovery was made that her body was also missing. The disclosures caused great excitement among the friends of the family, who are well known, and they have determined to ferret the matter to the bottom. Mrs. Smith and her daughter both died suddenly, the former September 18, and the latter two weeks after. Since the discovery of the robbery it has been found that the body of the young lady was taken to the dissecting room of the Maryland university, and there dissected, and a man named Jensen has been arrested upon suspicion of stealing the body of the dead lady.

A Ravisher Lynched.

At Pine Bluff, Ark. James Anderson, a negro, entered the house of Joe Miller Monday morning where Mrs. Miller and two children were asleep. He committed an outrage on the person of Mrs. Miller, and stole a small sum of money. He was soon afterwards arrested and being identified by Mrs. Miller a mob hung him on the nearest telegraph pole.

Killed by a Snake.

A tragical story comes up from Rock Hill. Mr. John M. Howe, a citizen of that place and a liquor dealer, was known as a snake charmer. He had no fear of the most venomous snakes, and, indeed, had a rattlesnake for a pet. Yesterday he took the snake out of its cage, and was amusing himself by allowing it to coil about his arm, as he had been in the habit of doing, when suddenly it became vicious and sank its fangs into his finger. In thirty minutes Howe was dead, despite the most persistent efforts to save him.—Charlotte Observer.

The Trinity College Debt.

The committee appointed by the Methodist Conference to inquire into and report on the agency of Trinity College made their report on Saturday last. They say an ample sufficiency has been secured in money, bonds and pledges to liquidate the entire indebtedness of the college. They request that payment be made on said bonds and pledges as early as possible. For the information of the conference the committee stated that Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, the regularly appointed conference agent, has raised the following:

Cash, $5,465 51
Bonds and pledges, 5,765 05
Total, $11,230 56

Dr. Craven has raised during the year: cash and bonds and pledges, $2,500 00
Total, $15,480 56

Drs. Bobbitt and Craven were instructed to collect the bonds and pledges secured by them and pay the same into the hands of R. T. Gray, Esq., of this city, the appointed treasurer of the Advisory Committee, whose duty it shall be to pay out said money under the order of the committee. A vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Dr. Bobbitt for his faithful and efficient services as agent of the college.—Raleigh Star.
