A Handsome Residence.

The residence of Mr. A. J. Bynum is at last finished and will be occu pied by him next week. It is decidedly the handsomest dwelling in the pearance and appointments, and of cherry tree, course is an ornament to our town. It reflects much credit ou the skill of Thurston, son of Mr. N. M. Seagle, the Boss workman, Mr. J. B. Massemore, who deserves his reputation of being one of the best carpenters in the State.

With a few more such residences our venerable village would begin to put on city airs.

A Cold Bath.

One of our young townsmen, Mr. John B. Foushee, had rather a cold bath on Tuesday morning. He was skating on Moore's pond, near here, and the ice being weakened by the change of weather broke in with him, and he plunged into water ten fect deep, and although he could swim he was unable to get out, as the ice and made a thorough inspection of century. would break whenever he attempted the institution and its affairs, and to get out.
