

A NOTABLE event will be celebrated to-day with imposing ceremonies. It is the formal opening of the great bridge that has been built across the East river, between the cities of New York and Brooklyn.

Among others we notice that several members of our State Legislature were elected to these municipal offices, and of these violators of the Constitution some were lawyers who ought to have known that they could not legally hold two offices.

The Assizes meeting of the State Medical Society was held last week at Raleigh. Thirty-one applicants passed the required examinations and were admitted as members.

There are a lot of anxious folks waiting the result of the Presidential election with the Revenue Commissioners appointments. The number of patriots who are waiting to run the various bureaus, as it is called, is very large.

The Next Convention of the North Carolina Press Association will be held at the White Sulphur Springs, near Waynesville, beginning on the 3rd day of July.

THE CHIEF of office seems insatiate with some persons; and it does not seem to matter even if the offices are small and of no reputation.

When the little yellow envelope shall be left on his desk containing the polite information that a democratic head of department no longer needs his services.

A Murderer Tried Five Times. A remarkable criminal has recently died at St. Louis. He was tried five times for the same murder, and the story of his trials is quite interesting.

Charles F. King, the accused in one of the most remarkable criminal trials on record, died this morning at St. John's Hospital, where he had been confined for several months.

His first trial terminated in a verdict of insanity, and he was committed to the insane asylum at St. Louis.

His second trial terminated in a verdict of insanity, and he was committed to the insane asylum at St. Louis.

His third trial terminated in a verdict of insanity, and he was committed to the insane asylum at St. Louis.

His fourth trial terminated in a verdict of insanity, and he was committed to the insane asylum at St. Louis.

His fifth trial terminated in a verdict of insanity, and he was committed to the insane asylum at St. Louis.

Cyclone in Wisconsin. A despatch from Racine, Wisconsin, dated May 18th says: The first cyclone in the history of this city struck Racine at 7 o'clock last night passing through the extreme north-western portion of the city.

The day was ushered in bright and cool with a fresh wind blowing from the southwest. Towards noon the sky became overcast and at about 4 o'clock a sharp cyclonic storm prevailed although but little rain fell.

Many of the occupants of the houses were injured by being to the ground, and the cyclone came with such lightning and darkness that many were killed before reaching the shelters.
