

One copy, one year - $2.00
One copy, six months - $1.00
One copy, three months - .50

The Chatham Record.

VOL. VIII.

PITTSBORO, CHATHAM CO., N. C., MAY 6, 1886.

NO. 35.

One square, one insertion - $1.00
One square, two insertions - 1.50
One square, one month - 2.50
For larger advertisements liberal contracts will be made.

Forever Young.
The wild world hastens on its way;
The gray-haired century nears its close;
Its sorrow deepens day by day.

ONLY A COMPANION.

"It seems to me I don't look as well as usual to-night," said Mr. Major Dartburg.

"No," said Mrs. Dartburg, sympathetically. "Don't look as well as usual, and if Mr. Truxton is to be there, I want to look better."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"His handsomeness" thought the husband's mistress. "Dear me, he can't be over forty, and as straight as an arrow."

"Who is that tall girl by the window?" he asked, "with the black eyes and the pretty hair?"

more attracted toward this angelic creature, and he took the first opportunity to ask: "Whether she was fond of children?"

"I adore them," said the widow, clasping her hands.

"I am glad of that," said Mr. Truxton. "I have a little boy of my own?"

"I have you been to Saratoga, Mr. Truxton took it into his head to go to St. S. to that Hall, a perfect boarding house for boys, under twelve," to see his little son?

"Did you see our Kate, sir?" "Which is your Kate?" asked Mr. Truxton, amused at her boy ways.

"She's Miss Omsley," said Bill, "and she's companion to Old Cat Dartburg."

"It seems to me I don't look as well as usual to-night," said Mr. Major Dartburg.

Concerning Pensions.

An Examiner of Pensions gives the following hints concerning applications for pensions that may be of use to old soldiers:

Now in obtaining pensions all the Government wants are the facts, simple plain facts, and then there is no trouble. If a man can prove that he is suffering from a disability contracted in the army, and while on duty, he will get a pension without any trouble.

"I should say, nearly a mile away, and I do not think a single shot told. The enemy circled around us and did not return our fire until within seven or eight hundred yards and then she let us have it."

"What is wrong with the rifle-gun?" was asked. "We don't seem to be doing the enemy any harm," while with slow precision came the crash of the heavy shell as it was hurled into the air.

"The days sped by the widow believed that every one was installing her new friends in Mr. Truxton's house. While Kate had such a quiet way that nobody could really have told from her way of going her."

"I think not," said Kate, with a half-smile hovering about her lips.

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

THE "ALABAMA."

The Confederate Cruiser's Last Engagement.

How She Was Sunk by the "Kearsarge" Off the French Coast.

From an account of "Life on the Alabama," by one of her sailors, in the Century, we quote the following: "We got everything ship-shape and left Cherbourg for our last cruise on a bright Sunday morning, June 19th. We were escorted by a French armored vessel, and when we got outside we could see the Kearsarge awaiting us, about four miles away."

"I should say, nearly a mile away, and I do not think a single shot told. The enemy circled around us and did not return our fire until within seven or eight hundred yards and then she let us have it."

"The days sped by the widow believed that every one was installing her new friends in Mr. Truxton's house. While Kate had such a quiet way that nobody could really have told from her way of going her."

"I think not," said Kate, with a half-smile hovering about her lips.

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

The Town Cow.

One of the most annoying things that the country people has to contend with is the West Union cow. It is the ordinary town cow. When the farmer leaves home he puts in the bottom of his sleigh or sled a bountiful amount of hay. This answers the twofold purpose of a seat and to keep the feet of himself and the good wife warm.

"I should say, nearly a mile away, and I do not think a single shot told. The enemy circled around us and did not return our fire until within seven or eight hundred yards and then she let us have it."

"The days sped by the widow believed that every one was installing her new friends in Mr. Truxton's house. While Kate had such a quiet way that nobody could really have told from her way of going her."

"I think not," said Kate, with a half-smile hovering about her lips.

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

LEECHES

Where They Come From and What is Done with Them.

A Cincinnati Barber who Imports and Sells the Leeches.

"Something is afoot! What that I checked a number of the Cincinnati leeches, jumping from a barber's chair on West Sixth street, as the proprietor, Peter Miller, unrolled the lid of a heavy iron cage and a crowd of leeches, and about 2,000 more, were seen to be jumping out, pulling them down about four inches and leaving to the half dozen customers on the opposite side."

"I should say, nearly a mile away, and I do not think a single shot told. The enemy circled around us and did not return our fire until within seven or eight hundred yards and then she let us have it."

"The days sped by the widow believed that every one was installing her new friends in Mr. Truxton's house. While Kate had such a quiet way that nobody could really have told from her way of going her."

"I think not," said Kate, with a half-smile hovering about her lips.

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

A Woodland Flower.

Warren's Flower, a new species of wood-rose.

"I should say, nearly a mile away, and I do not think a single shot told. The enemy circled around us and did not return our fire until within seven or eight hundred yards and then she let us have it."

"The days sped by the widow believed that every one was installing her new friends in Mr. Truxton's house. While Kate had such a quiet way that nobody could really have told from her way of going her."

"I think not," said Kate, with a half-smile hovering about her lips.

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

WORDS.

Asked of the leeches, which they were.

"I should say, nearly a mile away, and I do not think a single shot told. The enemy circled around us and did not return our fire until within seven or eight hundred yards and then she let us have it."

"The days sped by the widow believed that every one was installing her new friends in Mr. Truxton's house. While Kate had such a quiet way that nobody could really have told from her way of going her."

"I think not," said Kate, with a half-smile hovering about her lips.

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."

"I have often to provide for the boys," said Mrs. Dartburg, "I cannot afford the new decorations of which you speak, Mr. Dartburg."