

LOCAL RECORDS.

SCHEDULE PITTSBORO' R. R. The passenger train on the Pittsboro' railroad leaves Winston daily, except Sundays, at 8 a. m. and 7 p. m., and arrives at Pittsboro' at 8:15 a. m. and 9:30 p. m., making close connection at Moore with the trains to and from Raleigh, Charlotte, Wilmington and intermediate points.

Mr. W. M. Thomas has been appointed postmaster at Richmond, in this county.

There is an old saying that the more ice in January, the more fruit in July. If this be true, there will be an abundance of fruit next July!

We would call the attention of our tobacco planters to the letter of Maj. R. L. Ragland, who is one of the most experienced tobacco planters in the South.

Mr. Robert Brooks, of Hickory Mountain township, was found lying in a creek, a few days ago, in an insensible condition, and died soon after being found.

Rev. R. T. Gray, who left here a few weeks ago to take temporary charge of the Baptist church at Fayetteville, has been ordained and elected pastor of that church.

According to an old tradition if the ground hog can see its shadow today (February 2d), that is, if the sun shines, then there will be six more weeks of wintry weather.

We are indebted to the marshals for a very handsome invitation to attend the fifty third anniversary exercises of the Phi Kappa Theta and Euzelian Literary Societies at Wake Forest College, on the 17th inst.

The number of marriage licenses issued in this county last month was twenty-four, of which fifteen were to whites and nine to blacks. In January of last year only thirteen were issued, so that this increase must be an auspicious sign of better times coming!

A large stock of Readymade Clothing at London's at cost for cash! Ladies Dress Goods at almost your own prices. London has a large stock on hand and will sell as cheap as can be had in any market. These goods must and will be sold. Come and see and bring the money.

On an earlier tomorrow (Friday) the morning train on the Pittsboro' railroad will leave here at 5:50 o'clock, instead of 4:45, as heretofore, and return here at 8:15 instead of 7:45. No change in the schedule of the night train. This gives passengers an hour's more sleep in the morning.

Look here! Now is your time! London has started his Job Lot Counter again this week. Look out for the bargains! He commences on Hats and Caps. You can buy them cheaper than ever sold in New York. Caps from 15 cents up; HATS from 20 cents up; a good stiff Hat for 25 cents. Such prices were never heard of before. Bring the money with you.

Everybody who has any timber to sell, take notice! Mr. Nove wants every one that has any dogwood, persimmon or hickory timber to sell to go to cutting and hauling it in to his factory at this place. He must have more timber or he cannot afford to stay here. To those who have timber but do not care to cut and haul it themselves, he will buy it standing.

A. L. Jones has just returned from the North, where he bought a large and select stock of dry goods, notions, hats and shoes for men, women and children, which will be sold cheaper than anywhere else. If you doubt this, all he asks is to try him. He calls his store, which is now opposite the Iznodis office, the "Rocket" store of Chatham, where any and every thing is sold cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. He can afford to sell these goods cheap, because he paid the cash for them in New York. Call and see them.

SUPERVISORS' MEETING.—Next Saturday is the day for the semi annual meeting of the supervisors of the public roads of every township, for the purpose of consulting on the subject of the condition of the roads in their townships. Until the last Legislature amended the law, it was also their duty at this meeting to appoint the overseers of the roads and allot the hands, but this will be done at the August meeting hereafter. We sincerely hope that this "consulting" will in some way improve our roads, for they certainly need improvement. We verily believe that our bad roads are the heaviest tax that our farmers have to pay, that is, in the wear and tear of their teams and vehicles and loss of time in hauling light loads.

A TANNERY.—At the sale of the Hailbron farm at this place, on last Saturday, Messrs. W. L. London and A. J. Bynum became the purchasers, and they intended to start there at once the best tannery in the county. They have employed a skilled and experienced tanner, who will not only tan the hides but will also dress the leather as well as it can be done anywhere. The tannery is to have all the modern improvements and conveniences, and will be quite an important enterprise here. These gentlemen purpose dividing up the farm (which contains over 400 acres) into several small farms, and sell them to desirable purchasers. They wish to buy at once 10,000 good hides, either dry or green, and will pay cash.

PLEASANT EXCURSION.—On last Tuesday a party of twenty-five ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a pleasant little excursion from this place to Muncie. The weather was delightful, as pleasant as a spring day, and this added no little to the day's enjoyment. The train left here at 9:30 a. m. and returned at 5:30 p. m., and to several of the party it was their first ride on our new railroad. The object of the excursion was two-fold—business and pleasure—for not only was it a sort of picnic, but everybody also went to "buy themselves rich" at the closing out sales of the late firm of Womble and Ginsburg.

THE MOON'S ECLIPSE.—The Record announced last week that there would be an eclipse of the moon on last Saturday night, and therefore our readers were looking out for this wonderful sight, and it was a wonderful sight indeed. The sky was cloudless, so that the eclipse could be plainly seen, and it was at an hour (just after dark) when everybody could conveniently see it. At its total eclipse the moon was not entirely lost to sight, but shone faintly with a lurid, copper colored light, and then gradually as it emerged from the earth's shadow its light became brighter and brighter. Another eclipse is predicted to occur at midnight on July 22nd.

A LIBERAL OFFER.—We are authorized by the Rev. George P. Moore to state that he will give the water-power and ten acres of land to any person or corporation that will build and operate a cotton factory at his mill on Haw river, reserving, however, sufficient water-power to run his mill. This is a liberal and public spirited offer, and affords a rare opportunity to any person or company that would like to invest in a cotton factory. The water-power is said to be the very best on Haw river, and is amply sufficient at all seasons to run a large cotton factory and also Mr. Moore's merchant mill. It is situated in a good cotton section where there would be no trouble about obtaining a full supply of cotton, and the climate is very healthy and provisions plentiful and cheap. The place is six miles distant from the nearest station on the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line railroad and five miles from this place, so that it would have convenient shipping facilities.

Culture of Tobacco.

Hyco, Va., Jan. 25th, 1888. Mr. Editor: Your advice on "Culture of Tobacco" in the Record for January 19th is timely and sound, and applies not only to the planters of your county, but to those of other counties in North Carolina, Tennessee and South Carolina, beginners in its culture, and if followed cannot fail of producing good results. The present and prospective prices for tobacco ought to stimulate those who have the soil adapted to fine yellow tobacco to raise small crops of the best paying product grown in the United States. The farmers of Chatham and contiguous counties ought to avail themselves of nature's bounty in this regard and adapt the crop to the soil, so as to reap the best reward. Some of her poorest gray dry lands, too poor for profitable culture in corn or cotton, may be utilized for the fine yellow type most advantageously, provided small areas are planted and these well fertilized and cultivated.

Your planers need not feel discouraged because many failed to make successful crops the first season's trial. The yellow tobacco industry is of slow growth; experience is necessary to success, but this is sure to come, soon or late, where the natural advantages are as favorable as they present themselves over much of the area of Chatham. Your county is sure to become famous for the production of bright tobacco, the best paying of all the types, but discretion must be used in selecting the proper soil and the right varieties. R. L. RAGLAND.

State News.

Statesville Landmark: Mr. Augustus Jamison, of Coddle Creek, was topping a tree when the top fell in a different direction to that he expected and knocked him off. He fell to the ground with his skull crushed, and died instantly. A subscriber at Carthage, Moore county, Mr. D. C. Kelly, writes that Mr. M. McLeod, of that vicinity, made last year on two acres of land, 4,775 lbs. of seed cotton—a bale and a half to the acre. That is farming.—Mr. C. W. Leekie, of Cool Spring township, has a hen which has a regular habit of laying eggs with two yolks in each. The eggs are of extraordinary size and weight. Mr. Leekie brought three of them to the Landmark office the other day, and they showed when broken that the hen was keeping up her record: each of the three had two yolks in it.

Winston Republican: Nine young men from Davie county boarded the train here Tuesday morning, bound for Iowa, which point they will make their permanent home.—Some of the Western cities, Little Rock, Ark., for instance, are passing laws forbidding the sale of cigarettes to boys. It is a habit that has grown to be general, it seems. Even in Winston, you can see more youngsters puffing away on cigarettes than men, smoking either cigarettes, cigars or pipes. We favor the Little Rock idea and would suggest it to the city fathers of Winston and other towns.—Very few are aware of the fact that the law enforces upon the privilege of married people to the extent that according to the U. S. Postal Laws and the U. S. Revised Statutes, neither husband nor wife has any right to open the other's letters, and the one that does it may be prosecuted under section 3,892 of the revised statutes for so doing.

Wilmington Review: His Honor, Mayor Fowler, has issued a call for elections to be held on Thursday, March 1st, on the question of a subscription by the city to the capital stock of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R. and the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina R. R. The matter is therefore fairly and squarely before the people and it rests with them to say whether they will have the roads. As for the Review, we are plainly and unequivocally in favor of both schemes, simply because we believe that they will both promote, in a wonderful degree, the prosperity of our city.

Hickory Clipper: Last Sunday evening Web Morrow, a brick mason and a plasterer of Morganton, took lodging at John Lattimore's boarding-house, and was assigned to a bed on the second floor. During the night, imagining that the window was the door of his familiar domicile, which was but a step to the ground, he concluded to go out. He raised the lower sash and stepped out, but fortunately the sash came down in time to catch his coat tail and hold it fast. This held Morrow suspended in a safe but not very graceful attitude, with his feet some distance from the ground and his body stretched at length up the side of the building. His cries brought assistance.

Charlotte Chronicle: Mr. W. A. Howell, of Gaston county, raised last year with one horse, on seventeen acres of land, 17 bales of cotton, averaging 405 pounds each.—A fire at Walnut Cove destroyed four stores. The loss is estimated at fifty thousand dollars. The buildings were partially insured. The fire was caused by a defective stove.—A little child of Widow Kirby, aged eighteen months, was left in care of her children at her little home while she went over to see a neighbor. Hearing screams she hurried back and found her little one dead at the door steps, having fallen into the fire and was burned so badly that it walked to the door and fell dead.

Le-ior Topic: Last night two men of this county went to night to the house of Thomas Absher, and, knocking him up, were admitted. They were drinking and had a jug of whiskey or brandy with them. Mr. Absher drank with them, and they gave an old man named S. Veet, an idiotic fellow who lived at Mr. Absher's, some of the spirits. They insisted on his drinking, and plied him with it, and he continued to drink a good deal of the liquor, although Mr. Absher remonstrated with him and advised him to stop. After awhile Sweet became insensible and remained in that condition until he died next day at four in the afternoon. It is charged that, not content with filling the old fellow up with more liquor than he ought to have taken, the men doctored his draughts by chewing tobacco and spitting the juice into it.

Raleigh Visitor: Grey Pool, the well known colored deaf and dumb man, was seriously burned at his room on South Dawson street yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. He is subject to fits and it is supposed by some of his neighbors that during an attack of one of these, he fell into the fire. When found the top of his head and back were burned almost into a crisp.—At the monthly meeting of the Atlantic Hotel Company, (Morehead City) held last night, Mr. Geo. W. Ellis was awarded the contract to make the main building twice its present size, and have it in readiness by the 15th day of May. Contracts for new kitchens, bath houses, pavilions, &c., will be let at an early day, and by the coming season North Carolina can boast of one of the finest summer resorts in America.

Warrington Gazette: "An unloaded pistol" has again gotten in its good work. On Tuesday last little Carrie, the eleven year old daughter of Mr. Thos. J. Pitblow, while handling an un-loaded pistol, "snapped" the same at Miss Maggie Robertson, aged seventeen, and happily succeeded in lodging a good sized ball in the young lady's shoulder. The wound is deep and painful, but not necessarily fatal. Had the ball struck an inch lower the result would have been doubtless fatal.—It occurs to us that one of the chief reasons why the farmers do not accumulate faster is that the heavy profit they pay for what they buy on time. When we buy, that is, borrow money, we are not willing to pay more than six to eight per cent for it; but the farmer who buys on time, especially under a mortgage, pays probably never less than 25 per cent, and often 50 per cent, or one half profit. Represented in figures, this means that the farmer pays from 25 to 50 cents on every dollar's worth he uses—or to put it differently, he always gets from a fourth to one half less than he pays for. There is no other business on earth that can live under this fearful strain.

A North Carolinian Duped.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—A man giving the name of Joseph L. Peal, and stating that he was a lumber and flour merchant of Bethel, N. C., called at the Central Police Station this morning and informed Chief of Detectives Wood that he had been duped out of $210 by a confidence man. Peal said that a few weeks ago he received a letter at his home from a man in New York, named J. H. Ward, who gave his address as 150 Mulberry street (care of Barber). The writer informed Peal that he had a lot of greenbacks which had been printed from stolen government plates, and which he would sell to Peal at a liberal discount. Correspondence followed, and Ward informed the Bethel merchant that he would meet him at the Pennsylvania Railroad station in Philadelphia. Peal placed $500 in his pockets with which to purchase the goods, and left home for Philadelphia on Sunday. Here the old familiar confidence game was played upon him by an affable stranger from Tarboro, N. C., who knew all about Peal and was glad to meet him so far from home, took him to dinner at his hotel, found himself unaccountably short of ready cash, and asked would Mr. Peal oblige him till his banks opened in the morning. Peal obliged him with $210. The next morning he began to think something had gone wrong, and told his story to the police and left for home with the remainder of his money.

A tremendous fire occurred on Broadway, New York, last Monday; eight large buildings were entirely destroyed, and many others badly damaged; about twenty firms occupied the buildings, and the loss will reach $1,500,000. A heavy freight train on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad went through a bridge last Monday. By some means the cable took fire and a large amount of property was destroyed. A brakeman is the only person reported to have been killed.

the horse ran back and turned the buggy over and it catching on his breast, held him fast till he died of pain and exhaustion. There seemed to be no scuffing, so that it was more probable that he was killed instantly. The horse which was very gentle, though contrary, was fastened by one trace to the buggy. Mr. McNeill was in the prime of life and leaves a devoted wife and three children.

Three Negroes Lynched.

Special despatch to the Wilmington Messenger. PLYMOUTH, N. C., VIA WILLIAMSTON, Jan. 27.

Lynch law ran riot here last night, and this morning the people of this town were horrified to find that three negro prisoners had been taken from the county jail by a crowd of masked men, conveyed to a piece of woods on the outskirts of the town, tied to trees and there shot to death. This morning their bodies were found in the position in which the lynchers left them—securely bound to the trees and riddled with bullets.

The lynching party gathered at the jail shortly before midnight and demanded that the jailer should deliver to them Jack Blount, his brother, Matthew Blount, and Patterson Spruill, all colored—who had been lodged in jail charged with the murder of John Dawson, a peddler of Creswell, in this State. The jailer refused, but was overpowered and was forced to permit the men to be taken away. When the woods were reached, the victims begged piteously for mercy, but no attention was paid to their outcries, except the stern reply that they would be given a moment to pray. Then the lynchers, who were variously armed with shot guns, muskets and pistols, began their bloody work, and fired volley after volley until the wretches were dead. Matthew Blount, one of the three victims, was a preacher of some local notoriety, and had previously lost an arm.

The crime for which the three men were thus summarily made to suffer occurred on January 1st. On that day John Dawson, the peddler whom they murdered, was walking down the country road on his way to the house of a neighboring farmer. Patterson Spruill happened to pass by in his cart, and when Dawson asked for a ride, he consented, and the two drove some distance. Before they reached the end of their journey they came up with the two Blounts. The three negroes, after a whispered consultation, then determined to rob Dawson and to murder him. They overpowered him, carried him off to a secluded spot, choked him to death, and then endeavored to hide his body, on which they found only one dollar as the reward of their crime. They were subsequently arrested, and on a preliminary hearing before a magistrate Spruill made a confession, stating that preacher Blount had committed the murder and the other brother had stripped the dead man's person of the money. That day before the murder they had seen Dawson with a large sum of money, and that their object in killing him was to secure a large plunder. The murderers had all been committed for trial in the county court.

That some effort will be made to discover the identity of the lynchers is hardly to be doubted, although the authorities are puzzled to know where to begin. The crime which the negroes committed was a most brutal and unprovoked one, but the general opinion here is that the law should have been allowed to take its course, and that it should now be sustained, otherwise the affair will be a reproach to the community. The lynchers, however, were very guarded in their movements, and adroitly left no possible clue behind them. They came into town in the dead of night and they went, after they had killed the three murderers, no one can say where.

Stealing Coal.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Jan. 26.—An extensive and systematic coal steal has been discovered at Bainbridge, Ross county, Ohio. A car load of coal would at times disappear in a single night, and the speculation became so extensive that the Railroad Company employed detectives to unearth the thieves. The result had been the arrest of fifteen prominent citizens of Bainbridge, including the City Marshal, a hotel proprietor and a Presbyterian preacher. The detectives say that half of the citizens of the town are implicated in the steal. The speculations amount to many hundreds of dollars, and the extent of them may be imagined when it is known that although coal is universally used in Bainbridge, not a single car load has been billed to a resident of that place this winter.

Government receipts for January have averaged about a million a day, and already exceed expenditures during the same period more than eighteen millions.

The Senate Commerce Committee has ordered a favorable report on the bill providing for the construction of a $500,000 light-house off Cape Hatteras.

John Wilson, a wealthy bachelor of Montgomery county, Ala., who died last week, left his entire fortune of $75,000 to the Orphan's Home and the institution for deaf, dumb and blind children in the city of Montgomery, Ala.

A bloody affray occurred in Knoxville, Tenn., Sunday morning; an editor was attacked by three men as he was about to enter church, and he was wounded twice with pistol shots, and received seven stabs in the back; one of his assailants was fatally and one slightly wounded; the editor is thought not to be dangerously injured.
