

LOCAL RECORDS.

Already the afternoons are growing perceptibly longer.
A comfortable dwelling for rent. Apply at Record office.
The next term of our superior court will begin four weeks from next Monday.
Easter comes this year on the 6th day of April—two weeks earlier than last year.
Fifty cords of first class Hickory timber wanted at once at the shuttle mill. None but first class wanted.
Anybody in need of some money can get it, by once hauling dogwood and persimmon timber to the shuttle mill.
Read the "ad." of Wyatt Bros., and when you go to Durham call on them. They are as square dealing merchants as can be found any where.
We congratulate our esteemed countyman, Mr. John M. McIvor, upon his happy marriage, on last Thursday, to Miss Louise Anderson, of Clinton.

We would remind persons who hold chattel mortgages, that the last Legislature passed an act requiring all notices of sale to be posted at the court-house door.
Mr. R. I. Rogers having repaired the Durham Marble Works has recently enlarged its business, and is prepared to do all kinds of tombstone work in the best style. Read his "ad."
At the last meeting of the county commissioners they ordered a levy of 15 cents on the $1000 valuation of real estate to be made in the Huckleberry stock law territory, for the purpose of repairing the fence surrounding it.
Rev. N. B. Cobb will preach in the Baptist church, at this place, on next Sunday. He is one of the best preachers and dearest gentlemen in the State, and we hope that our Baptist brethren here will be so fortunate as to secure him as their pastor.
Farmers, you can find at W. L. London's a large stock of plows, consisting of Oliver Chilled, Farmer's Friend, Richmond Kentucky, Dixie, Cotton Plow, Georgia stocks, &c. Castings for all kinds of plows, all of which will be sold very low for the cash.

Remember if you need any Ready-made Clothing, Pant goods, Wraps, Dress goods, Shawls, Ladies' Planners, that now is the time to buy them cheap for the cash. London is offering special inducements for the cash in these goods. He has a large stock and they must be sold.
We take pleasure in calling attention to the "ad." of the Pittsboro' Academy, and in recommending as one of the most competent and faithful teachers in the State. Children entrusted to his care will be thoroughly instructed. We speak from personal knowledge.
Sheriff Boyer requests us to state that he has not advertised any land for sale by taxes, as he had threatened to do, because he has learned that the law does not now compel him to sell on the first Monday in February, as he had thought. He will therefore give all the indulgence he can, and will wait until February court, before advertising any land.

SUMMER WEATHER.—The extraordinary weather of this winter continues to astonish "the oldest inhabitant". After so delightful a December it was expected that January would be unusually disagreeable, but thus far this month has been as mild and unseasonable as was last month. The trees are actually beginning to swell their buds, and many flowers are in bloom, such as buttercups, hyacinths, periwinkles and daisies, the like of which was never before known here at this season of the year. Yesterday the thermometer indicated a temperature of 75 degrees, hot enough to make winter clothing very uncomfortable.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.—The first quarterly meeting for this year in the Methodist church at this place, on last Monday. The stewards from every church on the circuit, except Hickory Mountain church, were present. The pastor's salary for the ensuing year was fixed at $800, same as last year. The salary of the presiding elder was reduced 25. The assessments were made $5 less on every church, except Hickory Mountain church, and that was increased $10. Presiding Elder Harris was present and preached two very able sermons. The next quarterly conference will be held at Providence church.

CHEAP JOHN AND.—Many newspapers will publish the advertisements of patent medicines, &c., at ruinous rates, merely to fill up their columns. They will publish the advertisements of non-residents of our State at much lower rates than those of our own citizens. We do not pretend to dictate what other papers should do, but we are pleased to state that the Record is not guilty of so great a folly and injustice. If any favors are to be shown to any advertisers, if some are to have lower rates than others, the Record is in favor of our home folks against non residents every time!

We are pleased to note that several of our exchanges state that they declined the "ad." of the Alabama Nursery Company, because of the ridiculously low price offered. The Record very promptly rejected the offer when received some weeks ago, and we sincerely pity any paper that had no more profitable use of its columns than to accept it!

COUNTY ALLIANCE.—The regular quarterly meeting of the County Alliance was held at this place on last Friday. There was a very full attendance, 44 out of the 45 sub-alliances in this county being represented. Messrs. C. R. Sent, T. H. Raney and H. Sears were elected delegates to attend a meeting at Oxford yesterday to consult about the recent tobacco trust. It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting two days, instead of only one day as heretofore, in order to give more time for the transaction of the necessary business of the meeting. The following resolutions were adopted:

I. The failure of the cotton crop and the partial failure of other crops the past year, following the failure of the crops of 1888, will make the year upon which we have entered one of unprecedented hardship to the farmer, the laborer, and indeed to all classes of the people. It will be necessary this year for the farmer to give employment to the laborer, and for the merchant to help the farmer and for all classes to help each other.
II. That the credit system is the prime cause of financial and agricultural depression, and so far as practicable it should be discouraged and discontinued. To this end the most rigid economy should be practiced and encouraged by all classes of the people till they are able to pay the cash for whatever they buy. In this work of retrenchment and reform we could especially invoke the aid and co-operation of the fairer and better portion of the community—the women. If they will live economically, as they did during the war, and make everything in the way of clothing, the country will soon become prosperous.

III. All the industries to which our locality may be adapted should be fostered and encouraged. Dress making, tailoring, shoe making, wagon making, blacksmithing, &c., should be encouraged as much as possible, as they are so important to the improvement of the farm, the garden and the orchard. These industries flourish best in proximity to each other, and together they constitute the surest basis of prosperity.
IV. That the changed conditions by which the products of the fertile lands and improved machinery of other sections are thrown upon our local markets at a less cost than they can be produced at home has brought upon us the necessity of abandoning our farms or increasing their productivity and lessening the cost of production.
V. That our State and county taxes are too high for the depressed condition of the farmers; that other modes of taxation should be devised for their relief, and that all revenues should be limited to the necessary expenses of the government economically administered.
VI. That a just and equitable arrangement should be established by law between the wages of the laborer and the compensation of office-holders and professional men.

Money Spent for Drinks.
From the Saturday Observer.
The actual amount of malt liquors consumed in 1888 was 767,877,656 gallons. This includes not only three million gallons of imported beer and ale. The manufacturer's price to the retailer is above rather than below 20 cents per gallon. At 20 cents the cost to the dealers would be $153,575,411. The retailers get an average of 60 cents per gallon, which makes the cost to the consumer $199,522,273, which the American people spend annually for malt liquor, principally beer. The most careful estimate puts the cost of wine to the consumer at $72,670,136, and of distilled spirits $379,228,840. This gives as a grand total of $912,474,129, nearly one billion dollars spent annually for liquor by the people of the United States. How few people realize the enormous expense the use of liquor entails on the people.

A Blind Mute Educated.
From the Scientific American.
Laura Bridgman, the celebrated blind deaf mute, who gained such notoriety for the world-rift gift she possessed of acquiring knowledge through her only two faculties, and whose death was so much lamented in the scientific world a short time ago, has a youthful and very worthy successor in Miss Helen A. Keller, who is at present an inmate of the Perkins Institute for the Blind in Boston. She was deprived of her sight and hearing at the age of eighteen months. At the age of six, being deaf, dumb, and blind, she was put under the charge of Miss Annie M. Sullivan, who undertook to instruct her in the dumb alphabet, and so eager was her pupil for knowledge, and so quick of perception, that she now is able to read and write with perfect facility.

Murdered his Daughter.
By the Raleigh Correspondent of Wilmington Messenger.
Rev. C. L. Powell, a Baptist preacher, who, as an independent mission-ary, went to Algeria, North Africa, from North Carolina, has in a fit of insanity murdered his youngest daughter, aged 6 years, there by cutting her throat with a pocket knife. He made an attack on his wife, who fled and thereby saved her life. He had been in an asylum in Algeria, but having improved, was allowed to go home and soon after made this murderous attack. He is now in an asylum in Algeria. His wife and four children are very anxious to get back to North Carolina. Rev. Mr. Powell was for a month some years ago, in the asylum at Raleigh. The case is a very terrible one and will attract much attention all over the state.

Free Fight on a Car.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 6.—Late Saturday night two parties of United States soldiers, one colored, of the Ninth Cavalry, and the other white, were returning to the fort from Leavenworth, when Charles Harrison, one of the colored men, insulted one of the white soldiers. A free fight ensued, the white men using the cuspidors, and the negroes their razors. Two negroes whose names are not known, were severely injured and were sent to the hospital. None of the whites were injured. The car in which the fight occurred was totally wrecked.

Fatal Explosion.
Special to the News and Observer.
GREENVILLE, N. C., Jan. 4.—A terrific boiler explosion occurred at Samuel Cornelius's mill, Bulls Ferry, yesterday evening, killing a man named Richard Batts and wounding four others. The report sounded like a tremendous gun and was distinctly heard for more than eight miles.

Killed With Scissors.
AKRON, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Rosa Hoke, the little daughter of a Green township farmer, fell on the points of a pair of shears Tuesday evening, the blades piercing her heart. She pulled it out, and the blood gushed out in a stream, and in an instant the little one was dead.

An interesting case has been received at Johns Hopkins Hospital. The patient has animals in the shape of snakes living in his blood. He is from Charleston, S. C., and has suffered from his peculiar disease more or less for twenty years. Many times his blood has been examined under the microscope, and the snake-shaped parasites have always been found present. The blood for examination has generally been drawn from a finger-tip. This is the first case of the kind at Johns Hopkins Hospital, and few doctors in the United States have personal knowledge of the disease.

Travelers are subject to other dangers than those of vessel and car. Improper eating at the various hotels they visit demands the proper use of that reliable regulator of the human system, Laxador.
It is not always perfectly safe to smother the baby with opium preparations, but you can rely on Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup; it contains nothing injurious.

Statistics of Divorce.
From Present Day Paper in the January Century on "Problems of the Family", written by Rev. Samuel W. Dike, we quote following:
"Out of the total of 328,716 divorces granted in the United States in the twenty years from 1867 to 1886, inclusive, 259,546 were granted to couples who had been married in this country, and only 7739 were from marriages celebrated in foreign countries. The place of the marriage of 31,359 is unknown. One-fourth of the latter are reported from Connecticut, as that State does not require a disclosure of the place of marriage in its libels for divorce. Now the report shows that out of the 259,546 divorces whose place of marriage was in this country and was ascertained, 231,867, or 89.1 per cent., obtained divorce in some other State. The migration from State to State to obtain divorce must therefore be included within this 13.9 per cent. But it cannot be even any thing like the whole of it. For in 1870 there were 23.2 per cent., and in 1880, 22.1 per cent., of the native-born population of this country living in States where they were not born. Of course this last class comprises persons of all ages, while that under special consideration is made up of those who migrated between the date of marriage and that of divorce. The length of married life before divorce in the United States averages 9.47 years, which, I think, is from one-third to one-half the average continuation of a marriage in those instances where divorce does not occur. Careful study may lead to a reasonably correct approximation to the proper reduction from the 13.9 per cent., and thus give the probable percentage of cases of migration to obtain divorce, but at present I would not venture an opinion on the point. It certainly is a very small part of all the divorces of the country, though varying in different States. But the necessity of such investigation is the point it illustrates. The discovery of these facts alone justifies the cost of the invaluable report of the Department of Labor. It can hardly fail to compel the study of the problems of uniformity from almost entirely new points of view as to its real nature and place in the general question."

Imagine
A store 60 feet wide and 80 feet long and every available foot of room on two floors and a basement crowded with the choicest bargains to be found in North Carolina in fine dress goods of every shade, quality and price. Men's, youth's and children's suits of the finest make and materials sold 20 per cent under the cheapest house in the State. Ladies fine wraps of all the latest designs at lower prices than you have ever seen common goods sold for. Shows in an endless variety from the finest French kid button down to the heavy work shoes for every day and all sold at prices which are marvellous. I say, imagine a store of this size 60x80 and filled with all these bargains, and you have a faint idea of what the Big Basket Store now is. Our buyer is now in N. Y., and you may look for something in about a week that will simply give you pleasure at the Big Basket Store, on Martin & Wilkeson streets, Raleigh, N. C.

Four Men Burned.
PADUCAH, Ky., January 4.—Four negroes were burned to death at Paducah, on the Tennessee river, seventy-five miles from Paducah, on Thursday night by their cabin taking fire. Two of them were brothers named Dyer and the others named Cotton and Somers. It is supposed that they were all intoxicated. The cabin ignited from the chimney.

terrible tragedy took place in Mitchell county, N. C., twelve miles from Kernersville, the county seat. In a drunk row Christmas day, three men were killed. Friday, Monroe Garland, a brother of one of the murdered men, rode up to a crowd in the same place and fired into them, killing three and wounding twelve.
