A country hady, a matrix of Presson 1-le, who recently made the journey from Michigan to Thomaston, Mc. unattended, attracted much othentic all along the route. This was largely on account of her age, she being but three and a half years old. She has been living with her grandmother, and on the removal of that, halv, to Oregon it was desided to send the little lady to her mother, Mrs. Carrie A. Emery, at Thomaston. So the child was duly labeled, her fare paid. and she started on her way

One boly who was on the train near Utica, N. Y., says when she first saw the little girl she was occupying a seat by herself with her doll and a large package of crackers and cheese, and regardless of danger, seemed thoroughneerstoned to her surroundings. She and her husband were so interested in the small travelor that they wrote to Thomaston to coe if she arrived safely, Another buly who came to Thomaston became so attached to the child that she shed tears at parting with her. At Reading, Mass., she had to stay over night, and a passenger took her to his home and returned her to the train in heroine of Thomastion, and is kept busy telling about her journey.-[Lewiston (Me.)
