

LOCAL RECORDS.

The next session of the Pittsboro Academy will begin Monday, the 21st of August.

For sale or rent—the store house in Pittsboro known as the old Lincoln corner. Apply to H. A. Landon.

For monuments and tombstones of the latest and prettiest designs write to R. H. Rogers & Co., proprietors Durham Marble Works, Durham, N. C.

Dr. John H. Landon, of Raleigh, will be at Pittsboro on the first Monday in every month and remain three days, prepared to do any kind of dental work.

W. L. Landon & Son expect to receive this week a fresh lot of ladies' and men's shoes. Also a car load of salt. If you need a straw hat or a suit of clothes, you will find it to your interest to see their stock before you buy.

Dr. W. H. Edwards, of Wake Forest, will visit Pittsboro on Monday and Tuesday following the third Sunday in every month; and will be a Monocle on the following Thursday and Friday, prepared to do any kind of dental work.

W. L. Landon & Son will offer for the next week their entire stock of millinery at and below cost for the cash; so, if you need a hat, either trimmed or untrimmed, you can get it at very low figures. There are some very nice hats left to select from.

District Conference—The annual session of the Methodist conference of this the Fayetteville district was held at Aberdeen, in Moore county, beginning on last Sunday and ending on last Sunday. There was quite a large attendance, and the delegates from the churches in the district were Messrs D. G. Pitt, A. A. Landon, J. B. Gattner, R. W. Arwater, I. B. Byrnes, C. W. Byrnes, John Darringer, Theophilus H. Perry, A. G. Hender and W. J. Womble. The following were elected delegates to the next session, the North Carolina Conference: Messrs E. W. Arwater, A. P. Page, K. H. Warrington, Q. R. Nimocks, Mr. A. F. Edwards, the members of the conference a pleasant excursion on his railroad, which runs from Aberdeen to Camden, a distance of 27 miles. The next session will be held at Rocky Mount, in Wake county.

A Puzzling Problem—The latest perplexing problem that is puzzling the minds of mathematicians is as follows: A column of troops twenty-five miles long is ordered to march twenty-five miles to the front. A messenger starts simultaneously with the column and reaches the rear of the column and returns to the rear of the column where the band is playing. Both the troops and the messenger travel at a uniform rate of speed. How many miles does the messenger travel?

The above problem has been recently published in an issue of the papers, and, although several years of solution, has baffled the wits of nearly all who have attempted to solve it, and we now submit it to the readers of this paper. We have not attempted its solution, but from personal experience we pity that one who had to start at the rear of a column of troops 25 miles long and reach its head!

Sudden Death—On last Sunday morning Rev. George P. Moore, of New Hope township, died very suddenly. He had been in the usual good health, having preached at Rock Spring church on Saturday, and expected to go there and preach again on Sunday. About seven o'clock he went to his wife and got some corn to feed his pigs, and had walked only a few feet from the crib when he suddenly fell and died almost instantly. He was found in a few minutes after he fell and breathed only once after being found. The cause of his death was aneurysm of the heart, with which he had been afflicted for several years. He was in the seventieth year of his age, and had been a Baptist preacher for about 35 years. In 1850 he was elected to the Legislature from this county on the same ticket with Thomas W. Womble and George W. May, and the next year was defeated on the same ticket with H. A. Roucher as a candidate for the constitutional convention, and by the way this was the first ticket that this writer ever voted.

A Good Man Gone—The many friends of Rev. E. L. Bush will be grieved to hear of his death, which occurred at Raleigh, on last Tuesday. He was undoubtedly one of the purest, sincerest Christians whom we have ever known, whose whole life was devoted to doing good. A born gentleman, cultured and highly educated, he devoted his time, his talents and his life to the elevation and improvement of the poorest and most needy of our population, sympathizing with their sufferings, relieving their necessities, and teaching them by precept and practice the truths of Christianity. No more zealous missionary ever sacrificed his life on Africa's burning sands in his devotion to duty. He moved to this place in 1881 and was engaged in missionary work among the colored people, until last summer when he returned to Raleigh.

high to extend his field of usefulness. He was 26 years old and was a native of London. His remains were interred at Raleigh yesterday. To his wife and children our best regards and sympathy are tendered.

Funeral Notice—Mrs. Thomas W. Hines, of Fayetteville, New York, has been here on a short visit to her father, Mr. E. A. Hines, who has been residing several months here in our town.

Mrs. H. H. Hines, of Brooklyn, New York, accompanied by her daughter, has accompanied her to the residence of the deceased.

Mr. W. L. Powell and family, and Mrs. R. James Powell, of Raleigh, are here on a visit.

The funeral services, Mr. Landon, will be at Pittsboro on the first Monday in every month and remain three days, prepared to do any kind of dental work.

W. L. Landon & Son expect to receive this week a fresh lot of ladies' and men's shoes. Also a car load of salt. If you need a straw hat or a suit of clothes, you will find it to your interest to see their stock before you buy.
