

LOCAL RECORDS.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

—See how many hearts you can make happy tomorrow.

—Coffee for pine, oak and walnut—by B. Nove Jr.

—Look out for the X mark and renew your subscription.

—Do not let the new year find you in debt to your preacher or your paper.

—Do not disgrace yourself by drunkenness on the natal day of your Saviour.

—The proud strutting gobbler will tomorrow occupy the place of honor at the head of the table.

—The head Christmas services will be held tomorrow at the Episcopal and Methodist churches in this place.

—If the weather is as bad tomorrow as it was yesterday, add greatly to the enjoyment of Christmas.

—The irrepressible small boy is now making himself conspicuous by not minding by peeping from the eaves and looking too in town.

—This will be the last copy of the Record that some of our subscribers will receive, unless they pay up what they owe. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

—A year's subscription to the Record would be an acceptable Christmas gift to send a friend or relative who has removed from Chatham to another county or distant State.

—One of the best Christmas presents you can send to a distant relative is a year's subscription to the Record, a year's weekly visits which are welcomed as a letter from you. Try it.

—A few days ago a son of Mr. Aaron Odham, of Okefenokee town ship, was fighting Bear creek on a horse which he had bought from a horse dealer in this town.

—The State's prisoners for the 25th Confederate soldiers and prisoners in this county have now just been taken to enable them to take their family Christmas. The amount for each, though small, is a good help to the most needy class of our people, and we wish these prisoners could be much larger.

—The Record will not insert the Christmas pictures of its readers, or coming to pay for it, but will be published next week as usual. While many persons expect to see the Record on Christmas, the Record never has, for it is not published on that day.

—Sheriff Jenkins went to Raleigh on last Tuesday, and settled the taxes due from this county to the State, amounting to $7,500. He was ready to settle amounts, and thus would have been the second sheriff in the State to settle, but his account had not then been audited by the county commissioners.

—On last Monday Dr. H. P. Camp in performed a successful operation on the right eye of a three year old child of Mrs. M. Jordan, of Hickory Grove, in this county. After cutting the eye and straightening the foot, the child in a few days, and in two or three weeks the foot will be all right.

—Some of the county churches thought they would enjoy Christmas better by being less and accordingly had made a plan to observe the vigilance of Superintendent Farrell detected it, on last Monday night, just in time to prevent their escape. The notorious Hayward Leach is said to have been the ring leader.

—Senator J. W. Alvir and Representative J. E. Bryan were here on last Tuesday, in consultation with the attorney of the county and missionaries as to the best plan of presenting to Chatham the territory wrongfully given to Alabama. A strong effort will be made to get the next Legislature to right this great wrong.

—Wanted at W. E. London & Son's 10,000 cross ties, for which they will pay 1,000 cedar poles.

PRISONER PARDONED.

Gov. Carr has pardoned John Cary Green, a colored convict who was sentenced to a term of the superior court of Moore county to work twelve months on the public works of Chatham. The pardon was granted on an act of leniency, because the prisoner is a free man, and has been in confinement for some time. The pardon was granted by the governor, and the pardon was granted by the governor, and the pardon was granted by the governor.
