"I am very sorry," he said, "that it cannot be that I cannot consent. You plead well, but you plead in vain. You cannot see my niece. I refuse most distinctly. I decline to listen to your proposition. I like you; personally I have not the least objection to you. You are a noble-hearted man. As I have two nieces, I would give you one. As I have but one, she must marry the benefit of the race she springs from."

her more kindly than usual. It was gentle Lady Lennox who caused the mischief. She noticed the ring with its band of pearls, and taking her daughter's hand here, she said: "Trixie, what a beautiful ring! What large pearls! How nice they are! Have I seen that before?"

FARM AND GARDEN. Ventilation of a cow stable. A stable holding about twenty cows standing in two rows with their heads to ward each other, can be ventilated with an eight-inch stove pipe run from one end of the alley up through the roof. The pipe should come within one foot of the floor, and go straight up without any bend. It will not be necessary to let a pipe in from the outside, unless it can be arranged to come in under the mangers or in the centre of the alley where the cows will not be in a draft.

EXCELLENT PLAN FOR A CEMENT FLOOR. Shown in the illustration will be found excellent. Lay the floor timbers and on these put boards, leaving a space of an inch between. A lattice beneath these cracks will keep the soft cement from running down through them. When hardened, the cement will hold much better for those filled cracks. American Agriculturist.

Capacity of Farm Machinery. A correspondent of the New York Tribune says of the modern harvester and binder that cuts and binds a swath of six to seven feet wide, which are the successful and popular sizes that they cut about an acre an hour. With the old-fashioned cradle a good man would cut from two and a half to three acres in a day, and a good woman would do about half as much.

A Hold-Tight Saw Buck. The accompanying illustration shows how a sawbuck may be arranged so that a log of wood will remain perfectly stationary. The buck itself is made like an ordinary sawbuck, but on one end a lever, A, is attached and so arranged that it can be pushed down and fastened, thus holding the log.

Cause Feed for Swine and Cattle. In the attempt to make our farm stock very choice meat producers, concentrated feed has been fed to such an extent that the animals have become fat. It is not necessary to feed so much. It is possible to carry this thing to such an extreme that the animals would be fed on little else but fat. The feeding of concentrated food must inevitably tend to weaken the vitality of the stock and make them unfit for general farm purposes.

California is the second largest producer of quicksilver in the world, and the demand for the metal warrants increasing the capacity of its mines.

In some of the farming districts of China pigs are harnessed to small wagons and made to draw them.
