

TUESDAY, May 21, 1902.

Local Records.

—Bring your wool to Dunn & Headen.

—They have received another lot of ladies' hats this week at Dunn & Headen's.

—You will find a pretty line of white goods and embroideries at Pitts-Merchandise Co.

—It is the season for wall-papering, and Pitts-Merchandise Co. is the place to buy it.

—For Sale.—That house and lot lately occupied by Mrs. Laura Baker. Apply to H. A. London.

—Dr. Hurd regrets that on account of sickness, he was unable to fill his appointment at Gulf this week.

—Bynum & Headen carry a full line of farming articles and machinery, in fact they carry everything needed on the farm.

V.—If you intend buying a cow this season, then get prices on the Chattanooga. Sold by Pitts-Merchandise Co.

—Second Tuesday in June, Clothing and Hat also Ladies' Dress Goods. Big for ladies 2 cents. Can save you money in anything you want. J. H. Weatherby's, Sanford, N.C.

—The closing exercises of the colored school of students. Classes were held in the school house on last Friday night, and were very creditable to the youths and their efficient teacher.

—Dr. Hurd's offices were opened last week to young and patriotic the medical department of the University. This is the second year Willis Willis, Professor of Civil Engineering, who is son of the late Rev. Stephen Willis.

—A large crowd was present at the first communion service at Second Street Methodist Church on Saturday evening. We hope to attend and will be pleased to receive the friends of our colleagues in western North Carolina this summer.

—W. L. London & Son are this week leaders in sales of books, including such as we can imagine including pocket books, long-distance telephones, insurance, etc. Books complete line of Bibles, Bibles, Bibles, and Bibles.

—When you want to sell your good writing to W. L. London & Son and get paid off money, it then you can get what you want at the price you have to sell. You know that you can always get a welcome at The Popular Store.

—The next union meeting of the Sandy Creek Association will be held on Friday and Saturday, at work with the Baptist church at Gallant, in the Creek township. The first honorary sermon will be preached by Rev. A. H. Scudder.

—Sheriff Miller last Tuesday carried Mr. Jesse A. Johnson of New Hope township, who became violently ill on his way from the Central Hospital at Raleigh. It required the efforts of four men to take the unfortunate man from the jail to the station here.

—We regret to hear of the death of Mr. William J. Basler of this township, who died on last Thursday and was buried next day at Gum Springs Baptist church. He was a brave soldier in Company G of the old North Carolina cavalry regiment, and was a kind neighbor and a good citizen highly respected by all who knew him.

—The south-bound Southern passenger train was wrecked two miles below Raleigh Tuesday afternoon, fourteen persons being injured though no one was killed. Among the injured were Mr. Henry A. Bynum, of Bynum, whose left hand was cut by glass and broken and shoulder broken and sprained, and Mrs. E. T. Bland of Laurinburg, formerly of this place, who received a contusion on the neck, after being knocked unconscious.

—The many friends of Mrs. Reuben Sanders will regret to hear of her death, which took place, after a long sickness, at her home in Smithfield last Tuesday. Mrs. Sanders was born and reared in Pittsboro, being the oldest daughter of the late Capt. John W. Taylor, and as Mrs. Mary Taylor, was much beloved by her compatriots and acquaintances here. She was a lovely Christian lady possessing many excellent qualities of character, which endeared her to all who knew her. A bereaved husband and two daughters survive her to mourn their loss.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

Mrs. W. L. Hayes, of Sanford, has been visiting Mrs. H. E. Chisholm this week.

Mrs. J. H. Headen has come on a visit to her mother, Mrs. French Strange, in Atlanta.

Mrs. O. S. Poe has returned from a visit to her daughter, Miss George Thompson, in Belmont.

—They have received another lot of ladies' hats this week at Dunn & Headen's.

—You will find a pretty line of white goods and embroideries at Pitts-Merchandise Co.

—It is the season for wall-papering, and Pitts-Merchandise Co. is the place to buy it.

—For Sale.—That house and lot lately occupied by Mrs. Laura Baker. Apply to H. A. London.

—Dr. Hurd regrets that on account of sickness, he was unable to fill his appointment at Gulf this week.

—Bynum & Headen carry a full line of farming articles and machinery, in fact they carry everything needed on the farm.

—Rev. Francis Joyner will hold services in the Episcopal church tomorrow (Friday) night, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. W. L. London left yesterday for Charlotte to attend the funeral of her young grandson, H. A. London Jr., whose death occurred Wednesday morning.

Mr. Henry A. Bynum, of Bynum left Tuesday for Wilmington, where he has accepted a position with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

—Our personal news page.

We have just received a copy of the bulletin on cotton gins to be ready issued by the indebtedness of the cotton gin companies under the supervision of the chief statistician of the manufacturers, by Mr. Charles C. Lee of South Carolina, the economy anticipated exceeding spending on the Census Bureau, to originate in nearly six years, especially now and in the right direction.

—A large number of students are to be admitted to the colored school of students. Classes were held in the school house on last Friday night, and were very creditable to the youths and their efficient teacher.

—Dr. Hurd's offices were opened last week to young and patriotic the medical department of the University. This is the second year Willis Willis, Professor of Civil Engineering, who is son of the late Rev. Stephen Willis.

—A large crowd was present at the first communion service at Second Street Methodist Church on Saturday evening. We hope to attend and will be pleased to receive the friends of our colleagues in western North Carolina this summer.

—W. L. London & Son are this week leaders in sales of books, including such as we can imagine including pocket books, long-distance telephones, insurance, etc. Books complete line of Bibles, Bibles, Bibles, and Bibles.

—When you want to sell your good writing to W. L. London & Son and get paid off money, it then you can get what you want at the price you have to sell. You know that you can always get a welcome at The Popular Store.

—The next union meeting of the Sandy Creek Association will be held on Friday and Saturday, at work with the Baptist church at Gallant, in the Creek township. The first honorary sermon will be preached by Rev. A. H. Scudder.

—Sheriff Miller last Tuesday carried Mr. Jesse A. Johnson of New Hope township, who became violently ill on his way from the Central Hospital at Raleigh. It required the efforts of four men to take the unfortunate man from the jail to the station here.

—We regret to hear of the death of Mr. William J. Basler of this township, who died on last Thursday and was buried next day at Gum Springs Baptist church. He was a brave soldier in Company G of the old North Carolina cavalry regiment, and was a kind neighbor and a good citizen highly respected by all who knew him.

—The south-bound Southern passenger train was wrecked two miles below Raleigh Tuesday afternoon, fourteen persons being injured though no one was killed. Among the injured were Mr. Henry A. Bynum, whose left hand was cut by glass and broken and shoulder broken and sprained, and Mrs. E. T. Bland of Laurinburg, formerly of this place, who received a contusion on the neck, after being knocked unconscious.

—The many friends of Mrs. Reuben Sanders will regret to hear of her death, which took place, after a long sickness, at her home in Smithfield last Tuesday. Mrs. Sanders was born and reared in Pittsboro, being the oldest daughter of the late Capt. John W. Taylor, and as Mrs. Mary Taylor, was much beloved by her compatriots and acquaintances here. She was a lovely Christian lady possessing many excellent qualities of character, which endeared her to all who knew her. A bereaved husband and two daughters survive her to mourn their loss.

Chattanooga.

—Christopher H. Pitts, who passed away in the course of his life, was born in 1811, son of Dr. W. L. Pitts, who was a physician in the city of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

—He was a member of the Methodist Church.

—He was a member of the