

IF BILIOUS, SICK! TAKE NO CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Straightens You Up Better Than Salivating, Dangerous Calomel and Doesn't Upset
You—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Read Guarantee

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and not salivate. Give it to your children.

STUDY THE KORAN

Arab Children Learn Little Else
in Their Schools.

Education Considered Complete When
They Have Mastered the Law
Laid Down by the Prophet.

This is the end of the Rue Kleber, the most animated street in the Kasbah. Two lines of passers-by come and go here between the booths where tripe, fruit, fried dainties, and spices are sold, one line moving upward, the other coming down. Moors in djellabs, others dressed like countrymen, children, women with their veils, negroes with faces uncovered; animals, too, mostly goats and ewes led along by their masters. Only the eternal little donkeys of all Mohammedan countries seem to be lacking.

Fromentin described this square at length 70 years ago. There is no slackening in the crowd. A man... bending under his gay load of cast-off clothing, cries the bargains he has to offer like those one sees on the white quaiseries of Fez or Marrakech. . . . Not far from the square, there was a school that seemed to be the very one he described: "It is still there. It will stay there so long as the schoolmaster lives, and no doubt it will be there after him. Why not? For, if you think like an Arab, there is no reason why it should cease to be there."

The school is always there because it always has been there, and among so many signs of exhaustion and decrepitude it points out to us—still living and communicating itself to the new generations—the Islamic idea that was set aflame in this region so long ago. No doubt its flickering light sinks lower as the Moorish population in the Kasbah grows smaller, but the thousand-year-old flame of a holy lamp, seen in the moment before extinction, is no more unforgettable.

I hear a sound as if from a bird cage, a confused prattling of children's voices. I pushed open a door, and there they are, figures of little folks, squatted in the shadow, covered with their hoods, all with delicately-cut little faces from which the great black eyes are glowing. All together, row by row, each one holding his little writing board, they sway back and forth to the cadence of the verses from the Koran that they are shouting in unison—an array of little demons in a circle about a necromancer, carrying out some rite. . . . The sorcerer schoolmaster, with his long wrinkled face, spectacles on his nose, and the air of an old wolf under his hood, keeps them at the end of his rod, which he points from one to another. You might almost say that he is pouring into the little shaven noddies the milk of the Koran.

These children are miniatures of the Arab men, like those little marionettes that play and dance. In three or four years, when they leave their schoolmaster, knowing by heart the book which for so long a time has given the law to the men and societies of Islam, they will have begun to assume for life the grave, unyielding bearing of the Mussulman.—Andre Chevrillon, in L'Illustration. Translated by The Living Age.

Fighting Japanese Beetle.
The state quarantines in Pennsylvania and New Jersey against the spread of the Japanese beetle are being enforced by the bureau of entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the Federal Horticultural board, in connection with the enforcement of the federal quarantine against the same insect. The Japanese beetle threatens to become a pest of first and widespread importance. Special attention has been given to the inspection and certification of vegetable products. During the season of 1921 some 205,498 baskets of sweet corn were inspected and more than 5,000 beetles removed from within the tips of the corn during this inspection. This is a marked increase over the inspection work done the previous year and also over the number of beetles found.

Spreading Weather Forecasts.
The future usefulness of radiotelephony as a means for disseminating weather forecasts and warnings cannot be estimated. Formerly many farmers were so located as to be inaccessible by newspapers or telegraph. Telephone lines extended into rural communities overcome some, but not all of this difficulty. To benefit by radiotelephony the code has to be learned. The marvelous advance in radiotelephony has changed this situation, for thousands of farmers have installed receiving apparatus during the past year and are now obtaining forecasts and warnings promptly and effectively.

Good Roads Aid Chinese.
It has been reported that merchants of Shasi, Hupeh, have subscribed $100,000 for the inauguration of a motor car service between Slangyang and Shasi, according to a report to the automotive division of the Department of Commerce, from Consul General Heintzleman. ## FROM 94 POUNDS SHE GOES TO 132

Mrs. Gross Praises Tanlac for Overcoming Stomach Trouble
—Says Results Are Priceless.

"Before I took Tanlac I only weighed ninety-four pounds and scarcely had strength to sweep the floor; but now I weigh one hundred and thirty-two and am as healthy and happy as can be." This remarkable statement was made, recently, by Mrs. Mabel Gross, 1137 Aldrich St., N., Minneapolis, Minn.

"For nearly two years I had been in a seriously weakened condition and suffered nearly all the time from headache and backache. My nerves were beyond my control and I was terribly dizzy. I couldn't half sleep and my stomach was so out of order that even the sight of food nauseated me.

"The benefits I have received from Tanlac are priceless. I am now a perfectly well woman and my friends often speak of how healthy I look. Health is worth everything, and that is what Tanlac has meant to me."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Enormous Cost of the World War.
An estimate made in behalf of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace shows that the cost of the World War exceeded $35,000,000,000. This amount is equal to the combined wealth of the United States, France and Great Britain when the war began.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have benefited to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.
