Are You Discouraged, Blue?

This Advice Is of Vital Importance to You

Columbia, S. C.—"I was suffering with a breakdown in health, and became discouraged. I suffered with bearing pains and pains down through my limbs, my appetite was poor and I became frail and weak. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. One day my husband got one of Dr.
Pierce's pamphlets and we soon decided to try the 'Favorite Prescription.' My husband bought a half dozen bottles to start with. I began to improve at once and before these bottles were gone I was perfectly well and have been well ever since."—Mrs.
Hattie Wessinger, 209 Sumpter St.

Weak Back
Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of
R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago . . .
I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed.
I read of

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic
and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui.
After that . . . when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."

If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need.
Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.

Daddy's Evening
Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER
COPYRIGHT BY WILKIN NEWMAN UNION

AIR ADVERTISEMENTS

"Well," said the Fairy Queen, "there is only one item sent in to the Nature-land News this time, and that is from Tad, the Black Cat."

"What is that?" asked the other Fairies.

"Tad," said the Fairy Queen, "sent in an announcement and asked us if we'd please publish it as he would be glad to have as many see it as possible."

"What was the announcement?" the other Fairies asked.

"It was this," said the Fairy queen, as she took forth a piece of paper upon which in strange sprawling words was written:

"Tad, the Black Cat, is giving an At Home Tuesday Evening in the Alley.
"It is his second birthday. All those who wish to bring him birthday presents may care for his list of suggestions, which is as follows:

"Mice, Milk, Cream, Sausage, Liver, and all other delicacies.

"Ribbons he does not care for."

"The Fairies all laughed after they had read this. No one but a Fairy could have read such strange writing as Tad wrote!

"I believe Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon want to talk to us this afternoon.
They're both to be in the sky at the same time, you know, today, and they have something most especially important they want to tell us."

At that moment the Fairy Queen looked up and there she saw Mr. Moon smiling. Mr. Sun, of course, was shining brightly.

She had been waiting to see Mr.
Moon.

"You had something to say to us today?" she asked.

"Ah, yes, Fairy Queen," said Mr.
Moon. "Now you know I've looked down at signboards and I've seen big signs. I've been told by Migdie Moon that these were known as advertisements because they advertised or praised some special article.

"As I said the other day, Mr. Moon has no substitutes. I've seen that on signboards about other things."

"And I explained, or you explained, Fairy Queen, what substitutes meant.
Perhaps you will explain today?"

"Gladly," said the Fairy Queen, "though I may not do it as well as you could, Mr. Moon."

"Oh, most gracious Fairy Queen," said Mr. Moon, "I'm delighted at the compliment, but I am willing to let you do the explaining."

"A substitute is something put in the place of another," the Fairy Queen began.

"Now, if I were asked to go to a party and I sent a substitute, it would mean I would be sending some one in my place. Isn't that right, Mr. Moon?"

"Fine, fine," said Mr. Moon.

"Well, to continue," he added, "I think Mr. Sun and I shall give air advertisements and write our signs on the clouds. I shall put on mite:

"Accept no substitutes for Mr. Moon.
There is nothing the same. Money returned if not satisfactory, and if any has been given! Insist upon Mr. Moon's shining, and none other."

"And I shall have one, too," said Mr. Sun. "Mine shall be:

"Others have tried to shine, but they cannot shine as Mr. Sun. There will always be those who will imitate him and try to be as bright.

"But accept only the real Mr. Sun.
He has stood the test of ages."
"Fine, fine," said the Fairy Queen.

"The only thing is," said Mr. Moon,
"that we wouldn't want to disfigure the clouds by putting signs on them, and we really have no rivals."

"That's true," said Mr. Sun, "and I think it would be a pity to put signs on the clouds. We want some of Mother Nature never to be touched by signs and advertisements."

Mothers Ruin
Babies' Health
by Harsh Drugs

There are thousands of children and grown-ups whose health has been wrecked simply because they were given strong laxative cathartics when a baby.

Baby often needs something to clean out the little bowels of clogged waste, but for goodness sake give him a medicine made especially for a baby. Give him Teethina. It's perfectly harmless and yet gives quick relief without hurting the tender little intestines like the strong drugs you use for yourself do when given to the little folks.

Teethina is indorsed by physicians and has been used for fifty years.
Get it at your druggist, or send 30c to the Moffett Laboratories, Columbus, Ga., for a package and the valuable Baby book.—Advertisement.

Experts.
Down in Pennsylvania a man decided to pull his own teeth.

They bury him—dead from blood-poisoning.

Ever ruin an article or botch a job by trying to do it yourself instead of summoning an expert? If you haven't you are an exceptionally wise or extraordinarily lucky person. This is an age of specialists.

An old locksmith, asked to itemize a bill, did it in this way: "To opening safe, $5. To knowing how to open it, $95"

Success has a hard time dodging the man who becomes an expert in any line.—Buffalo Times.

The Honest Teacher.
Seven-year-old Johnny's mother had given him a handkerchief to give to his teacher as a Christmas present, but when Johnny was told about it he curled his lips in scorn and said:

"Aw, mother, I don't want to give it to her. She won't let me do nothin'.
It's always Walter and William that get to do everything. Let them get her a handkerchief. I'll give it to Miss (his last year's teacher).
She's honest."

Better for Whom?
Mr. Howell—"Health is better than wealth." Mrs. Powell—"Not for your prospective heirs."

Nerves
of Steel—

The successful man of today is clear-headed, self-reliant. His keen eye and steady hand result from abundant, self-controlled energy, and steady nerves.

Such a man can overcome difficulties because he is physically fit. Foolish habits of food and drink have no place in his scheme of things. When he finds that coffee disagrees he promptly changes to healthful POSTUM.

This pure cereal beverage is not only free from the health-disturbing drug element in coffee, but there's comfort and satisfaction in its delicious, full-bodied flavor.

You'll find Postum a factor for Health.

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc.
Battle Creek, Michigan.

Matter of Dismissal of Stenographer Simplified by "Insult" Conveyed in Unqualified Statement.

Mrs. Carter dropped in at the office for a few minutes' chat with her husband.

"John," she remarked, "I think you had better discharge that stenographer you have now. I am sure she is trying to flirt with you ever since she has been here."

Mrs. Carter, when she said this, thought the stenographer was safely out of hearing—but she wasn't! She stepped to the door of the private office and vented her indignation:

"Madam, I'll have you know that I wouldn't flirt with your old husband for a million dollars!"

Mrs. Carter was aghast.
"Now, John," she exclaimed, "you simply must discharge that girl! She has insulted you!"—Kansas City Star.
