W. F. Bland has been confined to his room with the flu but is improving. His family has also been sick with the flu.

Charlie Goldston, a colored farmer of Hickory Mountain township, died Wednesday morning. He had the flu and pneumonia.

Postmaster Sike Johnson says that Pittsboro has gotten so dry that he has to furnish his patrons with pins to pin the stamps on.

John Clark, a clerk in the store of J. J. Johnson & Son, has been confined to his home at Bynum for several days with the flu.

On account of the rough, cold spell of weather, the R. E. Dillard sale of horses and mules was postponed from Monday until Saturday next.

Mr. Mike Harris and family left last Monday, motoring through the country to Allendale, S. C., where they will make their future home.

Wesley Cheek, of Siler City, came over last Friday to assist Grady Pickard in his barbering work. Mr. H. H. Hackney being confined to his home with the flu.

The trial of A. D. Watts in Raleigh charged with aiding and abetting in prostitution, has been postponed until Tuesday, Feb. 13. It was to have taken place on the 9th.

A thirteen year old girl, living in Lee county, recently gave birth to a pound baby girl. She was an orphan girl, adopted from an asylum and an investigation is to follow.

There will be a meeting of The Woman's Club of Pittsboro Wednesday, February 14th, 1923, at 3 o'clock. All members who have not said their dues are requested to see the treasurer at this meeting.

Have you seen the architects drawing of the new school building for Pittsboro? If not look in the window of W. L. London & Son. Don't forget that next Saturday you are to vote for the bonds for the school.

The meeting of the county commissioners failed to materialize on Monday, Tuesday E. E. Wilson and C. C. Samlet met and canceled a few of the county orders. C. B. Fitts, was unable to be present on account of sickness.

Ex-solicitor Herbert E. Norris, of Raleigh, who has been in failing health for some time, will go to a hospital in New York for treatment. Mr. Norris married Miss Emma Burns, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns, of Pittsboro.

Mrs. Lonnie Cooper had a preliminary hearing before a magistrate at Bynum last Saturday, relative to the shooting of Roy Eubanks some three weeks ago, and was put under a bond of $1000. for her appearance at the next term of Chatham superior court. She gave the bond.

Snow, rain and sleet fell in Chatham county this week and it has been extremely cold, Tuesday being the coldest day of the winter. A few Pittsboro citizens had some falls. One in particular, a 300-pound gentleman, and it is said that the earth trembled in the vicinity of the fall.

Miss Lillian Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ray, of Pittsboro, was recently offered the position of assistant engraving clerk by Miss and, lady engraving clerk of the general assembly. Owing to her contact with the state board of education, Miss Ray declined the offer.

Webb McClenahan, a colored man, died at his home near Pittsboro last Sunday morning of influenza and pneumonia. Webb was raised by the late Capt. J. W. Taylor from boyhood and was an honest, upright negro. He has been a tenant on the farm of the late Spence Taylor for many years.

Last Sunday afternoon about two o'clock, two funeral processions were on the streets of Pittsboro at the same time, something never before heard of in the town. One of the processions was the infant of Mr. Overman and the other was that of a colored man, Robert Scurlock, brother of Scurlock, on its way to Mitchell's chapel for burial.

Mrs. C. E. Ruffin is in a hospital at Raleigh for treatment.

Rev. R. R. Gordon succumbed to the flu last Thursday but is now able to be out again.

PROMPT TREATMENT SAVES LIFE OF CHILD

The suddenness of an attack of croup and the arid and ruthless course of the disease through minutes that seem like hours of choking and gasping, make it the constant dread of parents. It is possible to obtain quick relief from spasmodic croup by the application of Brame's Vapomentha Salve to the chest, throat and nostrils, opens the air passages, and leaves the patient comfortable in a very few minutes. Prompt treatment with this marvelous agent during the critical first stages of the disease effects quick relief before a doctor could be secured. A bottle of Brame's Vapomentha Salve on your medicine shelf is a protection against this insidious disease.

Prices: 30c, 60c, and $1.20. For sale by Pilkington Pharmacy, Pittsboro. Or sent post paid on receipt of price direct from Brame Drug Co., North Wilkesboro, N. C.

On page two of this paper will be found an account of a declaimers contest at Davidson, in which young Carr won out. It will interest our readers to know that young Ray mentioned therein is the son of Hon. A. C. Ray, Pittsboro and W. A. Patterson is a brother of Miss Barwell Patterson of the Pittsboro high school faculty.
