A STORY AND A MORAL.

Many years ago a man told his wife that he had committed murder, but for the Lord's sake for her not to breathe it as it would get him in trouble. The man's wife promised to never say a word about it.

As the days went by the woman became troubled over the murder. The more she thought of it the worse she became. Finally she told her "best friend" of a horrible murder her husband had committed but bound the "best friend" in an oath not to tell it. The "best friend" told her "best friend" and so on until an officer of the law got hold of it. The husband was arrested and would have been tried for murder sure enough but got off by saying that the murder he committed was that of a frog, which he buried under a tree in his garden. He simply told his wife the story to test her fidelity.

In 1919 Jerry Dalton, who lived in the western part of the state, loved a pretty maiden of that section. One day Dalton met her in a car with a man he did not like. Words were passed between them and the man was shot and killed. Not only that but in the scuffle the pistol accidentally fired and killed Dalton's sweetheart. He was arrested, tried for murder, convicted and sentenced to be electrocuted. He took an appeal to the supreme court, got a new trial and was again convicted and sentenced. While waiting last fall to be electrocuted, he made his escape from jail and went to California, one thousand dollars being offered for his capture. There he lived with an aunt. He told her of his troubles.

His aunt finally told her "best friend" the secret, who in turn told her "best friend" and it finally reached an officer. Dalton was arrested, and brought back to North Carolina and today he is in the death house in the penitentiary at Raleigh along with 16 more to be electrocuted.

Moral:—If you are in trouble do not tell your troubles to your "best friend." It will certainly be told on you.

THEY MUST AND WILL GROW.

In 1909 there came a baby girl into the home of a Center township citizen and there were made two deposits in the Bank of Pittsboro for the benefit of the little lady—one for $2.00 and one for $2.50. The amount has been left alone for all these years, allowed to accumulate interest and multiply itself. For twenty-four years these few dollars have been at work, gaining ground each month, and today they have doubled themselves and therefore are gaining more rapidly as the months go by.

The young lady has passed her majority. Of course she prizes this bank account very highly, and it is useless to say that she is improving the habit neulcated at her birth.

The example of this revelation is what we want to impress upon the folks of Chatham. There is not a man or woman in the county who do not live within easy reach of a good, safe bank, and it would be an exceptionally good thing to follow the example and make a sacrifice to make the deposit as large as possible and leave it there for the little folks at maturity. Not only will the fund acquired be worth while, but the impress will be lasting.

CLEAN UP YOUR BACK YARD.

Friday night last Dr. W. W. Butler pastor of the First Baptist church of Cleveland, Ohio, delivered an address on Education in East Pittsburg, Pa., it being broadcast over the Radio-Phone. It was a magnificent talk and one that was heard by tens of thousands of people. It will do good. Dr. Butler emphasized the need of clearing up the back yards of men's souls as the most essential progressive movement for the day and of a thorough qualification in all the educational lines.

Congress has adjourned; the legislature has adjourned; winter has adjourned, the birds are happy and so are we.

Tornadoes out west continue to kill people and do other damage. Why not come to Chatham to live and miss all such dangerous things?

President Harding and family started south on their outing Monday. Here's hoping he will have good luck in getting to Florida and not be 'et up by skeeters when he gets there.

The oil industry is in complete control of the Standard Oil Company. That's why we have to pay so much for kerosene and gas. At least Senator LaFollett makes this charge in the pursuit of his investigations as authorized by Congress, and he says in a very short time folks will be paying a dollar a gallon for gas.

The Gold Leaf Farmer is again on our desk, having been resurrected by J. B. Johnston and C. F. Vogler. Mr. Johnston is well known to Chatham people, having acted as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce in Siler City, as well as of the Chatham Fair Association. He is an old newspaper man and with the proper encouragement from the Wendell residents, he will produce an excellent paper.

FARMERS ARE NOT OR

U. S. Crop and Live Stock Report is an Interesting One.

In Bulletin No. 15, issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, we find a crop and live stock report for North Carolina that is very interesting.

Among other things this Bulletin says that agriculturally North Carolina ranks fifth in total crop values, twenty-third in live stock, and a total of $430,000,000 for the past year's agricultural production.

The Bulletin further says that because "farmers are not organized, unlike other industries, their products were the first to decline and the last to rise in value."

In 1922 there were a total of 7,055,000 acres planted in all crops, a gain of 417,000 acres over 1921, the value of all crops being $8,501,395,000 or ninety one thousand more than in 1921.

Live stock report in the Bulletin gives the state a total of 178,136 horses; 272,166 mules; 642,353 cattle; 1,068,049 hogs; 110,798 sheep and 24,458 goats.

A general list of average prices paid farmers for hogs, beef, sheep, milk cows, milk, wool and all products of the farm, show a very low average and the Bulletin says: "farmers are usually too little interested in the market prices of their products."
