NEWS FROM FROSTY.

Frosty, March 19.—March is here in full blast bringing "April showers" before April arrives.

Stop! Look! Listen! A picnic for everybody—this means children, old maids and old bachelors, married folks and especially the ones that want to get married—is to be at Lambs on Easter Monday. An all day picnic for young and old, everybody come for we're going to fish. If you can't catch a fish in the water perhaps you will be able to catch one on land.

There are some willing workers in this part of Chatham. We noticed this morning that Mr. W. J. O'Daniel raised his parasol and started for Chapel Hill in spite of the weather.

Mr. John Stroud and Miss Mary Stroud spent the week-end in these parts, with home folks.

Mr. Carl Stroud had chicken for dinner yesterday. Guess how he got it? Threw a log on it and killed it. Don't tell his wife for he said he thought it would get out of the way.

An interesting play of two hours is being practiced by the Union school and community named "Dot, the Miner's Daughter," and will be given at the school house April 27th. Everybody come.

Somebody was smart enough to cut his foot not long ago. Guess who has been crying over it. If you know who the smart one was the rest is easy.

Somebody is wearing a "pompodour." Oh boy!

Mr. W. A. Snipes and Mr. Tom Thompson made several trips to Durham recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stroud and son, Ben Rose, made a trip to Durham Tuesday to visit Mrs. M. H. Atwater who has had an operation for cataracts on her eyes.

Mr. I. B. Meacham is a very successful horse trader. He has finally gotten such a fine horse that he keeps a "scare buzzard" close at hand all the time. He sure cheated somebody.

We want to invite the editor to our picnic on Easter Monday. We are in hopes he will accept the invitation.

Before the preaching service Sunday morning, Miss Mayme Moore presented the church a communion set. This was given by the Philaetha class and in loving memory of our former pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Perry.

Rev. J. R. Edwards, our present pastor, preached a very impressive sermon Sunday.

Mr. J. B. Atwater spent Sunday in Durham with his family.

Misses Betty and Jessie Snipes spent Thursday in Durham shopping.

Mr. Kenny Riddle, of Sanford, spent the week-end with his brother, A. B. Riddle, here.

Mrs. Lacy Clark, of Kimbolton, spent last week here with her father, Y. A. Jones.

Miss Fanny Riddle was the dinner guest of Miss Clytie Foushee Sunday.

WHY WE SHOULD USE BETTER ENGLISH.

Written by 10th grade pupil Pittsboro school

Every pupil, whether boy or girl should take the advantage of every opportunity of training himself or herself and forming the habit of a correct form of the English language.

There is an old idea that if a man can talk well enough to be understood it is good enough. The time has come when this old idea has failed to exist. A new ray of light has dawned upon the cultured and refined world of today, making it impossible for a man to make the public understand as he understands, see as he sees, feel as he feels, and convey his thoughts and ideas to the mind of the world unless he holds at his command a correct and easy flow of the English language.

Pause for a moment's thought and reflect upon bygone days when man scarcely went beyond the domains of his own boundary. At that time the difference was narrow, but it has continued to grow broader and broader. A new day has dawned and we must prepare to meet it. The time of our grand-parents has faded into oblivion. No more does the world live apart, but people are forever conversing with one another, forever exchanging thoughts and ideas. And unless we are capable of expressing ourselves in a modern way among cultured people we will be looked upon as an outsider and as unfit to associate with the refined and best class of society.

Not only does it hold true in the social side of life but in any phase of life anyone wishes to pursue. We will take for instance, the classes of people from the president of the United States down to the farmer. It is necessary for a man claiming the presidency of the U. S. to have a correct and easy flow of the English language in order to express his views to the public and to proclaim his desires before the people.

The professional men, lawyers, doctors, business men, employers and employees, should have a knowledge of the correct use of our language so that they can express their views and ideas and make known their desires in a clear and impressive way.

Eliza J. Weeden.
Born Jan. 15, 1843.
Died March 10, 1923.
Age 80 years, 1 month and 25 days.
Mrs. Weeden lived her whole life with the unselfish desire to help others. Up until a very few years ago her whole ambition was to be able to earn something, so that she could give it to those she loved, and although she died without being endowed with any worldly goods, still she had the blessed assurance that "She had done the best she could" and that when she met Jesus:
He would smile and say well done Good and faithful servant, thou Enter and receive crown,
