

PITTSBORO NOTES

News of a Local Nature Gathered Here and There--Personal Mention

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

God's Love.

The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee from an everlasting love; therefore with an everlasting love have I drawn thee.—Jeremiah 31:3.

Spelling bee tonight.

Miss Mary Bland is visiting her sisters at Lamar, S. C.

The highway bridge at Bynum was opened yesterday for travel.

"And congressmen take off their hats. Acknowledging its power."—What? The home town paper.

Mrs. H. Hackney is slowly improving after a two-weeks illness.

Bynum has an epidemic of measles, whooping cough and influenza.

Oh, this weather makes a fellow wish he had nothing to do but take his hook and line and go fishin'.

Don't fail to hear Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burns, Monroeville, route 2, the 17th, a son.

Don't fail to hear Hon. J. W. Bailey next Monday at the school auditorium.

Something new in Pittsboro—a popcorn parlor at Lindley's grocery store.

Misses Cecil and Geneva Seawell, of near Carthage, are visiting their sister, Mrs. R. R. Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hackney have returned home from Fayetteville where they were visiting.

Ira C. Beal, of Asheville, son of the late J. B. Beal, gave the Record office a pleasant visit Wednesday.

Mr. J. E. Hearne, of Carrboro, has been in this section for the past few days visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Walter C. Johnson has been confined to her room since Saturday with pleurisy, but she is improving.

Mrs. Lula Jones and Misses Pauline and Emily Taylor went to Durham Monday to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. J. W. Boone, of Jackson, N. C., father of Rev. J. J. Boone, has been here on a short visit. He returned home yesterday.

Eliza H. Hunter, wife of Charles N. Hunter, a teacher in the negro school at Haywood, died at her home in Raleigh Monday night.

Something new in the advertising line. The first one finding it in the next issue of this paper will get a trade order on the firm for $2.50.

Miss Emily Thompson, of Siler City, and Mr. James Thompson, of Asheville, spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. Mattie Thompson, here.

Two trucks loaded to the gunwales with household, and kitchen furniture from Durham passed through Pittsboro Wednesday on their way to Franklinville.

Our people will hear something good at the school auditorium next Monday. Hon. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, will be there and deliver one of his notable speeches.

H. L. Barber, of Hyman, S. C., sends us another renewal for his paper and says he can't do without the news from old Chatham.

The Winnie Davis Chapter meets this (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30 at the residence of Miss Carrie M. Jackson. The executive board meets at 8:15 at the same place.

Second quarterly conference of the Pittsboro circuit will be held at Brown's Chapel church Saturday and Sunday next. The presiding elder will preach at the different services.

While placing a carload of feedstuff in Connell and Farrell's store, on the corner of Hillsboro and Salisbury streets Monday, part of the flooring gave way dumping a large quantity of feedstuff to the basement below. No one was hurt when the flooring gave way.

Pittsboro will soon have an up-to-date meat market. The Messrs. Farrell have put in a brand new refrigerator and other fixtures in the building recently vacated by the Pittsboro Cafe. The owners promise to give our people fresh meats not only once or twice a week but every day.

While cranking a school truck at the Pittsboro grounds last Thursday James, son of Walker Thomas, Monroeville, route 2, had the misfortune to get his right arm broken when the engine back-fired. Dr. W. B. Chapin dressed the broken arm and now Jimmie eats with his left hand.

Mr. Harlowe Taylor, who died at his home in Pittsboro last week, made his will the morning before he died. He left all of his property to his daughters, Misses Pauline and Emily Taylor, making Miss Pauline his executrix. Mr. Taylor left some very valuable property in and around Pittsboro.

Allen Brothers, of Raleigh, advertise in this issue the sale of the M. other property near Bonsel and 2. Mr. Wade Barber, of Pittsboro, is the trustee of this property and those wishing to buy good farming land or business lots should attend these sales.

Fun tonight. Spelling Bee.

Franklin Sherman wants to get the first live boll weevil that a farmer finds this season. Send it to him at Raleigh.

Drop in and renew your subscription before the time runs out. Watch our label so that you will not miss a single copy of the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bland and children have returned from Bennettsville and Lamar, S. C., where they visited relatives last week.

The farmer who doesn't worry much today is the one who has a monthly income check from chickens, cows, hogs and a big check when his cash crop is sold.

Farmers are crowding the streets every day now and buying fertilizer by the car loads. Everybody has the ear marks of prosperity and the folks are happy.

We have an inquiry from a lady in Pittsburgh, Pa., wanting information regarding her grandfather, Geo. W. Sylvester, who died in this county Feb. 3, 1902. If any one can give us detailed data concerning this man it will be greatly appreciated. Address the editor of this paper either at Siler City or Pittsboro.

At Court House Tonight

The Spelling Bee at the court house will be greatly enjoyed by a number of people tonight, April 26.

Here on a Visit.

Mr. F. H. Mendenhall and Miss Mary Mendenhall, of High Point, and Willard Mendenhall, of State College, Raleigh, have been here on a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Horton.

Improving Farms.

From the looks of new houses being built along the road between Bynum and Chapel Hill, it seems that some of the farmers are either leaving the city and are going back to the farms or else the farmers in this section are improving their homes. Either way, it looks good to the passerby. Six new houses were counted Monday between the above two points.

Celebrates Birthday.

The anniversary of Mrs. Henry A. London was partially observed last Tuesday at her home in Pittsboro. Present were her daughters, Mrs. Jas. H. Cordon, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Fred B. Jerome, of Clayton, and her grand daughter, Mrs. Thomas Wooten and her great grand daughter, Bettie London Wooten, of Fayetteville.

It was indeed a pleasant occasion and many of Mrs. London's friends were also present to wish her many happy returns.

Doing All He Can.

Sheriff Blair is doing all that can possibly be done toward reducing the amount of unpaid taxes before he begins the task of making up his list for advertising. He has gone to lots of expense to advise the taxpayers of the amount due, and if your name gets on the advertised list it will not be the fault of the sheriff for he has done all he can to keep this additional cost from being added to the taxes.

The law says that the taxes must be advertised after May 1, and if you have not paid and want to save this expense, you must pay before May 1.

Street Sprinkler Purchased

Here is some good news for the citizens of Pittsboro. At a meeting of the town commissioners, held Tuesday morning, they passed an order for the purchase of a street sprinkler. The sprinkler was purchased from E. F. Craven, Greensboro, and will be shipped right away.

This sprinkler is electrically worked and built upon a truck. It carries a hose of 25 feet sufficiently long to fill the sprinkler with water.

The above will be sure enough good news for our citizens as the dust here during the summer is something fierce.

Archie Ray Complimented.

Archie Ray, son of our townsman, Mr. A. C. Ray, is making a record at Davidson College, and is being complimented by the Davidsonian of that city. In its issue of April 19th, the following paragraph occurred:

"J. D. Bernhardt and A. C. Ray featured the last meeting of the Metropolitan Literary Society. The former, with an oration of well selected words interspersed with sound logic showed clearly what the preparation of a debate should accomplish. Ray, with many timely and well-chosen jokes, rocked the meeting in storms of applause and turned a solemn assembly into a bedlam of laughter. This number of the program changed the meeting from one of a mediocre variety to one of interest."

Program for High Exercises.

The program of the commencement of the Pittsboro High school is as follows:

Friday, April 27, 8 p. m.—Musical recital.

Saturday, April 28, 5 p. m.—Crowning May Queen by the primary department.

Sunday, April 29, 8 p. m.—Sermon by Rev. W. D. Hubbard, of Raleigh.

Monday, April 30, 10:30 a. m.—Class day exercises.

Monday, April 30, 11:30 a. m.—Commencement address, Hon. J. W. Bailey, Raleigh.

Monday, April 30, 8:00 p. m.—High school play—"My Wild Irish Rose."

The public is invited to all the exercises. Admission of 10 and 25 cents will be charged for the High school play. All other exercises will be free.

Remember the spelling bee tonight. (Thursday.)

We Like the Visits. During the week past Lysander Johnson and A. E. Clark, both of route 3, Pittsboro, come in to see us, and as usual we learned something from each of them. These are good farmers and good conversationalists and we are always glad to have them call. In fact we want all the folks to come in and see us when in town.

TO MARRY MAY SECOND.

Invitation have been received in Chatham county, reading as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Orr Moore requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Mary Marguerite, to Mr. Thomas Letson Nooe, on Wednesday, the second of May, at 8 o'clock in the evening, at the First Baptist church, Kinston, N. C.

Expect Extra Session.

Raleigh, April 23.—Legislators who have been here yesterday and today in droves, college ball games being the special attraction, would lay their last dollar on Governor Morrison's calling the legislature together as early as would be seemly.

Thompson, Miss Williams, Rev. Mr. Gravitt, A. C. Ray, and the Indian preacher to make talks which were enjoyed by all. We were also glad to have Mr. Hammer, of Goldston, to make music which was very entertaining.

The teachers left Monday for their homes. Miss Mann's home is near Chapel Hill and Miss Justice's near Pittsboro. We sure did hate to see them leave—everybody thought so much of them.

Misses Daisy, Bessie, Emma and Mr. John Dowdy, of Sanford, spent Saturday night in the home of their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson.

Willie Ruth Stedman, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stedman celebrated her sixth birthday at her home on Providence Farm last Saturday afternoon from 2:30 o'clock till 6 o'clock. Her teacher, Miss Reda Umstead and many of her schoolmates and Sunday school friends were present. After many games were played by the children, ice-cream and cake were served. Her birthday cake had six red candles which told how many years old she was. Ruth received many nice presents from her friends.

The young people of Haywood had a good time at the "Weenie Roast" last Saturday.

Some of the young people went to Merry Oaks last Friday night to attend the commencement and they enjoyed the occasion very much.

Mr. H. C. Wade, a composer of music, of New York, gave a concert at the school auditorium last Saturday night and the Betterment Association sold ice-cream and the sum of $30 was realized.
