CONFESS TO MURDER.

Man Who Dies in Natchez, Miss., May Have Been John Lee.

Raleigh, April 30.—"Sam Lee," who died at Natchez, Miss., April 1, after confessing that he had committed a murder shortly after the Civil War, according to a letter received by Secretary of State W. N. Everett from Captain C. L. Kearnes, of the Salvation Army, may have been John W. Lee, Halifax county, who was alleged to have killed a woman about 45 years ago and escaped, J. H. Norman, Halifax, has advised the Salvation Army officers in the Mississippi city.

Secretary Everett received a letter from Captain Kearnes today in which it was stated that Norman's description of John W. Lee, as being "75 or 80 years, light complexion, scar on his face, a little slow of speech and had very little to say," was identical of Sam Lee. Captain Kearnes wrote the secretary of state several weeks ago asking for assistance in identifying the man.

Norman in his letter to the Salvation Army man, said Lee was alleged to have slain a woman and escaped. A man thought to be Lee later was arrested in Texas, but the sheriff of Halifax went to the town and failed to identify him as the man wanted for murder, Norman continued.

Lee was a merchant and a farmer of Terrapine, N. C., when the crime was said to have been committed. The man "owned much property in this county," Norman asserted, giving the name of a close relative from whom information could be obtained by the secretary or the Salvation Army captain.

METHODIST REVIVAL CLOSSES.

Ku Klux Klan Gives Donation to Church.

Apex Journal.

The revival which has been in progress for ten days at the Methodist church came to a close last Thursday night. Rev. Marvin Caveness, who did some splendid preaching, took as his closing theme, "Almost persuaded means altogether lost."

Just before the sermon five masked men in full regalia of the Ku Klux Klan marched silently into the church and up to the chancel. The leader handed Mr. Caveness an envelope in which was a donation of forty dollars. The five men then silently withdrew.

The meeting was greatly enjoyed and well attended by the people of this community. Mr. Caveness made a number of friends, and his coming to Apex will mean much toward the moral uplift of our town.

Mrs. Kate Badders Dead.

Sanford, Apr. 21.—Mrs. Kate Badders, one of the oldest citizens of Lee county, died early Friday morning in her 91st year at her home 8 miles north of town. The funeral services were held at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at Jones' Chapel Methodist church, of which she had been a life long member. Rev. Walter M. Gilmore, of this place, officiating.

Four sons, Varce Badders, Philadelphia, Nick, W. P., and Fred Badders, of Moncure, R-I, and two daughters, Mrs. Florence Tyson and Mrs. E. M. C. Wicker, Moncure, R-I, survive.

WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT.

Friend Dorsett, of Washington, D. C., Writes Good Letter.

Washington, D. C.
April 20, 1923.

Mr. Colin G. Shaw, Editor.
The Weekly Herald.

I have just received my Weekly Herald and see by your note, with much regret, your reasons for having to reduce the size of your paper namely, that you are not receiving the financial support of the merchants, citizens and business concerns of your community. I think this a very serious mistake of all concerned and especially for your good little city. A good live newsy newspaper is the greatest asset any community can have and in these days of progress advertisement is absolutely necessary in every kind of business. In a thriving little town like Siler City the mayor and city council, board of trade, ministers of the gospel, church organizations, and in fact every man, woman and child should back up a good, clear newspaper for it is the true barometer and life of a city. Merchants should judiciously advertise their wares and will receive full value for so doing, besides helping to keep the paper up to full standards. The farmers of Chatham county need a good paper to give them the daily news and also market reports etc. Chatham county has forged to the front very rapidly in the past 10 years in good road building which has opened up almost every part of the county to the centers of trade and can now market in a couple of hours what it took all day and with a little "John Henry" can go to market and get back before they would have hardly gotten started a few years ago. Your soil is good, roads fine, the people the best on earth, so why not have and support a good newspaper that gives the latest news.

Sincerely hope that the good business men and citizens of Siler City will rally to your support in a whole-hearted manner and thereby enable you to go back to your 8-page weekly. It is a well-known fact that the editing and running of a newspaper in a small town is a hazardous undertaking financially and unless fully supported by all its patrons by advertising and subscriptions it will be a failure and have to suspend or reduce size to make ends meet. I hope you will not have to do either. You have my best wishes and I wish I was there as a citizen to add my little mite. It pays to advertise—the more so when business is dull.

My best wishes for you and the Weekly Herald.

Yours friends,
SAM T. DORSETT.

THE SILER CITY CIRCUIT.

O. I. Hinson, Pastor.

The poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, must have had some iron corpuscles in his blood when he wrote the "Psalm of Life". Listen to him: Tell me not in idle numbers, Life is but an empty dream. For the soul is dead that slumbers, And things are not what they seem. So he says: Let us then be up and doing, With a heart for any fate, Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait. He believed in a two-eyed soul, wide awake to the daily tasks that are ever before us. Christ taught us religion of aggressive work. He said: "I must work." He spent 30 years in preparation for his work and then He worked day and night in an effort to bring a fuller life to the people.

Listen at the Hickory Mt. Sunday school report: 84 on roll, 60 present with a perfect attendance of teachers and officers. Besides a teacher training class of ten has been organized. Supt. O. B. Mann and his good wife have their eyes open to the possibilities of the school and the school is growing. Mt. Vernon has gone to mountain climbing though she does not get up in time to see the sun rise. The school there has new song books and a little later they will invite their friends to come and hear them sing "I want to be a worker for the Lord."

We will all be glad when the epidemic of measles is over so that the oldest and youngest can be present each Sunday.

The pastor preaches at First church at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m., and at Mt. Vernon at 3 in the afternoon.

Epworth League meets at 7:15, prayer services Wednesday at 8 p. m. A cordial welcome to friends and strangers.

Caught at a Still.

News and Observer, April 21.

Rex Markham and Ernest Sorrell, two white men caught red handed at a whiskey still about four miles north of Cary yesterday waived examination before Justice of the Peace E. Lloyd Tilley and were committed to jail in default of bonds of $500 each.

The raid was conducted by federal prohibition agent D. T. Franks and deputy sheriffs A. W. Thompson and I. H. Rowland. The officers also captured 25 gallons of whiskey and 1,000 gallons of mash.
