The state of North Carolina made provision for this work with the aid of the counties involved, and it was given to the people absolute-

A DUTY WE REGRET.

Came a man in our office last week and said: "Shaw, I wish you would say something more in your paper about folks borrowing The Record from your subscribers.

"What's wrong now?" we asked. "Well, we have some mighty good neighbors and we hate to tell them Chatham county ever had, and I do hate to miss a copy of it."

"Shall we call your name in writing the article?"

"No, don't do that, we don't want to make them mad, but they are more a pleasant trip. able to take The Record and pay for RECIPE FOR PRESERVING KIDS. it than we are, but we manage to sacrifice and pay for the Record because we want it, and we do think that we should be allowed to read it, at least."

"Then, too," he continued, "we like to file The Record away, because lots of times we want to refer to some article that you have in the paper, and when that neighbor sends it back it is usually torn all to pieces. I really believe they give it to the baby to play with after they read it."

So here is the complaint, folks. We want everybody that can to read our paper, but we don't want you to worry our subscribers about borrowing it so much. We want all the subscribers that we can get. In fact, we want readers, and if anyone wants The Record and is not able to pay for it, and will write us a letter so stating, we will mail it to them a year free of charge. It must be shown that you are not able to pay for it, and the information will be treated as confiden-

Claims Convicts Do Not Like Pajamas

The recommendation of the Guilford county board of public welfare that pajamas be given convicts to sleep in can hardly be carried out, county commissioners today informed the welfare board, because there are not sufficient guards.

It took two guards to every convict in a "man to man" struggle to make the convicts don bath robes for sleeping purposes, Captain J. Giles Foushee, county commissioner in charge of convicts, stated today. And then when the guards got out the sleeping quarters the convicts hastily discarded the strange gear. Two hundred bath robes were purchased for the convicts, so they could give their clothes a rest, but force of the most drastic kind was necessary before the convicts would don them. They would have none of
