LOCAL MARINE ATTENDS.

Chas. T. White, of Pittsboro, Charge of Detachment.

Washington, June 22.—Among the U. S. Marines who attended the Shriners' Convention held here recently, was Aubrey Eugene White, son of Mr. Charles T. White, of Pittsboro, who came with a detachment of marines from Quantico, Va., to take part in the military events held in the Capital City. The Marines pitched camp in a public park and were given a big ovation when they appeared on the street in their blue and white uniforms.

Apart from their appearance in parades and at ceremonies the Marines were chosen to guard the Treasury and Library buildings, to direct street traffic and to form a special guard for President Harding when he attended the various functions. They remained in the city for several days before they broke camp and returned to Quantico. White joined the Marines at Greensboro, December 27, 1920 and he is now attached to the 10th Regiment at Quantico.

FARMERS GAIN $36,000,000

Over 240,000,00 Tobacco Co-ops to Market More Than Half This Crop.

(S. D. Frizzell.)

The first year of cooperative marketing has resulted in an increased payment of $36,000,000 to tobacco growers of Virginia and North Carolina alone.

According to the recent report of the Federal Reserve Board there was a 45 percent increase in the average price per hundred pounds for bright tobacco in Virginia where the growers received $42,000,000 for their crop this past year as compared with $19,000,000 in 1921-22. Final returns for the North Carolina growers were approximately $76,000,000, an increase of $13,000,000 over the preceding year according to the Federal Reserve Board's statement.

In spite of a decrease of over $4,000,000 pounds in the exports of United States tobacco to foreign countries, reported by the Department of Commerce, and in spite of increased production in Virginia and North Carolina, the first season in which tobacco growers of this section have organized for marketing their crop has resulted in raising the price of their product at practically all points in the tobacco areas.

With 240,000 farmers now marketing over 500,000,000 pounds of tobacco through their cooperative associations, the planters of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee have also experienced the benefit of a steady rise in prices. From present indications organized tobacco farmers of America will market more than a half of the total crop of the United States during the season of 1923.

The benefits of cooperative marketing to the farmers of South Carolina were described by the Commissioner of Agriculture for that State in his annual report as follows: "While the 1922 crop of tobacco was practically as large as that of 1921 and the quality was no better, the price was nearly 100 percent higher. The result of cooperation."

Blame It on the War.

Why do cows go dry;
Why do hens no longer lay;
Why do girls bob their hair?
How do the flappers "get that way?"
Blame it on the war!

Why do men shoot their wives;
Why do wives kill their husbands;
Why do men poison themselves drinking
Products of the moonshine still?
Blame it on the war!

Why do women smoke;
Why do floods waste the land;
Why is Congress so contrary;
Why is rouge in such demand?
Blame it on the war.

Why do flivvers rattle so;
Why do children's clothes wear out;
Why do cats stay out at night;
Why does hubby throw his things about.
Blame it on the war!

Why don't people go to church;
What makes them stay away;
Why do we have holdups
And murders every day?
Blame it on the war!

Thus have men passed the buck
Ever since the world began;
But we wonder what they'll do
When they no longer can
Blame it on the war.

If you really knew the actual cost per pound of producing pork by your pet method you'd brag about it less.
