

AT ELON JULY 30.

Children's Work Specialist to Teach at Chautauqua.

Miss Emma G. Lemen, of Philadelphia, Pa., will be the instructor of the class for leaders of children at the School of Methods for church and Sunday school workers which opens at Elon College July 30th and continues through August 5th. Miss Lemen is the superintendent of the children's division of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association. For seven years she held a similar position with the Indiana Association and she has had extensive experience and training in summer school work. Qualified by nature and prepared by thorough training and wide experience Miss Lemen is a splendid teacher whom many will hear at Elon.

Rev. E. B. Flory, who will teach the class in Sunday school organization administration, is pastor of the First Christian church, of Norfolk. A graduate of Defiance college and of Yale university, and a successful pastor, he comes to the chautauqua with a real message to Sunday school leaders.

Mr. Hermon Eldredge, of Erie, Pa., is field secretary of young people's work of the Christian church and travels throughout the country. He has been active in Sunday school work for many years and has also been a successful Y. M. C. A. secretary in Erie, Pa., and in the camps during the war. His class will be one studying "Youth and the Church."

Rev. W. W. Staley for more than 40 years pastor of the Suffolk Christian church, will lead the class for pastors and Dr. J. O. Atkinson, of Elon college, teach a course in "The Message of Stewardship." Mrs. M. T. Morrill, of Defiance, Ohio, has charge of the mission study, introducing the new mission study books of the year. Rev. J. F. Morgan, formerly of Norfolk, now of Winchester, Va., teaches the Christian Endeavor course and Rev. J. H. Lightbourne, of Holland, a course in Bible study. Dr. W. A. Harper, president of Elon college, has a class in the study of social service work in the church.

Besides the regular class work which will be taken up each day, there will be a number of lectures by leading men.

Recreation and music will add to the pleasure of the week. The school of methods is planned for all church workers interested and an especial effort is being made to secure a good attendance of young people. Christian churches throughout Virginia and North Carolina will send representatives.

MACK'S NEGRO SERVICE.

Greensboro, July 16.—"Cyclone Mack's" second negro service in connection with his evangelistic campaign ran away with him here tonight. He started the colored brethren to singing a verse, with the congregation joining in the chorus, and had a hard time stopping them. Several times he attempted to take charge and proceed with his sermon only to have to wait until the crowd had sung itself out.

Folks hold on to those great old spirituals," he told the colored people. "Don't try to ape the white folks, and put on the high-falutin' stuff in the song line. If you do you will lose the power and fire which has characterized your singing. You will get mechanical and perfunctory and stereotyped. Did you know that the average song of today is manufactured to order at $2.50 each? That is the reason that they lack power. They have become mercenary and that is the way your singing will get if you don't hold on to the old spirituals God has given you."

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

The Finishing Touch

to an inviting interior is the manner in which the wood-work is treated. There is nothing quite so attractive as a nicely natural-grained surface stained with Lucasal Interior Varnish and coated with

A SNOWSTORM IN JULY.

Temperature Drops Many Degrees During the Day.

Rambler.

The citizens of Pittsboro are curious quadrupeds. Some of them are. It is either too hot or too cold. July, as everybody knows, is a hot month. So are June and August. But this July it became so hot that Tom Leach's wax nose melted on his face. Col. Mont Bland had to pull off his coat and iPeckard, the barber, quit sleeping in his sox. But it was sure enough hot. The chickens went around the streets with wings outstretched and mourned because they were not ducks.

Pour water on the ground and it would return to your face in dust. But a change was coming. It was on the way, and those that had to pull off their coats and sox, and those who had been going to bed naked, will seek more clothes, more cover and more sox. There was going to be a change in the weather.

Over in the northeast there arose this hot July morning a dark, black reddish looking cloud. It looked awful there was a stillness and a chilliness in the air that could be felt like a Record advertiser feels when he loses his pocketbook with a lot of money in it and gets no answer to the advertisement.

As the day gathered in strength and length that cloud became higher in the heavens. It had a fiercer look on it and seemed to say, "You people who are never satisfied will now get a dose of mid-winter in July and see if that will be what you want."

There came a wind that blew so hard that it shaved off At Farrell's new moustache. It blew into the Bank of Pittsboro and changed a $10 bill into pieces of money before Lee Farrell could shut the door.

In a few minutes the temperature dropped from 130 in the sun to 66 in the shade. The perspiration on Lassess Sturdivant's face became so dry that his face looked dusty. Listen! some one said, hail and rain.

"Gosh!" said Mr. Wrenn, as he felt for the whiskers he shaved off the day before, "It's turned cold."

The temperature dropped to 30 and kept falling. Mr. Cellus Perry went out of the back of the house with his axe on his shoulder, saying he was going to cut some wood as he was nearly frozen but he'd be doggone if he didn't hate to cut wood in July.

Look! it's snowing! Who ever saw snow fall in July! Something was wrong with the world. People are going to freeze here in July was what everybody thought. Some suggested that they ring a church bell and hold a prayer meeting, but that wouldn't do as not enough would attend to pay for the wood that was burned.

The temperature had dropped to 20 above zero. And it kept snowing and for 36 hours it snowed before it ceased. It is said by those who knew and heard him that the snow falling stopped George Brooks from snoring and when he awoke the next morning he found that his tongue was nearly frozen.

The temperature had dropped to 10' And the snow by this time was four feet on a level. Whoever saw anything like that before. Nobody but an Eskimo.

Somebody passed Mr. Knat Hill's residence and saw that gentleman out in his covered turnip patch digging and shoveling snow and he was in his shirt sleeves. When asked what he was doing, he replied, "I had my heart set on a mess of turnips for dinner and no snow storm in July is going to keep me from it." And the young man kept on shoveling snow.

Mr. Mont Bland came into town and when asked what he thought of the weather he remarked that it was fine, and when he walked into the Farmers' bank he threw off a lap robe, pulled off two overcoats and then had left on two other coats. He said he didn't like to get too cool in July as it gave him a bad cold.

The temperature began to rise. The sun came out in all its glory. People began to throw off their overcoats and by the next day the street sprinkler was out and all was as natural as before the storm.

And still people were not satisfied.

Miss Mattie Eva Dorsett, who is attending the Bonlee summer school, spent the week-end at home.

Uncle Bill Rives, a colored man living north of Gulf, killed a jointed snake in his meadow a few days ago.

Who Said Friday, 13th, Was an Unlucky Day?

Wilson, July 13.—Whether or not "Friday 13th" is an unlucky day remains to be seen. This morning at 13 minutes before 7 o'clock the storm made his 13th visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis leaving a 13 pound bouncing boy—making in all 13 healthy children that has been delivered at this home—ten boys and three girls—all of whom are living and in fine health.

MONCURE NEWS.

Moncure, July 16.—Miss Hilda Wilkie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Wilkie, is visiting relatives and friends in Durham this week.

The San Players of Sanford presented a play entitled "Her Gloves," at Moncure school auditorium last Tuesday evening. There was a large crowd present and enjoyed the evening very much. Half the proceeds will go to the Moncure Betterment Association.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Utley, of Chapel Hill, are visiting relatives in Moncure this week.

Mrs. J. C. Harmon spent last Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Stedman.

Children's Day was observed last Sunday afternoon at Providence Methodist church. The theme "Praise God" was carried out and the children were as happy as mocking birds. The program was presented to an appreciative audience, who praised the children for their excellent work.
