

OBSERVATIONS.

By Rambler.

"Did you feel the earth shake?" asked a big fat lady at the ball park last Saturday, as she went to sit down on the grass and her foot slipped. "Yes," replied her companion, "I thought it was an earth quake."

"This has been one of the hottest summers I believe I ever felt," remarked a lady. "It used to be along this time of year that the days would be warm but the nights would be real cool. Not that way so far. The days are so hot and the nights do not begin to cool off until way after midnight."

"Squirrels must be plentiful over in Hickory Mountain," spoke a citizen the other day. "A young man went out one morning early last week and killed 17 almost before breakfast. And Thursday morning 'Doc' Griffin and J. Dewey Dorsett went over there and stayed a short while and brought back 14 of the bushy tails."

"I see some of the colored people who went over into Pennsylvania from Pittsboro, looking for barrels of money at the end of the rainbow, have returned. One of them told me that Chatham county was good enough for him and he did not want any more of Pennsylvania's soil on his shoes," said one of our citizens yesterday.

"Johnnie Clark had a tedious job ahead of him the other day," remarked a citizen. "At odd times he counted the number in a pound of turnip seed. He got to 8,000 and some over, but if he had wanted to find the quantity of seed in a pound, why didn't he count the number in an ounce and multiply the sixteen ounces and save a lot of counting."

"My turnips are just biling out of the ground," remarked a Pittsboro wife to her husband. And the husband walked out into the garden to see the sight, as the seed had been sown only about two days, and he found about a dozen chickens scratching for all they were worth. "Yes," he told his wife, "your seed are coming up, but the chickens are causing them to do so."

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of

CARDUI

and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to flesh up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.

POULTRY AT THE FAIR.

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—This is to be a great fair for chickens at the North Carolina State Fair. By that is meant chickens of the feathery kind.

A. G. Oliver, poultry expert for the agricultural extension service, who probably knows more about poultry than anybody else in North Carolina, says so and he ought to know, for the State Fair poultry show has been his special hobby for years.

It has been Oliver's idea for some time that he would get the best chicken breeders of the country to come to North Carolina to show their chickens. He could have gotten them long ago, if he had been willing to hire them to come. But Oliver doesn't believe in doing things that way.

The reputation of the poultry division of the North Carolina State Fair has become nation-wide, and it is worth something to get a blue ribbon. But good money will be offered this year also as prizes in addition. More than eleven hundred dollars are offered in the special classification which is open to all comers both in and out of the state.

There are no reservations about it and the poultry club boys and girls have as good chance at the prizes as anybody else. And they can win them in the big classes, this is shown by the fact that one of them got a prize in the Madison Square Garden show in New York last year.

Then there is the regular classification with more than $1,600 in prizes which is confined to North and South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia and Tennessee.

Then there are some $500 for the poultry club boys and girls in their own department, which will bring fine exhibits.
