OBSERVATIONS.

By Rambler.

"According to an old saying, that when you first hear a katydid within ninety days after we will have frost," said an old observer of things yesterday. "The first one I heard was on the 27th day of June. If there is any truth in the saying we are nearly due a frost. It looked like it Saturday morning at any rate."

"What will our people do a few years from now when automobiles will be so thick that a person will hardly be able to stay on the sidewalk, let alone crossing the street. The things are getting to be too dangerous now and a law prohibiting crazy people from driving cars will have to be made, or else manufacturers will have to make them so they cannot be run over twelve miles an hour," was the comment of a citizen Saturday.

"Almost anything draws a crowd in Pittsboro," remarked one of our citizens. "A man with a monkey here had the biggest crowd Saturday. But over in Lindley's grocery store window was a jar of beans. At any other time those beans would not have been noticed, but a few days ago they were placed in the window for the people to guess at. When it became known people began to get around the window and watch those beans like they had never seen one before. People's curiosity is great!"

"That earthquake, tidal wave and fire they had over in Japan was something awful," said a citizen. "The quake we had several years ago was nothing in comparison to the Japan squall, but let me tell you, I was a scared man. When I ran out of the house, fences and houses were popping, and an old negro woman was walking the street with a lamp in her hand, and she was exclaiming: 'keep your lamps trimmed and burning, folks. Lend me some oil.' And all over my town you could hear negroes praying and singing. It was one terrible night with me."

DESERVED REMUNERATION.

Monroe Enquirer. Word comes out of Washington that ministerial students and professional men in some parts of the country are taking up the hammer and trowel, rather than continue their studies or unremunerative occupations. In some trades it is now possible in the larger cities for a workman to earn from $75 to $100 a week. When a "professor" can earn more than twice as much with his hands than by the waggling of his chin, it is time for some pride-swallowing, and the donning of overalls and the discarding of white collars.

Dearly beloved, in this world of sin and sorrow, nearly every mother's son of us receive remuneration commensurate with our ability. A first-class workman is entitled to better pay than a mediocre professional man. A good preacher will command and receive better pay than a poor workman. In this connection I am reminded of Lo, the Poor Indian.

Lo, once attended preaching and observed that for a few minutes' talk the minister in the collection following received several dollars. Believing that to be an easy way to make money the Indian started out to preach. Meeting a cow boy one day out on the plains, the following conversation took place:

"Where you been, Lo?"
"Me been preach."
"What! You preach? For why do you preach?"
"Money."
"How much you get?"
Indian-like, Lo, stuck out his tongue on which reposed two lone pennies.
"What!" said the cow boy, "is that all you got? I call that darn poor pay."
"Darn poor preach," was honest Lo's reply.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

Wouldn't it be a good idea if the merchants on main street would fix up the well on the old Headen property. There isn't much to do but put in a chain and bucket and put a windlass on. The water is the best anywhere around town for drinking purposes, and in case of fire the well would be convenient. This advice is only in the way of a suggestion; you needn't fix it up if you don't want to.

ADVERTISING DOES PAY WELL.

Mr. W. A. Ellington ran a small ad in the want column of The Record a week or two ago, and he had more buyers than he could accommodate. He sold all he had in two days and folks keep coming to see him every day now to see if he has anything more to sell. Mr. Ellington says he even sold a batch of broom straw that he had kept for several years to a lady who lives in the country where it grows.

Recent reports that we have had from advertisers are to the effect that the ads have been very beneficial.

Last week we made an error in a small ad. For The Hardware Store in Siler City, on the price of clover seed and there were hundreds of people that called there for seed. All goes to show that The Record is closely read by everyone.

The folks of Chatham county have a reason to be proud of The Record. It is the largest weekly paper published between Greensboro and Fayetteville, or between Raleigh and Charlotte. Of course advertising in it pays.

A BEAR AT LARGE IN CHATHAM.

A week or so ago a man over in Moore county caught a monkey, after his dogs had run the animal up a tree. Now comes the news that a sure enough bear is roaming the woods and fields out near the old county home. A colored preacher tells the story about the wild animal and says he saw the varmint lying in the road; that the bear growled at him, but immediately left that vicinity. Others say they have seen his bearship. Last Saturday morning several of the people in the county home section got together and hunted for the animal, but up to last accounts it is not known whether he was found or not.

IT COSTS MUCH LESS TO DO IT NOW

Prices are down. Delay in painting because of price is no longer an excuse.

But regardless of price, it always costs more not to paint than to paint. Decay and rust never let up. And the very next rainstorm may thoroughly soak unprotected spots and start real deterioration.

Suppose that every five years you invest $20 in good paint. That's $4 a year. Neglect will cost you many times that amount some day in building materials.

And that $20 investment in good paint will add several hundred dollars to the value of your home, besides preserving your pride in an attractive place, which in itself is worth something.

Good paint we say. Cheap paint isn't cheap—it's expensive.

Lucas Tinted Gloss Paint, covering 350 to 400 square feet, two coats, costs less to start with than cheap paint which covers 200 to 250 square feet. And enduring much longer, this first cost is still further reduced.

The Reason for this is that the Lucas materials are ground days longer, more rigid laboratory tests are made, and a larger percentage of high grade linseed oil is used—which not only gives a more beautiful gloss but causes deeper penetration and greater durability.

There's only one place in town to get this paint—at our store. We have the exclusive agency for it—and proud of it.
