

Deliverance.

For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth: the poor also, and him that hath no helper.—Psalm 72: 12.

TIME NOW TO HURDLE.

If there ever was a time for the democratic party in Chatham county to begin to assemble its forces on a winning team, it is now. There has been entirely too much friction and bossism in the ranks, and the common folks, as they are generally termed, have begun to realize that they can no longer suffer dictation that they have in the past. The party needs organization and it needs influence at the helm that will command respect and admiration from the voters in general. It has now come to pass that it is unalterable suicidal for the destiny of a candidate to be placed in the hands of the would-be guards.

There has been so much friction and "gazing at the glitter" that folks have become suspicious at every undertaking, and there is no excuse for any misunderstandings in the complete workings of any organization. With the proper cooperation, in a decent, fair and unbiased way success is bound to come to any undertaking, be it political, religious, social or otherwise.

This matter of lining up a "ring" or the "organization" politicians to put a specidic body of men over, is not what it should be and does not make good government. It can never account for the best interests of any party and every voter in Chatham is hungry for concentration. It must come about before the real motives of a legalized primary can assert themselves.

This cannot be construed as a democratic editorial. We are talking now of all parties, more especially the democratic party. We are not advocating any particular man for any particular place. The time has come that good men, that can be trusted and depended upon to safeguard the interests of all the people, must be selected to fill the several county offices and determined at a fair and impartial primary and when selected and elected they must be given the undivided support of all the people. It is the only safe method for splendid administration and trustworthy service. It must be whole-hearted and unanimous. This has no reference at that to any one county officer now. It simply states action for the future.

It may be that in the coming weeks The Record will support certain men for county and state offices. In fact, we have in mind men that we believe will fill all the necessary requirements and have qualifications for the places to which we will recommend them. The men may be defeated or they may be elected. We believe they will at least be nominated. However it matters not as to this point at this time. Those who are elected, should be given the support of every good citizen and if they fail to come up to a sufficient standard, then replace them.

We appreciate the fact that The Record has a big influence in Chatham county. It was fully demonstrated in the last election. The folks have full confidence in the paper as to its fairness, and we are giving due deliberation to all these things in our summing up for the future.

Just bear in mind, at all times, especially prior to a campaign, that—
I've got a man,
I won't tell you his name.
For my man
And your man
Might be the very same.

DOSE OF MEDICINE NEEDED.

"Regret to have seen our friend The Chatham Record get all exercised over Mr. McLean's projected visit to the county Fair at Pittsboro. It meant more to the Fair than it could possibly have meant to Mr. McLean, who in all probability was glad to have been freed from the necessity of attending."

The foregoing is what the editor of The Raleigh Times has to say in a later edition. It was an unpleasant task, sure enough, Oscar, but local conditions called for drastic action. Down here in Chatham we are sick unto death and the doctor prescribed a "bitter" dose and somebody had to administer it to the "child." The youngster rebelled and resented the medicine. Since concrete results have come from the treatment, we believe that the disease will have been shaken off and sooner or later we will have a strong, well developed institution that has not been dwarfed in any particular. All will be proud of the splendid Chatham County Fair.

CHILDREN AND MATCHES

Last week we carried an account of the horrible ending of two small children over at Colon, in Lee county. A good subscriber has called our attention since that time to the far more results of permitting small children to have access to matches. It is true that these children came to a horrible death simply because they had matches to play with. It is probable that the parents, as well as other loved ones, did not know that they had matches in their possession. The point, however, is that children should not be allowed to have them.

We should know that matches are clearly out of reach of children. They should be made so safe that small children could not be able to get them. Then, too, the admonition of parents in conversation with children should be directed to the calamity that follows in the wake of matches, kerosene, lamp oil, benzine, gasoline, and other dangerous explosives. Hay, fodder, grass, paper and other inflammable material should be so impressed upon the minds of small children that they would have a horror of associating them together.

Let's take a lesson from this tragedy and observe the children closely, protect them at least until they are old enough to know better for themselves.

BY SWEAT OF THE BROW.

An old friend of The Record and an especial friend of the present editor engaged us in conversation last week long enough to make a remark that greatly impressed us. He said that the general tendency among young men at this period of time was that if they secured a college education it absolved the hands from all labor whatsoever and fitted them so that they could use their heads and "get by easily."

That may be true but there is a wide chasm between knowledge and wisdom that the sooner the younger generation would learn about, they would greatly profit. There are a few folks who get by easily after getting a sheep skin, but the average boy or girl is just fitted for work that is before them when they get a diploma.

College qualifications are supposed to better equip one for the manual endeavor that they may come up against after they have completed the course. It is true that a graduate from college does work with more ease and comfort, he has the knowledge that entitles him to better advantages and a manner in which to better perform the tasks that are before him or her.

Only years of constant labor will bring the wisdom craved. It cannot be booked into a head ever so brilliant and wisdom in the end is the redeeming satisfaction of a life well spent and a splendid work accomplished. It is the very foundation of a useful life and can be acquired without knowledge from a representative college.

There are in our midst men who are shrewd, keen of intellect, and have had college training, but they lack the wisdom that makes for good citizenship, and our young boys and girls should keep in mind that they are attending school for the prime motive to labor and work hard to win, gain wisdom and not to make it easy to succeed in work.

Gas keeps tumbling in price. So does the Ford car.

Mr. Edison says it would ruin a good man to elect Mr. Ford president of the United States. Don't worry, Mr. Edison, your friend will not be ruined.

What's going to happen? Catholics in Olean, N. Y., presented a Methodist minister with a thirty second degree Masonic ring. It looks as if the lion and the lamb were getting closer together.

The Raleigh papers claim that there were 50,000 people in the Fair grounds Thursday, and that all records were broken. How about the day when ex-president Roosevelt was in Raleigh? The Fair folks then claimed 80,000 people were on the grounds, and nearly that many more had to be refused admission.

A new disease has made its appearance in Paris, and the doctors are puzzled over it. The germ has been identified as amoeba or dysentery. If you are taken sick and don't know what ails you, just tell people you have amoeba. There's nothing like being in style.

Well, and Doing Well.

Raeford Journal.
"There was frost enough to kill things in many places last week, but there was not any here to speak of."

IT IS DEPLORABLE INDEED.

The Apex Journal devotes its leading editorial last week to the calamity that befell Will G. Allen at the hands of an officer at the steering wheel of a speeding automobile. The point is well taken, and we thoroughly agree with our neighbor that it were better to let a guilty man escape occasionally than to endanger the life of anyone who might chance to be on the highway at the time.

An officer has no more right, moral or legal, to race a car on the highway, than anyone else and some method must be taken to stop it.

Don't Want to Miss Any.

Mr. Joe A. Moody, Rt. 2, Bear Creek, sends us a remittance of $1.50 for The Record. He is now a paid up subscriber to February, 1924. And this remittance sends him up to February, 1925. Mr. Moody says in his letter that he doesn't want to miss a single copy.

A SIDE KICKER.

Nothing To Freeze

Pumps freeze up. Watering troughs have to be chopped open. Water storage tanks are liable to burst. But a MILWAUKEE AIR POWER WATER SYSTEM has nothing to freeze. There is no water storage tank and the piping is carefully put beyond the reach of Jack Frost.

You do not realize fully the benefits of a water system on the farm till the blizzards come.

Don't forget that all the water supplied by the MILWAUKEE SYSTEM comes "Direct from the Well"—absolutely fresh. It costs you nothing to learn the price of a water system for your place. Phone us about it now.
