Gained Ten Pounds

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., says she suffered severely with female troubles.

"I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time," says Mrs. Hunter. "I could not work. My... were irregular and I got very thin. I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had been a user of

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle up I began to improve. My side hurt less and I began to mend in health. I took four bottles in all during the last ten months. Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all and my... are quite regular. I know that Cardui will help others suffering from the same trouble."

LIEUT. H. H. MILLS. WINS AIR TROPHY.

Travels 215.72 Miles Per Hour; Lieut. Burt E. Skeel Killed in Crash.

Wilbur Wright Field, Ohio, Oct. 4. By the Associated Press.—The International Air Races marked by the first tragedy since the event has been contested was won today at Wilbur Wright Field by Lieutenant Harry H. Mills, of Wilbur Wright Field, who traveled the course at the rate of 215.72 miles an hour.

Captain Burt E. Skeel of the second pursuit group Selfridge Field, was killed as he started to right his ship for the take off in the Pulitzer race. The wings of the ship collapsed and it dropped from the sky like pieces of match wood.

Lieutenant Wendell H. Brookley, of McCook Field, was second, setting a peed of 214.41 miles per hour. Mills flew a Verille-Speery racer, a monoplane and Brookley was in a Curtiss R-6.

The tremendous pressure on the wings of the plane resulted in the tragedy, according to officials. Lieutenant Alexander Pearson was killed in a similar accident several weeks ago. He was to have flown in the Pulitzer races. Skeel leaves a widow and two children. His widow was on the field when his plane crashed in full view of 40,000 spectators.

Incessant rains for four days ending Tuesday in Wilson county broke all records since 1880. The damage done throughout the county will run into many thousands of dollars owing to the estimated rainfall of 21 inches during the month of September.

A metallic casket near Wilson was washed from its place in a vault in a cemetery by the rain and subsequent flood conditions and washed to a near by road. When found by residents it was standing on end by the side of the road. The body was that of a man who died four weeks ago. It was reinterred.

Corn, thousands of acres of it were on the rich bottoms of the Dan river which greeted dawn Tuesday with gentle rustling blades and plump heavy-banging ears, a delight to hearts of the planters, and a pleasure-provoking sight for passersby, soon lay smothered in the muddy, silt-filled waters of a river gone wild and worthless.

With a crash that could be heard above the roaring torrent which surged about it, the Southern railway steel and concrete bridge across Little river, one mile east of Goldsboro, collapsed early Thursday night carrying with it three cars of coal and a car of stone.
