

Epic of the Dog

Kazan was a husky with the wolf strain in him.

Blind Wolf was of the breed and had the infirmity her name implies.

The product of their mating was Baree, part dog, part wolf and with a courage and intelligence almost human.

Their home was in the Canadian wilds and they played their parts—thrilling they were—with men and women in the struggle between the primitive and civilization. Road

Baree, Son of Kazan

You will find it a breathlessly interesting and thoroughly satisfying tale.

New Way to Stop Night Coughing

Simple Method Brings Quick Relief. For almost instant relief from hacking, irritating, sleep-robbing night coughing there is a very simple treatment which, often with a single dose, stops all irritation and permits sound sleep the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night-coughing. People who have not slept well for nights are often surprised how quickly this simple method checks coughing and banishes the entire cough condition completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

Girls Excel in Latin

Show up Far Better than Boys in the State-Wide School Contest. (From the Chapel Hill Weekly) The girls did far better than the boys in the second annual state-wide Latin contest, for high school students in North Carolina, conducted jointly by the Latin department and the extension division of the University.

Miss Mary Fuquay of Lillington won the first prize, and Miss Cassie McDonald of the same town turned in an excellent paper. The average of the three papers submitted by the Lillington students was also the highest among the competing schools.

First honorable mention was won for the Chapel Hill school by Miss Esther Metzenthin, whose paper was the second best in the contest. Second honorable mention was won for the Roxboro school by Champ Winstead. Miss Ellen Bradsher's and Edwin Long's papers were adjudged excellent.

The judges were George Howe, G. A. Harrer, S. G. Sanders, and J. Minor Gwynn. Seventy-two schools competed, twelve more than last year. There were more than 1,200 individual contestants.

Rough on the Language (From the Chapel Hill Weekly) According to an Associated Press despatch from California, General Butler of the Marines says that "the liquor law is the biggest piece of class legislation ever passed and it can be cured only by rough stuff, and he is quoted further as saying that men of money and influence have come to regard liquor laws as a joke and that "the only way they can be cured is for people like you and I to see that these laws are enforced." When the General said "like you and I" he certainly did treat the English language to some rough stuff.

The Most Profitable Fertilizers for Cotton

One of our most successful planters says, "For seven consecutive years I have made paying crops of cotton despite weevils and rains. Fertilizers, Nitrate of Soda and Acid Phosphate, have helped me more than any other one thing. With the boll weevil here, I would not try to raise cotton without them. On average land like mine, they mean the difference between profit and loss."

This man began seven years ago by using 200 pounds of Acid and 100 pounds of Soda per acre. He increased this gradually each year as experience warranted. Last year, he used 600 pounds of Acid and 400 pounds of Soda on about half of his crop. "On the average," he says, "every dollar I have spent for acid and Nitrate of Soda has brought me four to five dollars in net profits."

He attributes this to the large acre yields produced by these fertilizers and the consequent low cost of producing each pound of cotton, together with the fact that Soda and Acid make the crop ahead of the weevil; they set squares faster than the weevil can get them.

It is not to be inferred that these rates of application would be advisable under all conditions. This particular planter has experimented continuously to determine the most profitable system for his own place, but he has found that as a rule his net income has grown as he has used more Nitrate and Acid to set the cotton earlier and increase his acre yield.

BUREAU OF HEALTH EDUCATION, N. C. STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

STRONG HEARTS

Syphilis in early life may attack the heart, causing weakness or death in later years, even after the disease itself is no longer apparent.

After the heart muscle has been destroyed or the valves all scarred up they can never again be brought back to their normal shape and function. If this condition has been caused by syphilis, treatment will cure the disease and stop further damage but treatment for syphilis will not restore again the heart to its normal condition any more than it would restore skin to its normal shape and smoothness that has been drawn and scarred by a severe burn. A scarred heart like scarred skin will remain always. The only time that kind of heart disease can be cured is to cure the disease before the damage to the heart has been done.

Improper habits of living leave their mark on the heart. Many people owe their ill health to ignorance or indifference. Eating too much, exercising too little, living too closely indoors, too little and irregular sleep, the overuse of alcohol, coffee, tea and tobacco are very common faults which may and often do serious damage to the heart.

When we are asleep the heart beats on an average of ten beats less per minute than when we are awake. That is one reason why plenty of sleep keeps us in good condition. The heart must have some rest and the only rest it can get is that brief interval between beats. The person that breathes about how little sleep he can get along with is only exposing his ignorance and admitting that he is slowly and insidiously committing suicide. All adults need at least eight hours quiet sleep and children much more.

It is often said that "it is worry, not work, that kills." This is because worry puts a maximum strain upon the heart. If you have heart trouble learn to develop a calm, even attitude toward life. Avoid excitement or situations where you become angry or aroused. Develop a fixed schedule for the day and do not deviate from it. Sleep at least ten hours out of the twenty-four and as much more as your individual case demands. Stay out-of-doors as much as possible, watch your weight, avoid all stimulants and drugs except those specifically prescribed by your doctor.

Ford When You Trade Your Car. Ford owners are continually being approached by automobile salesmen who wish to "accept" Fords as part payment on more expensive cars. It is logical that automobile dealers should be eager to trade with Ford owners. No other used car is so easy to sell as a used Ford—because everyone has confidence in Ford quality. And it is not expensive to recondition, since Ford replacement parts are lowest in price. Most automobiles carry greater discounts to dealers than the Ford—another reason why other dealers may offer the Ford owner a larger trade-in allowance. But, bear these facts in mind: The amount of the trade-in allowance you can get is not the most important thing for you to consider. The big thing is the difference you have to pay. And remember, that the higher priced car will not be so easy to dispose of when you come to trade it in. If you wish to trade your Ford for a new automobile, stick to the car that you know to be dependable, useful and economical. Go to your Ford dealer! He will give you a fair and liberal allowance for your present Ford and will gladly arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.
