The BULL'S EYE

Editor and General Manager
WILL ROGERS

Another "Bull" Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Ziegfeld Follies and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

The BULL'S EYE is a publication that goes to print. When does it go to print? It goes to print when ever there is something to print. A lot of papers, in fact to be exact, all of them, have a certain time to be issued, regardless of the news. If nothing has happened that day or that week they have to come out just the same. They want you to pay for them whether they are any good to you or not. Why should a paper be printed if there is nothing new to print?

Sing Sing don't electrocute a man at a certain hour every day. They wait until they get a good man and then electrocute him. They don't have a set time or custom, and that is the way the BULL'S EYE is operated. We don't go to press at ten o'clock tonight just because we went to press at ten last night. No, sir! We wait until we have something that is worth while to our myriads of readers. We get them accustomed to the fact that when they see the BULL'S EYE, they say to themselves, "The BULL has seen something worth while," and that is why the Paper is out today. Because it has news for you.

We saw a man smoking a sack of "BULL" DURHAM and he was getting so much satisfaction out of it that we feel it our duty to tell those that never used "BULL" DURHAM just how they too can get satisfaction.

Will Rogers

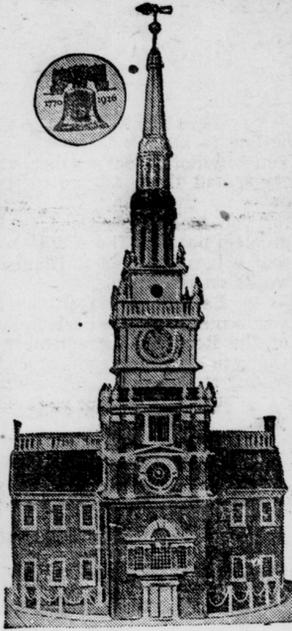

P.S. Remember, you won't see us again until we have something worth while.

P. P. S. There is going to be another piece in this paper soon. Look for it.

HISTORY IN CAKE

This replica of historic Independence Hall in Philadelphia is a fine example of the baker's art. It was made by the chef of one of Philadelphia's leading hotels to advertise the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which will open in that city June 1 and run to December 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of American independence. The "State House" stands on a table at the entrance to the main dining room of the hotel.

BUREAU OF HEALTH EDUCATION,
N. C. STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

MEASLES

The specific virus causing measles has not yet been isolated but it has been conclusively proven that the causative organism is present and will pass through an exceedingly fine filter. It is found to be present in the secretions from the nose and pharynx twenty-four hours before the appearance of the rash and to remain present a day or two after the rash disappears.

Measles is perhaps the most easily transmissible of all the contagious diseases and is contagious from the beginning of the first catarrhal symptoms throughout the duration of the rash. The most infective period is the first twenty-four hours of the rash. One attack produces an immunity which in nearly all cases is permanent.

The disease is transmitted either directly by droplet spray in sneezing, coughing or talking or indirectly through objects freshly contaminated by such secretions. Outside the human body, the virus does not live long and contaminated objects under ordinary conditions are a menace for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours.

Persons of all ages who have never had measles are susceptible but the age of greatest incidence is about six or seven years. Deaths from measles, however, are in young children, 66 per cent under two years and 90 per cent under five years of age.

Measles at first appears very much like a common cold except the child is somewhat sicker than would be expected. If a child is sick with an apparently severe cold and has a temperature of 101 degrees, measles must be considered, especially if the eyes are red and watery and there is a severe cough. An apparent improvement in the child's condition frequently happens just preceding the appearance of the rash. The greatest danger from measles, especially in the older children, is from the complications. These are of two general types, (1) invasion of the upper respiratory tract causing pneumonia, otitis, mastoiditis and meningitis, and, (2) disturbances of the alimentary tract causing diarrhoea, enteritis and dysentery.

No method of vaccination has yet been perfected but the use of convalescent serum has proven very helpful.

NOTICE OF LAND SALE

SATURDAY, MAY THE 22ND, 1926

FIRST TRACT: Adjoining the lands of Joseph Goodwin and others beginning at a persimmon tree on the bank of Horse Pen Branch, running East 82 poles to a pine stump, thence South 80 poles to pointers, thence West 110 poles to pointers on the Horse Pen branch; thence up said branch 84 poles to the beginning, containing 45 acres, more or less.

SECOND TRACT: Beginning at

SIoux DEMAND MANY MILLIONS FROM U. S.

Tribal Claims Are Based on Treaty Rights.

Pierre, S. D.—Millions of dollars would come to the Sioux of the Dakotas if they can establish all their claims against the government in the action now before the court of claims on the showings they make.

This action started on the demand of the Sioux for compensation for the Black Hills, a territory which they allege was taken from them in violation of treaty rights and on the signatures of the heads of a few bands of the Sioux, instead of a general agreement. The value they put upon this tract is $150,543,750, with interest from 1876.

Go Back to 1851.

Besides the claim for the Black Hills the action carries with it claims which have been made by the Sioux under different treaty regulations, dating back to 1851, with interest running back that far on some of the claims. The direct claims without interest amount to approximately $217,000,000 for the general tribal funds and approximately $5,000,000 for various bands, and the interest charge will more than double this. The government will present offsets which will wipe out a portion of this claim, and just how much ever will come to the Indians is a problem.

These claims are the result of a demand made by the Sioux for pay for the Black Hills section. When the issue came up an agreement was reached by which they were to gather up all the old claims they made and put them into one action.

Claims for Hay.

Several claims are made for hundred thousand dollars each for hay cut upon the reservations for forage for teams used by the early military expeditions in the upper Missouri river country, and another good-sized bill for wood cut for building forts and for fuel by these expeditions.

Still another item is an estimated amount which should have been spent for education of the roving tribes between the years 1863 and 1893, under a treaty of 1863. Then there is a charge for farming implements and teams which were to be supplied under another treaty of the distant past, estimating the number of Sioux who were ready and willing to farm but could not do so on account of lack of the proper equipment.

Irishman, 125 Years Old, Walks Mile for Pension

London.—Ireland, famous breeding ground of hale and hearty old men, has produced a supercentenarian. He is William Smith of Dromara, County Down, who has celebrated his one hundred and twenty-fifth birthday. He was middle aged, according to ordinary standards, when he went off to fight in the Crimean war. His most strenuous exercise nowadays is walking a mile, each Friday to receive his pension.

Ireland has produced many long-lived persons, but women in the British Isles as a whole are much longer-lived than men. There are about ten times as many female centenarians as male. Clergymen and peers seem to live longest in these modern times of rush and stress, but even the oldest of them are young compared to Thomas Carn, a Londoner, who died on January 18, 1583, at the venerable age of two hundred and seven. At least, this is a record said to have been inscribed in the parish register of St. Leonard's church, Shoreditch, which was destroyed by fire.

Students of longevity say centenarians come from long-lived families, where the thing is a habit. They discount the many pet modes of living, the prejudices for or against tobacco, alcohol, tea, or this food or that, to which old persons often attribute their achievements in piling up birthdays.

Father of 13 Pups Cares for Six Kittens

New York.—There are 13 more hungry mouths to feed on the top floor down at 163 Houston street. And the worst of it is the mother must assume the whole burden.

The father, it happens, is one of those Rip Van Winkles who is willing to assume plenty of the burdens of others, but who will never lift a hand to help in his own home.

While Palisade Peggy, pure-bred German police dog and proud mother of the 13, is guarding and feeding the puppies down on Houston street, her prodigal mate, Lightnin', is "mothering" six two-month-old kittens up at the One Hundred and Fourth field artillery armory at Sixty-eighth street and Broadway.

Lightnin', the father, is the much prized mascot of the One Hundred and Fourth field artillery. He is scheduled to appear in the films some time soon.

For Quick and Sure Results Use Only NITRATE OF SODA

You Can't Afford to Lose Your Season's Work by Experimenting

With a late Spring and many weevils expected, a Nitrate of Soda side dressing of 100 to 200 pounds per acre is absolutely necessary to set squares before drouth or weevils can hurt them. A Nitrate of Soda side dressing insures yields and increases profits.

QUICK: To be effective a side-dresser must be quick acting. Official results in this country and abroad show conclusively that only in Nitrate of Soda is the plant food 100% available immediately it is applied. It leaves no acid residue.

SURE: Henry Greene, Horton's Grove, Herford County, N. C., used Nitrate of Soda as a side-dresser. His County Agent, Mr. C. A. Rose, writes: "On the acre where he used the Soda, he produced 184 pounds more seed cotton than where he used no Soda."

County Agent Anderson reports that on the farm of B. W. Weeks, Holly Springs, N. C., 100 pounds of Nitrate of Soda applied June 10 increased the yield of seed cotton 248 pounds. An additional 100 pounds applied July 15 made a total increase of 704 pounds of cotton.

Years of actual results show Nitrate of Soda the best side-dresser
