MONCURE NOTES

Mrs. Daisy Moore went to Durham today on business.

Mr. J. K. Barnes the efficient cashier of Banking Loan and Trust Co. and the popular old-bachelor of Moncure has moved into the new office rooms over Hackney and Thomas Co.'s new brick store. He has a nice place to live.

Miss Virginia Cathel has returned home from a visit in Va.

Mr. Edwin Cathel also has returned home from Atlanta, Ga., where he was in college last year. He has now a position with Carolina Power and Light Co.

Miss Ollis Addison has returned home from a visit to Blue Ridge. She reported a nice time.

The long-looked-for and the long-wished-for rain came last Saturday and Sunday. The rain could not have fallen more gently and it was ideal for the crops. It put the farmers in better spirits and hope the seasons will be more favorable from now on.

Mr. W. Clay Farrell the rural carrier on Route one is taking his vacation for (15) fifteen days. Mr. J. Lee Harmon is substituting for him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clay Farrell left today for the mountains where they will rest and enjoy the beautiful scenery.

Mr. T. B. Maddox, one of the most successful merchants of Moncure, spent Monday at Yemassee, S. C. on business. Miss Elizabeth Farrell looked after his store for him while he was away.

There were not but a few at the "Home Coming Day" at Gum Springs Baptist church last Sunday. The gentle rain that fell Sunday was welcomed and appreciated by all, although they did not get to enjoy the "Home Coming Day" which had been talked and planned for sometime.

Mr. Joe H. Overly was almost instantly killed near here this morning (Monday) about seven o'clock when his garments were caught in a revolving cog-wheel at the brick kiln, where he had been working for many years, and his body was badly mangled. He lived but a short time after the accident. He had just reported for his daily duties at the kiln and was dusting the machinery when he was caught by the wheel.

He is survived by a wife, five children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Overly of McCullers and several brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Wentworth Christian church, near McCullers.

Little Miss Lura Bell Burns, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moody Burns invited her little friends for a social hour last Saturday afternoon. All enjoyed games and then ice-cream, cake, lemonade and candy were served, which made the time very pleasant for them.

Mr. Ward, one of the county commissioners, came from Pittsboro this morning (Tuesday) to inspect and plan a road by Gum Spring Baptist church to connect both highways. Of course this road would make it better for a few neighbors but the county should not undertake any more roads until they make the roads they now have better. The highway from Moncure to Moore's Bridge is almost impassable.

They pretend to scrape this road twice a year and when it is scraped, rocks and sticks and everything is left in the road which makes it worse. Roads should be made better before new ones are made.

READY TO BACK CHATHAM

Counties to West Pushing Forward Work on Raleigh-Pittsboro-Lexington Highway

Following a map showing the directness of the route from Raleigh through Pittsboro, Siler City, Franklinville, and Asheboro to Lexington and points farther west, C. H. Julian, secretary of the highway association, presents the interesting and pertinent information given below:

"Only 1 automobile out of 10,000 coming West from Raleigh passes through Chatham county. Why is this?"

The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce recently published a map showing the territory within 100 miles of Raleigh. Pittsboro was not to be found on this map, neither was there a single road shown passing through Chatham county. Why was this?"

A straight road coming West from Raleigh would work wonders in the development of Wake, Chatham, Randolph and Davidson counties.

Davidson and Randolph counties have loaned the State Highway Commission money to build the highway from Asheboro to Lexington.

Randolph county loaned the State $185,000.00 to improve the State highway between Asheboro and Pittsboro.

If the people of Pittsboro and Chatham county are wise they will provide the necessary funds to build a straight State highway between Pittsboro and Raleigh. If the work is properly done the distance will not be over 31 miles.

It is up to Pittsboro to take the lead. This great central section of North Carolina West of Cary is ready to stand behind you. Do it today. Don't pass the buck."

CHILDREN OF CONFEDERACY

The Henry London Chapter of the Children of the Confederacy met with Louise and Margaret Brooks on Friday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the leader, Miss Carrie Jackson. After repeating the Lord's Prayer, the chapter president called for reports from the secretary and treasurer, also from the membership committee. The papers of Louise Nash and Eula Johnson were announced for membership. Then all sang "Bonnie Blue Flag."

It was moved and seconded that we have a lawn party. A committee was appointed to get it up. "Old Time Confederates" and "Dixie" were sung, after which delightful refreshments consisting of punch and cake were served. The meeting then adjourned.

The subject for the afternoon was Jefferson Davis, whose life covered four fifths of the 19th century from 1808 to 1889. He was one of the leading statesmen of this country, soldier in the Mexican War, United States Senator, Secretary of War under President Pierce, a Christian gentleman martyr for his country and the only President of the Southern Confederacy.

CORINTH ITEMS

There seems to be a misunderstanding as to the date of Children's Day at Buck Horn M. E. church. The exercises will be the first Sunday in July. Remember the date, July 4, and the hour, 2:30 P. M.

Mr. L. H. Mims is carrying his arm in a sling. It appears he has the habit of nodding on the porch at night and somehow (not very clear to him) he fell out, at least there was a great awakening.

Mr. Hubert Cross who for several years has been working for the Carolina Power and Light Co., at Buck-Horn, has been promoted, he is not at Method.

Our sympathy is with the family and Mr. T. J. Harrington, our friend and neighbor of Brick Haven who continues ill at Sanatorium. He is one of the most liked and respected men of the community. His presence and loyal support is being missed in the church and many other places. We hope he may soon be much improved.

Among the sick are Mrs. T. F. Cross and Mrs. Pollard.

Messrs. T. Y. Mims and W. H. Cross expect to attend the reunion at Wilmington this week.

A refreshing rain visited this section, beginning with a slow drizzle Saturday and followed by a steady downpour Sunday.

The burial was at May's Chapel Sunday afternoon, the funeral services being conducted by her pastor Rev. T. R. Womack, of Wake Forest, and Rev. R. R. Gordon of Pittsboro.

Mrs. Jones was formerly a beloved teacher in the Chatham county schools. She was most highly esteemed and much sympathy is felt for her devoted husband and son.

TRAGIC DEATH OF J. H. OVERBY

Brick Haven Man Victim of Machinery at Big Brick Plant

Brick Haven suffered the loss of an excellent citizen Monday when Mr. Joe H. Overby died as a result of being caught in the machinery of the brick mill. He leaves five children and a widow, who have the sympathy of a host of friends. A dispatch from Moncure gives the following account of the tragedy:

"Joe H. Overby, 41 years old, was instantly killed at a brick kiln near here when his garments caught in a revolving cog-wheel. His body was badly chewed and he lived only a few minutes after the accident.

Overby had just reported for work at the kiln and was dusting the machinery when the wheel grabbed his clothing. The force of the impact of his body against an 8-inch belt pulling the wheel was enough to break the belt and stop the machinery, but not until the man had been pulled through the cogs.

BROWN EYES.

THE STATE FAIR

A gentleman familiar with the proposed location of the state fair in east Raleigh, or east of Raleigh, expresses below what he thinks about the matter. The old fair site has been abandoned and is to be sold for residence or business sites and the fair authorities seem to be inclined to select the site criticised by the citizen mentioned, who says:

"The people of Chatham have always been liberal in their patronage of the State Fair, and for this reason are interested in its new location.

To those who have charge of the matter, we would respectfully suggest:

That the fair grounds, if possible, should be located on a railroad, so as to be easily accessible;

They should be located in a thoroughly respectable neighborhood. And we look with considerable disfavor upon any location in East Raleigh, in the Duke's Corner, Rock Quarry neighborhood. Good people would hesitate, if not positively decline to carry their families to any such section."

Bray of Siler City; Mrs. Fannie Bland of Bynum; Mrs. Wilkie at Moncure and Mrs. R. H. Hayes.

COSTLY DOPE

Floyd Sutphin, a youth of the New Salem community in northwest Chatham is a wiser, if not healthier, boy after his unusual experience Wednesday morning of last week. The youngster, according to the report from Sanford, admitted that he had taken a doped drink at Pittsboro early that morning. He went tearing into Sanford at a 60-mile clip, it is estimated; didn't hold up at all but rushed right through town till he reached the railroad where he drove his Chevrolet's nose under a standing freight car, wedging the automobile and himself so firmly under the box car that when the smashing of the hind wheels and axle with a sledge hammer had failed to lower the car sufficiently to allow the car with its driver to be withdrawn, the box car itself had to be jacked up.

The youth seemed to be in a bad state and was rushed to Scott's hospital, but, fortunately, it was found that his injuries were not serious, though painful. He has been brought home and the report Monday was that he was doing very well, though not yet well.

A Sanford dispatch says: "The boy was first observed making 60 miles down Hawkins avenue. He is reported to have hit one car and narrowly missed others, at the end of the street, his speed would not allow him to turn into either of the two intersecting streets. He ran over the curbing and severely wedged the Chevrolet under the freight car. All but the engine of the Chevrolet was demolished."

NEW ELAM NEWS

Due to the continued drouth crops are looking very poor throughout this section, as they are in most places. Cotton hasn't come up in many places. Some of our farmers are plowing up their cotton and planting corn.

I certainly agree with the editor about the extravagance of the county with the poor prospect we have for crops this year. All expense possible should be avoided, and not make the taxes any higher than is absolutely necessary. All others have always had the advantage of the farmers. The farmer must labor hard to make anything and then somebody who does nothing sets the price on what the farmer has for market. So I say if possible (and I am sure it is) lower the taxes instead of raise them.

Misses Omata and Edna Hatley entertained a host of their friends at the hospitable home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hatley. The hostesses, assisted by their mother, served ice cream.

Mrs. Ed Woody and children of Durham spent last week with Mrs. J. C. Lasater.

Jack Poe of Durham spent last week with Floy Sturdivan.

The welcome rain Saturday and Sunday prevented the New Elam choir from going to the county home Sunday afternoon. Probably they will go the fourth Sunday. There were only twenty who faced the inclement weather Sunday and attended preaching service.

Miss Lillian Jones spent a delightful week-end with Rev. and Mrs. J. Fuller Johnson at Fuquay Springs.

A social committee of four was appointed at Christian Endeavor Sunday night, namely, Misses Blanche Holt, and Flonnie Sauls, Dwight Webster and Caley Goodwin.

Mrs. A. G. Mann continues about the same. Her sister, Mrs. Oscar Horner is with her.

HAD TO CALL FOR SHERIFF'S ASSISTANCE

The real news item in the landing of an army plane near Brick Haven was in the fact that curiosity seekers had so little regard for the crops growing on the plantation in which the plane landed that the sheriff had to be called on for assistance to keep the cars off the cotton and corn. The item about the landing of the plane will be found in the Moncure correspondence.
