

The Chatham Record

State Library

ESTABLISHED SEPTEMBER 19, 1878.

PITTSBORO, N. C., CHATHAM COUNTY, THURSDAY, SEPT 9, 1926.

VOL. 48. NO.

GARDNER BURIED AT BELL'S

Drowned in Neuse River Friday. Body Found Sunday—Brought home for Burial

Henry R. Gardner, a native of this county, but living near Pollockville, Jones county, was drowned last Friday in the broad waters of the lower Neuse. Prof. Adolph J. Honeycutt, of State College, was drowned at the same time. The latter's body was discovered earlier. It was Sunday morning before Mr. Gardner's body was located. The delay was due to the fact that his feet had become entangled in the anchor rope of the skiff in which the two victims and three companions had been fishing.

The body was shipped Sunday by train to Apex, and thence was carried to the family home near Fearington. The burial was at Bell's cemetery Monday.

Mr. Gardner was 41 years of age. He leaves an invalid wife. Surviving him are several brothers and sisters, namely, Mrs. Mattie Williams, of Durham, Mrs. Maggie Jones, of Siler City, Harley Gardner of Goldston, J. R. Gardner of Fearington, Mrs. F. C. Mason, of Durham, route 3, D. B. Gardner, of Lowe's Grove, Mrs. Alex. Gilchrist of Durham, and Thomas Gardner of New Hill.

A. AND Y. PAYS $600 FOR FIRE DAMAGES

Chathamites Sued For $4,000, So Judge Webb Approves

(Greensboro News, Sept. 3rd.) Federal Judge E. Yates Webb has approved the payment of $600 by A. E. Smith and J. W. Fry, receivers of the Atlantic and Yadkin Railroad company, to J. T. Wilkie, Ella Hampton and other Chatham county residents in settlement of their claims against the railroad company for damages done to their property by sparks thrown out by an A. and Y. locomotive.

On December 8, 1925, the plaintiffs brought suit against the receivers of the railroad for $4,000 damages in the Superior Court of Chatham county. During the August, 1926 civil term at Pittsboro, it was reported to the presiding judge that the case had been compromised upon the agreement of the receivers to pay the plaintiffs $600, but pending approval of the settlement by Judge Webb, no action could be taken.

The receivers recommended to Judge Webb that the settlement was a fair one, so checks will be forwarded by the receivers at once.

SINGING CLASS COMING

The Singing Class of the Oxford Orphanage will be here Friday evening, September 17, and give a concert. The entertainment given by this class is usually quite enjoyable. Everybody is urged to come out and hear them, have a good time, and help the good cause. The same class will give a concert at Bell's School on the evening of September 16.

ARTHUR OLDHAM PAROLED

Arthur Oldham, who was sentenced quite a while ago to the roads for six months, but who has served very little of his term, has been paroled by Governor McLean on recommendation of Judge N. A. Sinclair, who stated that he was convinced that his judgment in pronouncing sentence was in error.

S. S. CONFERENCE AT BONLEE

On Friday, September 17 Miss Alice Bibb of the Baptist Sunday School Board will conduct a conference at Bonlee for Intermediate Sunday School workers of the Sandy Creek and surrounding associations. All workers with intermediates are urged to be present and ready to ask any questions about your work that you feel like asking. The conference will be informal and there will be plenty of time for general discussion. The people of Bonlee will have dinner at the church for all.

B. S. BEACH

SCHOOL BOARD HAS PROBLEMS

Several delegations were before the county school board Monday, seeking better facilities for the children of their districts.

The Hanks' Chapel folk want their school restored. The children out there are small and prefer their own one-teacher school to having the children brought by truck to Pittsboro. A few additional pupils in the community, they state, will make a larger enrollment than the last year the school was operated. The matter was deferred, but no truck was provided to bring them to Pittsboro. Accordingly, it might be presumed that the school is likely to be restored.

A delegation from Hadley township was seeking a truck to convey high school pupils from two schools over there to Pittsboro. The citizens are willing to pay the special tax of the Pittsboro district. This matter was not settled.

The Asbury district was wanting another teacher.

The Oak Hill district in Bear Creek township finds itself in a crisis. Quite a number of families with children have moved into the district the past year. Consequently, the one teacher formerly justified by the enrollment is not sufficient. A second teacher or a truck is desired. If a truck should be given the larger students would be conveyed to Bonlee. Supt. Thompson was instructed to

CLUB NOTES

Fine Meeting Reported; Making Ready for Bazaar—Banquet Planned—Dr. Potat Comes

The initial fall meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the residence of the president, Mrs. Jas. L. Griffin, the first Wednesday in September. This change in the meeting was occasioned by the splendid program given by the Music Department, of which, Mrs. V. R. Johnson is chairman, immediately after the business session.

Meeting was called to order by the President. Minutes of last meeting, which was held in May, were read and approved. Mrs. A. B. Campers, Jr., was extended a welcome as a member of the club.

Splendid reports were given by the Chairman of the different departments.

Plans for the annual bazaar were discussed. Numerous articles were brought in, showing the keen interest that is already evident in this annual affair.

It was unanimously decided to invite the district president, Mrs. F. R. Perdue, of Raleigh, to the banquet to be held in the late fall. Mrs. J. M. Gregory, chairman of social activities, and who will have charge of the banquet, was unable to be present at the meeting, due to an accident she suffered at Wrightsville Beach. However it will be gratifying indeed to her many friends to know that she is rapidly convalescing.

At the close of the business session, the following program was most ably given by the Music Department:

Who did the courting?—Miss Emily Taylor.

Loyalty of Men.—Mrs. Cecil Lindley.

History of Music.—Mrs. O. J. Peterson.

O Sole Mio.—Mrs. H. B. Chapin. Heedless to say it was thoroughly enjoyed.

Pittsboro is indeed fortunate to have the music talent that she has. On September 24, at the school Auditorium, a rare treat will be in store for all music lovers.

Under the auspices of the Music Department, Dr. H. M. Potat will give a recital.

The next meeting of the Woman's Club will be held the first Wednesday in October at the club room.

A full attendance is desired as there will be several matters of importance to be discussed.

MRS. E. A. FARRELL

Publicity Chairman.

THE ASBURY NEWS

There will be preaching at Asbury church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody come.

Miss Ethel Williams left Sunday for Durham, where she will spend the fall and winter.

Mrs. L. D. Johnson who has been right sick is somewhat better.

Mrs. W. C. Gunter who has been sick for the past week is some better.

Mrs. Alton Thomas and two children have been spending a few days with Mrs. W. C. Gunter and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Miss Treva and Vennor Gunter gave an ice cream supper Saturday night in honor of their birthday. Cream and lemonade and cakes were served. Those present were: Misses Ethel Williams, and Mildred Williams, Messrs. Colon Pattishall and Lewis Gunter, Miss Summie Williams, Mr. Hal Badders, Mr. Lawson Johnson, Mr. Brantley and Bobbie Myers, Mr. Harden Badders, Miss Ruby Williams, Miss Dollie and Lady Badders, Mr. Roy Steadman, Mr. Graham Williams, Mrs. Ada and J. P. Badders, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Mr. Curtis Gunter.

Preaching at Center Grove next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody come.

M. M. C.

HOW A DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE FITS INTO THE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Agricultural courses which are being given in the high schools are not designed or intended to displace any of the other high school work but rather to supplement and broaden it. Its purpose is to prepare boys for the business of farming, and for a happier, more useful life on the farm. Adult farmers and boys who have stopped school, to take up farming, may also receive training of value to them through the evening and part-time classes.

In the old school there was only one course of study, only one avenue through which one must pass to get his diploma. The pupil had no choice, no chance to fit his course to his needs. No matter what he was to do in after life he went through exactly the same mill as his neighbor.

Today we see things differently. We are coming to realize that the child is not for the school but the school is for the child. Under the present school system the curriculum is built up so, as nearly as possible, to meet the needs of the pupil. It strives to give him something that will help him to live a more useful life. We no longer try to compel the boy or girl to pursue a hard and fast course of study and in the end all be the same product. We must be taught how to live. To do this best the school curriculum must be suited to the demands of the community it serves.

The agricultural department is only another step toward meeting that demand. Going hand in hand with the other high school course, it should have an important function wherever agriculture is carried on.

H. A. DAVIS

Bonlee, N. C.

Moncure News Letter

School Opens—Orphan Class to Give Concert—A Batch of Personal Items

Miss Margaret Strickland, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Strickland, has returned home after visiting friends at Sanford and Broadway.

Miss Elizabeth Hoyle, who will teach at Carboro this year, has been visiting Miss Mary Womble on route two for several days.

Miss Virginia Cathell, who has had charge of a class of girls at the Methodist Orphanage this summer, returned home last Thursday, in order to resume teaching in Moncure school this year. She has the sixth grade.

The children of the Methodist Orphanage, Raleigh, will give a concert at Moncure School Auditorium next Friday night week, September 17, 1926. Everybody cordially invited. The programs given by the orphan children are generally fine.

Moncure school opened today, Monday, September 6, with a fine prospect for a good school this year. More students will be enrolled than any year previous. Talks were made by the following: Messrs. R. W. Utley, H. G. Self, the principal and C. D. Wilkie, at the opening of the school. A good number of parents were also present at the opening. The following are the teachers:

H. G. Self, principal; Misses Jesse Strickland, Minnie Bell, Mamie Sockwell, Mrs. H. G. Self, and Misses Virginia Cathell, Effie Thomas, and Daisy Bland. Mrs. John Bell, Jr. is the piano and voice teacher.

Miss Lucile Brady, one of the graduates of Moncure High School last spring, left this morning, Tuesday, to enter Louisville College for the fall term. Miss Lucile is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brady. We hope she will like college work and will have a successful year.

Little Miss Melba Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moore who lives on Main Street, celebrated her sixth birthday last Wednesday evening. Thirty of her little friends were present and each one presented Melba with a nice present. The evening passed off pleasantly and each one enjoyed the ice cream and cake, and candy and watermelon. Little Miss Melba was old enough to enter school yesterday and she was happy over the fact.

Mrs. Aurelia Taylor spent the day with Mrs. Peay at Pittsboro last Sunday.

Misses Mamie Sockwell and Jesse Strickland, the new teachers of Moncure faculty, are boarding with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Utley.

Mrs. C. C. Thomas and daughters, Misses Catherine and Elizabeth, spent last Tuesday in Raleigh.

Yesterday, Monday, was Labor Day. The rural carriers observed the holiday, but it was a busy day at Moncure. Business and prices are good in our town.

BEAR CREEK NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Beal and T. P. Beaver visited in Burlington Sunday and Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Woody is home for a few days from E. C. T. C., Greenville.

Rev. L. V. Coggins is visiting his father, I. P. Coggins.

Miss Teresa Emerson visited in Fayetteville recently.

Miss Myrtle Wilkie spent the week-end with Mrs. D. T. Brooks.

Mrs. G. B. Emerson and little Macon visited at Dr. Clyde Gilmore's and J. J. Norwood's recently.

Messrs. Floyd and James Stigall and families of Greensboro spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Coggins.

Clifton Dunn is seriously ill at Scott's Hospital, Sanford.

We are informed that the dam at the lake on Elkins Farm, one mile from here, being built by W. H. Garner, is almost completed. He expects to stock it with fish and use for bathing.

IN MEMORIAM

In the death of Professor C. L. Parker, the Men's Bible class of the Goodson Baptist church, feel that it has lost a teacher whose place can never again be so richly supplied. Ever faithful of attendance he brought each time to his class timely wisdom mingled with a vision of the high calling.

Mr. Parker was not a demonstrative sort of man except in patient consideration, solid thought. He never seemed to speak as one who would be heard of men, but rather as one who would ever be on the road after truth. Like his Great Exemplar he was a man who could and would suffer for truth's sake. Honestly and simplicity marked his every step here as elsewhere in the affairs of daily life. For these reasons it is not a matter of surprise that many failed to know him as he was known to a few of us who gathered together only too seldom with him in this class which he loved so much.

We extend to his family, and to his friends here and in his native state, Illinois, our sympathy, and the assurance of having been benefited by his short stay among us.

Respectfully submitted by his Sunday school class.

THE MEBANE FAIR

The Mebane Six-county Fair begins next Tuesday, September 14. In addition to an unusually good list of attractions, better agricultural displays than ever, the sale of Jersey cattle on Thursday is a feature that should interest the farmers of this and other counties. The dog show on Thursday and Friday will be a big feature.

FRANK PERRY KILLED IN AUTO RACE AT RICHMOND

Native of Chatham but Resident of Greensboro Blinded by Dust Loses Life in Race—Buried at Mt. Vernon Church

Tuesday's dailies bore the account of the death of Mr. Frank Perry, a native of the Silk Hope section, a son of the late John W. Perry. Death came as a consequence of participation in an automobile race at Richmond, Va.

Below is the American Press Association's account of the tragedy, also comment by the Greensboro News:

Richmond, Va., Sept. 6.—(AP)—The death of one race driver and injuries to five others today marred the racing program staged at the Labor Day celebration at the state fairgrounds.

Frank Perry, 45, of Greensboro, N. C., went to his death when, blinded from dust and unable to see the turn in the oval, his machine skidded and turned over. His neck was broken and he died en route to a hospital.

Charles Holly, suffered bruises in a practice spin and Garnett Holly, motorcycle driver, was treated for injuries at a hospital and later returned to the track.

Walter Greweil, Arthur Adams and Walter Greweil were injured, none severely, as a result of a series of accidents occurring during the racing program.

The machine of Charlie Davis and Ernest Moore crashed while traveling at breakneck speed, but both miraculously escaped injury.

Frank Perry Had Just Begun Racing Friends Say

Frank C. Perry, proprietor of the Automobile Machine shop, 205 Hughes street, had been living in Greensboro for three or four years, his friends state. His room was above the shop.

He came here from Chatham county and he leaves a mother and several brothers and sisters who are residents of that county. One sister resides at Burlington while three or four brothers live near Liberty. There are said to be 12 brothers and sisters in all.

Mr. Perry was instrumental in the recent organization of the Tar Heel Racing association, and had secured a Frontenac racing car, the one which he had in Richmond. He had engaged in but two previous races, having won three out of four events at Mount Airy several weeks ago and having also won races at Galax, Virginia. His racing machine was loaded on a truck here last Saturday afternoon and removed to the Southern freight station where it was shipped to Richmond.

It was stated here last night that the body of Mr. Perry will be shipped from Richmond to M. M. Teague, at Siler City and that funeral and interment will be made this week at Mount Vernon church in Chatham county.

GOLDSTON ROUTE ONE

Mrs. D. C. Harris, Miss Nellie Daurity and little Misses Juanita Harris and Laura Hanner of Greensboro spent the week-end at home.

Mr. Robert (Bob) Oldham and family have moved on Goldston route 1.

Mr. James Leighton Hatch of Fayetteville spent a few days last week in Goldston with friends and relatives.

Misses Eutha and Naomi Hilliard of Durham spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Hilliard.

Mr. Clarence Wilkinson motored to Greensboro Saturday afternoon.

BENNETT, ROUTE TWO, NEWS

Sept. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Rossie Myrick, accompanied by L. W. Lambert, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Leonard of Greensboro Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Brady and daughter, Miss Nellie, were visitors in the home of her son, Herbert, of Asheboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Huey Powers, of Asheboro, were visitors in the home of H. C. Lambert Sunday.

Miss Mary Kidd accompanied by others, motored to Carthage Monday on business.

The committeemen of Maness school of Moore county have employed Miss Mary Kidd as their teacher for the next term.

Mrs. Sarah J. Stokes and two sons, Henry and Boyd, of Putnam, were visitors in the home of R. W. G. Kidd Sunday.

Misses Madie Kidd and Stella Hussey were visitors in the home of Miss Zada Kennedy of High Falls Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Purvis and son Huey were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brown Sunday.

BROWN EYES.

Electricity Boycotted to Rid Town of Poles

London.—Incensed at the specter of "clothes props ruthlessly disfiguring" the streets, the old market town of Princess Risborough has risen up in a horrified protest against the invasion of electricity. Many residents signed a pledge not to use the current as long as the poles stand.

"Two miles of poles stretch through the market place and High street, obstructing the view of the Market Hall so a photographer was unable to get a picture," one citizen lamented. The electricity corporation refuses to remove the poles and defies the boycott.

New Elam News

New Hill, Sept. 6.—Saturday evening complimentary to her cousin, Miss Norma Gardner of Snow Hill, Miss Janice Carr entertained several of her friends at the hospitable home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Carr. The guests were greeted by Miss Janice and her mother and introduced to the honor guest, Miss J. Gardner. After all the invited guests had arrived several interesting games began, in which all participated. About nine o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room where they found ice cream and cake awaiting them. The dining table was decorated with cut flowers. The living room was also made more lovely by the use of beautiful flowers. There were about twenty present to enjoy this delightful occasion, and meet one of Green county's attractive young ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Johnson of Durham were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Trotter and son Lacy, Jr., spent the week-end near Siler City with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trotter.

Mrs. Dewey Smith and little son of Raleigh spent a few days recently with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Puryear.

Mr. Edward Kendrick is spending several days in the mountains of Western North Carolina. Next Sunday he will go to Chapel Hill, where he will enter the University.

Mrs. W. A. Drake and Mrs. Addie Webster spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. Bettie Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lasater and children of Durham were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lasater.

Mr. George Laughy is seriously ill at his home on Pittsboro Rt. 1.

GOLDSTON NEWS

School Has Bright Prospects—Needs Auditorium—A Batch of Personal Items

The Goldston high school opened last Wednesday, September 1. It has proven to be one of the largest openings in the school's history. Two hundred and five pupils have already been enrolled and a number of others are expected to enter later.

Prof. J. H. Moore has entered enthusiastically upon his duty as principal of the Goldston school. Being with us last year, we know him to be a fine man, working for the good of the school and community. With such a capable man at the head of the school, and his capable assistants we feel that this will be the best school year in the history of the school.

The members of the faculty are the following:

Prof. J. H. Moore, principal; Miss Ethel Keys, High School; Miss Louise Womble, High School; Miss Pearl Johnson, 7th grade; Miss Ola Harmon, 5th and 6th grades; Miss Edith Roberts, 4th and 5th grades; Miss Dessie Roberts, 1st and 2nd grades; Miss Nannie Cox, music.

The new members added to the faculty this year are Miss Ethel Keys, of Georgia, Miss Louise Womble, of Goldston, who was one of the graduates at G. C. W. in the spring and Miss Edith Roberts, of Shelby.

The remodeling of the school building has added much to the appearance of the building inside. The walls have been repaired, and there have been added, a music room, library, and a room for the laboratory. It seemed to be necessary to use the auditorium for rooms as it was small. Consequently, we assemble together for chapel and entertainments. We hope to work toward that end to build a large auditorium to seat the large crowds who come here, in the near future.

We were very glad indeed to have with us Rev. Fred N. Day last Thursday morning to conduct Chapel exercises for us. Rev. Mr. Day is an evangelist who conducted the revival in the Baptist church here last week. He is a forceful preacher of the gospel, and we feel that his work here has done much good.

Miss Thelma Marwell, of Whiteville, spent the week-end with Miss Louise Womble.

Miss Nell Cheek, of Chapel Hill, is visiting relatives in Goldston.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Barber, a daughter, Martha Jean.

Prof. F. S. Wilder, of New Hampshire, arrived here the first of the week on a short visit to Prof. W. H. Tyler. Prof. Wilder is on his way to Chapel Hill to resume his work as one of the instructors in the University.

Rev. C. F. Womble, who resigned his work as pastor of Lillington circuit, has entered Rutherford College. He thought best to finish school as early as possible.

WORK AT THE FERRY

The preliminary work for the construction of the proposed concrete bridge across the Cape Fear River at Avenet's Ferry, is about finished and work will begin on the bridge proper in a few days. Two big barges, a cement house and office have been constructed. In order to supply the laborers with good water a well has been sunk near the river. Material is now being moved to the river to go in the bridge. Very few laborers are to be employed to construct the bridge as much of the material will be handled by labor-saving machinery.

The power to operate this machinery will be furnished by the Carolina Power and Light Company. It seems that it is no trouble to get labor for work of this kind. Several hundred laborers have applied for work.—Sanford Express.

Mr. J. O. Harmon and Miss Olivia Harmon spent the week-end in Pittsboro.

"LADY OF MUKHTARA" TALKS OF U. S. SHOES

Queen of the Druses Won't Discuss Politics.

Mukhtara, Greater Lebanon, Syria.—Dressed in purple robes of the finest silks and satin, tall and rather plump, her face covered by a filmy black veil of the most exquisite texture, the "lady of Mukhtara" presents truly a regal picture.

"The queen of the Druses," as she is called by the men who are fighting the soldiers of France, is often looked to for advice and guidance. She appears every inch a queen.

Aged about thirty-seven, she was left a widow a few years ago when her husband, a member of the great family of the Yumblatts, was assassinated by his own countrymen, the Druses.

Inherited Much Wealth.

Sit Nizira Yamblatt was left alone with her two children, at the head of her immense property both in the Lebanon and the Djebel Druse.

She never wept a tear, never tried to prosecute her husband's murderers, but as in the past took a moral and financial interest in the welfare of her countrymen.

Although unreconciled to the French mandate, Sit Nizira warned Sultan Attrache not to rise against France in open armed rebellion. She refused to contribute any funds toward the purchase of war material and ammunition, but has placed money at the disposal of widows and orphans of the Druse warriors fallen in battle.

Shown Priceless Treasures.

This was the woman who received the correspondent in a great room littered with the richest carpets of Damascus, hung with the priceless tapestries of Persia, in an atmosphere strangely redolent of the "Thousand and One Nights."

Speaking excellent English, the queen's first words were: "Please don't talk politics. I no longer have interest in politics when blood is flowing in the Djebel Druse and my countrymen are being killed in hopeless battle. Talk to me about America."

"These shoes, they come from America," she volunteered, when the correspondent had perhaps rather too intently looked at her dainty feet.

"You must have had them made to order," the correspondent absently replied. "I don't see how you could find a size small enough in the ready-mades."

The suspicion of a frown appeared and then she smiled and said: "Yes, they are rather small, and it is a good thing that brains are not in one's feet."

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse