THE RECORD 48 YEARS OLD

We forgot to change our volume number last week. The Record was 48 years old September 19. We have in our possession a copy of the second issue, just 48 years ago this week, in which Major London has a two-column editorial scorching Josiah Turner, a candidate in this district for Congress. We had thought of reprinting it on this the 48th anniversary of its publication just to show the folks how Major London could write when he was warmed up, and how hot politics got in those earlier days. But probably it will be more fitting to keep it till our semi-centennial issue two years hence.

Just here it may be proper to state that the Record has made financial headway the past six months, and is steadily crawling out of the hole into which a serious combination of circumstances had thrown the management. Seven months ago it appeared an almost impossible thing to recover, especially in the face of the hard times in the country due to poor crops in succession. But if things go well as they have, the day is saved, and the Record should be in good shape by the coming of its fiftieth anniversary. Yet the size of the paper this week might indicate the contrary. However, this very thing is an index to the adaptability of the paper to the peculiar circumstances of the location. It happens that our big foreign advertisements skip this fifth issue of September, and that the lateness of the cotton crop makes it more difficult and costly to secure the semi-local business necessary to publish a full-sized paper than the extra effort and cost would justify. Here our close print comes to the rescue, and we can cut the size of the paper and yet have room for all the county news and editorials. This serves another good purpose this week, as our "pressman" has gone into training as a nurse and a new pressman must be broken in.

Edison is said by his son to be unopposed to college education but to want hard workers. An investigation of the employment of the college men and high school graduates of the past ten years should determine whether the schools are turning out hard workers.

Tunney is welcome to all the credit there is in whipping the former heavyweight champion, but the cash end of the business is something more considerable. The millions spent on that one fistfight would have largely relieved the situation in stricken Florida.

Poincare of France is willing to do anything to fraternize with Germany provided the Germans will acknowledge their criminality in beginning the war. But when for a half century France had outstanding a declared determination to have Alsace-Lorraine back, which, in the nature of the case meant ultimately a war, it is not so very surprising that Germany prepared for the occasion, and when she thought she was ready, started the conflagration herself.

Some little time ago, the Record called attention to the "ecstasy" correct, stating that "ecstasy" was the correct spelling of it impressed upon him by missing it many times in the examination. Just now we saw it misspelled again, and if we have seen it spelled correctly in any of our exchanges since the former paragraph appeared, we do not recall the fact.

Such a report on the prospects of the cotton crop as the last, at the most critical period of the harvest and sale of the crop and when an early frost, a tropical storm, or other providential backsets are most likely, is exceedingly expensive to growers. Congressman Hammer is hammering away upon the Agricultural Department for a reform in the matter of estimates. It will be too late for the farmers to benefit largely from a lower estimate, if it should occur, a few weeks hence. Of course, Chatham has sold very little cotton, but the harvest in the great cotton areas of the south is at the apex.

This thing of being too religious is getting to be suggestive of hypocrisy. In fact, hypocrisy these days is partially limited to the overzealous evangelists. Aimee McPherson, the California priestess, almost worshipped by thousands of followers, appears likely to be proven guilty of downright immorality, adultery, and lying. A Portuguese evangelist at Charlotte has run a big part of the negro population crazy. One enthusiast leaped into the water Sunday, while seven hundred were being baptized, and was drowned. Reports from other fields where the evangelist has held forth indicates that his character is none too good. Dr. Norris, the rampant Texas Baptist, coolly kills his man, while thousands of his fellow townsmen believe that he perjured himself a few years ago. The writer recalls a glance and a twinkle of the eye of a certain popular evangelist while a successful collection for his remuneration was being taken, that he'll never forget—it said different things from what he had been saying all during the meeting. Yet the crowds are easily fooled; forsake the solid ministry of their pastors and flock to the big tents.

INTERESTING U. D. C. MEETING

The Winnie Davis Chapter, U. D. C., met Sept. 25 at the home of the president, Mrs. H. A. London.

The treasurer reported a balance of $109.18. It was voted to send $25 to beautify the Jefferson Davis Highway. The president asked that all who could would give crimson ramblers and crepe myrtle trees for the highway, and a committee was appointed.

UNIVERSITY IS PREPARING FOR A SEISMOGRAPH

Well Dug to Solid Rock, and Column Placed under the New East

FINE INSTRUMENT COMING

(From the Chapel Hill Weekly) The University is making preparations for the installation of a seismograph—the instrument that registers the tremors of the earth.

This means that North Carolina will get its own information, first hand, about earthquakes, instead of having to get it from stations in the North and West.

Collier Cobb, professor of geology, is a member of the Seismological Society of America and for years he has looked forward to setting up an instrument here. There is no University appropriation to cover the cost, but Mr. Cobb is pretty sure he knows where the money can be obtained.

The seismograph that he expects to have is the very finest kind made. The designer of it is the celebrated Japanese scientist, Omori, and the makers are Bausch and Lomb.

A well has been dug under the east end of the New East building, now being remodeled for the geology department. The diggers had to go 26 1-2 feet before they struck rock. A column made of steel I-beams surrounded by concrete rests upon the rock, and on top of this column will rest the seismograph. The tremors of the earth will be conveyed up the column and registered on the dial at the top.

When the diggers reached level about 25 feet below the ground surface the water began to pour in on them, and a pump had to be put to work to enable them to go ahead.

The reconstruction of the New East goes forward with great speed. The making of new foundations, which took so much time in the case of the South building, was not necessary here and the contractors were able to begin pouring the concrete floor last week.

It is thought that the job may be completed by the end of the Christmas holidays.

A geology building has been ordered by the University's program ever since Mr. Cobb came here to join the faculty in 1892. He told a friend this week that ever president's report for the last thirty years had declared the need of a geological laboratory. The head of the department has taken the delay with philosophical calm, declaring: "Well, the earth is a laboratory for me. I don't need any legislative appropriation to give me the use of that." Nevertheless, he is glad to see under way, at last, a building for the storage and study of rocks and soils.

Miss Evelyn Alston as chairman to take charge of that.

It was voted to have the Christmas bazaar on Dec. 4, and the following committees were appointed: Bazaar—Mrs. R. H. Hayes, Mrs. J. M. Gregory, Mrs. W. D. Siler. Refreshments—Mrs. R. M. Farrell, Mrs. Lee Farrell, Mrs. W. M. Eubanks. A. Sisk of Mt. Gilead for support in his effort to be appointed Sergeant at Arms at the next legislature.

Col. Sisk is the last living pal bearer at the funeral of Stonewall Jackson.

A letter was read from Miss Rica Brooks of Richmond, Va., expressing pleasure at her membership in this her home town chapter, and sending invitation fee for her mother, Mrs. Paschal.

Miss Brooks was made a delegate to the general U. D. C. Convention which convenes in Richmond.

Application papers of Mrs. W. M. McGhee were reported ready.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held the week following the State Convention at Fayetteville.

REGISTRATION BOOKS OPEN NEXT SATURDAY

The registration books will open for the registration of voters not already registered next Saturday. They will remain open up to a few days before the election. The same registrars have charge of the books as in the spring before the primary election.

GET YOURSELF A BRAND NEW LIVER

How Dodson's Liver Tone Makes You Feel the Old Liver is Born Again

Just off the slant of Old Piedmont where it rolls away into the foot-hills of South Georgia, Bud Evans makes a good stand of cotton. A year ago he was too sick to even follow a plow. His right side seemed hard, felt as if his liver had turned to stone; belched gas all the time; couldn't hold up his head for the pain; calomel just turned him inside out. You couldn't imagine anyone sicker than Bud Evans. It just happened that an egg buyer dropped in on him one day and says: "What you need, Bud, is a dose of Dodson's Liver Tone—your liver is baked and full up so it doesn't work." And so Bud got a bottle at the town drug store for a few cents. The very first night it loosened up so much sour bile and fermenting food that the swelling went down, his whole system righted itself and he was a new man entirely before noon.

There is no question but that Dodson's Liver Tone will do more for bilious people than anything else ever known. It works easily and smoothly, without gripe or distress, and cleans out all the sour bile and sickening stuff that gives you headache, nausea, vomiting, bilious fever and all the other distresses due to obstinate constipation.

Get one bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, and if it doesn't make you feel like you had traded your old, worn-out liver for a new one full of pep, go to the druggist and he will refund the price.
