

The Chatham Record

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Last week's issue of the Progress-Farmer was devoted to forestry. A very man possessing a ten-acre tract woodland should read it.

We are informed that the contract for hardsurfing the Pittsboro-Chapel Hill highway is scheduled for let on the early part of next year. That is all news.

When the third and fourth pages of the Record were printed Monday morning, it appeared that advertising would be short as not to justify an extra-page paper, particularly as in the house was scarce. It is hard to guess here what the business will be any week till the last form on the press.

We believe that the state is blessed with Wilton McLean as governor in its stage. Governor McLean is rapidly feeling as to the actual condition of the state. He knows that prosperity is only in its infancy. It is to be hoped that the Legislature will take his advice and save people from any increase in taxation. It is a question now as to whether the people are to pay their taxes.

Not till farmers can find all the employment can they expect to have any great degree of prosperity. They are several months ahead in the average farmer is largely in the months count, he is fortunate. One thing that he has to do to future advantage and that is to cut over-thick stands of trees set out small trees in the open places in his woodland. There is an abundance of slender pines on the road Sanford that would not make timber in many years with the pines as fast as they are. The Progressive Farmer gives rules for thinning, and there was a demonstration near Roxboro a few days ago by an expert forester. But we have with us the time County Agent Shiver. We will be glad to advise you. Your best should make you a continual list.

bumbuggery in the newspaper business is as discreditable as in any other business. It hurts, too, in the long run. The Record has scarcely ever given the false impression made of its circulation previous to our change of the business. The week brought the paper a big line at the head stated that the Record was weekly by 15,000 people, and the edition had been made that the circulation was 3000. The truth is there were 1700 names on the mailboxes. Since that time we have set up the list to almost that point to every disadvantage, and it is a matter for any advertiser's inspection. However, we do not claim to cover Chatham county "like a blanket," and the paper that does is playing the same game as that which has been credited her and which has had its effects after affects.

With the return of Sampson to the Democratic fold that great old county again have an effective voice in legislation of the state. The count has had worthy representation every year of the Populist and Republican regime, but, unfortunately, the representative even in a worse case could make little headway, the majority party monopolized legislative initiative. Moreover, the choice of a Democratic representative. In the person of A. McLean (Archibute), as his friends love to call him) Sampson will have a very able and competent spokesman. He is a brother-in-law of Judge Graham and formerly his law partner. He is a first cousin of the late President Graham of the University. But the Graham does not have to depend upon reflected worthiness. He himself is such a strong man, though his is such as to have prevented the broad acquaintance with the people of the state. He is a man of common sense and as honest as the day is long. There will be no more of the kindable man in the house than the Graham. This state can depend upon his judgment, and he will do none of the state's time and money in bunkum.

The Superintendent Allen is credited with saying that education has been the state the past ten years. On the other hand, Dr. E. W. Knight says that the state is among the most backward in education and buys books and magazines than any other state in the union in proportion to population. Evidently, if the state has been remade, education hasn't been it, if North Carolina really has advanced in education. The truth is that the state hasn't been remade. We have been built, schools established, the colleges and the University have been developed; but, fortunately, things have been largely financed with borrowed money, and the state has brought about an artificial prosperity in some sections. If the state has been remade, we should be able to see it in its former condition. True, millions have been spent in Chatham. The taxable wealth of Chatham has been immensely increased. The one big electrical plant with several millions, but it is only a handful of men to operate it. The farms are little, if at all improved. On the other hand, the resources have been gleaned by a few. Nor can be believed that the county we are next familiar with, has been rebuilt to a notable degree, through education or anything else except bond

Moncure News Letter

A Batch of Interesting Personalities from Our Regular Correspondent
Mr. and Mrs. Garland Farrell of Aberdeen were in town today (Monday).
Mrs. J. E. Moore and little daughter, Melba, spent last week-end in Raleigh with her sister there.

A Parent-Teachers Association for Moncure High School was organized last Friday night after Mrs. Hayes, Prof. Nolan, Mrs. Horton, Miss Coltrane, Mrs. Peterson, and Prof. Thompson, all of Pittsboro, had each made a short but interesting talk relative to the benefits to be derived from such an organization, a committee which had been appointed at a preliminary meeting submitted a set of By Laws for the association, which were adopted by the large group of parents and teachers present. A canvass for membership was then taken to which thirty-seven members readily responded.
Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. W. T. Utley, pres.; Mrs. O. S. Kennedy, vice pres.; Mrs. Daisy Lambeth, sec.; Mr. Moody Womble, treas.; and Mr. H. G. Self, historian.
The regular time of meeting for the association will be Friday night before the second Sunday in each month while the number joining at the first meeting was very gratifying it is hoped that many more will be present and join at the next meeting, Dec. 10th.
The Epworth League held an interesting meeting at the Methodist church last Sunday evening. Miss Virginia Cathell, vice-president was in the chair and Miss Mamie Sockwell secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. Before the subject, "What is the Church and What is It for?" was taken up by the leader, Mrs. W. W. Stedman, Miss Annie Lambeth was elected president. Miss Virginia Cathell was elected 1st vice-president and Miss Ruth Womble, second vice-president. Also the Junior boys and girls will have the program each fourth Sunday night in charge. Misses Lois Ray and Beatrice Wilkie will be leaders for the next fourth Sunday night. Then the theme for the evening was taken up and discussed. Those taking part were little Misses Roberta Lambeth, Lois Ray, Camelia Stedman and Dorothy Lambeth, then Misses Annie Lambeth, Virginia Cathell, and Mrs. Ella Speed. Closing hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord" was sung by all and then prayer by W. W. Stedman.

Mrs. C. J. Harmon and son, Floyd and Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Harmon spent last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stedman on Province Farm.
Mr. Carl Burkhead and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thompson last Sunday.
There will be given at the school auditorium a Thanksgiving program next Friday evening, Nov. 19, 1926, at eight o'clock. Everybody in cordially invited. Admission 15c and 20c.
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Womble and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Womble attended the Methodist Conference at Durham last Sunday.

AN INVITATION

On Saturday next, our Club members intend to hold a meeting at the Club room, the entire day to spend.
To everybody, we shall be "at home" for we want everybody, then some. There'll be a dinner to tempt a king—Come let us serve you, and another bring.
For filling our treasury this effort we make—
Come help us out, for goodness' sake. We're not mercenary, but know it will take many a dollar, for the things we'll undertake.
Dinner will be served at twelve and on—
Won't you get up a crowd and come along?
Come let us serve you, we want to be busy;
We are willing to work, 'till our heads are dizzy.
If we are to accomplish what we plan to do,
You must help us out—we're counting on you.
The bazaar opens at half past two o'clock;
We hope to this our people will flock. A cordial invitation we extend to you. We want everybody, not just a few. We promise to give you your money's worth.
If you can't find it here, then where on earth?

TOM THUMB WEDDING AND OYSTER SUPPER

The young people's class of Brown's Chapel Sunday School will give a Tom Thumb wedding and oyster supper program at Gum Springs school house on Thanksgiving night. Proceeds go to the benefit of the church.

MRS. J. ELMER LONG ENTHRONED OF QUEEN

Former Chatham Lady Serves As Envoy for Governor McLean to Queen Marie
The Durham Herald of last Thursday carried a long and interesting story of the mission of Mrs. J. Elmer Long, wife of Lieutenant Governor Long, to Queen Marie. Mrs. Long, who is well known to our readers, is one of the cultured and attractive Peay girls of this community, was chosen by Governor McLean as a representative to bear an invitation to Queen Marie to visit North Carolina.
Mrs. Long spent a week in intimacy with her majesty and returns full of enthusiasm. She describes Queen Marie as "the most charming, gracious personality" she ever knew. She bore a personal message back to North Carolina from the queen, who expressed her desire and hope to visit the state. Later it was announced through the press that King Ferdinand insists upon her majesty's returning to Romania before Christmas and that she should have abandoned her proposed trip to North Carolina.

L. M. PERRY PARDONED

A Varied Career In and Out of Jail Six Years

Raleigh, Nov. 13.—(AP)—After a varied career of in jail and out again while serving an 18 months sentence over nearly six years, L. M. Petty, of Chatham county, was fully pardoned today by Governor McLean.
Petty's checkered career began in January, 1921, when he was convicted in Chatham county superior court of violating prohibition laws. He was paroled by Governor Morrison, but was reincarcerated when he was again indicted on a similar offense. The second indictment however, resulted in a nol pros, and there was more delay about Petty going back to jail before it was decided that the revocation was still in effect.
Influential citizens interred for him when he finally did go back and today obtained his freedom.

MR. CHAMBERS GIVEN BIG BIRTHDAY DINNER

The children of Mr. F. C. Chambers came in and gave him a big birthday dinner at his home in New Hope township. There were forty present and Mr. Chambers received a number of nice presents. The children are Mrs. Culcannon of Randolph county, Mrs. J. D. Hudgins of Seaford, Mrs. Elisha Oakley of Durham, and Mr. Rome Chambers of Durham. The husbands and children of the daughters were also present. It was Mr. Chambers' 48th birthday, and the occasion was a delightful one for all present.

CLUB NOTES

The Music Department of the Woman's Club met last with Mrs. O. J. Peterson. The home was decorated in autumn leaves in brilliant colors. There were fifteen members present. Much important business was transacted, including plans for a Christmas Community Sing and perfecting plans for the music department booth at the annual bazaar. Lovely articles were handed in for this booth. At the conclusion of the business session all joined in singing Hymn. Mrs. Victor Johnson, Chairman, gave a full report of the district meeting at Roxboro. Two new members were welcomed—Mesdames Jack and Atlas Farrell. A delicious sweet course was served.
The Civics Department of the Woman's Club met with Mesdames H. T. Chapin and E. B. Hatch on Tuesday night. There were 15 members present. Following a most interesting business session, report of the district meeting at Roxboro, a most unique voting contest was staged—When it had been decided by all who was the prettiest, the wittiest, the "Maggiest" the most dignified, the most talented, the most sincere, the most literary, the most practical, the most intellectual, the most energetic, and the most domestic, delicious refreshments were served. A number of lovely articles were brought in for the annual bazaar. Mrs. W. B. Chapin, guest, was voted the most talented, as well as voted the most intellectual. Mrs. Chapin's singing added much to the pleasure of this most enjoyable meeting.
The Health Department of the Woman's Club held its regular meeting with its chairman, Mrs. Addie McManus, hostess. Delicious refreshments were served and much business transacted.
The regular meeting of the Civics Department of the Woman's Club was held at the residence of Mrs. Jeter Griffin with Mrs. Alex Riddle as additional hostess. Plans were perfected for the Civic Booth for the annual bazaar to be held Saturday, Nov. 20th in the Club room. Numerous lovely articles were brought in. A delightful radio program was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. One new member was added to this department. A delicious salad course was served.
The Health Department of the Woman's Club meets this (Tuesday afternoon) with Mrs. H. D. Gunter. These days are busy ones for the Woman's Club members, who will give their annual bazaar at the Woman's Club Room, Sat. Nov. 20, 1926. This is your opportunity to get lovely hand made gifts for Christmas. Bazaar proper will open at 2 o'clock. Dinner will be served from 12 noon until everything is sold.

Goldston News

Live and Interesting News Items By the Record's Correspondent

The Goldston boys' basketball team won their second game here last Friday against Bynum. The score was 21 and 9 in Goldston's favor.
The boys' and girls' teams are expected to play Biscoe teams at Biscoe next Friday.
The Goldston teams are getting in the spirit of real sportsmanship. Prof. Moore is working them in the school room, and also playing ball. The old saying is that work will make a man of you if you can only stand it.
Rev. Mr. Byerly, the pastor of the Baptist church, preached a splendid sermon last Sunday morning to a large audience.
Sunday was an ideal day in every respect. The air was balmy as spring. The sky was clear and the sun was bright and beautiful. The woods were lovely in their brilliant colors. It seemed that nature never blended with more lovely hues. Robott Browning said, "O world as God has made it! All is beauty; and knowing this is love, and love is duty." What further may be sought for or declared.
Mr. George Bradford, a student at the University of N. C. spent the week-end with his cousin, Mrs. James Goldston.

Mrs. James Goldston gave her niece, little Miss Helen Womble, a birthday party last Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Helen was ten years old and in the sixth grade at school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Womble.
Mrs. Goldston kept the members of the party entertained in games and contests during the time. After enjoying them, they were invited to the dining room. In the center of the table was a beautiful white cake with ten pink candles on it. Helen blew the candles out, and the cake was cut and served. Fruits, candy, and peanuts were also served. At five o'clock the happy party dispersed showing in their faces that they had had a lovely time. Helen received a number of useful presents.
Miss Emma Johnson of Goldston, and Mr. Aubrey White, of Sanford were married at Pittsboro last Friday evening by Rev. R. R. Gordon, of Pittsboro. Mrs. White is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnson. She is an attractive young woman with sterling qualities which is always to be relied upon. She assisted Mr. Perry Barber in the postoffice for sometime, and for several months has been assisting her uncle, Mr. S. D. Johnson in the postoffice for several months. She attended college at N. C. W. one year.
Mr. White was reared near Pittsboro, but he has been working in Sanford for some time. He is said to be a fine young man with a good character.
Their many friends no doubt wish them a successful career and that it may be many years of happiness.

Mr. Phil Burns who has been working for sometime in Akron, Ohio, is at home with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Burns.
Mrs. James Goldston has had a radio installed in his home recently for trial. He and his wife and also boarding teachers are thoroughly enjoying it.

New Elam News

New Hill, Rt. 2, Nov. 15, 1926.—The descendants of Mr. William Stone met at his home Tuesday, Nov. 9th, to celebrate his birthday anniversary. This is an unusual gathering and the Stone clan eagerly look forward to this event. Owing to the inclement weather there were not as many present as usually attend. The children carried regular birthday dinners, which all enjoyed very much.
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pipkins of Cary are the proud parents of a son. Mrs. Pipkins was before her marriage Miss Florence Spagle, daughter of our neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spagle.
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Trotter and little son spent the week-end near Ashboro with Mr. Trotter's sister, Mrs. Bertha Hill.
Mr. John Maynard is seriously ill at the home of his daughter at Merry Oaks. Mr. Maynard has reached an advanced age and his recovery is doubtful.
Gardner's primary school is going on nicely with Miss Elva Burgess as teacher. She has a crowd of children—entirely too many for one teacher to care for; yet they seem to be getting along well and like their teacher.
The New Elam C. E. society met at usual time Sunday evening and rendered a good, interesting program. The subject for study was "How We May Promote Interdenominational Fellowship." Mr. W. M. Goodwin was leader, reading 1 John 1:3-7; Eph. 4:1-6. Our president Mr. Clyde Maynard was in the chair as usual and we are indeed proud to have such a noble young man as president of our society.
Mrs. W. A. Mann celebrated her birthday anniversary, and also the signing of the Armistice Thursday, Nov. 11th, by inviting several friends to an old-fashioned quilting, and all heartily partook of the delicious supper she had prepared for her several guests.
Mrs. Robert M. Burns, who is making a round of visits to her children, in different sections of the state, has just returned from a delightful visit to her son, Mr. A. M. Burns and family in Roxboro, N. C.
Mrs. Walter Johnson and Miss Vivian Allgoode spent the week-end in Roxboro at the home of the latter.

Brick Haven News

Miss Eunice Thompson was the week-end guest of Miss Elma Ray of Moncure.

Dr. and Mrs. Shelton and children of Raleigh were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Nash of Buckhorn. Dr. Shelton is a member of the faculty of State College.
Miss Geneva Seawell of Carthage spent Monday here with her sister, Miss Cecil Seawell. Her many friends were glad to have her among them again.
Mr. F. G. Leach of Raeford spent a few hours here Sunday.
Mrs. W. O. Mills and Mrs. Mary Mills Johnson spent the week-end in Raleigh with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mills.
Mr. Russell Overby spent Sunday at McCullers with his parents.
The services at the Cape Fear Steam Plant were well attended Sunday evening, not only by the residents there but numbers from Moncure and Brickhaven were present. Rev. Mr. Wood is a retired minister and is with the C. P. and L. Co., being located at the Steam Plant where he takes care of the lovely shrubbery. He gave quite an interesting sketch of his life preliminary to his talk and made many admirers who hope to hear him often.
Quite a number of Brickhaven parents were present at the organization of the Parent-Teachers Association of Moncure Friday evening and enjoyed the remarks made by several of the Pittsboro people who were kind enough to assist in the undertaking. All the talks were excellent in their line, each speaker taking up some particular phase of the work. If any one could be singled out for special mention, it would be the spicy little talk of Mrs. O. J. Peterson, wife of the editor, who spoke on "Membership" and "Grade Mothers."

We wish for this new association splendid success in its work.
Rev. Fuller Johnson will conduct services at our school building next Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. All are cordially invited.
A meeting of the Brickhaven Community Club was held Thursday evening, at which time new officers were elected and a donation made to the Sully Southern Cotton Loan Fund.
The annual bazaar of the club will be held December 4th in the school building. There will be beautiful articles for sale and refreshments at moderate prices.
Mrs. R. S. Parker, of the Brickhaven Power Plant will be hostess Wednesday afternoon to the ladies of the Brickhaven Community Club. Each one will carry material and fashion during the afternoon, a gift for the bazaar.
A true story of real heroism was told last week, and the heroine is Eliza Ragland, young daughter of Andrew Ragland, a colored friend, living on the farm of Mr. J. D. McIver.
A strange dog had been around for some time and indications were that he was not right. Eliza, seeing the dog start toward the spring which supplied the family, followed him to prevent his drinking there.
When a distance from the house the dog turned and ran back at her, attacking viciously. The little girl, being too far from the house to outrun him faced about and in miraculous manner caught the mad-dog by the collar, holding him and screaming for help. An older sister ran with a shoot gun and stick. She stunned the dog with a blow on the head and Eliza asked for the privilege of shooting him herself, which she did.
She is taking treatment as saliva got on her hand.

ELIZABETH BLAIR ENTERTAINS

Saturday evening, November 6, Miss Elizabeth Blair charmingly entertained a group of her friends from 8:30 to 11:00 o'clock in honor of her fourteenth birthday. The guests were greeted by the hostess and invited into the spacious living room which was daintily decorated in Autumn coloring, and Halloween gaities.
The lights were extinguished and only the light from the fire was visible while appropriate games of the season were played. One of the most enjoyable features however, was the marshmallow roast on the lawn.
Late in the evening the guests were ushered into the dining room where the birthday cake was cut, and a delicious sweet course served.

PLEASANT HILL HONOR ROLL

The honor roll of the Mt. Pleasant school for the second month is as follows:
Edwin Norwood, John Riggsbee, George Gattis, Ben Hall, Curtis Hamlet, Virginia Smith, Blanche Mann, Jessie Mae Glosson, Clara Hackney, Elizabeth Morgan, Ralph Morgan, Charles Mann.
Owing to the large amount of cotton to be picked out by the children, the attendance for the second month was not as good as that for the first month. The average attendance was 49.7.

MRS. CATHERINE LOWDERMILK BURIED, BEAR CREEK CHURCH

(Durham Herald)
Mrs. Catherine Heart Lowdermilk was buried Sunday in the cemetery of the Bear Creek Baptist church, Chatham county. She died at her home here Saturday morning. The funeral cortege left here at 12:30 Sunday afternoon for Bear Creek and funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Luther Moffitt, assisted by Rev. Thomas Kidd. A large number of friends were present.
The Ladies Aid of Pleasant Hill M. E. church will give a mock negro wedding, also a bazaar at Battle School House, on Thursday night, Nov. 25, at seven o'clock. Everybody come. Lots of fun for all.
Admission 25 cts. for adults, 15 cts. for children.

MRS. SHANNONHOUSE HONORED

Mrs. R. G. Shannonhouse, wife of the popular rector of the Pittsboro Episcopal church, was distinctly honored at the meeting of the State Parent-Teacher Association at Burlington last week, when she was chosen first vice-president of the Association. As the association embraces practically all the leading communities of the state, it is clear that the distinction is no mean one. Mrs. Shannonhouse served last year as president of the local association and under her administration much was done to improve the school grounds and other

EDUCATION WEEK OBSERVED AT SCHOOL

On Wednesday morning, November 10, there was a program rendered in proved not only interesting but very instructive. It was "American Educational Week," the basis of which is to learn school needs and meet them with constructive programs.
The program was arranged by the Teacher Training Department of Pittsboro High School from a bulletin on North Carolina Education Week which had been prepared by State Supt. A. T. Allen, Mrs. T. E. Johnston, and Mr. Credle.
The four divisions in the program were:
1. Our Country's Lay
Talk on the Purpose of Education Week, Louise Brooks.
Quotations on "Our Country," Teacher Training Class.
Song "America For Me," 4 girls.
2. Equal Opportunity or Education Day
Talk on eight months school term, Mary Dell Bygum.
Quotations, Teacher Training Class.
Poem, "The Builders," Pauline Browne.
3. North Carolina Day
Song, "Ho for Carolina."
Meaning of North Carolina Day, Mabel Meridith.
Exercise, "Thirteen Children."
4. Armistice Day
What Armistice Day means to us, Bessie Chapin.
Poem, "In Flanders Field," Blanche Johnson.
Poem, "The Dead Soldier to America," Mary Alice Hall.
The program as a whole was very interesting and beneficial to the school, even the school children were made to see that we should equal educational advantages.

BISHOP AGAINST AL

Durham, Nov. 15.—"I am a Democrat, always have been a Democrat with a Democratic tradition behind me. But I want to say right now that I will vote for a Republican rather than vote for an out-and-out anti-prohibition supporter or a man who has kissed the Pope's ring or a subject of a foreign monarch. We will have some fun in the South if New York tries to do what it thinks it will do," Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon, presiding over the North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, in Durham last week, told the 450 members in attendance. His statement followed an address by Rev. C. A. Upchurch, superintendent of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League and a Baptist minister who urged the Methodists to help keep the United States dry. A death-like silence followed Bishop Mouzon's statement, then prolonged applause, the first of the conference broke out.

SENIOR CLASS ENTERTAINED

The party given the class of 1927 last Friday night, Nov. 12, by Misses Louise Petty and Lucy Pierce at the home of the latter, was a most enjoyable party of the season. Miss Petty met the guests on the front porch and Miss Catherine Overacre had charge of the dressing-room, while Miss Pierce ushered the guests into the reception room. As the guests arrived they were drawn into many interesting games: They were given a "Floral Wedding" contest and many succeeded in answering the questions. Miss Pierce, with Miss Petty as accompanist, rendered several vocal selections.
Another brain tester was given and Miss Sadie B. Johnson and Mr. Fred Noce won the box of candy offered as a prize.

The hostesses announced that there was a prize for the prettiest girl. Each guest voted by ballot for his choice. The returns were in favor of Miss Nannie Lanus, first and Misses Louise Riddle and Mary Sue Poe tying on second. As this was a primary election each winner made their campaign speech and magnified their traits of beauty. Votes were again cast for the three and Miss Lanus received highest honors again. She was presented a box of chocolates. Miss Lanus was attired in a beautiful orchid crepe overland with silk embroidered lace with silver slippers and hose to match. Her head dress was diamonds and pearls.
Miss Overacre served a hot chocolate course and then fruit Jello and cake. After this the maid gave each guest a tiny crepe-paper plated basket, which contained their fortune in a peanut shell and mints.
After each guest read aloud his fortune they bade the hostesses "Good night."

MOCK WEDDING

The Ladies Aid of Pleasant Hill M. E. church will give a mock negro wedding, also a bazaar at Battle School House, on Thursday night, Nov. 25, at seven o'clock. Everybody come. Lots of fun for all.
Admission 25 cts. for adults, 15 cts. for children.
