BORAH, GOOD AMERICAN PUBLISHERS, CHEER UP EINSTEIN'S DISCOVERY COATS GROW YOUR OWN FUR
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Senator Borah, good American, fears that if we build cruisers without making arrangements satisfactory to Britain we shall have a "shipbuilding race with England." If necessary, why not have it?

But Britain couldn't afford it and knows well that we shall never attack Britain unless we are first attacked.

The British, while they could dominate the seas, and were proud of it. Whoever didn't like it could lump it. That condition existed from the day when Nelson at Trafalgar wiped out Napoleon's chances of British conquest up to 1924.

It is Uncle Sam's turn now. Airplanes, submarines, fast cruisers, will answer any question from any other nation and this country should have the answer ready.

Grow your own fur coats at home. Mr. Vernon B. Riley of the Agricultural Department tells you that muskrats, supposed to need big swamps, can be raised like rabbits of guinea pigs, in small pens. They need only enough water to keep comfortably wet and cool in summer. This will interest California rabbit raisers, among others.

The world of science, including Bertrand Russell, called the greatest living mathematician, is interested in Professor Einstein's announcement that electro-magnetism and gravity are practically the same. This discovery, says the learned Dr. Pupin, of Columbia University, places Einstein beside Galileo and Newton.

All interested in physics await a demonstration that there is only one kind of force in the universe; that light, heat, motion, electro-magnetism, gravity are all the same. Einstein seems to confirm part of Herbert Spencer's definition of evolution which describes the "retained emotion" as under-going a transformation from "an indefinite, incoherent homogeneity to a definite coherent heterogeneity."

More interesting to practical publishers of newspapers is the fact that the big Woolworth concern plans an enormous advertising campaign amounting to $3,000,000 the first year. Abandoning the theory that selecting the right location makes advertising unnecessary, proves the wisdom of Woolworth's president, Mr. H. T. Parson.

Get the best position for your store, by all means. But get also the best "position," and the best copy for your advertising in a newspaper.

HAVE WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT, THEN LET THE PEOPLE KNOW YOU HAVE IT.
That's the secret of success.

Work fearlessly for the right and you will be honored, and appreciated, AFTER YOU DIE.

Mrs. Pankhurst thought women should vote. Since they created the men for wars, they should have something to say about war.

Everybody agrees with Mrs. Pankhurst now, and Mr. Baldwin, who opposed her, will unveil her monument.

When she was alive, demanding justice for women, they put her in jail. She starved herself until she was released, justice not liking the idea of disposing of her corpse, and that's what it would have had to do.

Released from prison, she renewed her right, chained herself to the iron railings before the Commons, was jailed again, and again, entered self-imposed starvation.

Her courage won. British women vote in the House of Commons and helped make laws. Mrs. Pankhurst lies in her grave, her death hastened by hardship; and those that hounded her now honor her. She is satisfied.

ELI JOHNSON

Mr. Eli Johnson died at the age of 73 at his home in Hadley township, February 20. Just one week to the day before his death he was in Pittsboro in good health to make his will. The editor of the Record witnessed the will and thought it would be several years before it would become effective. But the next issue of his serious illness with pneumonia, and the next news was that of his death of the 20th.

The burial was at South Fork Friends church, in Alamance county. He leaves four sons, Messrs. Jesse, Wesley, Amick and Willis. Wesley and Willis live in Alamance county. The funeral services were conducted by Mr. Ed Harris, who also is executor of his will.

Mr. Burgess was a well known citizen, residing in New Hope township, just beyond Moore's bridge. He was seventy years of age. He had been married twice, and his last wife survives him. He is the father of Mrs. Walter Henderson.

The burial was at Bell's Methodist church Monday afternoon. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death.

"UNCLE BOB" ALSTON

Bob Alston, for many years an inmate of the county home, died last week and was laid away with unusual care by the authorities. Bob has been a mainstay of the home. He was subject to occasional spells of craziness, but retained his physical strength and for thirty or forty years has been a servant for the more helpless in the home. He has cut mountains of wood to keep the occupants of the home warm, and been a mainstay in the farm work. He was odd and reliable, and only his occasional mental lapses kept him from having a home of his own. He has been worth much more to the home than his expenses have been, and Supt. Johnson had on occasions shown him extra favors and upon his death bought a better grade of coffin, expressing his purpose to pay the difference himself if the county commissioners objected to the extra expense. Well done, thou good and faithful servant. May your mind be cured in the land where you have gone, Bob, and may your reward be in accord with your merits.

Court next week, then skip a week and court for another week. Both terms for the trial of civil cases.

The McLean Bill Running Gauntlet

Dual Purpose Bill Intended to Reduce Property Taxes in Counties and Give Eight-Months School Term Successful in House.

One of the most important bills introduced in the Legislature is that of Representative A. D. McLean of Beaufort County. Mr. McLean is seeking to reduce land taxes by placing the burden of school support upon the state, to do away with all special tax districts, and at the same time to legalize an eight-months school term, especially for all counties that desire the extension of the legal term. The author seems more concerned with the reduction of taxes than in the extension of the term, and has not made it his business to provide the means of securing the ten million dollar equalization fund which his bill requires. He is leaving that up to the finance committee.

As the bill is candidly aimed at lifting the burden of taxes from the richer counties, upon which the burden must be laid if it is effectively lifted from the farm owners, are opposing the bill. These representatives object to the milking of their cows dry for the benefit of other counties when they have scarcely enough milk for their own needs and when the cows are already kicking. But there seem to be more poor counties than rich ones, and the bill has passed, at this writing on Monday, two readings in the House, and is scheduled for passage of the third reading, it is now up to the senate to decide its ultimate fate.

In the senate, thirsty senators have signed an agreement to work for a relief of tax burdens by securing a ten-million dollar equalization fund for the schools, but some who have signed it are by no means in favor of the eight-month term. Accordingly, the tax-lifting feature will meet with favor in the senate, but whether the senators will agree with Representative McLean that an eight-months term can be secured for less money than the six months term is now costing is to be seen.

TAX NOTICE

TO THE TAX PAYERS OF CHATHAM COUNTY

This is to again call to your attention the fact that unless your taxes are paid before May 1st, 1929 that your land will be advertised to satisfy your unpaid taxes.

Please do not ask or expect me to carry over your taxes for it will be impossible for me to do so regardless of how much I would like to accommodate our people. This is an important matter and your personal wishes will have to be disregarded and the law governing the collection and settlement of taxes will have to be adhered to. Therefore, let me urge, that you make a special effort to get all our taxes paid before May 1st, and avoid the last minute rush to get your name cut off the list for advertising before it is published.

I take this opportunity to thank you, people of Chatham, for the splendid cooperation which you have given in the past in the matter of settlement of taxes. I shall expect your continued cooperation in the matter of cleaning up the taxes for the year 1928.

A Good Samaritan Obtains a Release For Aged Prisoner

Once Prominent Banker Working Coal Glen Mine Finds Friend in Visitor.

Sanford Express

Some time after negro convicts were brought from the State's prison in Raleigh to work in the coal mine at Coal Glen, a white convict came over from Raleigh and became a "frustry" in charge of some of the convicts. Some time after he came to the mine Mr. W. H. Cralle, who is interested in the coal business at Coal Glen and Cummock, discovered that he was a man whom he knew and had had business dealings with ten years ago. Like all other convicts in the State's prison this man was known to the prison authorities by number, but this name is A. B. Schlieter, and before he was put in prison his home was at Hollister, this state. Mr. Cralle tells The Express that he built the town of Hollister, owned large interest in a railroad, big lumber concern and a bank. He stood high as a leader in every line of endeavor in the community and at one time was a man of considerable means. He was convicted in the courts of crooked dealings in connection with the bank of his town and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of years. He was sent to the penitentiary in August, 1927, and came to the mine at Coal Glen in 1928.

As soon as Mr. Cralle recognized him he got busy in an effort to have him pardoned by the Governor of the State. He went to Hollister and succeeded in getting the names of 1,000 people to a petition to have him pardoned. Armed with this petition he went to Raleigh and presented it to Governor Gardner. Governor Gardner informed him that he decided not to consider applications for pardons until after the Legislature adjourned. After hearing the plea made by Mr. Cralle, who informed the Governor that the prisoner was in bad health and should be discharged at once, he agreed to grant pardon. Mr. Cralle carried the pardon to him at the mine two weeks ago and the old man, broken in health and good name ruined, returned home about as happy as a "he irregularities of this bank, and man could under the circumstances, who served time in the penitentiary, Ason who was also connected with was pardoned last year.
