

TOWN AND COUNTY BRIEFS
Dr. Pilkington is visiting his daughter at Ridgeway, S. C.
Mrs. F. J. Faison of Roseboro is spending the week with her parents here.

Bear Creek News
Miss Ruth Tyson, of near Harper's Cross Roads, was visiting Miss Nellie Emerson of town last week.
Mrs. James Stigall and family, of Greensboro, were visitors in the home of W. L. Coggins last week.

the children and the grandchildren were present: Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Moore, of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mobley and family of Wake Forest, Rt. 1; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Moore, of Bear Creek, Rt. 2; Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Beal and family and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Beal and family, of Siler City, Rt. 5; Mrs. B. N. Moore and son, of Bear Creek, Rt. 1; Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moore of Durham; Mr. and Mrs. Lexie Moore, of Greensboro and Paul Moore, who lives with his father, all of the foregoing are the children. This was the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Moore's 62nd birthday. We join their many friends in wishing them many more enjoyable birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dailey of Washington were guests of Mr. Dailey's parents here Thursday and Friday.
Mrs. N. M. Hill and Miss Azile Hill accompanied Miss Lillie Hill back to her home in Leaksville for a visit.
The annual home-coming day at Hanks was attended by the usual throng. It is one of the big days in the year in this section of the county.

Church Women Given Chance at the Pulpit
The general assembly of the Northern Presbyterian Church last week voted to allow women the same privileges as men to become elders and ministers in the church. The resolution requires approval of a majority of the 214 presbyteries before it is effective, but expressed sentiment indicated that such approval would be almost unanimous. The northern church some years ago opened the deaconate to women.

Mrs. J. M. Foust Dies at Mt. Vernon Springs
Mount Vernon Springs, May 28.—Mrs. J. M. Foust, 73, died tonight at 8 o'clock at her home here after an illness of two weeks with heart trouble. Mrs. Foust, who was quite prominent in this section, is owner of the famous Mount Vernon springs. Funeral arrangements had not been made tonight.

Home-coming day at Mt. Pisgah Baptist church was celebrated last Sunday. A great crowd was present and several good speeches were made. Several of the former pastors were present.
The Hilliard-Elkins-Perry reunion will be held at Antioch Baptist church, five miles west of Goldston, the fifth Sunday in June. Come and bring basket.—Arnold Oldham, secretary.

Street Work Has Now Been Started
Grading and placing a layer of soil preliminary to surfacing with stone and bitumen has begun on Salisbury street, from the bank to the depot. Mr. J. O. Brown of Bunn Level is superintending the work. He has had much experience in this kind of work for the highways.

Play at Bynum
The social department of the Woman's Missionary Society of Bynum will give a play entitled "The Old Maids' Convention" in the high school auditorium of Bonlee on Saturday night, June 8. Come and enjoy the fun for 15c and 25c.

Kimbolton News
Ernest Harris and family of Raleigh spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dorsett.
Miss Catharine Marley of Siler spent the week-end with Mrs. Arthur Teague.

MISS POWELL ENTERTAINS
Miss Camilla Powell charmingly entertained with four tables of bridge Monday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Elizabeth Seawell of Wake Forest. The occasion was also her birthday. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in striking detail.

Senator Wesley Jones, who thought up the Jones law, says that he sees very little drinking in America these days. We thought that Mr. Schall of Minnesota was our only blind senator.—New York Evening Post.

Miss Rica Brooks, Mrs. Eugene Detrich and daughter, Christine, and Mr. L. H. Hobbs motored from Richmond, Va., Friday to visit Mr. Geo. H. Brooks, brother of the ladies mentioned. They left Sunday afternoon accompanied by Misses Louise and Margaret Brooks, who will make an extended visit to relatives in Richmond and Washington, D. C. The party spent Sunday night in Winston-Salem, leaving for Richmond Monday morning. Also Mrs. J. D. Beam and children, Mattie Lillian and Joe, Jr., ran up from Hamlet to visit her brother, Mr. Brooks, and see her sisters from Richmond.

SEABOARD RE-FINANCING
(From The Charlotte Observer.)
Seaboard stockholders will be interested in the re-financing proposition, and they are advantaged by the "tip" given out by President Powell that the plan will be "very beneficial" to the railroad, as the re-capitalization will result in "a marked strengthening of the company's financial condition," because it is recognized as a progressive step. President Powell believes the plan will be accepted by the stockholders "with enthusiasm." The brief explanation of the existing problem facing the Seaboard is that it revolves around debt maturities to the amount of over $38,000,000, falling due between 1929 and 1933. The Seaboard people believe that by substituting common stock for part of its adjustment bonds, interest on which was last paid in February, 1928, and extending its funded debt, the present problem of maturities can be solved. Charles S. McCain, president of the National Park Bank, is acting chairman of the adjustment bondholders committee, which is urging all holders to assent to the plan, pointing out that they exchange securities with a market value of $490 instead of a contingent interest charge, now worth $616.25. The Observer knows more about picking cotton than it does about handling railroad stocks, but if it were a Seaboard Air Line coupon-clipper, it would be inclined to pick up its hat and follow Powell.
